RIGGSBEE REUNION

Durham Herald

Approximately a score of people attended the reunion of the Riggsbee family held Sunday at the old homeplace in Chatham county. The occasion was the celebration of the 72nd birthday of G. W. Rigsbee, of Durham. His daughter, Mrs. W. J. Williams was hostess for the occasion which proved to be a most enjoyable one.

A picnic dinner, served on the lawn was the outstanding feature of the day. Practically everything good to eat known by the country people was to be found on the heavily laden table. A large birthday cake holding 72 candles, adorned the table Mr. Rigsbee is unusally hale and hearty for a man of his advanced Attending the reunion were the six children of Mr. Riggsbee and several specially invited guests. The children are: Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cole, of Chapel Hill, Star route; Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Smith, of Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carson, of Chatham county; L. F. Rigsbee and children, and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rigsbee, of Durham.

Notice to Taxpayers

The county commissioneds have set Tuesday, July 7th for the hearing of complaints of over valuation. Any citizen who feels that his land is rated too high is urged to be present that day, prepared to give his reasons for his complaint plainly and definitely. We hope that the people will heed this request or forever hold their peace. After work has begun on the books any change in valuation is very troublesome and expensive.
