NEWS ITEMS FROM GOLDSTON.

(Written for Last Issue.)

Goldston, April 27.—The following teachers spent the week-end at their respective homes: Prof. Wilson, Misses Frazier and Harmon and Mrs. Harmon.

Dr. Jordan of the department of education at the University, has been secured to deliver the commencement address Tuesday evening, May 5th.

Mrs. M. W. Harris and two children, Lillian and M. W. Jr., of Forest City, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goldston.

Mesdames J. J. Harris and O. S. Alexander spent several days at Glendon last week.

They attended the marriage of their sister, Mrs. Eva Reynolds Ellis to Mr. T. Clarkson Woody, on Saturday, April 25th.

The Parent-Teacher Association held its regular meeting April 20th. After transacting regular business, Mr. G. H. Pulsen, president of the Chapel Hill P. T. A., gave a most interesting talk on the aims and objectives of the Association. Then Mr. Harry F. Comer, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., at the University, talked on the possibilities and potentialities of a human being, emphasizing the need of the best possible training for the young and growing lives that are entrusted to parents and to the school. Mr. Comer's talk was indeed a treat, for his insight into young life, especially the boy, is wonderful.

The Parent-Teacher Association is an organization that can do a great work in linking the home and school together and making the school more efficient. It is to be hoped Goldston's Association will keep going and bring to pass many of the necessary changes and improvements.

Mrs. F. M. Barber and Miss Vada Barber delightfully entertained the Needlecraft Circle last Thursday evening at the home of the latter. Practically all the members were present and it was a merry group that plied their needles to many pieces of artistic designing.

Delicious refreshments were served during the evening.

* QUERY DEPARTMENT. *
* Answers by John *

Can paper be used effectively to keep one warm? Josie, Moncure.

Answer—Yes, Josie. We once gave a 30-day note at a bank and we were in a sweat for a month.

Do Fairy tales always begin with the phrase: "Once Upon a Time?" George, Colon.

Answer—No, George. Sometimes they say: "Sorry dear, but I was detained at the office."

Is it true that men marry women sometimes just because she may have money? Gertrude, Apex.

Answer—Not always, Gertrude. Sometimes it is because the man has no money.

Can you tell me where I may visit an apiary; I want to see one? Willie, Pittsboro.

Answer—Yes, Willie. Come by some afternoon and we will go with you. We like to see the monkeys too.

My sweetheart will not inherit any property until the death of his uncle Jeremiah, who is now 75 years old. What would you advise about our marriage? Jennie, Bonlee.

Answer—Sall right Jennie, if he has enough to live on for two or three years.

Why is it that women are not as fond of radio as are the men. John, Siler City.

Answer—Don't know John, unless it is because they have to stay quiet and listen to it.

I am in love with a girl twice my age. Would it be advisable for me to marry her? Alex, Apex.

Answer—Take the difference in the age to study over it, Alex.

I want to make lots of money and I have been advised to go into the newspaper business. What would you suggest? Bill, Ore Hill.

Answer—Be sensible Bill.

LATE STATE NEWS ITEMS.

Happenings of Interest Gleaned From The State Papers Just Before Going to Press.

President Chase declined the offer of the presidency at a higher salary of a New York institution last week.

The question of providing for negro passengers upon busses is a live one with the officials in charge of the new bus law enforcement. The busses have been put upon a public utility basis like railroads, and accordingly, the question arises as to whether the bus would not be forced to carry negro desiring passage, and in case they should arise the matter of jim-crow department for busses as for railway cars.

The proprietor of a department store in the eastern part of the state was convicted for failure to provide seats for women employees to rest upon when not busy, as required by a new state law. He was let off with the costs on condition that he provide the seats.

President W. L. Poteat of Wake Forest delivered the McNair lecturers at the University Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Statistics show that the birth rate in the rural districts of North Carolina is the highest in the whole country.

Hail stones weighing more than a pound fell during a storm that passed over parts of Robeson and Cumberland counties last week.

Capt. E. D. Williams, of Wilmington, presented Governor McLean with a cane made from the backbone of a shark.

Governor McLean pardoned Hardy Wiggins and Merritt Miller who were condemned to die several years ago, had the death sentence changed to life imprisonment. Another man sent to prison as an aider and abettor who died a few years ago, stated on his dying bed that Wiggins and Miller had nothing to do with killing the man. Former governors, however, declined to release the two men. They are now free by the grace of Governor McLean.

PRIZE FOR BEST DRESS.

Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars Will Be Given By The Exposition.

Charlotte, May 4.—Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars in gold as a sweepstakes prize for the best dress designed and made by any girl or woman in the Carolinas, with an additional one hundred in gold as first prize in the class, is the lure held out by Carolinas Exposition officials this year to the women and girls of the Carolinas. The contest is inaugurated to stir a new interest in the almost lost art of individual designing and dress making in the home, and the Carolinas Exposition Company is offering a total in cash prizes of over one thousand dollars, in addition to many other valuable prizes offered by Carolina banks, stores and factories.

The contest has the active backing of the state departments of education, and this week Superintendent A. T. Allen of North Carolina is issuing a proclamation to every school in the state, urging the girls and teachers to take a hand in this contest.

Not only the educational departments, but the Farm and Home Demonstration Bureaus of both states are actively behind the contest, this meaning that forty thousand girls enrolled in Farm Demonstration Clubs will be solicited to participate. It is also expected that women's clubs and other organizations of women will take active part.

An important conference has just been held in Charlotte this week between Carolinas Exposition Company officials and representatives of the Home Demonstration and Educational Departments of the two states, and rules and regulations governing the contest have been agreed upon. Fifty thousand printed circulars, giving the terms of the contest are to be distributed next week through the Home Demonstration and Educational department offices of the two states.

Attending the conference in Charlotte, in addition to J. Norman Pease, chairman of the style contest committee of the Exposition company and other Exposition officials were Edmond Fairchild, representing Fairchild's Publications of New York; Miss Lonnie Landrum, Director, State Home Demonstration Work for South Carolina, with headquarters at Winthrop College; Miss Catherine Moran, representing the State Home Economics Division, state department of Education of North Carolina; Miss Lillian Creighton, district supervisor of the North Carolina Home Demonstration Department and others. Each of these heads of important departments expressed greatest enthusiasm over the good which this contest will result in to women of the states.

In North Carolina alone there are twenty thousand girls enrolled in the Home Demonstration Clubs, and under Miss Landrum in South Carolina there are about the same number. In the Home Economics Division of North Carolina alone there are over seven thousand girls studying home economics in the schools with a larger number of women in other phases of the department's activity.

The heads of these departments propose to urge their full membership to join actively in this contest.

The outstanding feature of the Made-In-Carolinas Exposition this Fall will be a Fabrics and Fashions display, participated in by some of America's greatest exponents of the art designing, and the contest will terminate with the awarding of many prizes during the Exposition.

The contest in two departments. That for women over eighteen provides for prizes of one hundred dollars first, fifty dollars, second and other valuable prizes in the third class, viz: For best designed street costume, best designed afternoon dress and best designed evening dress.

In the other class open to girls under eighteen the prizes are the same in three classes, as follows: Best designed Street dress; best designed party dress; best designed afternoon dress. In addition there is a grand sweepstakes prize of $250. open to both classes for the best dress of either of the types defined.

Judges of national reputation in the world of style and design will pass the awards, and plans are being made by the Exposition to have those entering this contest wear their dresses in afternoon and evening style reviews during the exposition.

It is pointed out that while the South is rapidly taking the lead in the manufacture of finer fabrics, very little attention in the past has been given to the great art of designing, and this contest is primarily for the purpose of stimulating effort along this line.

MEMORIAL DAY TENTH OF MAY.

Contributed.

The date of Memorial Day differs in the Southern States. It is earlier, south of North Carolina, because of the early spring flowers. North Carolina celebrates May 10th, as a Memorial to General Stonewall Jackson, who died on that date.

Memorial services will be held next Sunday afternoon, May 10th, at 3:30 o'clock in Pittsboro in the Methodist church. Judge W. M. Bond, of Eilenton, will make the Memorial address.

As usual on May 10th every Daughter of the Confederacy is expected to bring 3 evergreen wreaths to place on the graves of every soldier, and also of the daughters who have died. All of the children and grown people are asked to bring their flowers direct to the church.

The hymns to be sung will be those sung at the funerals of General Lee and Gen. Stonewall Jackson: "How Firm a Foundation," and "Let us Pass Over the River andresnt under the Shade of Trees."

After the services in the church on Sunday afternoon, to the tolling of the church bells, all will march to the different church yards, and cover with wreaths and flowers, the graves of those dead heroes of ours.
