From the N. O. Delta. March 25. Important News from Vera Cruz! SUCCESSFUL LANDING OF OUR FORCES !!

Water and Supplies Cut off from the Enemy ! Reconnoisance-Landing the American Forces-Carrying Redoubts-Loss of Capt. Alburtis and seven men-Investment of Vera Cruz-Rescue of Midshipman Rogers-The Squadron, &c., &c.

By the arrival, at an early hour this morning, of the Schr. Portia, Capt. Powell, which left Sacrificios on the 15th inst., we are in receipt of the following highly interesting intelligence from the forces co-operating against Vera Cruz.

Troops were landed, after a reconnoisance on the 7th, by Generals Scott. Patterson, Worth, Pillow, Quitman, and Twiggs, with their Aids and the Topographical corps, which approached near the shore, owards the direction of the Castle, the guns from San Juan de Ulloa opening fire upon the party, but without doing any damage to the reconnoitering party-the round-shot either passing over or falling short, and the shell, although thrown with precision, bursting at a considerable elevation, doing no harm. The reconnoisance was made while the transports and convoys were lying off at Anton Lizardo; after their return, and at the least possible delay, transports and convoys weighed anchor and stood to the south-ward of Sacrificios, bearing in towards the main-land, with a fair breeze and in gallant style, when they came to anchor, the convoys taking position in such a manner as to protect the disembarkation of the troops, the first 6000, being landed at 2 o'clock, P. M., on the 9th, and the remainder during the day. The landing is spoken of by persons who were eye-witnesses, as a scene of magnificence, rarewho would not pronounce this Administration guilty ly witnessed more than once in a lifetime. The troops landed amounted to the exact number of 12,100.

After the landing, the different columns took up their line of march for the positions assigned to them in the important action and siege of Vera Cruz. ing reinforcements, but they, whose duty it was to The steamers Vixen and Spitfire, laying under Punta de Hornos, opened on the City across the heed him, turned a deaf ear to the old veteran's point and in the direction of the Castle with shell round shot, which was returned by the Castle, but without effect.

One letter speaks of "Gen. Taylor's latest and most astonishing victory,', as being a surprise to the Mexicans, which will inspire them with a degree of awe towards this country, which will restrain them from any further contest.

Before Santa Anna retreated from Agua Nucva, e sent in a message to Gen. Taylor, in substance as follows : That he should fight him again, but that he should select a field better calculated to display and marshall his troops. To this Gen. Taylor replied : That he (Santa Anna) was whipped-that he (Santa Anna) knew that he was beaten, and therefore. Gen. T. advised him to send in proposals for a surrender, and they should be promptly and favorably considered.

That the above messages were exchanged substantially, we are assured by a letter from Monterey of a late date and from a most respectable source.

Some of the Mexican prisoners made by us declared that they had not tasted food in three days, and that the situation of the army was such that it could not hold together four days longer, unless relieved.

We are gratified to learn that other volunteers are arriving at the Brazos in good number. Two on the 5th instant, and three on the 12th. Two more companies of the Virginia Regiment arrived on the Sth inst. making now eight or nine companies of this regiment which have reached the seat of war. Three companies of the Massachusetts regiment arrived on the 13th inst., being under command of Capt. Webster.

The North Carolina volunteers were expected to proceed immediately to Matamoras to relieve the 2d Mississippi Riflemen, who would then push on to Camargo and Monterey at once.

The Small Pox is said to have appeared on the ship bringing the two Virginia Companies last arrived .- Picayune 25th.

The Washington papers contain Gen. TAYLOR'S Official Despatches to the Government, in relation to the late great Battle, which we hasten to lay before our readers. They are in his usual brief, modest, but expressive style. It is hard to say, whether he writes or fights best.

Capt. Alburtis was a Virginian, and formerly conducted a newspaper in Fredericksburg .-Col. Dickinson, of Camden, S. C. was wounded in the breast by a musket shot. The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the City with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the tanks, which are situated some distance from the City.

During the advance upon the rear of the City, bassed midshipman Rogers, who had not yet been sent from Vera Cruz, was bound on a cart and ordered to be conveyed, under a guard, to the prison at Perote, but fortunately they were encountered by our forces, and Mr. Rogers was rescued and is now on board his ship.

The City is now completely surrounded by our troops, each division having taken a strong and advantageous position, with entrenchments, completely cutting off all communication by sea or land, and, at the same time, are safe from the fire of the Castle. So closely is Vera Cruz now besieged, and so entirely are every means of communication cut off. that, in a very few days, the news must reach us that both the City and Castle are occupied by our victorious troops.

The general impression seems to be that the City will surrender in the course of ten days or two weeks. No doubt is expressed of the successful termination of the enterprize.

THE LATEST FROM GEN. TAYLOR.

The schooner Southerner, Capt. Goodspeed, arrived yesterday morning from the Brazos, having left on the 19th inst. Maj. Coffee, of the Paymaster's Department, and Mr. Thos. L. Crittenden, who acted as volunteer aid to Gen. Taylor in the late battles, came Passengers on her, the latter bearing despatches from Gen. Taylor to the Government. We have glorious news by this arrival. Santa Anna's infantry has already disbanded. He is now supposed to be retreating on San Luis Potosi. Gen. Taylor at last accounts not only held Saltillo and Buena Vista, but was himself quietly encamped at Agua Nueva-just before occupied by Santa Anna. The Mexicans had been alarmed by a report that Gen. Patterson was moving from Tampico upon San Luis. He needed some pretext of the kind to cover his retreat.

A letter has been received in the city from Gen. Taylor, dated the 1st inst., from Agua Nueva. He writes that his men had been so harrassed with the fatigues of the week previous and his horses were so completely broken down, that he had been unable to lect the debt by compulsory means, and the attempt | pursue the enemy, whom he supposes to have retreated towards Saltillo. We learn from Major Coffee that Lieut. Sturgis-who had been taken prisoner by the Mexicans on the 20th ult. and was subsequently exchanged-reported that Santa Anna had

A cavalry force left at Agua Nueva for the purpose of covering the removal of supplies was driven in during the night, and on the morning of the 224 the Mexican army appeared immediately in front of our position. At 11 o'clock A. M. a flag was sent, bearing from General Santa Anua a summons of unconditional surrender. To which I immediately returned a negative reply. The summons and my reply are herewith enclosed. The action was commenced late in the afternoon between the light troops on the left flank, but was not seriously engaged until the morning of the 23d, when the enemy made an effort to force the left flank of our position. An obstinate and sanguinary conflict was maintained, with short intervals, throughout the day, the result being that the enemy was completely repulsed from our lines. An attack of cavalry upon the rancho of Buena Vista and a demonstration upon the city of Saltillo itself were likewise handsomely repelled .--Early in the night the enemy withdrew from his camp and fell back upon Agua Nueva, a distance of twelve miles.

Our own force engaged at all points in this action fell somewhat short of 5.400 men, while that of the enemy, from the statement of General Santa Anna, may be estimated at 20,000. Our success against such great odds is a sufficient encomium on the good conduct of our troops. In a more detailed official report. I shall have the satisfaction of bringing to the notice of the Government the conspicuous gallantry of particular officers and corps. I may be permitted here, however, to acknowledge my great obligations to Brigadier General Wool, the second in command, to whom I feel particularly indebted for his valuable services on this occasion.

Our loss has been very severe, and will not probably fall short of 700 men. The Mexican loss has been immense. I shall take the earliest opportunity of forwarding a correct list of the casualties of the

A DAY OF REJOICING.

The Washington Correspondent of the "Charleston Courier" says-" Mr. Polk remarked, at a dinner which he gave to the Judges of the Supreme Court, that the happiest day of his Presidential career would be the one on which he should take leave of it." We assure him the American people will be with him once, for they, too, will rejoice on the arrival of that day.

We may be permitted particularly to refer, in the enumeration of the officers who fell in the late battle with the Mexicans, to the death of Lieut. Col. Henry Clay, son of Henry Clay of Kentucky. He was a gallant officer; and an estimable man-the pride of his father, and respected by all who knew him. Upon the grief of that father for this be-reavement, we will not intrude. He will feel deeply and keenly this affliction; but he will bear it. with manliness. To lose such a son is trial enough. dicate the state of public feeling in regard to ministration of National Affairs. But, thank Heaven; there is a consolation under peace—belleving that he dense in the army, and every calamity. Mr. Clay has the sympathy of the can rally around him the leaders in the army, and American people.—Alexandria Gazette. But, thank Heaven; there is a consolation under fallen back to Incarnacion, and even retreated further, under the pretext of giving up the accommodations of the place to his wounded. It was several days after the battle when Lieut. S. was in Incarnacion. Gen. Taylor, when he heard of Santa Anna being there despatched Col. Belknap with five hundred men thither, but "the bird had flown."

We have been allowed to see letters from an authentic source, dated the 2d inst., from Monterev .-They give the same deplorable picture of the destitution and demoralization of Santa Anna's army which have before reached us. Their situation is such that they must fight, or starve, or retreat .--

They cannot be brought again to the first ; numbers are disbanding to avoid starvation : and Santa Anna and the army which remains to him are actually retreating! The only doubt is as to the route he will from us at different times, besides a few taken in pursue. Some have conjectured that he will go to the action of the 23d. Our wounded, as well as those Mexico by the route of Zacatecas, on account of the of the Mexicaus which have fallen into cur hands, greater facility of feeding his men. But the general have been removed to this place, and are rendered opinion on the spot is that he falls back to San Luis, | comfortable. for which city he has actually struck his tents.

Letters from Monterey of the 2d, further say that it is believed at Saltille that Urrea and Canales have missing. One Company of the Kentucky Cavalry* been ordered by Santa Anna to withdraw to the other side of the Sierra, and if this be true, it indicates a real alarm on the part of Santa Anna for the safety of San Luis.

It is stated on the best authority, that cabals and other symptoms of insubordination were beginning to show themselves in his army, and our officers predict his speedy downfall to be followed shortly by
