Financial Affairs, de. de. de.

The Steamship Caledonia, Capt. Lott, arrived at Boston on Monday, with advices from Liverpool to the 4th, and London of the 3d instant, both skilled in political economies than I profess to be, to do justice to this part of his Sparch.

Our Democratic friends, who were present on the occasion, expressed themselves greatly pleased ; and they could not well have been otherwise, for the Governor's remarks were in the best imaginable spirit, Congress has at length made a final disposition of inclusive. The news was brought by express to and were characterized throughout by the utmost dee Oregon subject, and in a manner which, next to New York, from when it came by regular gree of courtesy and candor." And this seems to me to be one of the main features by which all his popular addresses are distinguished, and from which they derive their peculiar charm. Nothing ever falls from his lips, in the least inconsistent with the must refin ed and gentlemanly feelings, or at all calculated to offend the most fastidious taste. His is, emphatical-iy, a persuance eloquence. In listening to hun, you can't help feeling the warmost regard for the man, and you are thereby included, almost incensibly, to fall in with the views and sentiments of the speaker. There were several other tonues adverted to and discussed, but it is deemed unnaportant to mention them. I will conclude this brief sketch by remarking, what succerely believe, that for clearness of illustration force of argument, urbanity of manuer, and dignity of style, Gov. GRAHAM has few equals in this country and North Caroling ought to be proud of him, as be ing not only her greatest hving Statesman, but one of the brightest jewels in her crown of moral and in-having refrained from any action at all, will receive mail. we doubt not, the general approbation of the country.

The House, having refused to adopt, and the Senate to recede from the Resolution passed by them, a Committee of Conference was appointed, who recommended with some slight alterations that the Preamble and Resolution of the Senate should be passed-which recommendation was agreed to by the Senate, by a vote of 42 to 10; and by the House of Representatives, by the very decisive vote of 142 to 46. The Resolution has finally passed both Houses, therefore, and is as follows :

"WHEREAS, by the convention concluded the 20th day of October, eighteen hundred and eighteen, between the United States of America and the King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, for the period of ten years, and afterwards indefinitely extended and continued in force by another convention of the same parties, concluded the 6th day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty-seven, it was agreed that any country that may be claimed by either party or the north west coast of America westward of the Steny or Rocky Mountains, now commonly called the Oregon territory, should, together with its harbors, bays, and creeks, and the navigation of all rivers within the same, be 'free and open' to the ves-sels, citizens, and subjects of the two Powers, but without prejudice to any claim which either of the parties might have to any part of the said country and with this further provision, in the second article of the said convention of the sixth of August, eightcen hundred and twenty-seven, that either party might abrogate and annul said convention, on giving due notice of twelve months to the other contracting party :

"And WHEREAS it has now become desirable that the respective claims of the United States and Great Britain should be definitely settiled, and that said territory may no longer than need be remain subject to the evil consequences of the divided allegiance of its American and British population, and of the confusion and conflict of national jurisdictions, dangerous to the cherished peace and good understanding of the two countries :

With a view, therefore, that steps be taken for the abrogation of the said convention of the 6th of August, eighteen hundred and twenty-seven, in the mode prescribed in its second article, and that the attention of the Governments of both countries may be the more earnestly directed to the adoption of all proper measures for a speedy and amicable adjustment for the differences and disputes in regard to the said territory :

" Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President of the United States be, and he is hereby authorised, by his discretion, to give to the Government of Great Britain the notice required by the second article of the said-convention of the 5th of August, 1827, for the abrogation of the

This Resolution may be cousidered as an emphatje expression of the same of the two Houses of Congress in favor of compromising the Oregon boundary dispute ; and the adoption of " all proper measures," includes, as the reader will perceive, arbitration, as well as all other mades of settlement.

DIVIDEND.

The Bank of Cape Fear has declared a semi-anmust dividend of 3 per cent. payable on the 7th of May. See Advertisement.

The Oregon question in England seems to have lost its attraction for awhile in the smoke of the Indian news.

The viotories of the English over the Sikhs appear to be the principal feature of the intelligence by this steamer.

The slaughter of the Sikhs was terrible. Ten or twelve thousand of these brace fellows, and nearly two thousand English troops, were slain and wounded.

This battle and this slaughter, added to the slaughter of twenty thousand Sikhs ing previous battle has resulted in the surrender, in full sovereiguty, of the territory, hill and plain, lying between the Sullej and the Beas rivers, and the payment of one and a half score of rupees as in. demnity for the expenses of war. The entire regulation and control of both banks of the river Sutley, and such other arrangements for settling the future boundaries of the Sikh State, and the organization of its administration, as might be determined on at Lahore.

The Cotton market was apparently depressed, ret on the 3d instant, American descriptions improved one-eighth of a penny.

The Money market was in an unsettled and insatisfactory state.

It is said that the Oregon question will cut off. to a large extent, the emigration from Germany to the United States.

Indian corn continues to arrive in England and gain popularity.

The English tariff and the Irish coercion bill absorb the proceedings in Parliament.

The Polish revolution appears to be at an end Poor, unfortunate Poland.

The American Minister was prevented by Indisposition from attending the Queen's drawingroom on the 19th ult.; but Mrs. M'Lane, the lady of his Excellency, was present, and also the Secretary of Legation, Mr. Gansevoort Melville. VICTORIA'S VISIT TO FRANCE .- The preparations for the visit of her Majesty, Queen Victoria to the King and Queen of the French, were proceeding without intermission at the Tuillery, Neuilly, St. Cloud and Versailles, and particularly at the Trianon.

WARLIKE PREPARATIONS .- The greatest activity continues in all the dock yards in England, and recruiting for the army is still going on with great spirit. 6000 soldiers were ordered to India, 3000 of which were to proceed by the overland route. It is now stated that that order will be rescinded. There is a rumor current that an additional number will proceed to Canada. THE BRITISH TARIFF. -Since we last address. ed our readers, says the European Times, the "great and comprehensive measure" of Sir Robart Peel has passed through another stage in its progress towards its legislative finale. The secoud reading, after a week's debate, was carried by a majority of 88, which is a diminution of 9, as compared with the first great parliamentary di-House of Commons.

tellectual worth. 1. GOV. GRAHAM IN GRANVILLE.

ARRAM'S PLAINS, April 22, 1846.

MR. GALES: It seems to be part of the game of the eaders of the Democratic party, in the present contest for Governor, to affect public opinion, by glowing and highly colored accounts of the triumphant progress of one of their candidates. These description represent, doubtless, what the party wishes might be the state of things in regard to Mr. Shepard, and the actual position and triumphs of Gov. GRAHAM. His Excellency, you must know, had formerly practised Law in this County, and was well known personally, and greatly beloved and esteemed by its citizens of all parties. Here, too, he was first nominated, and here he opened his second campaign. A short notice had been hastily circulated, informing the public that the would be in Oxford on yesterday (the 21st mst) to address his follow citizens; a day perhaps the most unfaverable for a large gathering, of any in the whole year. The season was a busy one with the Farmers, the weather was fine for working, and there was to be no discussion at the Court House, nothing to ex-cite or amuse. And yet I hazard nothing in saying, that a more respectable collection of citizens, in point of number, character and intelligence, never assembled in Granville. Large numbers, of both parties, went flocking in, and all, without distinction of poitical creed, paid their personal respects, to his Excellency, and gave him a warm, cordial and most gratfying welcome. There was no excitement, no noise and hubbub got up for appearance sake, but a more kind, respectful and hearty reception, from all persons and all parties, no man ever received in any place Not a heart on the ground but entertained the sincerest esteem for the man-not a citizen that was not proud of him as a North Carolinian, and many, many of his Democratic friends met him with a mournful pride, seeming for the time, deeply to regret that dire party necessity, which would proseshe and defame this noblest son of the old North State-thes Chevalier Bayard, of the age, " without fear and without reproach." At a few minutes before one, the speaking commenced. Our large Court House was entirely filled, and among the auditors were a large collection of Granville's fairest daughters

Of the address what shall I say more than thisthat I wish every citizen of the State could have heard it. There was no rant nor abuse ; no special pleading nor recrimination ; no appeals to sectional general impression is that the House will recide feelings, to particular interests, nor to temporary pas-s from its amendment. sions. It was a calm, sober, statesmanlike, enlightened address, for all parties and all interests and all sections, and all occasions; an address, plain, conclusive in its arguments; and complete and manswerable in all its positions. Not a point could be assailed, not a single position turned, for he spoke Truth, unchanging, unchangeable and Universal Truth. All felt it, and he was frequently and warmly applauded. I was particular to observe the pro-tribes in Oregon, and to preserve peace and ultimate triendship with and incorg the said Indians. After some discussion, the bill was reported to the House with similary amendments. On motion of Mr. Thempson its further consideration was then justponed until the second Monday in May. The House then adjourned.

SENATE --- WEDNESDAY, Auril 22, 1816.

After the presentation of Petitions and the disposal of it her unimportant matters, Mr. Webster role for the purpose of propounding somequestions to the Chairman of the Filance Comatter, relative to the Sub-Treasury fall. -Mr. W. asked whether the bill would be reported yoon, and whether in an amended form or

Mr. Lewis, the Chairman, replaced that the Committee preferred that the ware house bill and the bill to establish branch musts should have precedence. He would state, however, that it was highly probable that the Sub Treasury but would be reported without the specie clause, and at all events the bill would not go into operation before the first of January next. This would allow ample time for the business portion of the community to prepare for the change.

Mr. Jarnagin called up his resolution, requesing the President to transmit all the items of he secret service fund since 1825.

Mr. Webster roso and read from an answer be had prepared to the charges brought against hun by Mr. Inversall, in the other House,

Mr. Webster suctions the course of the President in refusing to give the information and thereby breaking the law of the land. So tar, however, as he (Mr. W.) was concerned, it was perfectly immaterial to how whether the information were communicated or not, for all the charges and instituations of Mr. Ingersoll were false rom beginning to end. A man who could thus suspect in officer of government of a morapplication of the public money, must feel conscious of innure motives lainseif. In conclusion he said he would now take leave of Mr. Ingersoll, and leave hun in the very worst company in the world, viz : in the company of the said Mr. Ingersoll

After some discussion of a conversational character, the resolution was rejected, only one Senator voting in the affirmative.

The Senate then took up the French Spoliation bill, and Mr. Clayton spoke until the adjourn-
