

THERE was more newspaper advertising among the candidates for the nomination at the last primary than had ever been in this state in any political campaign.

THE greatest naval battle in all history was fought last Wednesday in the North sea, off the coast of Denmark, between the German and British fleets.

The manner of fighting was so very different from that in ancient times. The greatest naval battle of ancient times was that of Salamis, in which the fleet of Pompey was destroyed and he sought safety in flight.

THE commencement exercises last week at the University were among the most pleasant that it has ever been our privilege to attend.

The address of the Secretary of the Treasury was the shortest ever delivered on such an occasion, being only twenty minutes, and it was a most timely one, being devoted to the advocacy of closer relations with the South American republics.

The reunion of the classes was, as usual, much enjoyed not only by the members thereof but by all the visitors. Gen. J. S. Carr "reunited" all by himself as the class of 1866, and again showed his devotion to the University by making a gift of a scholarship to one member of every junior class, which scholarship is valued at $4,000.

At the meeting of the trustees a motion was made to increase the salary of the president of the University, and it would undoubtedly have been adopted if he had not earnestly requested that it should not be.

THE birthday of President Jefferson Davis was observed last Saturday with impressive ceremonies at Washington City. It seems almost incredible that speeches were made in the House of Representatives in eulogy of him, and at the Arlington national cemetery speeches were made, and the graves of the Confederates there were decorated with flowers.

THE official vote cast last Saturday for state officers is not yet counted, but enough is known from unofficial returns that the following nominations have been made:

For Governor: T. W. Bickett. Secretary of State: J. Bryan Grimes. Treasurer: B. R. Lacy. Corporation Commissioner: W. T. Lee.

Insurance Commissioner: Jas. R. Young. Commissioner of Agriculture: W. A. Graham. Commissioner of Labor and Public Printing: M. L. Shipman.

No one seems to have received a majority for Attorney-General, but Hon. James S. Manning is so far in the lead, that no other candidate will ask for a second primary.

There was no nomination for Congressman in the sixth and seventh districts. In the former Godwin leads with Joseph A. Brown next, and in the latter Hon. L. D. Robinson is ahead with Mr. U. L. Spence next.

Judge W. P. Stacy was nominated for judge of the eighth (Wilmington) judicial district. If Mr. Bickett and Mr. Linney, the Republican candidate for Governor, should agree to have a joint canvass of the state it would be a very interesting one, for both are able speakers and debaters.

THE campaign that preceded the primary election of last Saturday was remarkably free from personalities and bitterness, and was creditable to the candidates for the nominations. So far as we have any knowledge there will be no ill feeling among the defeated candidates although much disappointment, especially among those who were so certain of being nominated. The friends of the defeated candidates should now, and until the November election, do their utmost to elect the nominees, and give to them the same cordial support that they would have expected to be given their favorites, if they had been nominated. We have had a friendly contest in the "family" and now we must unite in the contest against the common enemy. Let all Democrats remember that "we be brethren" and act accordingly.

THE death of Col. John S. Mosby removes one of the most noted officers in the Confederate army. He died on Tuesday of last week at Washington, where he had been residing for some time. He was a regularly commissioned officer in the Confederate army and his soldiers were regularly enlisted, so that they were not guerrillas, as has been often said. He commanded an independent command that operated between Richmond and the Potomac river generally in the rear of the Union army. He and his men were familiar with all that country and would attack the enemy when and where least expected, and then escape to safety. He and his men were held in much fear by the enemy because they made such successful raids, swooping down on detached forces and after capturing or putting them to flight they would mysteriously disappear.

All wagon trains hauling supplies to the Union army were heavily guarded in order to prevent Mosby from capturing them, and thus his small force succeeded in keeping several thousand Union soldiers guarding wagon trains instead of being with the main army and engaging in the battles. So hated and feared was he that the enemy threatened to hang him if captured, and yet after the war President Grant gave him a federal office.

THE death of Lord Kitchener is a very serious loss to England and her allies in the European war. He was one of the greatest military men England has ever produced and will take rank with Marlborough and Wellington. He with his staff were all drowned yesterday by the sinking of the British cruiser Hampshire by a mine or torpedo, while sailing off the West Orkneys. It seems peculiarly sad that this great man should drown like a rat in a trap!

THE Republican national convention is being held this week at Chicago. It is largely attended and much interest is taken in its work. The two leading candidates for the nomination for President are Judge Hughes and ex-President Roosevelt. The latter stands a double chance of a nomination. If not nominated by the regular Republican convention he will be nominated by the Progressives, and thus repeat what was done in 1912, when after being defeated in the regular Republican convention by Taft he bolted and was nominated by the Progressives.

THE Democrats will hold their convention next week and will renominate Wilson without opposition.

WHAT is now thought of the primary by the voters of this state? Such a law has been clamored for by some persons for a long time, and now that we have had some practical experience with it they are not so eager for its continuance. While it is all right in theory for the people to express their choice at a primary, yet it does not seem to work so satisfactorily in practice. We doubt if a majority of the voters of this state wish for a continuance of the present primary law. We would like for them to have the opportunity at the next election to express their wishes on this subject. A separate box might be kept at the polls at the November election in which the voters, regardless of politics, might deposit their ballots for or against a continuance of the present law.

England Restricts Liquor. London, June 4.—Beer, tobacco and whiskey are to be further restricted as a precautionary measure in connection with the general scheme of war economy. It is stated now that at the ministry of munitions intends to prevent all whiskey distillation, except such as intended for the production of a byproduct, probably alcohol, which is used in the manufacture of explosives.

The board of trade announces that in view of the increasing scarcity of tonnage it has withdrawn its proposal to grant licenses for the importation of tobacco purchased before February 15. It is, however, willing to grant licenses for the importation of tobacco purchased between June 1, 1916, and May 31, 1918, strictly for home consumption not exceeding one-third of the quantity imported during 1915. This does not apply to tobacco for export or for tobacco for dispatch to the troops. As the stocks held in this country amount to about two years' ordinary consumption, however, there is not likely to be any serious inconvenience to smokers.

The Fly and the Trap. From the Charlotte Observer. The town of Lumberton is trying to exterminate the fly by means of traps. Fifty or more of these contrivances have been placed about town and the Robesonian is delighted with results. These traps, it says, "are destroying millions of flies each week." Very like y true. Meantime, the people of Lumberton must not lose sight of the fact that millions of new flies will be on the job each week. The fly trap and the fly paper merely serve to keep down the surplus population and to give temporary relief. It is good for a town to catch and kill all the flies possible, but no town that does not go after the seat of the trouble—the breeding places—will ever be rid of flies. The fly traps of Lumberton might catch a million a day, but so long as the breeding places should be overlooked there will be a fresh million to catch each succeeding day. There will be no end to the flies to long as their breeding place is undisturbed.

Fifty-nine persons are reported to have been killed and more than 100 injured in a tornado which swept through central and northern Arkansas last Monday.

There are several colored delegates attending the Republican national convention at Chicago.

Southern Railway Disbursements. Washington, June 1.—During April, 1916, Southern Railway Company disbursed for labor, material, supplies and other purposes $3,195,831.95 of which $2,674,058.09 or 83.67 per cent was paid to individuals and industries located in the South. This amount represents more than 61 per cent of the moneys paid to the company for transportation by those located on the lines, according to figures announced today by Comptroller A. H. Plant, showing the results of operation of the company for the month of April, 1916, and for the period of ten months ended April 30, 1916, compared with the same month and period in 1915 and 1914, exclusive of interest, rentals and other incidental charges. Comparison with 1914 is made for the reason that in 1915 the effect of the business depression was reflected through the revenues of the company.

Forethought. People are learning that a little forethought often saves them a big expense. Here is an instance: E. W. Archer, Caldwell, Ohio, writes: "I do not believe that our family has been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since we commenced keeping house years ago. When we go on an extended visit we take it with us." Obtainable everywhere. ad

British Casualties in May. London, May 31.—British casualties in May were much heavier than in either of the two preceding months. The total from all fields of operation was compiled from published lists is 1,767 officers and 28,470 men. The total in March, including officers and men, was 20,424, and in April 20,511.

Lady Burned by Lightning. Special to the Greensboro News.

Beaufort, June 2.—Miss Belle Piver, aged about 18, died today at the home of her parents near here. Miss Piver was teaching in this county near Newport, and the house in which she was boarding was struck by lightning. When some members of the family reached her room they found her prostrate on the floor and her clothes on fire. She was badly burned, but it was thought she would recover until internal troubles set in. The end was not unexpected.

North Carolina easily retained first rank in gold output among the Eastern or Appalachian states in 1915. The total production of gold in 1915 amounted to 8,220 55 fine ounces, against 9,343 94 ounces in 1914. In 1915 the value of the North Carolina gold yield was slightly more than half of the Eastern States total.

A Punctual Student. Heartt Bryant, a member of the present graduating class in the city high school, has the unique distinction of having made a perfect attendance record for eight years. Some years ago this young man read of the fine record of another student in this respect, and he determined at that time that he would endeavor to do likewise. How well he succeeded is evidenced by the fact that in eight years he has not missed a single day or been tardy a single time.

Bowel Complaints in India. In a lecture at one of the Des Moines, Iowa churches a missionary from India told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventive and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occur in this country. Obtainable everywhere. adv
