MOST AWFUL AND MOST LAMENTABLE CATASTROPHE!

INSTANTANEOUS DEATH BY THE BURSTING OF ONE OF THE LARGE GUNS ON BOARD THE UNITED STATES SHIP PRINCETON, OF SECRETARY OF THE NAVY, SECRETARY GILMER, COMMODORE KENNON, AND VIRGIL MAXEY, ESQ.

In the whole course of our lives it has never fallen to our lot to announce to our readers a more shocking calamity—shocking in all its circumstances and consequences—than that which occurred on board the United States Ship PRINCETON, yesterday afternoon, whilst under way in the river. Putnam, fourteen or fifteen miles below this city.

Yesterday was a day appointed, by the courtesy and hospitality of Capt. STOCKTON, Commander of the Princeton, for receiving as visitors to his fine ship (the Alexandria) a great number of guests, with their families, liberally and unreservedly invited to spend the day on board. The day was most favorable, and the company was large and brilliant, of both sexes; not less probably in number than four hundred, among whom were the President of the United States, the Heads of the several Departments, and their families. At a proper hour, the vessel got under way and proceeded down the river, to some distance below Fort Washington. During the passage down, one of the large guns on board (carrying a ball of 235 pounds) was fired more than once, exhibiting the great power and capacity of that formidable weapon of war. The Ladies had partaken of a sumptuous repast; the gentlemen had succeeded them at the table, and some of them had left it; the vessel was on her return up the river, opposite to the fort, where Captain STOCKTON consented to fire another shot from the same gun, around and near which, to observe its effects, many persons had gathered, though by no means so many as on similar discharges in the morning. The ladies who then thronged the deck being on this fatal occasion almost all between decks, and out of reach of harm.

The gun was fired. The explosion was followed, before the smoke cleared away so as to observe its effect, by shrieks of woe which announced a dire calamity. The gun had burst at a point three or four feet from the breech, and scattered death and desolation around. Mr. DIXON, Secretary of State, Mr. GILMER, so recently placed at the head of the Navy, Commodore KENNON, one of its gallant officers, VIRGIL MAXEY, lately returned from a diplomatic residence at the Hague, Mr. GARNER, of New York, (formerly a Member of the Senate of that State), several among the slain. Besides these, seventeen persons were wounded, several of them badly and probably mortally. Among those wounded, we were told, were Capt. STOCKTON himself, Col. BARROW, of the Senate; Lieut. HUNT, of the Princeton; W. D. ROMAN, of Georgetown. Other persons also were perhaps more or less injured, of whom, in the horror and confusion of the moment, no certain account could be obtained. The above are believed, however, to comprise the whole of the persons known to the Public who were killed or dangerously or seriously hurt.

The scene upon the deck may more easily be imagined than described. Nor can the imagination picture to itself the half of its horrors. Wives, widowed in an instant by the murderous blast! Daughters smitten with the heart-rending sight of their father's lifeless corpse! The wailings of agonized females! The piteous grief of the unhurt but heart-stricken spectators! The wounded seamen borne down below! The silent tears and quivering lips of their wives and honest comrades, who tried in vain to subside or to conceal their feelings! What words can adequately depict a scene like this!—Nat. Int.

CONGRESS.
Tuesday, Feb. 27.
SENATE.—The several bills yesterday ordered to be engrossed were passed today without division, excepting that for the transfer of the stock of the United States in the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal to the State of Maryland. On this bill Mr. TAPPAN demanded the yeas and nays, and they were called, and were yeas 33, nays 11.

MR. BARRETT addressed the Senate in favor of the resolution for abrogating the third article of the convention with Great Britain of 1818. His speech was chiefly a historical and statistical matter. Mr. MILLER next obtained the floor, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.—Some controversy arose as to whom the right to the floor belonged. The Speaker assigned it to Mr. DRUMMOND, but Mr. CAYE JOHNSON contended for and obtained it.

Mr. JOHNSON commenced with an appeal to Northern members not to adopt the rules reported either by Mr. Adams or Mr. DRUMMOND. He desired to take all the rules of the last House with the exception of the twenty-first which he proposed to amend. He endeavored to charge the loss of time and the delay in action upon this subject to the Whigs.

When he took his seat a great many struggled for the floor, and manifested considerable excitement.

The Speaker assigned the floor to Mr. HALE, of N. Hampshire, who promised to be very brief; but he never even consumed the remainder of the morning hour; he moved the previous question. Messrs. Black, Chalmers, and Layner severally appealed to Mr. H. to withdraw the demand, but he was inflexible. After a good deal of confusion the previous question was seconded by a vote of 99 to 74.

The main question was ordered by 151 to 24. A great variety of suggestions were made, and while the Speaker was pausing, knots of members were discussing in different parts of the House.

A motion was made to lay the whole subject on the table, and the yeas and nays were called; and the yeas were yeas 90, nays 94. So the House refused to lay the vexed matter at rest.

The yeas and nays were then called, and Mr. JOHNSON'S amendment was rejected by 143 to 93. Mr. BELSER moved to lay the whole subject on the table. Rejected 107 to 73.

Mr. SCHENCK called for a division of the question, and wished it first taken upon adopting Mr. DRUMMOND'S rules excepting the 21st, 23d, and 25th.

The question was then taken upon Mr. DRUMMOND'S 21st rule, (being 23d in his code,) which excludes from recognition and consideration all resolutions and petitions, and was rejected by 103 to 91.

The House would not adopt the twenty-first rule, or anything like it.

LITHOGRAPHIC ENGRAVING.
We would respectfully call the attention of the public to the Establishment of Mr. GEORGE EXAMMERS, 22 John Street, New York, where all kinds of Lithography will be attended to with facility and despatch on the most reasonable terms.

HARDY CARROLL.
This notorious scoundrel was captured by a party of gentlemen, on Saturday afternoon last, near this City, and safely lodged in jail. The watch of Mr. DRUMMOND, whose trunk was recently cut from the Stage, and other articles implicating him in the robbery of Col. McLean's Store, at Smithfield, were found upon him.

NAG'S HEAD.
On the 3d instant, in the House of Representatives, on motion of Mr. RAYNER the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee on Commerce be instructed to inquire into the expediency of opening a direct communication between the waters of the Albemarle Sound and the Atlantic Ocean, at or near Nag's Head.

DEATH OF NICHOLAS BIDDLE.
It has been known for some months, that Nicholas Biddle's health had been greatly impaired, and that there was little hope of his recovery. We are now compelled to announce his death. He was about 58 years of age. For several years he represented Philadelphia in the State Legislature, and, as all will recollect, was for a long time President of the United States Bank.

SUPREME COURT.
This tribunal adjourned yesterday, after having been in session 60 days. We submit the closing opinions of the Court:

By RUFFIN, C. J. in Meares v. Meares, from New Hanover, reversing decree and dismissing the petition. Also, in Garrett v. White, in Equity from Washington, directing an action of ejectment to be brought by the Plaintiff—cause retained. Also, in Cannon v. Peckles, from Halifax, affirming judgment below. Also, in Mebane v. Yancy, in Equity from Caswell, declaring the Plaintiff entitled as Administrator to a share of the interest but to no part of the principal. Also, in Crump v. Morgan, in Equity from Montgomery, declaring the marriage null and void.

By DANIEL, J. in Walker v. Reed, from Mecklenburg, affirming the judgment below. Also, in Aston v. Galloway, directing decree in favor of the Plaintiff. Also, in Robinson v. Gee, from Cumberland, affirming the judgment below. Also, in Whitaker v. Pettway, from Edgecombe, affirming the judgment below. Also, in McKender v. Littlejohn, from Granville, affirming the judgment below.

Continued for argument—Oliver's Administrator v. Oliver, in Equity from Carteret. Latham, guardian of D. Latham—ex parte, from Beaufort. Dewey v. Bowers, from Wake. Womble v. Battle and Blake, from Wake.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.
On Monday last, in the House of Representatives, Mr. HAMLIN, of Maine, made a unanimous report from the Committee on Elections, in favor of holding the Presidential Election, on the same day throughout the Union. The time designated in the bill, is the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. This is so obviously fair and expedient, that we hope the bill will become a law.

AT A Whig Legislative Convention in Maine.
Mr. Senator EVANS, of that State, was nominated for the office of Vice President. Gov. DAVIS, of Massachusetts, Senator TALMADGE, of New York, and divers others have, at different times, and by different State Conventions, been nominated for the same office. It is quite uncertain who will receive the nomination, and, of course, uncertain who will be our next Vice President.

AT the recent Whig Convention in Connecticut.
(10,000 strong) a letter was read from F. Lawrence, Esq., stating that he had heretofore supported Gen. Jackson and Mr. Van Buren; but that he had become convinced that the Loco Foco policy was ruining the country; and that he should therefore do all in his power to promote the election of HENRY CLAY. The letter was received with tremendous cheers and ordered to be entered on the record.

THE OHIO WHIG STATE CONVENTION.
Met at Columbus on the 22d, for the nomination of a candidate for Governor. The Hon. Thos. Corwin presided, and MORDECAI BARTLEY, of Richland county, nominated for Governor. Upon taking the chair (says the Columbus Journal) Mr. Corwin addressed the assembly, or at least as many as could get within the wall of the vast building, for more than 30 minutes. It was one of his proudest efforts—brilliant, burning, thrilling! More firmly did it bind the affections of the people to himself and to the great cause of the country. 1840 is upon us, and the people are with us, from 5,000 to 8,000 strong; with hearts overflowing with gladness and zeal, they bent for the contest. Clay must be President, the people have willed it! Amen is our response.

Among the Students of the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, we find the following North Carolinians:

Wm. A. Boyd, Wm. Cain, Jacob E. Hartfield, Richard B. Haywood, Wm. H. Hill, Joseph Hollingsworth, M. E. Lazarus, Alfred H. Lindsey, Gen. J. Mitchell, A. P. Mendenhall, Joseph B. Mann, Quinton T. Purrell, Thos. B. Powell, Tryphonius Trammell, John R. Winslow, Jno. C. Williams, Thos. C. Worth, Wm. E. Wood.

WILMINGTON, Feb. 28.
The dwelling house of Dr. Peter M. Walker, at Rocky Point in this county, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday night, together with all the furniture, clothing, and other contents. Dr. Walker was in Wilmington at the time. Origin of the fire unknown.—Chronicle.

There was a glorious meeting of the Clay Club at the Masonic Hall on Thursday evening last. The room, gallery, passage, and all, were crowded to overflowing. A very large part of the audience, and of course the best part, was made up of ladies. George Davis delivered a capital address on the life and services of Mr. Clay, and in illustration of Whiggism. He was followed by Joshua G. Wright, who in a short extempore address decanted freely and spiritedly on the principles and prospects of the Whig party. A number of songs from Whigs "with music in their souls," and who are not therefore fit for "stratagem and spoils," made up a pleasant dessert for the occasion. The flame of patriotic enthusiasm is evidently rising in our midst, and we hope to see it in a short time burn as brightly as it did in '40.—Ibid.

In accordance with the notice previously given, "Washington's Birth day" was celebrated by the Whig Club of Rutherford County. A highly respectable audience assembled in the Court House, where we were most happy to find that several of our oldest and staunchest citizens were taking part in the proceedings of the day, by favoring us with their presence.

The Valedictory Address of Mr. Clay, delivered by him, on the occasion of retiring from the Senate of the U. S. was then read by WALTER RUTHERFORD, after which, an Address on the Life and Character of HENRY CLAY was delivered by Col. BYNUM.

The Address was an excellent one, well adapted to the occasion. It was an eloquent and manly defence of the character and political acts of the distinguished subject. In short, the Address reflected credit upon the head and heart of the Orator of the day.

P. S. The ladies in quite a large number, turned out to witness the celebration, and added charms to the occasion. Such proceedings are usually somewhat dull, even if they have superior interest attached to them unless the fair sex favor us with their presence, and countenance and encourage us with their smiles. We do not boast when we utter the remark, that the Ladies of Rutherford are not behind any in the State for their public spirit, and patronizing demeanor.—May we be allowed to receive from them encouragement, and we will need gain nothing of the West.—Rutherford Republican.

We submit a few additional particulars, in relation to the awful catastrophe chronicled in this paper.

The remains of Messrs. Upshur, Gilmer, Kennon, Maxey and Gardner, were brought to Washington in a Steamer dispatched for that purpose and conveyed from the wharf in hearses, followed by an immense concourse of persons, to the President's House, from whence they were to be interred on Saturday last, at 12 o'clock. A number of wounded sailors were brought up to the Navy Yard, are all doing well, and likely to recover.

Captain STOCKTON, has recovered from the shock, and received otherwise but very slight injury.

Senator BENTON is still suffering from the concussion, having received no other injury, and it is thought will be able to resume his seat in the Senate in a few days.

No death has occurred, in consequence of the terrible accident, besides those mentioned, except that of a servant of the President (a colored man) who was near the gun at the time of its exploding.

Mrs. Gilmer was on board of the Princeton, at the time of the accident. So was Miss Upshur, the Misses Kennon, and the Misses Gardner.

Mr. Nelson, Attorney General, will act for the present as Secretary of State, and Commodore Warrington as Secretary of the Navy.

Both Houses of Congress adjourned over from Thursday to Monday, after appointing Committees to make the necessary arrangements for the funeral obsequies of the deceased.

Mr. Frick, a member of the House of Representatives from Pennsylvania, died at Washington on Friday last.

DYSPEPSIA.
TO SOOTHE the sufferings of humanity, to ameliorate the pangs of disease, is the grand object of medical science. This is efficiently demonstrated in the healing virtues of DR. BENJAMIN BRADBETH'S PILLS. The cures effected by this medicine would fill volumes.
Views on Indigestion as a source of various Undeveloped and Irregular Nervous Sensations.
"Its small at first, grow larger from delay."
"And slowly eat their sad and cumbering way."
"Thus by successive throes, the frame is torn,
"Till health and peace of mind alike are gone."
"The nerves of the human body—those necessary and mysterious agents which immediately connect man with—his animal nature—are singularly prone to have their functions disordered by an oppressive condition of the stomach; the minute termination of that portion of the nerves expanded upon the organs of digestion conveying the morbid impression to the Brain. And although the Head can, undoubtedly, like other organs, be the seat of primary disorder, yet, in the great majority of cases, the uneasy sensations there experienced are asymptomatic of disordered Stomach; and, further, there is abundant evidence to prove that cruditates in the Stomach and Bowels, in every grade of human existence, give rise to spasmodic action in every organ of the body; and whether we survey it in its agonizing forms of Tic Dolorous—or in its alarming convulsions of the Epileptic nature—or in that irritable condition of the Nerves of the heart occasioning nervous palpitation—they can all frequently be traced to the source above mentioned, and be cured by mild evacuant and tonic remedies. To relieve a state of so much suffering and distress (in which body and mind also participate) BRADBETH'S PILLS are confidently recommended; as, by combining aromatic, tonic and cleansing properties, they remove all oppressive accumulations, strengthen the Stomach, induce a healthy appetite, and impart tranquility to the nervous system; and, in fact, by their general curative power upon the blood, exert a most beneficial influence in all cases of disease. Read the following.
DYSPEPSIA CURED.
BIRMINGHAM, Vt. Dec. 5th, 1843.
Dear Sir:—I wish you to add my testimony to the host of others that you have, in favor of your valuable Pills. In the year 1838, I was attacked with that disagreeable complaint, the DYSPEPSIA, which so affected me that I could not take the least particle of food, without the most unpleasant and uncomfortable sensations in my chest, head and bowels. My chest was so sore that I could not bear the slightest pressure without giving me pain. My health was most miserable. Many physicians told me they thought I was in the consumption, and that if I did not give up my business, and change climate, I could live but a short time.
I tried every thing in the shape of medicine, and consulted the most skillful physicians, but found no permanent relief. I became discouraged, gloomy, sad, and sick of life. And, probably, ere this should have been in my grave, had I not fallen with your precious medicine. A friend of mine, who had been sick of the same complaint, advised me to try your pills; but, having tried most other medicines without obtaining any relief, he had full faith that your Pills would be of benefit to me; but, at his earnest solicitation, I procured a box and commenced taking them.
The first produced little or no effect, and I began to despond, for fear that your medicine would prove like others I have taken; but my friends argued that one was not a fair trial, and I purchased a second, and before I had taken the whole box I began to experience a change; the pain in my chest began to be less painful, and my food did not distress me as much as formerly. I went on taking them until I had taken six boxes, and my DYSPEPSIA was cured, and my expectation of an early death vanished, and I felt like a "new creature." I was then, and am now, a healthy man. I have never since been troubled with the Dyspepsia. I have administered your Pills to the members of my family, and to my friends, and in all cases with good success. You can publish this if it will be of any use to you.
I am, dear Sir, truly yours,
