

REVIEWS PROGRESS OF WAR ON DISEASE

Health Service Shows Reduction in Tuberculosis.

Washington.—Many diseases are being decreased by the activities of health departments, says the United States public health service in a review of the progress being made against disease, while other maladies are holding their own, and still others are actually increasing.

Disease of the heart at present causes more deaths in this country than any other one thing. The health officer, it is said, cannot do much to prevent heart disease except to give advice, but the layman can. "Your heart is your own," says the review, "and you can easily neglect and abuse it, or you can be taught how to take care of it. Most cases of heart disease result from avoidable conditions and are contracted usually early in life. If you wish to know how to avoid these conditions, go to your doctor or your dentist, or both. They can help you avoid heart disease if you go to them in time."

"Influenza and pneumonia together stand next to heart disease in the number of deaths which they cause. Reports of tuberculosis for 1924 have not yet been completed. We know that this disease killed 73,423 in the 35 states from which reports have been received. Estimating for the rest of the population at the same rate, we assume that 112,000 persons died in the United States in 1924 of tuberculosis. This, of course, is bad, but it is the lowest rate we have ever had. If the same rate had prevailed in 1924 as we had in 1900, there should have been 233,000 deaths instead of 112,000, so you see there were proportionately less than one-half as many deaths in 1924 as in 1900."

Control of Diphtheria.

"Diphtheria is a disease which doctors and health officers have learned how to control, provided the people will co-operate, but not otherwise. Based on the rates for 35 states from which reports have been received, it is estimated that there were 10,700 deaths from diphtheria in 1924. Now that is bad, but it is the lowest rate we have ever had. Again, if the 1900 rate prevailed, we would have had nearly 50,000 deaths instead of 10,700. In other words, there were proportionately nearly five times as many deaths from diphtheria in 1900 as there were in 1924. If parents would have their children Schick-tested and have the doctor give the toxin-antitoxin treatment to those who are susceptible to the disease, there would not be very much diphtheria left. You may write to the surgeon general for literature on diphtheria."

"Many people think that whooping cough is not a serious disease. Well, whooping cough is not so serious for grown people or for older children, but it murders babies and young children by the thousands. Do not let your baby get whooping cough."

"At the beginning of the present century the control of typhoid fever seemed almost hopeless. Today we are usually able to find out who or what is to blame, even if it is only a small outbreak of typhoid fever. However, present conditions indicate that there was more typhoid fever in the United States in 1925 than in 1924, and health officers everywhere are on the alert to check this tendency."

Measles Hard to Combat.

"Measles is a disease which is extremely difficult to combat in the present state of our knowledge. While there has been a general reduction in the death rate from this disease since 1900, this reduction is not marked, and the course of the disease is very irregular. Our inability to control measles is due in great measure to the fact that there usually elapses a period of about four days from the time of the appearance of the initial symptoms to the time of the appearance of the eruption. Measles is communicable during this stage. The child is not infrequently at school during a portion of this time, and unless a doctor is called, the disease is not recognized until the eruption appears. Many mild cases of measles are never seen by a physician and are not reported."

"Infantile paralysis or poliomyelitis is another deadly disease. Fortunately, it is not as prevalent as measles or whooping cough, but it is sufficiently common to strike terror into the hearts of parents. Scarlet fever shows an apparent increase. However, it is believed that the cases are being better reported and there was an actual decrease of 12 per cent in the number of deaths during 1924."

"Approximately 16,000 people are killed each year in the United States by automobiles, and the number is increasing."

The Epworth League, of the Pittsboro Methodist church, gave a very enjoyable affair at the home of Miss Margaret Womble Tuesday night. Stunts were a feature of the evening. White ice cream, lemonade, watermelon and sandwiches were sold.

New Elam News.

At the Methodist parsonage in Durham Saturday evening, July 3 at 8:30 o'clock, Miss Meda Bell Goodwin of that city and Mr. Daniel Lloyd Webster of Philadelphia, Pa., were united in marriage Rev. J. A. Martin officiating, using the ring ceremony. The bride was becomingly attired in blue georgette trimmed with moire ribbon with hat to match of silk swiss hair braid. Her corsage was cream roses and fern. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mrs. Emma Goodwin of Durham and is a charming young woman. Mr. Webster is the second son of Mrs. Addie Webster of New Hill, Rt. 2. He is an industrious honest young man and has many friends who wish for him and his bride much happiness. Immediately following the ceremony they left for Greensboro where they spent a few days upon their return they visited their parents before their departure last Friday for Philadelphia where the groom holds a valuable position and where they will make their home.

Their many friends will learn with much interest of the marriage last Saturday afternoon of Miss Bettie Moore Sturdivant and Mr. Sidney Bynum Tysinger. The marriage occurred at the Methodist parsonage at Bynum kev. Mr. Watson pastor of Ebenezer church where the bride is a member officiating. She was dressed in green with a white hat, white slippers and hose. She is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Sturdivant of this route and is an attractive young woman. Mr. Tysinger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Tysinger of Davidson county. He has operated a saw mill in Chatham for a few years where he has made many friends, he is a splendid young man. Only a few close relatives witnessed the marriage ceremony and immediately following Mr. and Mrs. Tysinger left for the mountains in the western part of the state and will also visit his parents at Lexington.

The most elaborate social event of the season took place last Saturday night at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Goodwin when they, in a most charming manner, entertained the members of the New Elam Christian Endeavor Society. Each member was permitted to ask a friend so all together this made a large crowd which made the occasion more delightful. The lawn was lighted with lanterns and games were played out-doors.

The porch, living room, hall and dining room were made more lovely by flowers. A piano and Victrola furnished music throughout the evening. Six were invited each time into the dining room where Mrs. Goodwin assisted by several other ladies served vanilla and strawberry cream and cake. The dining room was especially lovely. The table was covered with a white linen cloth and Napkins to match. The table was decorated with hydrangeas and other flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin are very congenial people and always make it pleasant for their guests.

Weddings seem to be all "the go" now. Another wedding of interest was Miss Annie Poole and Mr. Clarence Wilson both of this route. These are popular young people and their best of friends join in wishing them much happiness.

Brown's Chapel School Discontinued

The board of education, in session Monday, voted to discontinue, for the present at least, Brown's Chapel one-teacher school and have the pupils of the district conveyed to Gum Springs and Pittsboro. Pupils of the upper grades will come to Pittsboro. The Brown's Chapel school averaged only 23 pupils last session.

Mr. Bridges of the board, was authorized to determine as to the advisability of discontinuing the Love's Creek school and transporting the pupils of that one-teacher school to the Siler City school.

An order was made to purchase an acre of land for the erection of a teacherage at Bell's school and to have condemned the site desired if the owner will not sell voluntarily. The contract has been let for the building of the teacherage.

NEWS FROM ANTIOCH

Cummock, Rt. 1.—Miss Lucy Prince of Pittsboro was a visitor in the home of Mr. J. E. Johnson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Oldham of Bynum spent the week-end in the home of Mr. Oldham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Oldham.

Miss Fannie Gunter of Sanford visited relatives in this section Sunday.

Miss Violet Johnson has returned to her work at Siler City, after spending a while with her brother who is sick.

Messrs. Sam Jones and Earl Dean of Bynum spent a while Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. A. H. Oldham.

Rev. J. S. Cardon was unable to fill his regular appointment at Antioch Christian church because of the death of his son. In his absence the pulpit was filled by Rev. Mr. May of Durham, he delivered a sermon that was very helpful and worth listening to.

There will be an ice cream supper at Antioch church Saturday night. The public is invited to fill its jeans with silver, as the proceeds will be used for the benefit of the church.

A LIVELY SCRAMBLE FOR ROAD

The county commissioners had a lively scramble before them Monday for a proposed road from the Chapel Hill highway out into New Hope township. There were three roads proposed for improvement, the one leading east by Lystra church, the one leaving the Chapel Hill highway at Farrington's saw mill, and the one leading eastward from the Riggsbee store. The commissioners listened but said little. However, they did agree to improve the Lystra road if the people of the community benefitted would contribute $300.00 to the project.

The purpose is to give an outlet to the people of the northeastern part of the county, a thing that is badly needed. The eastern terminal of the road will probably be Darrington, a depot on the Durham branch of the Norfolk-Southern. The question is where it shall leave the Pittsboro-Chapel Hill highway.

A MILLION DOLLARS A YEAR

Forestry Expert Declares Chatham County Forests Should Yield that Sum—Trees Chatham's Biggest Crop

Mr. R. W. Graeber, Extension Forester, N. C. State College, Raleigh, spent Thursday and Friday with County Agent Shivers, looking over the timber lands of Chatham County farms. Group meetings of farmers were held at the farms of Mr. Ira Foushee and Mr. Clyde Griffin. In discussing the timber crop of this county Mr. Graeber said, "The timber crop of Chatham county is the biggest single crop in the county, in fact it has more than double the acreage of all other crops combined. But from the evidence we find on every hand too many people do not handle their timber without any regard for the future." Figures are given to show the land utilization in this county, which offers much food for thought on the part of the landowners.

The U. S. Farm Census gives the farm acreage of Chatham county as follows:

All land in farms	320,999 acres
Crop land, 1924	94,398 acres
Harvested	68,570
Crop failure	1,454
Idle	24,374
Pasture land, 1924	40,847 acres
Plowable	10,382
Woodland	22,291
Other	8,174
Woodland not pastured	170,280 acres
All other land	15,474 acres

Commenting on these figures Mr. Graeber says, "Please note the acreage of woodland in your county, a total of 192,571 acres. If every acre of this wood was put in condition to grow a full stand of trees of either loblolly pine, shortleaf pine, poplar, or even sweetgum, the annual value of this growth would approximate one million dollars. Average pine lands will produce an annual net income of $5.00 or more per acre. Quite a few areas in Chatham county are even more productive. If these pine lands are given the same careful management that cotton or tobacco receives the income can be increased from 50 to 100 percent. I would also have you note the 24,374 acres of land cleared but idle. So long as Chatham has this amount of idle land there is no need for further land clearing. When cutting fuel wood or pulp wood do not clear land, THINK YOUR TIMBER. You thin your cotton and corn, why not your timber? The same principle is involved. Average stands of second growth pines should be thinned at about 15 years old, leaving 1200 to 1400 trees per acre. At this time from 8 to 12 cords of fuel wood per acre could be cut. Further thinnings should be made each five years thereafter, removing 200 to 300 trees each time. The second and third thinnings would make fuel wood, pulp wood, fence posts (for creosoting), later crops will make saw lumber, telephone poles, piling, etc."

"You will also note that more than half of your pasture land is in woods (22,291 acres). Trees and grass can't grow in the same place; they both require direct sunlight. I would suggest that you clear your pasture—then take the cows out of the woods. The grass that grows in the shade has practically no food value. The cattle destroy the young trees, or children of the forest. So, why pasture woodland?"

"We are cutting and otherwise destroying the timber of the United States at the rate of 27,000,000,000 cubic feet per year, or four and one-half times as fast as it is growing. We must do something if future generations are to have timber for their use. So, let's prevent forest fires, and grow timber as a crop. Then too, the farm forest is the best little Savings Bank the farmer can have—yes, it pays more than 4 percent interest. Mr. Shiver is selecting several locations in the county for starting demonstrations in methods of forest management. These demonstrations will be started this fall and will be located on the leading roads of the county. Mr. Graeber will return to the county for several days to assist Mr. Shiver in getting this work started. Meetings of farmers will be held at each demonstration."

WINS $200 SCHOLARSHIP

Junius W. Durham Awarded Scholarship at University for Best Essay on Jefferson Davis

It is gratifying to announce that Junius W. Durham, 17-year-old son of Mr. Henry F. Durham, has been awarded a $200 scholarship at the University for the best essay written by any high school student in the state on the subject of Jefferson Davis.

Junius was awarded the $500 prize given by Mrs. Henry A. London for the best essay written by any student of the Pittsboro high school on the subject. Later the same essay was entered in the state contest fostered by the Daughters of the Confederacy, and word was received a few days ago to the effect that young Durham had won over the entire field and had been awarded the $200 scholarship offered as a prize.

ABOUT AUTOMOBILE LICENSE

All who had applied for automobile license before July 10, the Record is authoritatively informed, will not be penalized for failure to secure license. On the contrary, those who had not applied for license before July 11 will drive their cars without the new license at risk of a fine.

Miss Carolyn Burns spent Friday in Charlotte.

BRICK HAVEN NEWS

Brick Haven, July 11.—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Harrington and children were week-end visitors with relatives of New Hill.

Messrs. James Hunnicutt and Jone of Charlotte spent the week-end here. Mrs. T. J. Harrington and children motored to Sanatorium Sunday to spend the day with Mr. Harrington.

We are asked to make the statement that the "Home-Coming" and the Children's Day exercises held at Christian Chapel yesterday were all that could be desired, even by the most fastidious. The children did their parts unusually well, reflecting much credit upon those who had the program in charge. The music was the special feature of the day perhaps, although the short talks by different ones were much enjoyed and especially the speech in the afternoon by Mr. J. D. Gunter of Sanford. The male quartette from Durham was on hand and added much to the musical part of the program.

Miss Mae Dickens is spending this week with her aunt, Mrs. D. J. L. of Fuquay Springs.

Miss Della Dowell of Wake Forest, who has been spending a few weeks here with Mrs. O. C. Kennedy will return home this week.

Mrs. Hettie Richardson of Raleigh is the guest here this week of her sister, Mrs. N. T. Overby.

Mrs. N. T. Overby, who has been visiting Mr. Overby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Overby of McCullers has returned home.

Mrs. Benfield of Miami, Florida has been on a short stay here with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Lawrence.

Mr. Joseph W. Lawrence is spending a while at Acme with his uncle, Mr. A. H. Marks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gardner of Raleigh, a recent bride and groom, were week-end guests here. Before her marriage Mrs. Gardner was Miss Vera Richardson one of Wake county's successful teachers and a niece of Mrs. N. T. Overby here.

The ball game here Saturday with the team from Bell's was to say the least exciting, and the general opinion among the players and the spectators was that it was anything but a clean, honest play. There is no sport more wholesome nor more interesting than a fair, squarely played, game of ball. A game where the players on both sides are interested in the sport itself and the highest score to be decided by the skill and dexterity of each individual contestant. It is not so much a question of winning but of how the highest score is won. The clean, sporting spirit of the team is what counts and it is a pity to lose sight of the fine, wholesomeness of the game in the chief aim to make the highest score regardless of how it is obtained. Eleven innings were played and the score stood 6-7.

The team from Bynum is scheduled to be here next Saturday and every one is looking forward to an interesting afternoon. Members of the C. E. Society will sell refreshments.

DEATH OF JOHN W. POE

One of County's Best Citizens Passes at Age of 53—Burial at Love's Creek

John W. Poe, aged 53 years, one of Chatham county's best known and most popular farmers, died at his home near Siler City at 4:45 o'clock last Thursday. Two weeks ago Sunday, while seated on his porch with members of his family and in his usual good health, seemingly, he was stricken with paralysis which caused his death this afternoon. He was a member of Love's Creek Baptist church, near this place, for the greater part of his life and was a member of the Junior Order council at Liberty.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rosa B. Poe; seven sons, Clarence Poe, Staley; Dean Poe, Siler City; Grady, Virgil, Fletcher, George and Julius, of the home place; two daughters, Misses Alice and Rebecca Poe, who lived with their parents, and one grandson. Four brothers, I. D. Poe, of Staley, and B. A. James and W. A. Poe, of Siler City; and seven sisters, Mrs. J. F. Glosson, Mamdale; Mrs. F. A. Siler and Mrs. W. M. Johnson, Siler City; Mrs. T. B. Smith, of Staley; Mrs. Ida York, of Liberty; Mrs. Emma Patterson of Franklinville, and Mrs. W. H. Davis, of Siler City.

Funeral services over the remains were conducted from Love's Creek Baptist church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. R. S. Fountain, pastor of the Siler City Baptist church. The Junior Order was in charge of services at the grave.

FRED LONDON GIVES PARTY

Mr. Fred London delightfully entertained at his home Wednesday evening at eight-thirty o'clock in honor of Messrs. Thomas James of Wilmington, N. C.; George Elliot London of Raleigh; Henry Anderson of Fayetteville, and Armond Fell of Trenton, N. J. Those present besides the honorees were Misses Margaret Brooks, Elizabeth Blair, Annie Bynum, Virginia Beans and Pearl Johnson and William Chapin, Jr.

A Charleston contest was enjoyed. Miss Virginia Beans, the winner, was presented a prize. Games were enjoyed on the lawn after which the guests were invited into the house where punch was served.

MONCURE NOTES

Mrs. C. D. Orrell and daughter, Barbara, of Yemose, S. C. are visiting her mother, Mrs. E. F. Watkins for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Mims and children of Raleigh are visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mims this week.

Mr. Jack Kirkland of Durham spent last week-end with Mr. R. A. Moore. Miss Elva Moore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Moore is spending sometime with her sister at Hamlet. Mr. H. R. Benfield of Florida was in town last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vann Barringer of Durham spent Sunday with his aunt, Mrs. E. F. Watkins.

Mr. R. A. Moore spent today, Monday, at Jonesboro.

Miss Mae Watson spent Sunday with her parents at Vass.

Rev. C. M. Lance did fill his regular appointment here Sunday, for he was in Asheville visiting his sick sister, Rev. C. H. Rhinehart of Phoenix Utility Co. made an interesting and heart-felt talk Sunday morning on the "Second Coming of Christ." We welcome Mr. Rhinehart to our church and hope he will come again.

The Epworth League filled the church hour Sunday evening with a good program. We wish to especially mention the solo, "Crossing the Bar," by Mrs. H. D. Strickland, also the story of Martha and Mary which was splendidly told by W. W. Stedman and then a selection sung by the Leaguers.

Don't forget the "Home Coming Day" at the Presbyterian church at Haywood the fourth Sunday, July 25, 1926. This is an interdenominational meeting. Everybody is cordially invited to come. A good program has been arranged with good music.

DELIGHTFUL PARTY FOR THE MESSDAMES NOOE

Mrs. F. C. Mann charmingly entertained with three tables of bridge in honor of Mrs. Louis Nooe and Mrs. Henry Nooe.

The living room was decorated with lovely garden flowers. A frozen fruit salad with sandwiches and ice tea was served by the hostess. Top score prize was awarded to Mrs. E. R. Hinton and lovely guest prizes to the honorees.

Those playing were: Mrs. Louis Nooe, Mrs. Henry Nooe, Mrs. D. L. Bell, Mrs. E. R. Hinton, Mrs. Victor R. Johnson, Mrs. Wade Barber, Mrs. J. L. Griffin, Mrs. A. H. London, Mrs. K. B. Griffin, Misses Evelyn Alston, Sankie Glenn and Margaret Womble.

Mrs. Victor R. Johnson and Miss Evelyn Alston entertained at the Woman's Club room in honor of Mrs. Louis Nooe and Mrs. Henry Nooe of Ridgeway, South Carolina. The club room was tastefully decorated in flags with tall jars of larkspur and Queen Anne's lace, while bowls of shasta daisies and snap dragon were used on tables about the room. Seven tables were arranged for bridge and two for rook. Score cards with flags and dainty baskets of red and white filled with nuts carried out the patriotic feature. After six progressions, cream with a flag in the center of each block, angel's food cake and gold cake were served.

Mrs. Johnson and Miss Alston presented to the guests of honor lovely oriental fans and to Mrs. G. W. Blair high score in rook and Mrs. W. B. Chapin for high score in bridge, handsome blue vases.

A NEW MOTOR OIL

The Standard Oil Company Produces an Oiler Oil—A New Principle of Lubrication Established

One can hardly glance over the Record this week and the following weeks without being made aware that the Standard Oil Company is offering for sale an improved oil for motor cars. The Standard is everlastingly at work improving its products. It spends bundles of money in investigation and experimentation, thoroughly tests its new products, and then boldly spends money in advertising them.

The Standard Oil Company worked several years to perfect this new oil but before offering it for sale gave it a year's test in its own cars. President Teague, of the Standard, states that the new oil brought an increase in gas mileage as high as 12 percent and an increase in power of from 3 to 10 percent. In all the test, according to Mr. Teague, the motor ran cooler with the new oil.

According to Mr. Teague, the new "Standard" Motor Oil solves the problem of spotty lubrication which has baffled engineers ever since the perfection of the internal combustion engine. It is an oil of greater oiliness, and possesses many advantages over the best of the old type oils.

"For years, engineers endeavored to find an oil," stated Mr. Teague, "that would cling to metal surfaces so thoroughly as to abolish the areas of partial lubrication—the dry spots which permit the grinding of metal upon metal, and which result in scoring of cylinder walls, lead to dilution and other factors destructive to lubrication."

The long-sought-for solution of the problem, according to President Teague, has been found, and the new "Standard" Motor Oil is the answer. It goes immediately upon sale.

Miss Sadie Johnson spent the week-end at Goldston.
