VOL. XLIV NO. 13

We have just a few subscribers that are behind with their payment. If this notice has a ring around it, it means that unless we hear from you by Saturday, Nov. 5th, your paper will be discontinued. We are trying to get out a good newsy paper, well worth a dollar to you, and if you want it we want you to have it—but we expect pay for it. It is the only way we can continue in business.

COLIN G. SHAW, Editor.

There will be a meeting of the local Red Cross on Friday afternoon, Nov. 4th, at four o'clock, at the home of Mrs. H. T. Chapin. Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed executed by M. M. Oldham and his wife, Pattie Oldham, to W. T. T. Dowdy, will on

Oldham and his wife, Pattie Oldham, in and to the following described tract of land in Gulf township, Chatham county, North Carolina:

Bounded on the North by G. B. Hart; on the west by R. B. Oldham; on the south by Mrs. Francis Oldham; on the east by B. F. C. Burke; containing 104 acres, more or less.

MT. ZION.

Misses Pearl Foushee, Elizabeth Thomas, Laura Harris and Laura Carter, of Pittsboro, spent the week-end with Miss Clatie Harper.

Miss Lela Johnson left the 15th to begin her work as teacher in the Corinth school.

Miss Ola Harmon left last Monday to begin her second year as teacher in the Gum Springs school.

W. B. Harper and son, Wade, spent the week-end at home.

Quite a number from this community attended the State Fair at Raleigh last week.

Mrs. Morgan and daughter, Miss Henriett, of Pittsboro, were present at the corn shucking at the home of W. B. Harper Friday night. They had to have the second shucking on Saturday. Everybody had a jolly good time both nights.

The majority of the people have finished shucking corn through here. There are a few others to shuck yet. There have been quite a large crowd of women at most of the shuckings. Some say that the women do more harm than good at shuckings. This proved to be false at the home of Joseph C. Harmon Tuesday night of last week.

There was an enormous pile of corn to shuck and no one had any idea of finishing. Some left early and said that they would come back the next night and help. After sixty people had eaten supper, both women and men went to the corn pile with a determination to finish. They would not have finished if the women had not helped so faithfully. The women too, filled the men with enthusiasm by singing so many pretty songs. Congratulations to the women and the men.

Fire at School.

Wednesday of last week just at recess it was noticed that the wood pile at the High School was on fire and by hard work, directed by Prof. Franklin, the fire was confined to those quarters, not however, until about six cords of wood had been consumed.

Celebrates Birthday.

Last Wednesday Squire Burns celebrated his 86th birthday. He had a birthday dinner of possum and potatoes, and received many gifts from his friends. None of his children were present, but he received letters from all of them, also his grandchildren. Squire Burns has been a justice of the peace for more than forty years, and it is said that he has married more couples than all the magistrates in the county.

Court in Session.

Superior court convened here Monday with Judge E. H. Cramer presiding. Owing to the fact that many liquor cases and the murder trial of Peter Rogers is to come up, many folks are in attendance. The Record will publish the complete proceedings next week.

We are moving the Record office this week to the building on the court house square, formerly occupied by J. C. Larius as a grocery store and, therefore, printing the paper earlier than usual and the cart has done very little at the time we print.

Old Man Attends Fair.

Although 87 years old and not able to do a great deal of traveling, J. W. Perry, a confederate Veteran of Siler City, attended the State Fair last week one day for the 49th consecutive time. Since 1872 he has seen every Fair and has watched the progress in the manufacturing and agricultural industries in the State. He thinks that the character of the entire Fair this year is greatly improved over any yet held.

Reopens Garage.

Collie Oldham has reopened his garage just this side of Bynum. It will be remembered that he was severely burned last December by an explosion and had to abandon work since that time, but he is now back on the job doing his usual good work. He has also put in an oil and gasoline station.

Services Sunday Night.

There will be preaching at the Episcopal church next Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

ENGINEER COMING.

Will Advise Officials on Road Paying Problems in Chatham.

Harry P. Grier, of Statesville, N. C., county engineer for Iredell and Alexander counties, has been appointed district engineer for the Asphalt Association, the national paving organization. He will make his headquarters in Raleigh and, in the near future, will begin regular visits to this and nearby towns for the purpose of assisting the local street and road officials in solving their paving problems.

The Asphalt Association, the headquarters of which are in New York, is largely composed of the great oil producers who recognize asphalt to be one of petroleum's most useful products. The association is employing some of the best highway engineering talent in the country to aid in developing the most successful and economical types of paving. J. E. Pennybacker, former chief economist of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, is secretary of the association and Prevost Hubbard, former chief of the Research Division, United States Bureau of Public Roads, and a chemical engineer of repute, is one of its specialists in road construction.

Mr. Grier is one of the most successful and widely known engineers in the South. During the late war he made an enviable reputation in the aviation corps, U. S. Army. His duties with the Asphalt Association will be to aid highway engineers.

Good Samaritans.

The farmers in the neighborhood of T. O. Justice, in Hadley township, are among the class of people that can be depended upon in any emergency. Mr. Justice has been confined to his home for a number of weeks with the flu and of course his work lagged behind. Last Saturday quite a number of his neighbors gathered at his home, harvested his crop, shucked the corn and stored both it and the forage. You do not find just such people in every county. Mr. Justice is improving from his illness and feels very grateful to his friends for their kindness.

Centennial Celebration.

On Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week Christ Church, Raleigh, celebrated its centennial. Decorated for the occasion, it stood ready to receive its many sons and daughters. Some of the most famous sons of the Old North State have commended within its walls.

It was in August, 1821, when Raleigh was still a village, that Christ Church parish was organized. It was not until 1848, however, that the erection of a permanent building was begun. The same building is there today, though it has been enlarged, it still retains that simple beauty.

John Haywood, forty years treasurer of the State, was the first senior warden; John Louis Taylor, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and William H. Haywood, later U. S. Senator, were among its first vestry. Rev. John Stark Ravenscroft, D. D., was the first rector of the parish and the first bishop of the diocese.

Schools open Monday.

An order was issued by the Board of Education at their last meeting to the effect that all the schools in Chatham county should open on next Monday, October 31st. A few of the schools by special permission opened last Monday.

From Chatham County.

The Raleigh Times Saturday carries a long article in regard to C. T. Goodwin, on route 3, Apex, a Chatham farmer, in which he has a conference with Mrs. Vanderbilt, the president of the State Fair. The exhibit by Mr. Goodwin was a good one and was eleventh in the prize list.

BYNUM.

Misses Fannie Hammock and Ethel Hatch spent a few days last week at their homes near Pittsboro.

Quite a number from here attended the Fair at Raleigh last week. All report a good time.

Miss Lillian Cole, of near Chapel Hill, entered the high school here last week. We are glad to have Miss Lillian with us.

The woods around Bynum at night are filled with the music of the bark of the dog and hollering of the opossum hunter. One man in the village has 14 opossums on hand now. Guess he will get fat on "possum and taters."

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Atwater Oct. 22, a fine girl, Lillie Gannon Atwater.

Mr. C. W. Neal and family and Mrs. Fannie Hatch visited relatives at Durham Sunday.

Mrs. Brady, of Moncure, visited her mother, Mrs. Stephenson, here Sunday.

Mr. Roy Riggsbee and family visited Mrs. Riggsbee's brother, G. A. Hearne, near Chapel Hill Sunday.

Miss Martha Jones spent the week-end with Miss Ada Sanders near Hanks' Chapel.

Mrs. R. S. Abernathy is spending this week with Mrs. W. H. Overacre at Pittsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ellington, of Hackney, visited their daughter, Mrs. W. C. Abernathy, Sunday.

Bob Fitchet, of Moncure, was here Sunday "sight seeing."

HAW.

Modern Bungalow.

The many friends of Squire J. R. Blair will be delighted to know that he has determined to make his residence in Pittsboro permanent and started this week on the erection of a modern and well appointed bungalow in the western part of town, on Siler City street, on a lot near that of his son, sheriff G. W. Blair, and purchased from Harlowe Taylor.

Until the death of his son, Kemp Blair, a few weeks ago, Squire Blair was undetermined as to what he would do, continue to reside here or return to his old home in Hickory Mt. township. It is a source of pleasure to all to know that he intends to remain with us.

A Potato.

T. O. Johnson, who lives about 7 miles south of town in Oakland township, brought the editor a potato Monday and we have it at our office for you to see. It is of the Porto Rican Yam variety, smoothly shaped, well developed and firm. It weighs 8 pounds. Mr. Johnson raised a number of very large potatoes, although he planted but a small patch. Chatham county certainly has a number of splendid farmers.

Moncure School News.

School is progressing nicely. We were glad to welcome May Watson, of Osgood, and Guy Womble into the High School this month.

There were four new pupils added to the music department last week.

Dr. Fuquay, sent out by the State Board of Health, visited the school last week. He treated the teeth of fifty-five children and saved the community about two hundred dollars dentist bills.

To Meet in Nashville.

The Publicity Committee of the 30th Division informs the Record that the Old Hickory Association, composed of the veterans of the Thirtieth Division, is to hold its third annual reunion in Nashville on November 4 and 5. The city is preparing to entertain them to the very best of its ability, while General Pershing and other notables will attend to do honor to the veterans.

There is no man in the Carolinas or Tennessee who is not proud of the Thirtieth Division, whose infantry first crossed the defenses of the Hindenberg system in the North while its artillery at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne was pounding away at the Germans in the South.

They are anxious to reach all these soldiers and their comrades at arms with the story of the reunion plans.

Building Store.

W. L. Powell is having erected a store on the corner of his residence lot on Depot street, near the Seaboard station, and will operate a grocery as soon as completed. Mr. T. W. Hackney has the contract for the building.
