 SWEET ENOUGH TO BE SURE.

"Reflect upon the inevitable effects" is the statement being sent out all over the United States by the Sugar Association of New York City. The purpose of this circular is to give a few facts and figures relative to tariff as passed by Congress a few days ago: According to the summary gotten out by this Association the tariff on sugar will be the highest it has reached for 32 years; that the cost of sugar through the total tariff imposed will be elevated at least 2c per pound, $2 per bag, $7 per barrel, or $10 each year for the average family of five. The total cost being $220,000,000 to American consumers. A tariff of this character is calculated to make the cost of living higher while the tendency of every individual and corporation as well, is striving to bring it down. It adds burdens to the poor people and enriches the already wealthy by leaps and bounds and does not contribute any appreciable advantage to a nation. This paper does not presume to saddle this condition on any political party. But we venture the assertion that politics is at the root of it, whether it emanates from the Grangers, Greenbackers, Tallyho, Peruvian or Plebian or just plain hood-winkers, and it is an outrage that should be remedied. Just so long as politicians of any party get in power sufficient to make it hard on the poor, hard working individuals of these United States, the same conditions will prevail. Let us refer you to our editorial of last week on "Intelligent Voting." Folks, "look well to your ballot."

STICK TO IT HENRY.

If every corporation, Company and individual that employs labor, would follow the rule established by Henry Ford, the enforcement of prohibition would be a minor consideration, and it must come to that before it will be effective, it begins to look that way, at least. Ford served notice upon the 70,000 employees of his Detroit factory that they must leave intoxicants alone or seek employment elsewhere than in his plant. He has stated that any one of the employees whose breath may betray the presence of liquor, or who is found to be carrying liquor into the plant, or anyone that is known to keep it in the home, will be dismissed without ceremony. "The eighteenth amendment is a part of the fundamental law of this country. It was meant to be enforced. Politics has interfered with enforcement of this law, but so far as our organization is concerned it is going to be enforced to the letter," says Mr. Ford to his employees. Mr. Ford knows that he cannot reasonably expect an honest and efficient day's work from a man whose vitality is drained and whose brain is addled by booze, and he is too good a business man to be willing to tolerate the constant hazard of damage claims arising out of accidents caused by men made irresponsible through drink. He is right in his position and we hope there may be many others to follow his example.

BENNETT AND THE FAIR.

For the Community Fair exhibits, I have appointed Emerson Jones to select his own aids in farm and field crops. W. A. Ward to bring up the Bennett wood work and timber specimen, and in this line G. P. Bray has promised to furnish an inch cut off the stump of a forest pine recently blown down by a storm on his place, which measured forty inches at the butt and made 3,500 feet of lumber. When the butt cut off this tree, came into Bennett on a big boiler moving truck, pulled by Fordson tractors, it reminded the writer of a remark made by old Jesse Hare, in Yadkin county, in 1868. Jesse said he hauled the largest load of hay he ever seen in Yadkin county, being of such immense proportions that it darkened Yadkinville as he came through. Had the Lord not uprooted this pine it would be still standing, for Mr. Bray, like many others, seems to be saving all he can for the children of his great-grand children. The Bennett millers have promised to have specimens of their products ready. Mrs. M. M. Hammer has charge of all the women and all they are to do. Our start was late but if we work we can have a showing worth while. All should come in to Bennett by noon Saturday, September 30. Bring what you have and let's decide on the best and start for the Fair grounds. Don't forget it. H. A. DENSON.

WISE AND OTHERWISE
 Some Our'n—Some Their'n

One day recently Congress forgot and done some work. The majority make the laws and the minority ignore them. They say faint heart never won fair lady. Faint heart was lucky. Nothing is so likely to make America dry as some of the stuff that is now being sold. Our idea of an optimist is a man who buys his hair tonic from a bald headed barber. We remember when a drug store handled drugs and a girl that used paint was talked about. If Ford should put up his factory in Russia, as planned, they would probably call the fiver Fallobumpski. Its not always true, but lots of times you can tell what kind of a husband a man is after you have seen his wife. A writer in one of the daily papers says let's have clean movies. That's right, quit throwing peanut hulls on the floor. Well, the soldier bonus is alright, so far as we are able to figure it out, but Mr. Harding is unable to figure who is to pay the bill. Statistics show that the average American uses 130 pounds of salt each year. Yet most any girl will tell you that some fellows are too fresh. The camping act is just like falling out of a balloon. You do it once. The only thing that would take you out to the lonesome a second time would be six mourners. The interest rate in Russia is now 12 per cent a month or 72 per cent a year. The Soviet government pays 36 per cent a year on foreign funds. These facts have a bearing on the propaganda of money for Russia. Rub-My-Tism, an antiseptic.

Dowd had the misfortune to fall from a wagon last Saturday, and knocked his elbow out of place. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Coggins, I. C. Coggins spent Sunday with J. F. Coggins, of Hallison. They were accompanied by Mrs. I. C. Coggins as far as Mrs. J. L. McManus where she spent the day. Terrill B. Beal and Mrs. Mary L.
