

TOWN AND COUNTY BRIEFS

Mrs. R. H. Hayes returned Saturday from a visit to her brother in Davie county. She was accompanied from Winston by Mrs. O. W. Hamilton and son Billy. Mrs. Hamilton returned home Monday but left Billy with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Eubanks for the week, and he feels like a big Billy this week.

Colon Pattishall reports ten Bailey votes coming from one household in Oakland township. Well, the family of the editor, counting son, daughters, and son-in-laws, will give the real Democratic candidate nine votes, if nothing happens. However, we are not all in the same household.

Pastor Dailey had snap beans ready for the table from his garden the 23d of May. He expects to gather cucumbers the last of this week.

Miss Louise Brooks left Tuesday morning for an extended visit to her aunt Miss Rica Brooks in Richmond, Va.

Mrs. J. W. Burke of Goldston returned Saturday from a week's visit to her son in Raleigh.

It is gratifying to report Mrs. Henry A. London as able to be up, though confined while up to a wheel chair. However, she is hoping to be rolled in that very chair to the court house Saturday to cast her vote for J. W. Bailey for the senate.

Dr. R. L. Caviness, of Coleridge, and Ed. Phillips, G. H. Andrews, and C. E. Jones of Bennett, were Pittsboro visitors Tuesday. They later journeyed on to Raleigh for a few hours visit.

If you believe in rotation in office you might give heed to the advertisement in this paper of the candidacy of Mr. Holloway for corporation commissioner.

C. Horton Poe has written that article you find in another column with the spirit and grace of a poet. Much of it is a real prose-poem. You may expect other articles from Mr. Poe.

Jim May and Wilson Burns spent last week at Wrightsville Beach. Several of the Pittsboro fellows also ran down for a week-end visit, including John Burns, Joe Wirtz, George May, and others.

Mr. Grady Norwood and family, of Winston-Salem, are spending the week with Mr. Norwood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Norwood of Baldwin township.

Mrs. F. B. Jones, mother-in-law of Gordon Kneck, saw her first show of any kind last Monday night. She is seventy years of age. She has lived in Center township the most of her life. She saw "The Hottentots" at the Pilot Theatre and was astounded by the talking. She intends to go again.

Bob Paschal and Mrs. Paschal are on their annual pilgrimage back from Fort Worth, Texas to their old stamping grounds near Siler City. A card from Bob indicated that they had reached Mineral Wells, and he directs his paper to be sent to Siler City. He says he hopes to find Bailey nominated when he gets here. Bob is principal of the biggest high school in Fort Worth. He has just graduated a class of 402, and graduated a class of 105 in January, making a total for the year 507. That is some school.

Chatham is assigned $55,832.01 of the equalization funds for schools. Pretty good, but Roberson gets more than twice as much.

To indicate that the Record is making no mistake in trusting the good citizens it has on its list till it is convenient for them to pay, we cite two instances within a week. Just now Mr. A. E. Cotton, of Merry Oaks, who seldom comes to town, walked in and paid us five dollars, sending his subscription ahead as it had been behind. Mr. W. T. Suit of Bynum did a similar thing last week. Now, of course, we are likely to have some no-account folks on our list, little mean fellows who will not pay when they can, but we believe there are very few of them, so few that we should rather lose their accounts than to spend so much trying to keep upon a cash basis these hard times. And if we do spot one of those mean scamps, we know the people well enough now to remember him, and when he is off the list, he will be off for good, without the spot cash in advance. Again, we may lose on some folk who will never be able to pay, people who are honest but in hard luck. But, even then, we shall not lose as much as it would cost these times to keep upon a cash-in-advance basis. However, as we trust the folk to pay when they can, we hope they will live up to our expectations, as have the gentlemen named, and many others. Don't be little and mean.

Mr. P. J. Ferguson, a native of Ireland, who was rather badly crushed in the Carolina Coal mine three months ago, is out of the hospital and was here Monday, though by no means in sturdy health. Mr. Ferguson has been in America about 36 years.

Mrs. J. W. Hunt spent the week-end with Mrs. Wright in Raleigh.

Mr. James Cordon has a job with the highway commission and has headquarters at Troy. He was home Sunday.

A large part of the county had a fine rain last Thursday, but hail accompanied the rain in some sections, doing more or less damage to growing crops. The southwestern part of the county is very dry.

Miss Cammie Hamlet and Mary Dell Whitaker are visiting Mrs. I. P. Straughan in Durham, and Georgia Brewer has been visiting her aunts in Durham.

Be sure to read all in this paper about poisoning the weevil and side-dressing corn and cotton. Let's have a real crop in Chatham this year.

Miss Sankie Perry has returned home from Watts hospital, where she underwent a successful operation for appendicitis.

Little Edwin Brown Hatch, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hatch, has been in Watts Hospital for treatment for colitis.

Mr. Lee Powell and sister Miss Camilla, home for the week-end, gave an informal dance Saturday evening to a number of their young friends. Miss Camilla, who has been with the Simmons campaign folk in Raleigh, will probably be home after this week, and Lee will be home from the University.

Miss Azile Hill is at Watts Hospital for treatment.

Miss Lillie Hill of Spray spent last week with her mother, Mrs. N. M. Hill.

Mrs. T. K. Duncan, who joined her husband at Campiti, La., recently has had an opportunity to see what a Louisiana flood can do. However, Campiti is on the side of Red River less subject to overflow. The flood seems to be confined to the Red River. Below Alexandria the levees are built with a view to Mississippi floods and will probably hold the Red River flood, which can escape down the broad and unflooded Mississippi. But the counties on the north of the river between Shreveport and Alexandria are catching the worst flood they have had in many years. Ten thousand people have been driven from their homes right across the river from Campiti, where Mrs. Duncan is located.

Miss Pearl Johnson, missionary to China, will sail for America on June 22, and is supposed to land at San Francisco on July 11. She has been a missionary in China for 14 years. The Lee, Moore and Montgomery Rural Letter Carriers Association held the annual picnic at Lake View last Friday, May 30th, and despite the cloudy cool weather, there was a large delegation present. At the previous meeting in Carthage last September, a resolution was passed to invite the Chatham County Carriers to join with them and make it a four county union. Therefore a large number of the Chatham carriers were present. At 11:00 a. m., a meeting was called to order by the president, T. C. Riddle, of Sanford and D. J. McLeod led in prayer. In the absence of the secretary, E. A. Morgan, of Star, T. B. Beal, Bear Creek, was asked to act as secretary until Morgan arrived. Upon the arrival of Morgan, he called the roll, which showed a large number present. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, T. C. Riddle, of Sanford (Lee County); Vice president, R. L. Robertson, of Jonesboro (Lee County); Secretary-Treas., T. B. Beal, Bear Creek (Chatham County).

At noon a most sumptuous dinner was spread, which all enjoyed. Enough was left to have fed the same number again. In the afternoon session, various matters were discussed of interest to the carrier body. A committee of one from each county was appointed to select a name for the four-county association and report at next meeting. A delegate from each county was elected to go to the State meeting in Asheville in July. Resolutions of respect were adopted for two members who had died since our last meeting. The next meeting will be held in Lee County at either Sanford or Jonesboro the first Monday in September.

Dixie's Corn Yields Rival Nation's Best

The Corn Belt, long famed for its economical corn production, is in danger of losing some of its laurels.

For instance, a Dixie farmer, W. Y. Thrash, of Walnut Grove, Miss., might well contest the honor of producing the highest yield of corn during 1929. In an official contest his average yield on a 3-acre field was 180.52 bushels of shelled corn an acre. In making this exceptional record, Thrash made liberal use of fertilizers. He side-dressed twice with Chilean nitrate of soda during the season, using 200 pounds an acre at each application.

A striking illustration in economic crop production was furnished by another southern grower, Paul Simmons, 18-year-old boy of Plant City, Fla., who won the 4-H Club corn contest of that state. He produced corn at a net cost of 18 cents a bushel. His yield on a one-acre plot was 111 bushels. The only fertilizer young Simmons used was 200 pounds of Chilean nitrate, which was applied as a side-dressing when the corn was knee-high.

Pioneer Fertilizer Used for 100 Years

Four generations of American farmers have used commercial fertilizers to improve their crop production. The first of the inorganic fertilizers used in this country was nitrate of soda, now widely known as Chilean nitrate. This product occurs as a natural deposit only in the barren rainless plateau of northern Chile. It was introduced into the United States in 1830, at a time when only lime and marl of the inorganic substances now used for farm purposes were known to the pioneer farmers.
