TALE OF 3 DEPUTIES

They Found Still, the Worm, the Cap But No Blockader

Once upon a time three deputy sheriffs went out into the woods to see what they could find. They walked about half a mile and came upon signs of a recent run—an improvised furnace, ashes still warm, and a batch of fresh slops—but not in all that land could they see the outfit.

Knowing in their minds that it must be near, they reasoned among themselves as to who should go out and find the kettle.

The tall slim deputy said, "I won't." The short, chunky deputy said, "I won't." The big deputy said, "I will then," and he did. He ran thru the woods, scratched up the leaves, looked under the brush piles until he found the kettle.

Then they reasoned among themselves as to who should find the cap. Slim said, "I won't." The big deputy said, "I got the kettle so I won't." But Shorty said, "I will then," and he did. He ran thru the woods, scratched up the leaves, looked under the brush piles until he found the cap.

Again they reasoned among themselves as to who should find the worm. The big deputy said, "Not I. I got the kettle." Shorty said, "Not I. I got the cap." But Slim said, "I will then." And he did. He then ran thru the bushes, scratched up the leaves, looked under the brush piles until he found the worm.

Then these three deputies journeyed to the city where the high chief of all the deputies reigns to lay at his feet the spoils of the conquest and receive their reward. The High Chief thereupon asked, "Which one of my valiant men captured this outfit?"

The big deputy said, "I did," and displayed the kettle. Slim said, "I did," and displayed the cap. Shorty said, "I did," and displayed the worm.

The High Chief then asked "Who destroyed the liquor?" and they all with one accord answered, "I did."

Then the High Chief asked, "Who captured the blockader?" For a time no word was spoken, then Slim, Shorty and the big deputy all spoke with one voice, "We ran thru the woods, we scratched up the leaves, we looked under the brush piles, but no blockader could we find in all that land."

Then the High Chief said, "My valiant men, you have done good work, but you must do better. Catch the blockader!"

The big deputy said, "Alo, Chief! Next time I shall first catch the blockader then find the kettle."

Shorty said, "Alo, Chief! Next time I shall first catch the blockader and then find the cap."

Slim said, "Alo, Chief! Next time I shall first catch the blockader and then find the worm."

And the High Chief locked up the still, the cap and worm in his vault to await the judgment day and charged his valiant deputies to let no grass grow under their feet as long as the woods were full of blockaders. X. Y. Z.

[They took the High Chief at his word and went out Tuesday morning and brought in two white men, besides the still, cap and worm.—Ed.]

DEMOCRATS MEET

Delegates Elected to the State Convention at Raleigh

Last Saturday the Democrats of Chatham met at the court house in Pittsboro for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State Democratic convention, which meets in Raleigh, Thursday, April 20th.

There were quite a number in attendance. The following delegates were chosen:

J. W. Griffin, S. D. Gilmore, J. R. Milliken, R. M. Connell, A. D. Farrell, C. T. Desern, Wade Barber, A. G. Thomas, J. M. Garner, W. E. Brooks, C. H. Luterloh, J. T. Wright, John R. Blair, J. W. Thrift, W. L. Johnson, J. B. Harris, Will F. Bland (Hanks Chapel).

Too Bad

It seems to us that when a man wants to work and make money for himself that he should be encouraged in his efforts. Here were two men, eager to work, eager to make money, eager to help their fellowmen forget all their troubles and make more, are ruthlessly pounced upon by the officers of the law and their hard labor and dreams of wealth are nipped in the bud.

Deputy Sheriff C. T. Desern and posse slipped out into the sticks about a mile northwest of town Tuesday morning and broke up two men's workshop and arrested them. They also brought along an 80 gallon galvanized still, copper cap and worm and destroyed a lot of beer, probably 500 gallons. It is said 14 bushels of meal were used in raking the beer. These two 'shiners' had never made a "run" and had just begun to boil the water in the kettle preparatory to getting down to good (?) honest labor. Mr. Shiner, it's too bad.

An Opportunity

Next week Stroud & Hubbard, the largest shoe dealers in Lee, Harnett or Chatham counties, located in Sanford, will have an expert from Dr. Scholl's institution to give free and expert advice on the conditions of the feet. This firm is bringing this expert to Sanford at great expense to offer his services absolutely free to anyone in Chatham, Harnett or Lee counties that may desire to consult him. If you have bunions, corns, ingrowing nails, fallen arches or suffer from foot trouble of any character, be sure to take the opportunity to see this representative. Read the ad. in another column of this firm in Sanford.

Building Dams

A little bird flew into The Record office one day this week and whispered a bright piece of news. It was to the effect that an overseer of roads for the past twelve years in Baldwin township, must have an idea of going into electrical business. Or rather, it is said, he is building dams across the Union mountain road that have the appearance of catching water enough to run an electric plant.

That overseer should come to Center township and take lessons how to build roads.

Stolen Paragraphs Localized by the Editor to Tease His Friends

PURCHASED STEIN BROS.

J. Josephs Foremer Manager is Now Owner.

One of the most important changes in the business life of Sanford occurred Saturday April 1st when J. Josephs purchased the Stein Bros. Store. For the past 16 years this has been one of the largest and best known clothing and gents' furnishing stores in Eastern Carolina.

Mr. J. Josephs, Successor to Stein Bros., and a Live-Wire Man.

and for eight years was under the management of Mr. Josephs, who is well known to the people of this section.

The Stein Bros. store located in the McIver Building, next door to the Banking Loan & Trust Co., is not only one of the largest gents' furnishing establishments in this section, but carries a stock equal to that found in the largest stores in the cities of the state, and handles many well known and nationally advertised lines.

J. Josephs is too well known to the people of Lee, Harnett, Moore and Chatham counties to need an introduction. As manager and part owner of the Stein Bros. store in the past he has built up a large personal following, and as a business man he ranks among the leaders of Sanford.

The name of the store will be changed from Stein Bros. to J. Josephs, and the slogan will be "The House of Quality."

CHANCE FOR CHATHAM.

Now to Get a Standard Grade High School if Worked for Right.

An epoch was marked in the educational development of North Carolina when, Saturday afternoon, the State Board of Education appropriated $54,850 to aid in establishing standard four-year high schools in rural districts in counties which have not had such schools heretofore, thus assuring a standard high school for every county in North Carolina.

At the close of the last school year there were 28 counties in the State in which there was not a high school of standard grade. All of these 28 counties will be enabled to maintain such a school through the action of the Board of Education, and in addition there will be established 15 other high schools in the rural districts of counties which have not heretofore had a high school of standard grade outside of the towns of these counties.

It is regrettable to note that heretofore Chatham has not had a high school of Standard Grade. The appropriation has been made and we must now have it. The possibility is for all the present high schools in the county we trust that such measures will be adopted as to secure the privilege of having them.

Do you want to adopt a baby boy anywhere from 2 to 8 months old? Or would you prefer taking one from 2 to 14 years old? Or would you like to adopt a girl 12 years old? If so, write to John J. Phoenix, state superintendent, Greensboro, N. C., for particulars.

Good Prospects.

Our old friend S. P. Teague was in our office Saturday with a sample of oats from a six-acre field, just heading out and some splendid looking clover. He says that everything is in good prospects on his place, the bees are making honey, plenty of old meat and corn in the crib, hens and ducks laying and the eaters are few. We expect to diminish some of those good things soon.

Kill 'em Now.

"Oh, every fly that skips our swatters
Will have five million sons and daughters,
And countless first and second cousins;
Of aunts and uncles, scores and dozens,
And fifty seven billion nieces;
So knock the blamed thing all to pieces."

Miss Pearl Foushee spent the week-end with Miss Katherine Johnson.
