

THEY KNOW NOT THE MAN
(Durham Herald)

We have contended, possibly with too much energy, that the warfare that has been waged against Dr. W. L. Poteat, president of Wake Forest college, is based on a lack of information. This war has been raging for a couple of years, and promises to reach a climax at the State Baptist convention which meets in Charlotte next month. It is understood that there is an organized movement to change the manner of electing trustees of Wake Forest, in order, it is believed, to put in a board that will compel the resignation of Dr. Poteat. Of course, the cause prompting this is the difference of views on evolution.

We are firmly of the opinion that Dr. Poteat is not understood. The attacks on him are based on the general assumption that he is not a religious man because he believes in evolution, the theory being that no man can be an evolutionist and a Christian. Of course such a belief is without firm foundation.

A few days ago, Dr. Poteat addressed an audience in Winston-Salem, following which the Winston Journal carried the editorial quoted here, and we are reproducing it as more evidence that when people understand Dr. Poteat, they can have no foundation for questioning his deep-rooted religious convictions and his sincerity as a Christian:

"After hearing Dr. William Louis Poteat discuss science and religion in Winston-Salem, one wonders what the tumult among the Baptists in North Carolina is all about.

"Surely no man could be found for the presidency of Wake Forest college who could go stronger on faith in the Bible and the Bible's God than Dr. Poteat went when he told more than a thousand men here that 'the scientist who says there is no God, no spirit world, no miracle, is the fool of the Scriptures,' and to prove his conviction quoted from the Bible, 'The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.'

"Please note that in this brief but all-inclusive statement the eminent educator and scientist put himself on record not only as one having faith in God and the spirit world, but as one who believes in miracles. What more can a Christian be asked to believe?"

Dr. Poteat says that he hears more about evolution in a day traveling over North Carolina than he hears in a year at Wake Forest College. And yet, to hear some well-meaning, but misinformed people talk, one would think that the students of Wake Forest and other higher institutions of learning in North Carolina, too, for that matter, are fed on evolution morning, noon and night.

"It would be humorous, if it were not tragical, that Christian people could get themselves so wrought up over a theory or doctrine, when Jesus, Himself, never stopped to argue with anybody about theories. To Jesus, religion was not doctrine, or creed, or theory. It was life. And it is nothing short of tragedy when Christians take the emphasis off of life, where Jesus placed it and left it, and put it instead on pet theories and doctrines about life."

SCHOOL MATES PAY LOVING TRIBUTE

In a short service at twelve o'clock last Friday the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades paid a last loving tribute to a little schoolmate, Nora Petty. Miss Harris, teachers of the fifth and sixth grades, opened the services with a short, quiet story of how nobly and sweetly Nora went about her work in the schoolroom and how good she was everywhere one found her. The children sang "Jesus Loves Me" in tones which showed how real was the sorrow voiced by Elizabeth Womble when she said, "Nora loved everybody. She was always kind and good. We will miss her in school, at play, and all the time." Miss Edwards, teacher of the fourth grade, who had Nora with her all of last year and knew so well how lovable she was, read two verses from the twelfth chapter of Ecclesiastes and prayed that all who had known her might have the same beautiful attitude toward life which Nora had. Tears streamed from childish faces and broken sobs sounded throughout the room as "Everybody Ought to Love Jesus" was sung. Not a child was there who had not heard Nora sing the song and see her live it. She will always be remembered for the unflinching loveliness of her disposition. She was a good sport on the playground and a faithful student. Whenever we remember good playfellows and real friends we will be remembering Nora.

LOOK OUT FOR BIG PREMIUM OFFER

The dollar a year proposition is now over. It served its purpose in a measure, but even $1.50 is too cheap for the paper if it is to be made what the people want their county paper to be. As well blame a pig for not becoming a 500-pound hog on a nubbin' a day as to complain because the publisher of your county paper does not give you a paper that would cost twice or thrice what the income of the business will justify. But $1.50 a year will do fairly well at present, and we are hoping to offer you, next week or a little later, a proposition that gives us the $1.50, yet pays you mighty well. We think we can offer The Record and five magazines of your pick from 19, all for a year, for $2.25—which will mean really more than The Record for $1 a year. But don't wait for that to renew. Renew promptly and you may have the magazines later for 75 cents.

"All the Money in the World Is No Use to a Man or His Country If He Spends It As Fast As He Makes It. All He Has Left Is His Bills and the Reputation for Being a Fool."—Kipling.

Those are words of wisdom and they should appeal strongly at this time to the men who are now selling their year's crop. What is not saved NOW is gone.

Investment is the final resort for him who would be independent, but before one can invest he must save, and a bank account is the best way to start. You must build up your own capital and at the same time build a credit. Opportunity for investment often comes when a man has not all the ready money needed. If he has convinced his banker that he is thrifty and safe, it will be a much easier matter to secure the needed funds when the right opportunity comes. And there is no better way to do that than by depositing regularly every dollar that can be spared.

AND THIS IS THE BANK

And the Page Trust Company is the Bank for you to deposit with. It gives every security for the safety of your money, pays you interest on time deposits, helps you keep account of your expenditures through the checking system, and then when you need to borrow it has the cash to let you have. The Page Trust Company has more than Five Millions in assets. This is only one branch of it, but the whole system is back of this branch. Consequently, whether it is to save or to borrow, the Page Trust Company is your one best bet; but it must remember its friends first. Make friends of us while you have money. Let us learn of your responsibility. That done, you may count upon us in time of need or when opportunity knocks invitingly at your door.
