He then becomes a Hadji, and has that appended to his name.'

To the preacher belongs the praise. Heretofore The Record has knocked at, hit at and talked about briars, vines and weeds growing alongside and filling up the sidewalk on the north side of handled. Citizens who live back in Fifth Avenue, near the parsonage and which had become an eyesore, all to no purpose. Rev. J. J. Boone looked at the spreading crop of vines till his eyes run water. Then he set fire to them, and today the nuisance is no more. So let's give thanks to the preacher.

Of late your columns have been full opportunity to study the various problems that confront our people in the construction of a new road, are naturally incapable of knowing or believing the true problems that truly exist. It intact and throw off water in the same manner as the geysers of Yellowstone hard packed roadway, so that our buckfunds we usually have available fer expenditure, we would not describe them as "ornamental creatures" but, on the other hand, would feel more like applying the old Biblical expression of "miracle" to it.

In a discussion of this said road construction, naturally the first question to arise, is the cost proposition, and I believe I am safe in saying that these criticizers, who can so elegantly display this flowery architectural display of abuse, are practically incapable of House be cleaned up and renovated, ed by the people of Fittsboro for his faculty for at Baalbek, of Diana at Ephesus, of to the road force passed through Pitts-and the Court House square sowed in jovial disposition and his faculty for Minerva at Athens, and of Phoebus at Minerva at Athens, and of Phoebus at boro. In an effort to equalize the expendi-tures of road funds and give every citizen a look in our County, it was necessary that our Representative in the Legislature pass or have passed a bill that will put all townships on the same footing. It is my belief, that this step was made necessary in order that certain living conditions, in remote parts of our County, where nothing has been done to help themselves, could be built up and not allowed to rot down from a prosperity standpoint. The remote spots have failed in the past to put t iemselves on equal footing with the majority of Chatham County where progress has been a motto, but have never failed to offer the majority of c iticisms whenever progressive steps not venture across without a lunch, and also where Cornwallis led his running red coats in their mad endeavor to show the people that have constructed roads that the entire proposition was a failure and every cent spent in their bond election was cast to the dogs. Following his elegant abuse of certain roads where he made it necessary to have business, he went into detail to show that his community should have one of these same creatures. and forced forth an argument, based either on Columbus' discovery of America or Cornwal-1s' retreat, why this certain creature should meander at a certain point and turn in a given direction. After reading both his proposal and abuse I am certain no fair minded reader would believe it would be safe to construct one of these "ornamental creatures" in that section for, natupicked out a very good ticket, one that will look after the cleanliness of the one many miles away from this gentle reader should cause such a display of fireworks, there is no telling what would be the result if our authorities. sought to construct one in his immedi-J.
