Qualified and Worthy.

Editor Record:-It is rather singular the unanimity with which the weekly newspapers of this immediate section are endorsing and abvocating the candidacy of Frank D. Grist for Commissioner of Labor and Print-

Among those we note the Laurinburg Exchange, Hamlet News-Messenger, Vass Pilot, Troy Montgomerian, Albemarle News-Herald, the Wadesboro M. & I. and Rockingham Post-Dispatch—these being in this immediate section; besides many other papers scattered throughout the State.

In the June 5th primary only 80,-000 voters out of a total of 200,000 expressed a preference for M. L. Shipman. There evidently is a reason why the present Commissioner failed by OVER 40,000 votes of getting a majority in the first primary. Would it have been fair to these 120,000 voters had Grist declined to enter a second primary-especially when in fully 60 of the 100 counties there are primaries for county officers? The claim from Mr. Shipman or his friends that the state should not be put to the expense of this second primary falls flat when it is realized that second primaries are again being held in over half of the counties.

Grist is worthy and well qualified for the job. He has had 18 years practical experience as a printer; he is a militant democrat, and combined with his mental qualifications is the physical fact of his splendid service record in the World War-he serving actively many months in France and having been seriously wounded in the face in the Meuse-Argoe Drive which kept him in hospitals for nearly a year.

The statement has come from Raleigh that the newspapers of the state body invited. are solidly behind Mr. Shipman. This letter is written to disabuse the public mind of any such idea. As already mentioned, in this southern portion of the state we find the pa-Richmond, Montgomery, and Stanly Harris, of Siler City, Rt. 5. are solidly behind Grist-and the undersigned is constrained to believe there must be a very good reason for this oneness of editorial opinion. Here in Richmond county it is con fidently predicted Grist will receive a handsome majority.
