Bynum News Items

The Bynum and Rock Springs Sunday schools jointly held their annual picnic last Saturday at Lakewood Park, Durham. A large crowd attended. A bountiful dinner was served and the day was entirely a pleasant one. Fifteen gallons of ice-cream followed the regular dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith of Dunn are spending the week here with Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smith.
Mr. W. I. Farrell, of near Pittsboro, is spending some time with his daughters Mesdames Henry Abernathy and Offie Williams.
Miss Effie Lambeth is in Greensboro visiting her sister Mrs. W. B. Atwater.
Mrs. D. L. Tripp of Carrboro spent the week-end with her mother Mrs. E. Riggsbee.
Mrs. Naomi Marshall has returned to her home in Wilmington after spending some time here with her father J. E. Sturdivant.
Mr. R. S. Brown, of Saxapahaw, is visiting his daughter Mrs. C. L. Anrews.
Mr. Francis Watts of Birmingham, Ala., has returned to his home after spending several weeks here with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith.

Burns Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Burns were happy parents last Saturday to have all of their children at home for a reunion. This was the first time in fifteen years they have all been together. There were only four of the family connection absent—two sons-in-law and two grand children. The dinner was quite a feast—a bit of pig barbecue and all the goodies that go with it.
The children included Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Burns and family of near Pittsboro, Mrs. A. F. Goldston and little daughter of Lake Waccamaw, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wood of and family of Kittrell, N. C., Mr. N. Marvin Burns of Roanoke, Va., Mrs. Harvey Dickens and two children of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Guy Smith and Lelia Burns of Atlanta, Ga.; Messrs. Wilson and Bruce Burns of Pittsboro and Robert who lives with his parents. There were also several friends present.
The most remarkable part of the occasion was the fact that the parents and every one of the children were in perfectly good health. They hope now to meet together once every year.

Merry Oaks News

Mrs. J. J. Reynolds and son Leamon left today (Monday) for Wrightsville Beach to spend the week.
Mr. A. M. Cotton went to Philadelphia last Tuesday for special treatment.
Mr. Earnest Case, who has been staying with his brother at Merry Oaks left Sunday to go to Hogansville, Ga., where he will spend some time with his sister.
Miss Fionnie Sauls is spending this week with her aunt and uncle of Broadway.
Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Goodrich passed through town en route to Louisville, Kentucky, where Rev. Mr. Goodrich is pastor of three or four churches.
Mrs. Nathan Williams left last Monday to attend a family reunion in Cumberland county.
Tobacco curing is in full blast in this section.
Miss Mae Sauls spent Saturday night with Miss Leona Holt.

Mrs. W. T. Powell Passes

Mrs. W. T. Powell, of Bynum rt. 1, died at her home Tuesday night of last week, at the age of 58. She is survived by her husband, two sons, two daughters, four brothers and two sisters. Mrs. Powell before marriage was a Miss Fowler. She was a good woman and highly esteemed in her community.
The funeral was held at Mt. Pleasant Methodist church, her pastor, Rev. W. J. Watson conducting the services. A large crowd was present to pay their last respects to the beloved woman.

Mr. J. L. Griffin left Wednesday to attend a meeting of the board of trustees of Eastern Carolina Teachers' College, Greenville, N. C.

PITTSBORO-GRAHAM HIGHWAY

An Enthusiastic Meeting Held at Graham Friday—Routing West of Hwy Preferred

Probably a dozen good citizens of Chatham, headed by Commissioner W. T. Brooks, attended a meeting held in Graham looking to the connection of these adjacent county-seat towns by a direct highway. The sentiment of the meeting was for the construction of such a road, and a route west of Haw River was greatly preferred, as it would open up a section in both Chatham and Alamance that needs such an outlet and that would be the direct routing.
One or two, in view of outstanding expectation of a road's being built westward from the University, thought that road when constructed would serve the purpose. It was concluded that the direct route westward from Chapel Hill was needed, but the sentiment of the meeting was for the building of a direct Pittsboro to Graham highway and the construction of a branch from the University to intersect it at or beyond Saxapahaw. A large petition from Chatham was carried by Mr. T. H. Perry, favoring the direct routing.
There lies a fine farming section between Pittsboro and Graham and a real highway would do much to develop it.

Meeting of U. D. C.

(Contributed)

The Winnie Davis Chapter U. D. C. met Aug. 20, with Mrs. Lee Farrell and Mrs. R. M. Farrell at the home of the latter. The Chairman of membership committee gave a good report and two new members, Mrs. J. C. Lanius and Miss Minnie Bell, were received into the chapter.
Sorrow was expressed at the passing away of Mr. R. M. Burns, a most beloved veteran, and a beautifully expressed letter of thanks from his family was read.
Sorrow and sympathy were expressed for the family of the late Mr. J. D. Womble in their bereavement. The president, Mrs. H. A. London received enthusiastic congratulations for her newly born twin grandsons, Henry London and John London Jerome.

A letter was read from Miss Elizabeth Conrad, secretary of the Stone Mountain Coin committee, thanking the Chapter for the $21.00 paid for coin 184.
The following were elected delegates to the State Convention: Mrs. J. C. Lanius, Mrs. Bunn Fearington, Mrs. J. M. Gregory, Mrs. J. L. Griffin; Alternate: Mrs. W. B. Chapin, Mrs. W. M. Eubanks, Mrs. R. P. Johnson, Mrs. R. C. Griffin.
It was a privilege to have with us Mrs. John H. Anderson, State historian, and the feature of the afternoon was her most interesting and enjoyable talk. We were happy also to have present Mrs. J. H. Currie of Fayetteville, who expressed in a few well chosen words her pleasure at being able to meet with us.
A delicious ice course was served by the hostess.

CHATHAM YOUTH BECOMES FULL-FLEDGED JUDGE
Chatham friends of the parents of Mr. Tom Pace will rejoice to learn that that young man has risen to distinction in his adopted state of Oklahoma.
The young man was born in Chatham but mostly reared at Maxton, where his parents moved a quarter of a century ago. He graduated at Trinity, taught in Florida, moved to Oklahoma, and the first thing his family knew about his studying law he had his license. This was only a few years ago, for the young man is only 32 years of age now.
He was recently nominated for a regular superior court judgeship, in a contest with the occupant of the position and a third contestant. Young Pace won. A few days ago the judge whom he had defeated in the primary died, and Mr. Pace was immediately elevated to the bench.
The Paces formerly lived at Pace's Mill in northwest Chatham. Tom has frequently visited Pittsboro and is indirectly connected with Mrs. Ed. Hinton's family.

Country Doctor Gets Fee After 22 Years
Chardon, Ohio.—The life of a country physician is a drab one, but occasionally there is a ray of sunshine.
Dr. R. C. Pease of Chardon, while making a call in an adjoining town, was greeted by two men. The elder, hailing the doctor and extending his hand, said:
"Doctor, I see you do not recognize me."
Doctor Pease admitted it.
"No wonder you don't," said the elderly man, as he introduced his twenty-three-year-old son.
"You brought me this boy, doctor," said the father. "I was then unable to pay you for your services and for years fortune failed to smile on me. But now I am able to pay you the old account. I was at your office the other day but you were out. I'll send you the money in a day or two. The bill was $21."
Two days later, Doctor Pease received a money order for $50.

Messrs. S. D. Johnson and Graham Connel, Mrs. Walter Johnson, and Miss Pearl Johnson spent Monday at High Point.

New Elam News

New Hill, Rt. 2, Aug. 23, 1926—The revival meeting began at New Elam, Sunday, August 15, and closed Friday night the 20th. The pastor, Rev. J. F. Johnson, did all the preaching delivering two excellent sermons each day. His message Tuesday night was very good; his address was to Fathers and Mothers. Wednesday night his sermon was especially for young people. Both were as good as we ever heard, and more attended than could be seated. J. W. Drake, C. N. Johnson and Mr. Rhinhart conducted a prayer service. Thirteen united with the church, and the baptizing will be at Johnson's bridge Saturday before the third Sunday in September.
Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Carr of Ga. spent last week with their son Mr. G. F. Carr.
Miss Janice Carr is visiting Miss Inez Holt at Varina.
Mr. John W. Drake of Greensboro spent last week with his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Drake and attended the revival at New Elam, where he was a member until a short time ago he joined the first Christian Church at Greensboro, as he is living there. He is a deacon now in that church.
Mrs. Robert Sauls and two children of Durham visited Chatham kind-folk last week.
Miss Helen Ford of High Point was the guest of Miss Lillian Olinger last week.
Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Johnson of Fuquay Springs visited several homes in this section last week and attended the revival.

Merry Oaks baseball team played a double-header yesterday, losing one game and winning one. They defeated Carolina, and Green Level defeated Merry Oaks by one run—but haven't room here to give the scores—anyway we think that is a secret.
We are glad to note that Mrs. W. A. Drake is improving after being confined to her room several days with sickness.
Mr. and Mrs. "Bill" Carr of Winston-Salem spent last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Wade Spreague.
Miss Nina Sturdivant spent a few days last week near Durham with Miss Jane Moore.
The following spent a few days at Morehead Bluffs last week: Messrs. Eugene, Clarence and Guy Johnson, Henry Webster, Odell Hatley and George Thomas.
Mrs. J. H. Webster and baby Evelyn spent several days at Clayton last week with Mrs. D. H. Williams.
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lasater and children of Durham were Sunday guests of Mrs. J. C. Lasater.

The New Elam Christian Endeavor will have an ice cream supper at the home of Mr. W. M. Goodwin Saturday night.
Mr. J. N. Bryan Given Surprise Birthday Dinner
Aug. 22nd, 1926 was a day long to be remembered.
It was the occasion of a surprise birthday party given to Mr. J. N. Bryan at his home in New Hope township.
At 11 o'clock the cars began to arrive filled with happy relatives and friends many of them from long distances, showing their love and esteem for Mr. Bryan.
Mr. Bryan was taken completely by surprise but responded grandly to the many congratulations showered upon him.
As the hour for lunch arrived the matrons of the party deemed it a sweet idea to have the dinner spread in the old home dining room.
Mr. Bryan after their marriage (the long tables had already been built). And such a dinner! Everything good that heart, or rather appetite, could call for was there in confusion. And the love and good cheer that abounded was good to remember in the days to come.
The guests were as follows:
Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bryan, father and mother of Mr. J. N. Bryan; also his aunt Miss Mary Bryan of Seaford; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Bryan and children, Hackett, Raymond, Laura, and Ludd, of Seaford; Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bryan and children, Euphemis, D. B., Jr., Helen May and Elizabeth Bland, of Wake Forest; Mr. and Mrs. K. Y. Bryan and children, Dan and Eugene of Durham; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bryan and children Pauline, James, Grace and Rupert of Durham; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bryan of Raleigh; Mrs. S. C. Council and children, Anna Belle, Billy and Bessie, Durham; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Fairington and only child Marie, Seaford; the immediate family: Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Farrar, Pittsboro; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Boone and children, Andrew and James, Pittsboro; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Beckwith and child, Roland, Seaford; Miss Maggie Bryan and Mrs. Allan Bryan, Seaford.
Among the many friends in attendance were Mr. Ruffin Farrar; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Boldwin and three children, Lina, Dosssett and Waddell; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Clark and children, Gordon, Jennie, Robert Lee, Annie, Rose, Charles, and Isabelle; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson and one son Roscoe; Miss Mary Seamore of Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Lawrence and three children of West End.
Indeed a happy group! But the happiest and most joyous of the entire group were Mr. J. N. Bryan and his devoted wife, Roetta Laurance Bryan.
Long may they live to celebrate many, many more birthdays together.

The destruction of the Friends' meeting house will remove an historic landmark. It was erected in 1780 by the Society of Friends and has weathered the storms of almost two centuries. In late years it has been used as a place of worship, but hardly a day passes that one or more descendants of those responsible for its creation do not visit the hallowed spot.
Down through the ages the old meeting house has stood as a monument to the efforts of the Lightfoots, Starrs, Parvins, Wylers, Penroses, Lees, Hontons and others, who were among the first settlers. They blazed the trail in an uncleared land and, after many years, were successful in giving Berks one of the most productive agricultural sections, only to have their descendants view the disturbance of the remains resting for more than a century in the burial plot.
The erection of the impounding dam is a big undertaking and has been under consideration for some time by the city council. It will solve Reading's water-supply problem for many years to come.

Shove Man's Heart From Right to Left; He Lives
Columbus, Ohio.—Breathing normally, his heart action steady, although a little weak, and sleeping the sleep of the weary, Harry C. Cramer, forty-five, was "resting as well as could be expected," in the new McKinley hospital here after one of the most peculiar operations on record in Ohio hospitals.
Cramer's heart, forced far over to the right side by an accumulation of pus in the left lung, was shoved from the right to the normal side by the operation, during which he was conscious throughout.
Minus the sixth rib of his left side and suffering only the natural soreness left by the incision, Cramer is on the road to recovery, hospital attendants said.
Cramer, a switchman for the Big Four railroad, and who weighs over 200 pounds, suffered intense pains in his right pleura ten days ago and consulted Dr. F. S. Lawrence, house physician at the new McKinley hospital. A stethoscopic examination revealed his heart was beating on the wrong side. An X-ray picture showed the twisted heart, the left lung congested and highly inflated.
The insertion of a hollow needle to drain the lung was unsuccessful and the operation became necessary. Cramer was so weakened that a local anesthetic only could be used.
Physicians were unable to find the cause of the lung congestion.

Saves Actress Who Leaps Into River After Spat
Budapest.—For having leaped, fully clothed, into the raging waters of the swollen Danube and rescued the beautiful Hungarian actress, Paula Csaky, Prince Domenico Rosso, secretary of the Italian legation, is the hero of the hour. While the prince and the actress were having tea in a cafe on Margaret Island, in the river, they had a quarrel and the temperamental actress leaped into the river. The prince brought her ashore with great difficulty.

"Back Seat" Driving Ruled Divorce Cause
San Francisco.—"Back seat" automobile driving is a just cause for divorce. The Supreme court of California has ruled so, in a case here.
Claude H. Harman sued for a divorce on the ground that his wife, Jessie, belittled his ability as a driver by constantly telling him from the back seat just how he should negotiate the dangerous curves ahead.
A lower court refused to grant a divorce, and Harman appealed to the Supreme court. The decree was granted.

Twins Born
Mrs. Fred D. Jerome is the proud mother of twins. They were born at the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry London, last Thursday morning. The boys bear the names of Henry London and John London Jerome.
Bound over to Court
Joe Powers and Garland Gaines were arrested Sunday by Deputy Straughan on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the public highway and were bound over to court Monday by Squire Blair.

GREAT READING DAM WILL FLOOD GRAVES

Reservoir Will Cover Two Old Cemeteries.

Reading, Pa.—Construction of the huge Maiden creek dam by the city of Reading, the contract for which was awarded to the McLean Construction company of Baltimore, at a bid of $398,000, will wipe out two rural cemeteries. Actual work will be started shortly and the dam will back up the waters of the creek, covering parts of three townships, to serve as an impounding reservoir to take care of Reading's water needs for many years.
The descendants of the Maiden creek pioneers feel keenly the desecration of their cemeteries. Many of the residents of Maiden Creek, Otonne and Richmond townships have relatives buried in the plot at the Friends' meeting house or in Forney's cemetery, both of which are included in the area proposed to be flooded.
The burial plot of the Friends' meeting house dates back to 1730, with interments as recently as two years ago. The first burials were made in unmarked graves. The faith of those worshipping there forbids any showing whatsoever, with the result that no tombstones were erected to mark the last resting place of the pioneer settlers of the section. Since the cemetery is to be relocated it will mean that the entire plot to a depth of at least six or seven feet will have to be gone over, as it is impossible to locate all the graves. Only the more recent are marked. It is this that disturbs those who have relatives interred there.
The parents of State Secretary of Agriculture Frank P. White and William White, an implement dealer, at Calicum, are buried in the old graveyard. Both men made a plea before the state water power and resources board to save the cemetery, but the board granted the permit to the city to proceed with the work of erecting the dam. Many other descendants of the pioneers of the Maiden creek region had representatives at the hearing before the state board, some of the oldest families in that section being represented. The board, however, refused to delay the matter of water supply.
Forney's graveyard is a family plot and is located on the farm of Jacob Forney. The entire farm will be taken by the city and the burial plot will have to be relocated. This has been the burial place for the family for a number of generations and always has been maintained in first-class condition.

Scientist Disputes Story of Viking Exploration.
Washington.—The ancient rock carvings along the Columbia river, which are translated by Prof. Olof Opsjon of Spokane as runic inscriptions made by Vikings in the Eleventh century, tell a big story, but it is an Indian story and not a record of Viking exploration in western America. This statement was made by Herbert W. Krieger, curator of ethnology of the National museum, who has just returned from three months' stay in the region of the rock pictures.
Mr. Krieger spent some time studying the petroglyphs, which are numerous along the Columbia river, and has a number of photographs, including some from Vantage Ferry, where Professor Opsjon claims to have found runic inscriptions.
"The pictures pecked in the hard basalt are extremely crude," said Mr. Krieger, "and anyone can read into them anything he likes in order to make a plausible story. To say that they are Viking remains is to read into them something that is not in the pictures themselves."
Crude as they are, some of the objects scratched out on the rocks are typically Indian, Mr. Krieger points out. In the carvings can be seen such objects as bows and arrows and a representation clearly meant for a feather head-dress.
Considering the numerous rock pictures along the river as a whole collection, he finds evidence that they tell the story of tribal migrations in search of food and the use of the Columbia river as a path of migration. They are mostly hunting and fishing scenes, he believes. Mountain goats and curved horned mountain sheep are frequently portrayed. But why these artists left such records to be preserved in the hard stone and what it was they wanted to communicate can only be guessed at, in the opinion of this ethnologist. They had no system of fixed symbols with one or two exceptions, so there is no hope of finding a key to the mystery.

Big Day at Moore's Creek
Moore's Creek Bridge, Pender County, Aug. 24.—Upwards of 15,000 people from all sections of North Carolina and many from out of the state gathered here today for the sesquicentennial celebration of the battle of Moore's Creek Bridge, at which the 30-acre tract of land comprising the revolutionary battleground was transferred by the state of North Carolina to the United States government for the establishment of a national military park.
Elaborate exercises were presented in the crowded pavilion under the direction of the Moore's Creek Battleground association, of which George J. Moore is president, and the North Carolina society Daughters of the American Revolution, with Mrs. E. C. Gregory, state regent, president.
Representing the federal government were Major General Johnson Hagood, of South Carolina, commanding the fourth corps area at Atlanta, and Brigadier General A. J. Bowley, commandant at Fort Bragg, N. C.
Among the main speakers in addition to General Hagood were Representative C. L. Abernethy, New Bern, who introduced the national park bill into the house of representatives; Senator Lee S. Overman, Salisbury, who secured its passage in the Senate; Mrs. A. J. Brosseau, of Greenwich, Conn., president general of the national society Daughters of the American Revolution which aided materially in securing passage of the bill, and Mrs. W. O. Spencer, of Winston-Salem, vice president of the D. A. R.
Giving a historical background of the battle and section, Judge J. D. Murphy, of Asheville, but formerly a resident of Pender county, welcomed the thousands of visitors. Colonel Walker Taylor and Louis T. Moore spoke to the Cape Fear section. The former introduced Senator Overman. Mrs. T. C. Turnage, of Farnville, acted as program chairman.
About 80 soldiers from Fort Bragg were present, forming a color squad, guidon squad, bugle corps and a band. A basket lunch was provided for several thousand persons by the Mary Scobum club of Atkinson and the Progress club of Burgaw.
