S. S. Rally At Sandy Branch

Fine Program, Orphanage Choir, Supt. M. L. Kesler DeLivers Address, Meeting to Begin at Gulf

Bear Creek, June 27—Sunday, June 19th, was a great day at Sandy Branch Baptist church. An all-day Sunday school rally was held, the leading parts in the service being taken by some of the smaller children, which made the exercises very interesting and impressive. At ten a. m., the devotional service was conducted by the children, the singing being by the Junior choir and twenty-six members of the Junior classes reciting the 136th Psalm, after which the large congregation was led in prayer by Rev. Fred Brady, of Bennett.

Three quartettes furnished music, the Brady quartette, of Colebrook and Bennett, the Smith Brothers quartette and the Orphanage quartette, of Thomasville. After the devotional service a welcome address was delivered by Little "Bobby" Phillips, the Brady quartette sang, there was a thirty-minute exercise by the little children and a song by the orphanage quartette. Then Dr. M. L. Kesler, general manager of the Orphanage, delivered a masterful address which was enjoyed immensely by the people who heard it. He stressed the right training of children, religious influences and home environment in the life of the child, and the power of heredity in shaping life tendencies. Dr. Kesler's great speech was followed by another song by the Orphanage quartette, after which Misses Velna Phillips, Nellie Emerson, Ruby Norwood and Leslie Johnson took a special offering for the Thomasville Orphanage amounting to $85.80. The morning session was closed with a benediction by Pastor E. W. Byerly.

In the afternoon there was first a beautiful service by the small children and a play, "The Song They Sang," depicting manners and customs in heathen lands, was rendered by the Girls' Auxiliary of the local W. M. S. There were also several special songs by the three quartettes, which were greatly enjoyed. The services were in charge of Mr. M. F. Norwood, superintendent, while Mesdames S. B. Burke and G. B. Emerson and Miss Martha Webster had the children in charge.

The Sandy Branch Sunday school is in a very active condition under the efficient leadership of Mr. Norwood and much interest is manifested on the part of the children of the community. They have 145 scholars enrolled and last Sunday, June 26th, the attendance was 105, a very unusual thing for any Sunday school just following such a full day as they had the previous Sunday. During the second quarter, (April, May and June), 2141 chapters of the Bible were read by the scholars who attend this Sunday school.

Rev. E. W. Byerly wishes to announce that he will begin a revival meeting at Bethany church (Gulf) the fourth Sunday in July. There will be two services Sunday with dinner on the grounds. The services will be in charge of Rev. C. J. Couchberry, of Moore, S. C., who will preach at every service. Large attendance is hoped for. Brother Byerly also stated to the writer that Dr. Kesler and the Orphanage quartette stopped over in Bonlee the third Sunday night for the regular service and the girls rendered some very enjoyable songs. The people over the entire field are enjoying Brother Byerly's preaching and are standing loyally behind him in the work.

HONORING MISS NOOE.

Besides the parties reported in detail in honor of Miss Fannie Nooe, who is to be married July 12, Mrs. J. M. Gregory entertained in her honor Tuesday evening. Mrs. Victor Johnson gave a dinner in her honor Wednesday, and Mrs. F. C. Mann is to give her a party today.

CHATHAM FOLKS TO CELEBRATE FOURTH IN STYLE AT SILER CITY

Thriving Young City of West Chatham to Be Hostess to The People of Chatham and Adjoining Counties at a Great Fourth of July Celebration — Speaking, Ball Game, and Carnival Features Make Up the Day's Program.

The Fourth is to be celebrated in grand style at Siler City this year. For many years that public-spirited and progressive town held these celebrations, the series being interrupted only when the streets were torn up two years ago for installing a water system and last year when the streets were being paved. Those two years Pittsboro celebrated in appropriate style. But this year, with streets paved and water flowing, Siler City has again invited the people of the county to meet with its citizens for the celebration of the Nation's birthday. Van B. Elkins has been made director of the occasion, and as usual with him has given his earnest attention to making the occasion a great success. He has arranged for a number of floats and for the decoration of many of the business houses; has secured a merry-go-round and Ferris wheel, and other carnival features. The business men of the City, with their usual public spirit, have cooperated liberally with Mr. Elkins in providing the wherewithal to make the occasion one worthy of the town and the county.

A speaker of note is expected to address the assembled thousands on a subject appropriate to the day. The Record accounts itself happy

BRICKHAVEN

Summer outings and good times for the younger set generally is the order of the day in our little village these times. The college students and those from boarding schools have come home to spend the vacation days and a new zest has been put into the life of the community.

Last Wednesday evening from eight p. m. until eleven p. m., Mrs. T. M. Nash and Mrs. J. A. Ausley were joint hostesses to the younger crowd. As usual the evening's entertainment passed off pleasantly and every one reported a happy time.

On Friday evening at the school building came the monthly Christian Endeavor social. These socials are well directed and wholesome and those who are interested in the youth of the community are asked to contribute both their presence and ideas to making these socials helpful and entertaining for the younger members of the society. Too, let's not forget the C. E. meetings every Sunday evening at seven-fifteen p. m. and how about our Sunday school picnic this year? That is one annual event that means a great deal to our community, and we hope that again everything will be auspicious for a happy, successful picnic. Ask the youngsters of the Sunday school what they think about it and see if the grown-ups do not find enthusiasm and joyful anticipation catching.

Mr. Ben M. Utlay of Miami, Fla., is spending his vacation here with his mother, Mrs. J. W. Utley. Miss Mary Lee of Raleigh, also visited her mother last week.

Miss Mary Marks of Wilmington is the guest of relatives and friends here this week.

Mrs. Emma Johnson of Morrisville is spending a few weeks here with her grandchildren, Pauline and Forest Lawrence.

Misses Cecil and Esther Seawell of Carthage who have been in Raleigh attending the Sunday school conference and the B.Y.P.U. convention, which was held at Meredith College last week, stopped by for a few days here with their brother, Mr. J. C. Seawell. Miss Cecil has been the efficient principal of our school for the past two years, and we are delighted to learn that she has accepted the work for next term.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Nash and family will move into their new home at Norwood sometime in August. The community will be the poorer by their going, for both Mr. and Mrs. Nash have always stood for the higher, better things in community life and have been untiring in their efforts to make a success of civic betterment activities. Too, they are very active in the Sunday school and are the most regular attendants. Mr. Nash teaches the adult class and Mrs. Nash has charge of the primary department.

We wish for them every success and happiness in their new home but we are selfish enough to want to keep them with us.

Another splendid family is planning to leave us soon. Mrs. W. D. Mills and her daughters, Mrs. Johnson will move to Raleigh sometime this summer. They, too, are citizens of the best type, and Brick Haven will miss them.

Work is progressing (slowly to be sure, for it is a herculean task) on the bridge across the Cape Fear at Aven's ferry, and it is hoped that the work will be completed by late summer. This bridge will be an outlet, so to speak, for this section and every one is eager to see the work finished.

H. G. Beard Gets Commission As J. P.

There arrived through the mails a few days ago a commission from Governor McLean for H. G. Beard as justice of the peace. It is a pretty document, yet Mr. Beard seems hesitant to take the oath and post it up for public inspection.

Mr. Beard is not only a good man for such a job, but as a court always needs a "cooler", according to old-time police court reports, he is fixed up allright, as he is the proprietor of the ice house here.

The appointment of an additional justice of the peace was made desirable by the failure of some of those elected last fall to qualify, and especially by the continued enfeebled state of 'Squire Blair.

Here's hoping that it will be "Judge Beard" when this reaches our readers.

Wake Forest's New President

Dr. Frank P. Gaines the Unanimous Choice of the Trustees.

There is much gratification among the Baptists of the state on the election of a new president of Wake Forest College, to succeed the beloved Poteat, who resigned when he reached the age of seventy. And one of the most gratifying things about it is the unanimity with which the trustees acted. They seemed, to a man, to feel that they had found the one man for the place. It is Dr. Frank P. Gaines, professor of English Literature at Furman University.

Dr. Gaines is of old-time Baptist stock, his father being a preacher of considerable prominence in South Carolina and Virginia. The new president has an older brother who has won a reputation as professor of mathematics at Richmond College. Dr. Gaines is himself a graduate of Richmond College. Later he took the A. M. degree from the University of Chicago and the Ph. D. degree from Columbia University.

He is said to be of fine personality, a good speaker, a fine teacher, a real scholar, and to have a genius for organization. He is teaching in Columbia University this summer, and, therefore, cannot take charge of college affairs till August. However, he came down Saturday and spoke in the First Baptist church of Raleigh Sunday, very much pleasing those who heard him.

Mr. J. L. Griffin, of Pittsboro, one of the trustees of the college, attended the meeting Saturday and came home very much pleased at the selection.

MR. B. M. SANDERS PASSED LAST WEEK

Mr. B. M. Sanders, one of the most prominent and worthy citizens of the Hanks chappel community, died last Wednesday night as a result of a stroke early Tuesday morning.

Mr. Sanders was in the field when stricken. He lingered till Wednesday night when he passed to his reward.

Mrs. Sanders died nearly two years ago. They leave two sons and two daughters, Messrs. Lon and Glen Sanders, and Misses Daisie and Ada Sanders.

The burial took place Thursday afternoon at Hanks' Chapel. The funeral services were conducted by Revs. J. F. Johnson, J. S. Carden, and Geo. W. Underwood. A large crowd was present to pay their last respects to the memory of their worthy neighbor and friend.

Mr. Sanders is said to have been the peace-maker of his community. He was particularly active in the church, and will be missed as neighbor, church worker, and citizen. He was 75 years of age.

ENTERTAINS

Miss Louise Petty entertained in honor of her guest, Miss Sadie Margaret White of Sanford, Friday night. Games were played and music enjoyed until a late hour. Hot chocolate and music enjoyed until a late hour. Hot chocolate and sandwiches were served during the evening.

The couples present were Miss Bertha Lee Poe, Mr. Charles Mills, Bettie Mae Harmon, George Griffin, Elizabeth Womble, Billie Hamlet, Louise Ray, Nathaniel Powell and Leon Ray.

MR. WALTER JOHNSON TO BEGIN NEW HOME

Mr. Walter Johnson, whose residence was burned a few weeks ago, has secured lots with Mr. June Peoples, tracing the desirable Peoples lot adjoining the Bell lot which adjoins the W. P. Horton residence lot. He plans to rebuild at once. That section of town is getting to be the popular quarter for new homes.

Live to be happy—nothing else matters very much.

Great Fourth of July Celebration at Siler City

Siler City will have the biggest Fourth of July Celebration this year in its history. They now have beautiful hard surface streets, which will enable them to put on a better one than ever before, and they are spending more money for this one.

Major L. P. McLendon of Durham, will make an address at 10:30 a. m. They will have a band from Greensboro; Jack Girard of New York, will give four free acts on a pole 60 feet high, and limber as a fishing pole. They expect to have a parade of floats and decorated automobiles about a mile long. They will have the usual Greasy Pole with free money on top. They will have such contests as: Watermelon fight under City Fire hose; Bag race, barrel race, foot races, various ages, race on all fours, buggy race, bicycle race, Tom Walker race, potato race, wheelbarrow race, shoe contest, cracker eating contest, ball game, Siler City vs. Winston-Salem. Beautiful display of fireworks, and end the day with Negro Minstrel at school Auditorium. The celebration will be promoted by Merchants and Manufacturers Association and American Legion. The town and store front will be well decorated. There will be a Merry-Go-Round and Ferris Wheel for the young folks. V. B. ELKINS, Mgr. R. A. WILLIAMS, Treas.

A Tragic Death At Carolina Coal Mine

By an inadvertency, the record last week failed to carry an account of the accidental death of Mr. R. E. Johnson at Coal Glen mine ten days ago.

Mr. Johnson had just come from Virginia and began work with the mine the day before his tragic death.

He and others were in the car going down into the mine. The light wire seemed to be out of fix and an examination was being made. The new man looked up and saw another wire and as he reached for it said, "here it is." When his companions looked he was clinging to the wire. They snatched him away and began restoration measures. Artificial respiration was kept up till the doctor came, and the man was still living and seemed to have good heart action. He was taken from the mine. Restorative measures were kept up till the physician stated that it was not effecting anything. The man died about two hours after the accident.

While the death was accidental, the law requires an inquest in case of any death in a mine, and Coroner Geo. H. Brooks went over Sunday after the accident on Saturday to hold the inquest. Messrs. R. R. Seagraves, A. Seagraves, H. C. Johnson, from that section, and Profs. Waters and Messrs. J. C. and K. W. Thompson, of Pittsboro, composed the jury. They pronounced the death accidental.

The wire that was grasped by Johnson was the power line, supposedly carrying 440 volts. It was insulated and was said by others who had come in contact with it to sting only slightly when touched. On this occasion, however, Mr. Johnson is said to have had on wet shoes and to be standing on a rail. And, too, the derangement in the other line may have caused a circuit to be formed when the unfortunate man grasped the power wire.

Johnson's home was at Alexandria, Va. He leaves a wife and two children.

The Record has not been informed as to whether there will be any civil action against the mine for the death.

THAT BOND SALE

The second sale of the advertised $50,000 of funding bonds by the county did not turn out as hoped. However, there were quite a number of bids this time. Fetner & Co., of Greensboro, got the bonds at a $301.00 premium, outbidding the original buyers by $51.00. There was another bid sent in that morning was warned to put up the $1000.00 certified check, as required by the terms of the advertisement, but he failed to do so. That bid was for par plus a premium of $1100.00. Only the bidder's failure to put up the pledge of good faith, kept him from getting the bonds and the county from making $800.00.

The second sale was made necessary by an error in the character of the first advertising.

"Efficiency is the American girl's long suit," says an English observer. Well, all we can say, after most care-ful observation, she doesn't wear it often; on the street, at least.

MONCURE NEWS

Wes Carroll Is Now Out On Bond

Must Report for Another Hearing On Charges On Which He Was Given Suspended Sentence

The suspended sentence business did not work out very satisfactorily in the matter of Wes Carroll, who was fined and given a suspended sentence to the roads to be put in effect if he should be found in Chatham or any adjoining county within two years. When found in Durham county, charged with selling liquor, he was brought to Pittsboro to begin his sentence, got out a writ of habeas corpus, had a hearing before Justice Brogden of the Supreme court, and won his freedom for the time being, a bond of $1,250 being required of him for his appearance at the Chatham court. His bond of $1,000 on the appeal from a prison sentence given him at Durham was reduced to $700, which was sent in cash last week to the Durham officials.

The Durham case will be tried at the July term of the Durham court.

The grounds on which the application of the suspended sentence of the Chatham court was pronounced illegal has not been made clear to the Record. But, evidently, such miscarriages should make judges more careful about the release of convicted culprits on suspended sentences.

DAWSON RESIGNS AS HEAD OF PARTY

John Dawson, of Kinston, who has served efficiently as chairman of the State Democratic Executive committee, has resigned, expressing as his reason for the resignation pressure of personal interest. Attorney-General Dennis G. Brummit, of Oxford, is generally suggested as Dawson's successor, and has received the informal endorsement of Senator Simmons and Next-Governor Max O. Gardner. There is little doubt in the public mind that Brummitt would make a fine chairman, but it might mean that he would have to resign the office of attorney-general if he should become chairman.

HONORS VISITORS

Mrs. W. B. Horton entertained with three tables of bridge in honor of Mrs. Boswell of Shawboro, and Mrs. Howell of Detroit, guests of Mrs. Wade Barber, Friday afternoon. The living room was made lovely with flowers, the color scheme of red, white and blue, symbolized the Fourth of July, being charmingly carried out. A delicious ice course was served.

Those enjoying the afternoon besides the honorees were Miss Carrie Jackson, Mrs. Roland Hayes, Mrs. Anderson, of Fayetteville, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. Victor Johnson, Mrs. Wade Barber, Mrs. Graham Connell, of Raleigh, Mrs. Ernest Farrell and guest, Miss Campen of Bayboro.

MRS BARBER ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Wade Barber was charming hostess to about forty members of the married set Wednesday afternoon in honor of her sisters, Mrs. Roswell of Shawboro, and Mrs. Howell of Detroit. The living room and dining room which were thrown en suite were beautifully decorated in cut flowers and pot-plants; there were five tables of bridge and four of rook were played. The color scheme of yellow and pink was carried out in the score card, favors and other details. While playing the guests were refreshed with grape juice—Later in the afternoon a delightful ice course was served.

THE BUIAL OF MR. CLYDE JOHNSON.

Instead of the burial of Prof. Clyde Johnson taking place Wednesday afternoon at Elon College, as first announced, it will not occur till ten a. m. this morning (Thursday). The deceased was a first-cousin of Mr. V. R. Johnson of Pittsboro.
