SPLENDID ADVANTAGES.

For many months this paper has had something to say about the advantages that prevailed in Chatham county. It is not out of place to continue to preach them. Every citizen in the county realizes that we have resources and are in position to maintain almost any kind of manufacturing industry, or promote any industrial institution, but how many put forth any effort to promote the interests of Chatham? Do you talk it, think it, and advertise it? When you are away from home, do you constantly tell the folks that Chatham is rich in opportunities and possibilities and that newcomers would be welcomed and helped or do you just remain silent.

Chatham is blessed with strong individuals, it has good banks, with accommodating officers, with resources sufficient to take care of her people and all those who desire to cast their lot with us. Folks with pride enough to keep their money here and take care of home institutions as well as the individuals. Last week, this paper carried a short item from the Carolina Banner in which it was stated that the needle had but one eye and the thread was weak, but with the combined effort of the two, that a button was sewed on that saved man much worry. At a point that could be well taken into consideration by business men of every town, community and section of Chatham to great advantage. Working in cooperation and unity, there could be much done to advance the manufacturing interests of Chatham county and bring her into a deserving position.

There is a negative and positive connection in all electrical batteries and unless these are so connected that one will assist the other, it is impossible to get a contact that will generate current or offer any force whatsoever, therefore this condition exists with men. There must be a linking together of every force and everyone must be determined to accomplish something for the good of all. Suppose all of us lay aside petty jealousies between towns, individuals, communities and industries, work together in a spirit of harmony and determination, and we will soon see the difference between the condition of the county now and within a few months.

Remember, too, that at home you have all the friendship you need to invest your surplus, and you can secure necessary accommodation without going abroad for it. The merchant, banker and builder are your friends, and Chatham county is your home.

CURBSTONE MERCHANDISING

It would be possible for any one to set up a box on a curbstone corner and sell you many articles that are sold in Drug Stores.

You would not care however, to risk your life and health in allowing such a merchant to fill a prescription for you.

Few persons realize that when they buy the service of a compounding pharmacist that they are buying a highly technical service at what is practically a minimum fee, but filling prescriptions alone would be a highly unprofitable business. Drug Stores could not exist on that alone, and you would be deprived of the service of these skilled pharmacists if it were not that drug stores carry a tremendously large stock of related articles. These are sold on a small margin of profit necessarily because competition is keen in this line of business. It is to our distinct advantage to purchase from drug stores the things that are found ordinarily in their stock. Your druggist is more than a merchant.

CHARACTER FIRST.

Many young girls, even of tender years, resort to paints and powders in order to enhance the charm which nature has provided them.

In time they are married and their husbands are chagrined to learn that much of their marvelous beauty was purchased by the box.

Think it over, girls. If nature provides you with intelligence and character you are possessed of something of far greater value in the eyes of a manly man than all artificial facial adornments combined.

SLANDERED MONEY.

N. C. Tuberculosis Association. There used to be an old adage to the effect that money could buy everything but health.

Was it true? At this moment there are 2,500 people in North Carolina who are doomed to die within the next twelve months of tuberculosis, a preventable curable disease unless they have help.

All these people need medical care, good food, fresh air, and most important—a knowledge of how to care for themselves.

All of these services—Sanatorium care, medical and material care in the homes, experts to diagnose the disease and educational work—cost a little money. But the lives of the 2,500 doomed people, and the health of the unknown thousands of others, are worth a little money are they not?

Tuberculosis Christmas seals are dedicated to stamping out this preventable, curable disease. Take some of your slandered money—a few cents, a few dollars—and let it retrieve this smirch on its reputation. It means death to tuberculosis instead of death by tuberculosis. Let it buy health for your city. The 1922 Seal Sale begins Thanksgiving day and extends through Christmas.

Murchison and Alexander, of Goldston, announced last week in this paper a special sale, the date of which should have been from November 17 to December 16. We had it Dec. 17. Next week they will have something else to say to our readers. This sale is now going on and many people are attending and getting the kind of bargains that have been offered.

Service and Security
The main need of this state is thrift and accumulation. We lack sufficient capital for the vast development that is in front, and we are making too great an effort to borrow capital from other states.
That is a grave mistake!
The state or nation that is always in debt to some other state or nation is allowing the creditor to skim the cream in the way of interest, while the borrower pays the interest and lives on the skim milk. The big need of North Carolina is more money in the banks and less money in the chewing gum slot, and in the useless frivolities.
We can earn enough to be a rich state, but we turn it over to people elsewhere, and borrow it back with interest. Nothing in this world comes so easy as interest on money loaned. Great Britain is a great nation because she has held the rest of the world in her debt and collected interest. Get your money in the bank and earn interest, instead of borrowing money and paying interest. Get the habit of keeping every odd cent in the bank. It is the salvation of the individual and of a nation.
