Points the Way to Comfort and Health. Other Women Please Read

Mounts, W. Va.—"I had taken doctor's medicine for nearly two years because my periods were irregular, came every two weeks, and I would suffer with bearing-down pains. A lady told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how much good it had done her daughter, so I took it and now I am regular every month and have no pain at all. I recommend your medicine to everyone and you may publish my testimonial, hoping that the Vegetable Compound does some other girl the good it has done me."—Mrs. GEORGE TEGARDEN, 915 Third Street, Mounts, W. Va.

How many young girls suffer as Mrs. TEGARDEN did and do not know where to turn for advice or help. They often are obliged to earn their living by toiling day in and day out no matter how hard the pain they have to bear. Every girl who suffers in this way should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it does not get prompt relief write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, about her health. Such letters are held in strict confidence.

Yankees Like Western Tales

Doughboys on the Rhine Show Preference for Stories of Adventure in the West.

JULIUS CAESAR A FAVORITE

Activity of Caesar in Rhine Valley Makes Translations of His Gallic Wars of Interest to Soldiers—Legends Also Popular.

Coblentz.—Tales of adventure in the American West are the favorite reading matter of the American forces in Germany, and Zane Grey is the most popular author.

Strangely enough, Julius Caesar runs a close second with the doughboys, who are very keen about translations of Caesar's activities in the Rhine valley and the ruins of a bridge he built across the Rhine, which lifts Caesar's work out of the schoolbook class and makes it a guidebook that carries the Americans back nearly 2,000 years.

Books which describe the legends centering about the Rhine are also popular, especially with the soldiers who are musically inclined and who attend the Wagnerian performances given by the various German grand opera companies which play in Cologne, Coblentz, Wiesbaden and the other cities near the Rhine frequented by soldiers on leave.

Like Story Magazines. All-story magazines which specialize in adventures are more popular with the American soldiers than any other periodicals, and the American Library association has been unable to supply the demand for publications of this sort.

With the assistance of the Young Men's Christian association, which aids in the distribution of reading material in the American area, Miss Ala Weyth, who is in charge of the American Library association's reading rooms, has been able to make a general poll of the reading taste of the army and finds that foreign residence has not won the young Americans away from fiction laid in America, particularly in the West.

The American Library association has about 30,000 books available for Americans, French, Belgians and English residents of the occupied area, and also has circulated many books by mail to Americans living in other parts of Germany. Three hundred copies each of 36 American weekly and monthly publications, in addition to a large number of newspapers, have been taken by the organization and circulated through the branch libraries at Andernach and Mayen, as well as through the American base hospital and the main library in Coblentz.

Turned Over to Y. M. C. A. With the beginning of 1921, the American Library association turned its books over to the Y. M. C. A. and is no longer supporting the work.

The main library in Coblentz was formerly a German officers' club and is ideally suited to library purposes. It has a great ballroom, which makes an excellent reading room, and also has sun parlors and large drawing rooms, with many windows. Many Germans have asked for the privilege of using the library, but this has been denied, as the army did not think it advisable. One German told the librarian he had lived many years in America and should really be allowed to have books, because he was an American "in principle."

Toxic Candles As War Weapon

Diphenylchlorarsine Develops Vapor Which Penetrates Gas Masks, Says Expert.

SMOKE CANDLES ARE USEFUL

Conceal Movements of Small Groups of Men Close at Hand—British Developed Candles Which Were Used by All the Allies.

Philadelphia.—Toxic smoke candles, recently developed, will have an extensive use in future wars, in the opinion of L. I. Shaw of the internal bureau of mines, who recently spoke of "Smoke and Incendiary Material" before the Franklin Institute.

"Smoke candles, so called," he said, "are small cylindrical boxes which are ignited by some sort of friction device, and which contains smoke producing mixtures. Their use is in setting up a smoke screen close at hand, after ignition they are simply set on the ground, not being thrown or

Man's Gold Tooth Stolen by Expert Pickpocket

New Orleans.—There is in New Orleans a pickpocket who is expert enough to fulfill the time-honored specification test of being "able to steal a man's gold teeth." He demonstrated this when he stole a gold tooth which had previously been the property of Adrien A. Chazulle, 1030 St. Phillip street. However, the tooth happened to be in Mr. Chazulle's purse at the time, and it was the purse which the pickpocket took while its owner was a passenger in the Louisiana avenue street car.

Noisy Geese Give Fire Alarm.

New York.—Two thousand geese, ducks and chickens, awaiting death in a poultry shop, chorused an alarm for fire that caused heavy property loss in eleven retail clothing and food stores in the Bronx.

The unusual squawking awakened residents of the neighborhood and attracted a policeman, who telephoned fire headquarters. The blaze was controlled by firemen after a two-hour fight.

projected in any way. The need is very apparent to make the movements of small groups of men close at hand possible.

Tried by British.

"The British, early in the war, developed very satisfactory smoke candles which were used by all the allies. The Americans also developed a candle which was satisfactory, but which did not get into production and use in France before the armistice. The smoke is normally white, must have maximum capacity and be cool enough to prevent the setting up of air currents and thus rise from the ground. It must be heavy so as to be displaced by the minimum amount of wind at low velocity. These requirements are admirably met by candles which produce a smoke consisting of zinc chloride.

"As regards the future of incendiary material, my own opinion, which opinion, however, is substantiated by at least some of the military critics, is that incendiary material, except for small arms and long range shell and drop bombs, will have at least a limited and, perhaps, no use. The flame projectors will probably never be used in a future war. Smoke material, on the other hand, will have a very extensive and ever-increasing use. By the use of the smoke screen during an attack the casualties can be largely reduced.

New Use of Smoke. There was in progress of development by the British and Americans during the latter part of the war smoke candles which would give a toxic smoke. The toxic material employed was diphenylchlorarsine. Diphenylchlorarsine is a solid which vaporizes in the heat of the candle and is obtained in such a state of division that it will penetrate most gas masks. Such toxic smokes, of which there will probably be others developed, will find a very extensive use in the future. It is the greatest step made thus far in the new use of smoke."

There Was She, Waiting. Flora, Ind.—Fred Rhodes awoke at his home several miles out in the country to find the roads blocked by snow drifts. He was to marry Miss Vera Gardner 80 miles away, but by the time he had cleaned a path through the snow and had made a horseback trip to Elkhart, his train was gone and he was nine hours late reaching the bride's home. She was still waiting.

Slow Clock Costs Railroad Money. Decatur, Ala.—Because the clock in a railroad station was slow, causing her to miss the train on which the body of her dead son was being conveyed, Mrs. Ellen Carey has been awarded $500 damages against the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

"Let's Go" Is Foremost Among Slogans of War

Washington.—"Let's go," was the chief battle slogan of the American army in the world war. There were other popular and effective phrases used by the troops—"Where do we go from here?" and "When do we eat?" for instance, but in the opinion of Col. Edward L. Munson, chief of morale, general staff, made public recently, "for everyday use, in rest, or in battle, the slogan 'let's go' stands foremost."

Doe Wanders Through Town. Beavertown, Pa.—A large dog chased by dogs came down the main street here and taking a flying leap, landed in the garden of Fulmer's hotel. After a few minutes she again jumped the fence and trotted through the business streets, often stopping to look in windows.

Difficulty Ended. "Why my dear," said Mr. DeStyle, "I'm glad to see you so composed. When I left this morning you were weeping and wailing and tearing your hair because Fido was sick."

"Well, you see," explained Mrs. DeStyle, "after you left Mrs. Tiptop came in and told me that dogs of Fido's breed were going out of fashion. So I dried my tears and kicked him out."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarrhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surface of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. Cautions free. All Druggists. F. J. ## SKIPPER REGRETTED HIS FIB

Persistent Questioner, in the Classic Language of the Street, "Got Back at Him."

The deep-sea fisherman often has a sharp tongue and is not likely to get the worst of a verbal duel. But George, the skipper of a Yarmouth trawler, who figures in "North Sea Fishers and Fighters," by Mr. Walter Wood, certainly met with his match once whether he knew it or not.

"There's land people who come and bother you with foolish questions," he complained in recounting the hardships of a skipper's life. "I try to put 'em off, but can't allus do it. There was an old lady who worried me past endurance with her questions, asking 'if the herrin's were caught in barrels, as she'd sometimes seen 'em that way in shops. I told her no, and then she aggravated me to that extent that I told the only fib I ever spoke in my life."

"How do you kill 'em when you've caught 'em?" she asked. "We bite off their heads," I answered. "She looked at the catch of herrin's we had. 'My! My!' she murmured, walkin' away. 'How tired your poor jaws must be!'"

A North Carolina Case

"Every Picture Tells a Story" Mrs. G. R. Cooper, 505 S. Lafayette St., Shelby, N. C., says: "I had an attack of kidney trouble. There was a dull ache in my back and when I bent over a sharp pain would shoot through my back. I was nervous and had severe headaches. My kidneys didn't act right. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and bought some and in a short time I was entirely relieved of the trouble."

EMPLOYED "NOM DE PHONE"

Few People Will Blame Mr. Kraemberlicht for Pressing John Henry Smith Into Use.

"Is Mr. Smith in?" inquired the visitor at the office of a Newark business man.

"Mr. Smith? Mr. Smith? I don't think we have any person by that name," replied the office boy.

"John Henry Smith was the name," said the caller. "He gave it to me over the telephone."

"Were you looking for John Henry Smith?" inquired a member of the firm who was passing by. "You want to see Mr. Kraemberlicht. This is a new office boy, and he is not aware that John Henry Smith is the telephone name of Mr. Kraemberlicht. Mr. Kraemberlicht found that it was impossible to make any one understand his name over the telephone, so he simplified it to John Henry Smith. A nom de phone."

"I see," said the visitor. "You might also call it a phoney name."—Newark Sunday Call.

Find Latent Talent

Psychology Used in Tests at University of Wisconsin.

Experts Hunt Among Freshmen for Material for Likely Journalists and Machinists.

Madison, Wis.—Psychological tests of ability for machine shop work evidenced by freshmen in the college of engineering are being undertaken by the department of psychology at the University of Wisconsin.

The results of the tests are being computed by students in vocational psychology as a part of their work in preparing to become employment managers.

Another set of tests designed to gauge journalistic ability is to be given to freshmen in the course of journalism in conjunction with schools of journalism in other universities. These tests will be given for several successive years to determine whether it is possible to discover latent newspaper talent through psychology tests.

The system of giving psychological tests, instead of regular entrance examinations to students who wish to enter a university, has been tried in several universities. The idea is that a student who has a good mind, but has insufficient or inferior high school training, may be advised as to the lines of study for which he is best fitted.

In this regard, the University of Wisconsin is giving more specific tests than most other universities. By giving a dozen or more tests for the same results, the psychologists at the university are determining which tests are best. In a small series of tests already conducted, however, the results do not correspond well with the scholastic records of the students tested.
