Miss Leta Oldham and Mr. Davic Deaver, both now of Durham, were narried October the ninth in Durham Mrs. Deaver is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Oldham of Goldston She is a fine young woman, and has many friends here.

Mr. Deaver holds a responsible position in Durham being an assistant cashier in the Fidelity Bank. Mr. and Mrs. Deaver went on ar extended trip to New York and Philadelphia on their honeymoon. Messrs. Percy Barber, Dewey Barber, and Ferry Barber returned Sunday from a visit of several days to the Sesqui-Centennial in Philadelphia Mrs. John Hoyle, of Ramseur, is spending this week with her father,

Mr. C. W. Womble, and sister, Mrs. E. M. Harris. Mrs. Hoyle's husband, Rev. John Hoyle, is attending the Western Conference at Gastonia this week. Miss Cla Harmon left Sunday to attend her brother's wedding in Philadelphia, which will take place Thursday, October the twenty-first at an church. Miss Harmon sings at the The Goldston schools began work ast Wednesday on the regular day schedule. The school has been running on a half day schedule for three weeks in order that the people may have a chance to pick cotton. It is hoped that all pupils who have been absent will be back by that time. Prof. W. H. Tyler, a former prin-ipal of the Goldston schools, has been honored by being made an instructor n the University of North Carolina. Prof. Tyler is working for his Doctor's degree at this institution.

Mrs. P. M. White and Mr. Whitfield business trip to Washington, D. C. Mr. Roland Goldston, who has been a cafe at the auditorium. Roland planned to enter a law chool in New York this fall, but was evented from doing so on occount f being too young.

Mr. W. H. Burke has added much to the appearance of his filling station by building a road and will be more comfortable.

VISITING MINISTERS AT PITTSBORO CHURCHES

The Presbyterian congregation enoyed two extra sermons Sunday. Rev. Archie Ray, who with a school fellow had come in from the Theological seminary at Richmond, filled the pulpit in the evening, preaching from the 6th verse of John XIV, also telling something of his work as a missionary the past summer in the province of Saskatchewan, Canada. It interesting to note that the union of three denominations, the Methodists, Congregationalists, and Presbyterians, has become really effective in the Dominion, and that Mr. Ray was representing the resulting denomination in this work. At the morning hour, Mr. Ray's companion, Mr. Morris, a bright young fellow from Missouri, preached.

At the Episcopal church, Rev. Mr. Bethea filled the pulpit at the eleven o'clock hour, Rector Shannonhouse not yet being well enough to hold ser-

NORTH CAROLINA DAY AT PITTSBORO SCHOOL

Friday afternoon was observed by the Pittsboro school as North Carolina Day. A program by pupils was directed by Mrs. W. P. Horton. An interesting address was made by Prof. S. H. Hobbs, Jr., of the University, who spoke on the subject of "Social Patriotism." He called the attention to the fact that formerly the warrior example of a man who was a typical social patriot, but who is comparatively little known as compared with the military heroes of the state. He pointed out the ways in which one may do effective work as a social

The same afternoon saw the reorganization and a program of the parent-teacher association.

Altogether the meeting was a pleas ant and profitable one, helpful to the school and the community as a whole.

Veteran Sorry He Stole Chickens in Civil War

Nebraska City, Neb. - Conscience stricken because he had stolen chickens during the Civil war and desiring to "square accounts bfeore it is too late." Tim Crook, eighty-year-old war veteran who lives in the hill country near Minersville, Neb., went before district Judge Begley here and asked to be allowed to "plead guilty." Judge Begley, however, just smiled and told him to forget about it.

"You see when I was in Company A of the Tenth Kansas infantry," the veteran said, "we didn't get to eat but every once in a while and a stray shoat or chicken was our meal. Maybe it was all right, but I ain't felt right about it ever since."

Editorial Notes.

The person that drives a team at night is taking his life in his hands at the best, and if he fails to carry a light his act is almost suicidal.

When former Governor Morrison complains of the smallness of the crowd that went to hear him speak at Durham, political interest can be adjudged at a very low ebb.

It is reported that 4,225 automobiles were stolen in North Carolina the past year. Either rogues are exceedingly numerous or very active. Granting that each thief stole ten, if all the rascals were caught it would increase the number of convicts by over 400.

A brisk canvass of the cotton growers of the South is to be made to secure pledges to reduce acreage next season. Immediate assurance of such a reduction is the only hope of se-curing for the growers this year anything like a fair compensation for their cotton. Every day sees part of the crop pass out of the hands of the grower at a loss, and it will be only a short while till a real rise in the price would help the average grower very little. What is to be done, should be done at lightning speed.

Governor McLean, in an address at Hickory Monday night, is reported to have made it clear that the state is not going "to be stampeded into an orgy of spending without regard for the consequences." He was equally emphatic that progress shall continue. The Record is willing to trust the judgment of Governor McLean. A good, steady gait is the way to make the greatest progress inthe long-run. When driving horses was in vogue, it was a generally accepted principle that the way to make a journey in record time and with safety to the horse, was to drive moderately. In this day of automobiles, there are plenty of examples of the folly of reckless driving. No Jehu is needed on the car of State.

A Daniel has come to judgment. Judge Meekins will not allow W. M. Person and his colleagues in the efa receivership to be paid large fees, in fact, any fees from the cooperative funds belonging to the tobacco growers. Those voluntary attorneys were hoping to get $25,000 to $50000 for their services.

The First Baptist church of Fort Worth, Texas, is reported to be planning a parade of 10,000 believers in their pastor J. Frank Norris preceding his trial for murder. Such a procedure would simply be outrageous. Let Norris submit his case to the jury like any other man, without ar such attempt to influence public opin-

Queen Marie of Roumania landed at New York Monday. She expects to visit North Carolina during her tour of this country. Probably this is the first visit to the United States of any real queen, though we believe Queen Lil-of Hawaii visited this mate material on hand Kiker and country, either before or after her uncrowning.

> Two students of the University have been killed in automobile accidents within the past two weeks. The last was Ernest Hyde, who was killed Monday night near Haw River. Ernest Black was seriously injured and others hurt in the wreck. Only a few days previously young Toms of Durham was killed on the Durham- Chapel Hill highway. 110 people died as a result of automobile accidents in North Carolina during August and September. If people wauld ride less casualties.

This fall is going by without a State fair. But if anybody feels a serious loss, we haven't heard of him. Expositions and fairs have had their day. Scarcely one can survive without the jazz of midway, and thousands attend them for nothing else.

The election is approaching. The Record has become convinced of the fact by the reports that the Governor, former Governor Morrison, and other big guns are in the field. Jonathan Hayes, Republican candidate for the Senate, has for months been ranging the state. But he seems to be the lone Republican on the hustings.

The Greensboro News a few days ago published a poem by our friend Mossette Lee of Clinton and commented very complimentarily upon it But it is surprising that the writer of the editorial should acknowledge ignorance of Mr. Lee. As the Record stated sometime ago, Mossette Lee is an in-stitution in Sampson, and as poem after poem of his has been published in the state press, it is, as stated, rather surprising that the usually well informed Daily News should have to acknowledge its ignorance of the Sampson poet.

The State Parent-Teacher Association is to hold important sessions at Burlington on Nov. 9-10-11. An unusually fine array of speakers has been secured for the occasion. The meeting should draw a throng from all parts of the state. As indicating its importance, we may quote Rector R. G. Shannonhouse, who, after reading the program, said that he would not miss going for ten dollars. The key-note of the meeting is "Training for Parenthood", and "Square Deal for Pa-
