The early morning calm added to the impressiveness of the simple service, and we hope that the interest and enthusiasm displayed by those present may lead to the sunrise service becoming an annual event. The losing team in the Bible contest which has been going on in the C. E. society for the past few months entertained the "winners" at a "backward party" given at the school last Thursday evening. Much merriment was caused as the members tried to carry out the instructions to talk and walk and dress backward. Delicious refreshments were served. REPORT OF CIVIC DEPT FOR YEAR ENDING APRIL 1928

(Crowded out last week) The Civic Dept. has held regular meetings every month during the year—with good attendance and much interest, always. We have cooperated with the club as a whole in every undertaking and furnished a booth for the club bazaar. We have had a generous lot of shrubbery and flowers planted on the courthouse grounds. This department has instituted a cheer committee, who visit the sick, carrying a message of cheer, and give relief when needed. We observed "Better-Speech Week" having speakers at the school putting up posters and tagging the school children and others. We sponsored a Better Gardens' program and secured a representative from the Van Lindley Nursery at Greensboro who gave us an interesting lecture and much information along this line. In connection with this we also had a booth shower, looking to the establishment of a library in our club and community. Mrs. Arthur London recently presented a set of Robt. Louis Stevenson's books to the library. We feel, however, that the most outstanding feature of our year's work has been the establishment of a rest room, which has running water and simple though comfortably furnished. This fills a long felt need. We expect to make some improvements here later.

A gift was presented to Mrs. J. L. Griffin, our out-going president, in love and appreciation of her faithful and efficient work during the two years' term of office. BOB PASCHAL BOOSTS DR. J. E. EDWARDS

It is a pleasure, especially in view of the fact that Dr. Edwards seems to have no opposition for Representative from Chatham, to publish the following fine endorsement of him from that stalwart ex-Chathamite and scholarly gentleman R. L. Paschal, for many years prominent as an educator in the Lone Star state. Our friend "Bob" writes as follows:

"Mr. Editor: I am glad to learn that Dr. Jesse E. Edwards has announced for the Democratic nomination for the House of Representatives. I knew him as a boy: the fine qualities of scholarship, industry, politeness, friendly interest in others, and integrity of those early years came to maturity in manhood, and have grown stronger with the years. I think a man to represent us best in the Legislature should have these qualities: unswerving character, firmness of ability, pleasant address, a grasp of public questions, dignified. I would that we had so many of this kind of men that a choice would be difficult. In Jesse E. Edwards we find them all. From his boyhood he has been pure, honest, and strong in character. He is firm in holding to what he believes right. His natural endowments are excellent. He can approach other people of all ranks and conditions—the humblest as well as the highest—with that ready ease, the result of a sympathy for all and the proper respect for himself. Anyone who has ever been in confersation with him knows that he keeps well informed on public questions, and is moved only by what he believes right in determining his attitudes on these questions, and finally he has that dignity so desirable in any man who would represent Chatham in the Legislature. By reason of all these qualities he can exert an influence with the leaders and other members of the Legislature denied to those not less good but less fortunate in these matters than Doctor Edwards.

"He has been the friend of all of us. Through rain and mire and cold he has answered the call to the bedside of our sick. He has never failed us. He now aspires to serve us in another way. Let us give him the opportunity. "R. L. PASCHAL," Fort Worth, Texas.

DR. FRANK CRANE

THREE THINGS Gabriel Wells had a Christmas card in which he says that there are three things that constitute a rounded out life: Power, Pleasure and Peace.

The more we think of it the more this seems to be a very good definition. There is not much satisfaction in a life of no power. What gives zest to sport is the employment of our powers and we all applaud the victor, that is, the man who shows the most power. This includes both mental or mental acumen and skill. As for pleasure they have learned the abiding pleasures of life are those that come from serving others. The pleasure that we experience in merely receiving gifts or benefits, merely enjoying things that are our own, the pleasure of possession and amusement are temporary and they fade.

But one who devotes his life to bringing joy into the lives of others has an unfailing source of satisfaction. Peace comes from the firm establishment or connection of life, with certain fixed principles. There are some things which, when we have decided upon them, we lay on the shelf. They are not to be reopened. One who is continually arguing the fundamentals is always in hot water and unsatisfied.

That is the advantage of a belief in God. It is something fixed and settled, a central sun about which all of our other thoughts and opinions may revolve.

Of course the belief in God does not imply any congeries or fantastic connotations. One's belief in God may take many forms, but it must have a central core of repose. A life without inner repose is constantly buffeted to and fro by contrary passions.

One who has power sufficient to enjoy his ability to overcome obstacles, who takes pleasure in giving pleasure to others, and who has inner repose enough to keep him content in the center of his being, can be truly said to live a somewhat complete life.

How Much Water Should Baby Get? A Famous Authority's Rule

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water. Giving baby sufficient water often relieves his feverish, crying, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold. Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

It clings to metal— because this oil is a new kind of motor oil— not a stickier oil, but an oil of greater oiliness, and this is proved by many tests like this one given here "STANDARD" MOTOR OIL "Standard" Greases, Transmission Oil and Gear Compound are made with the same care as "Standard" motor fuels and motor oils. TEN THOUSAND MILE TEST PROVES A six cylinder Essex was driven ten thousand miles with "Standard" Motor Oil. The cylinders were worn away only one one-thousandth of an inch, as measured by precision instruments. The average wear in an automobile engine with oils commonly used by motorists is about three times as great in the first ten thousand miles. This means that by using "Standard" Motor Oil you can retard wear, maintain piston seal, and reduce upkeep costs.
