SOCIALISM OF CHRIST.

For three hundred years after Christ, the Christians, following the example and teachings of their Master, preached and practiced the most radical Communistic Socialism, as the sect of Essenes, to which Christ belonged, carried out full practice the doctrine of common, or collective ownership of all goods and property. This doctrine was obnoxious to the rich and propertied class of Judea and the whole Roman Empire and Christ himself was put to death for this reason in Judea, under both Jewish and Roman auspices, and His disciples and followers suffered a like fate in Judea, and for three centuries throughout the Empire of the Caesars.

Jesus the carpenter of Nazareth, and the son of a carpenter, born amid lowly surroundings at Bethlehem, in Judea, was the man whose life and deeds have more powerfully influenced the mind of the world than any other character known to history. As he left nothing in writing, the only account of Him is from the pens of his followers. At thirty years of age he commenced preaching economic doctrines that won for him the love and esteem of the poor and the contempt and hatred of the rich, being Himself so very poor that he had not where to lay his head.

He appeared after Rome had conquered the civilized world, including the Jewish states of Palestine, which were subjected to Rome authority. The Roman Imperial power ruled only for the purpose of collecting tribute and the local affairs of Judea were administered by the priests of the Jewish religion. The priests and the wealthy ruling classes had reduced the one powerful Jewish religion to a mere matter of form hypocrisy and merchandise, being dominated by the spirit of mercenary greed. The temple of Jehova had been turned into a bank for changing money and a medium for disposing of various birds and animals used for sacrifices.

Jesus commenced preaching against the prevailing order of things in His own country. His pulpits being the lakesides, the highways, the street corners, and sometimes the Synagogues, He preached worldly wealth and aimed at the annihilation of riches which he looked upon as supreme folly. He preached a simple life and the foolishness of striving for material things as expressed in the words "Lay not up for yourself treasures upon earth."

Christ opposed the whole system of profit, interest and wages then prevailing, uttering numerous parables to show the injustice and wrong of these things, and hurling many anathemas against the Jewish ruling class. Two notable examples are the parables of Dives and Lazarus, and the rich young man who wanted to join the communist society founded by Jesus, but who went away sorrowing. The rich shall hardly enter the kingdom of heaven was repeated in sentiment in every discourse He uttered. His sermon on the mount is but a laudation of the beauties of a simple life, free from blemish of ill-gotten wealth, and here He addressed the rich: "Woe to you that are rich, for you have had your consolation."

Christ being a humble carpenter, a poor working man, it was natural that He defied the class to which He belonged. He taught the doctrine of human brotherhood, a brotherhood where all did right to their fellow men, and where the many were not robbed by the few. All the disciples He gathered about Him were poor except Matthew who was a tax gatherer, Jesus taught his disciples His aims and purposes, and all of them remained true to the end except one. It was because he opposed and attacked the existing social systems of Judea; because he denounced and opposed the ruling Jewish class; because he was an agitator who attacked the existing institutions—it was because of all these things that He was compelled to die on the cross, His death being brought about by the Jewish priesthood and wealthy ruling classes, who excited the religious prejudices of the multitude to the point where they were willing to have Him crucified. All his disciples except one, John, suffered death for the same cause.

Jesus was executed as a criminal under the forms of the law because of his radical utterances, as He repeatedly said he would be. After his death the disciples proceeded to teach his doctrine of Communism, and the first act of the organization was at pentecost; "And when the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and one soul; neither said any of them that had aught of the things he possessed was his own, but they had all things in common." This particular form of collectivism lasted for three centuries, until Christianity became the state religion of the Roman Empire.

TIME TO BUILD YOUR HOME.

If figures talk at all, they are now shouting to those who contemplate building homes to get busy and let contracts. Money is tight, but the same in every state in the union. An examination of the figures just completed by the United States Department of Labor discloses that the cost of building is now 25 per cent below 1920, and every indication is that from this time on any change is more likely to be upward than downward.

Great volumes of money have been released for building purposes, as forecast some months ago in the newspapers. The result is that activity is found in all sections of the United States. The price of materials has taken a considerable tumble, and while wages remain high, nevertheless, the readjustment has been downward rather than upward. Experts agree that prices, both for material and labor, never will reach the pre-war standard, and with increasing activity, labor certainly will hold its own and materials will go up in price as a result of greatly increased demand. It is a mistake to imagine that the building being done will take care of the shortage of homes that came to us during the war as a result of building stagnation during the war. It will take several years of steady work to overcome the shortage and keep pace with the normal increase in population.—Exchange.
