from this statement it will be seen, that Gov. talls only 289! votes behind his vote in The figures look startling. and be confessed; but any man who will take wouble to examine closely into the result will if we are not much mistaken, that the ascenber of Whig principles in North Carolina is at all affected thereby. We say, the ascenboy of Whig principles; for, though it be true. at our gallant standard bearer in the late contest deleated, it will not be denied that local issues moranately alienated much of the Whig supnot from him; that those issues were personal at to himself, and that they can have no bearing appar future elections in the State. We say then, in tous; and we appeal to those same figures. wook so squally to the eyes of despondent Thes, to bear us out in the assertion.

The vote is considerably the largest ever cast the State. It is preposterous, therefore, to supwhen Gov. Manly falls so few votes behind former pell, that all this enermous increase in Reid's vote is to be set down under the head 1 Democratic increase, proper. No man will mend to say that, in the face of the heavy losses a Gov. Manly sustained in Rutherford, and the Counties, on account of those local prejudis. to which we have alluded. We ask attention the following facts and tabular statements, for worrectness of which we refer to the official in the Secretary of State's Office, and which se defy any man to controvert.

h will not be denied, in the first place, that sevm hundred Whigs in Rutherford, (700) one hunand fifty in Cleaveland, (150) two hundred ad fifty in Washington, (250) and, at least, five inndred (500) in other counties, where the change was not so decided as in the three above enumerged, voted for Reid, for reasons which we have aggested-making an aggregate of sixteen hunand undoubted Whig votes (1600) that were cast for the Loco Foco Candidate. In future contests then the personal issues that operated against Gev. Manly shall not exist, to divide and distrac: the party, these votes will again be cast in accor dance with those cherished principles which they have always sustained. Who expects otherwise?

Gov. Manly's vote was Adding 1600 Whig votes cast for Reid 1,600

44.844

Reid's vote was Subtracting 1600 Whig votes

43,244 Which works, already, a very decided change to the aspect of the vote. But this is not all .-The official returns will sustain us in the assertion that the following Whigs, in round numbers, in the following Counties, did not vote at this Election-the Loco Foco vote in the same Counties being about as usual, or, in some instances, lar-

While this shows how easily the Whigs of the State might have elected Gov. Manly, and saved the State from the reproach of having a Loco Fom Governor, for the first time, by doing even half berduty, it also proves more still. It will be seen, of burse, that, in the foregoing calculations, we have had reference to the question of Whig astendancy in the State, as it has hitherto manifested itself, and as it will continue to manifest itself on all occasions, where national politics, principles, are involved, and that, in deciding that question, we have actually assumed Gov. Manly's vote, in 1848, as the basis of our calculations.-Now, it is well known, that thousands of Whigs slayed from the polls at that election; and it was

many of the Loco Foco Press, that that vote could not be taken as a test of the relative strength of parties in the State. In view, therefore, of all the facts and circum-

Let but the day arrive, when they will be called upon to express their continued devotion to those principles, and, with ranks unbroken by the low appeals of personal or local prejudices, they will raise the shout of confident victory-a victory, which shall remind us of the triumphant contests of '40 and '44-a shout, in comparison with which, the present exultations of Loco Focoism, will be as the babbling of a brook beside the thunders of Niag

"A PLAGUE UPON THIS PERCY"!

The hyena-like vindictiveness with which the campaign. Mr. Reid, it is notorious, was no State. match for Gov. The Governor should be under many obligations to the Editor of the "Standard," that he forbears "to pin him to the wall," (as a boy would a fly, for instance.) "The quality of mercy is not strained," indeed, in the case of the "Standard." We read that "'tis even mightiest in the mightiest :" and it is interesting to appreciate therefrom, the difference between the magnanimity of soul, that prompts a man to " forbear" the inhuman process of " pinning to the wall," and the grovel- and changes, although it is stated that the minorling feeling of spite that arms every Lilliputian Loco Foco Press in the State, with a pin, (war- tions to defeat the State movement. riors " worthy of their steel,") for the most cruel and dastardly operation.

Manly's explanation, because it is a most reasonable explanation, coming from a gentleman whose character for integrity and veracity is above the puny assaults of unscrupulous party scribblers, and because we see no conflict whatever between his explanation and the statements of the numerous respectable "certifiers," that cannot be readily reconciled by a candid and disinterested perusal of both. We merely allude to the matter, now, to show with what unrelenting vindictiveness the poisoned arrows of a malignant Press are still men, the Northern people would be fairly reshowered upon Gov. Manly. They will yet recoil upon the assailants. May we be in "at the death."

REFORM IN VIRGINIA.

It is estimated that four fifths of the members elected to the Convention, in Virginia, at the recent elections, are advocates of the general and truly Republican principle that the people are competent to the selection of all their agents by direct suffrage. How far this principle may be modified in its practical application, will, we presume, be one of the principal subjects of the Convention's deliberations. That it will be engrafted upon the new constitution, there can now be no

The basis question will probably give rise to as grave a division of opinion between the Eastern and Western delegates, as it did in the Convention of 1829-30, or as it bids fair ultimately to give rise to in North Carolina. Amongst the seventysix gentlemen elected from the two Eastern divisions of the State, there are only four who will consent to surrender the mixed basis of representation. These are Mr. Wise, of Accomack, Mr. Stuart, of the Franklin District, and Messrs. Carter and White, of Loudoun. There is not one of the fifty-nine delegates from the two Western divisions, who will not insist upon the white basis. Presuming therefore, all the Western members to be white basis men, and all the Eastern members, except four, to be mixed basis men, the parties will stand divided:

For the mixed basis, " white basis,

Maj. for the mixed basis,

A majority of nine, the "Times" thinks, is fully large enough to secure the establishment of the mixed basis, and, that, if the Convention will adopt that basis in the constitution, it will be ratified by a large majority of the people, and then the question would be finally banished from their popular and Legislative discussions.

05- The "Alexandria Gazette" well remarks stances of the case, we would say to our despair- that the public are now waiting, with as much ing Whig friends, at home, and to our Whig patience as they can command, to see what the friends abroad, that there is no reason for their House of Representatives will do, with regard to despondency. Mortifying as was the defeat of the bills recently passed by the Senate. For the Gov. Extract from a letter to the Editor of the Register, BY MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.

August 9th, 1850. On the 25th ultimo, we received the news of Gen. Taylor's death, by telegraph from Paris, and by the last mail all the particulars of the melancholy event reached us. It has produced a general feeling of regret here and in all Europe, so far as I can learn. The Spanish papers of all parties paid the illustrious dead deserved tributes of respect. Spain, as a friendly power, looked with confidence to the veteran soldier, for the fulfilment of all the solemn treaty obligations of his country, and she feels that a strong arm between berself and villainous pirates has been suddenly. and at a critical moment, withdrawn. Those newspapers and individuals who have in any way countenanced the late midnight robbery of Lopez, merit a punishment as severe as the odium country abroad is deep, and, I fear, lasting. Such piratical outrages undertaken by foreigners and cheered and encouraged by citizens at home, in the very face of the solemn enactments of law, and in the very teeth of every dictate of international decency, are a disgrace to American civilization—and all of us abroad sel it. I had thought that the age of private was was passed. Wherever Genl. Taylor has shown his hand in this matter, he has done credit to himself and credit to his country; and I consider is as a brighter monument of his fame than the most glorious of his rictories, that against the popular clamor and reasons of perfidious policy, he should have virtually said, in sublime devotion to the public faith, what the amiable Duke of Burgundy actually said-" Here is a treaty." I have no time to dwell on this subject. I enclose you the Circular issued the other day y this Legation, on the occasion of Genl. Tayor's death, to the Consuls &c. in this Peninsula. They were directed in an accompanying order to wear the usual badge of mourning and to cause all American vessels in their respective ports to lower the flags of the Republic at half-mast, for Yours ever.

MADRID, August 4, 1850. It becomes my painful duty to announce to you, officially, the decease of GENERAL ZACHARY on yesterday, bringing news from San Fran-America. This melancholy event took place, after a brief illness, at the Executive Mansion in Washington City, on Tuesday the 9th ultimo, at kets and Prices firm. 30 minutes past 10 o'clock, in the evening. A great and a good man has fallen. Attached in early life to the profession of arms, his long career of useful and arduous military service was marked by every virtue that could adorn the Soldier and was crowned by a series of triumphant achievements which encircled the victorious hero with a brilliant renown and reflected on his Country an imperishable fame. His military life but served to develope and illustrate the noble attributes of his character as a man. His modest simplicity and sincerity, sound judgment, moderation, integrity and purity, firmness without obstinacy, kindness without weakness, and his selfsacrificing and abding devotion to the conscien-tions discharge of his duty under all circumstances, A. STEAMBOAT NAVIGATION BETWEEN PAYETTRVILLE AND WILMINGTON.

Steam Boat Company beg leave to tender their thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received during the last season, and take this method to inform their patrons and the public generally that they have added over fifty per cent to the Capital Stock of the Company, in boats. The draw's of the New Steamboat "Chatham," is calculated to navigate the river at all stages of water, givin shippers by this line a decided advantage in setup. their goods up without delay, especially in the February, when the River is usually too low fue starm Boets of ordinary draught to run.

The Boets composing this Line ere from the date of their entrance, The College has the usual number of classes, affords all the opportunities for a complete education, and, at the successful termination of the collegiate course, confers upon its graduates the usual acade-nical degrees The Grammar School, immediately adjoining the College, and under the immediate supervision of the Restor, but under distinct discipline, receives lade at the beginning of their academical course, and prepares them for the collegiate classes. The oversight and direction of the Professors of the College secure special advantages to the pupils in the Grammar School.

In the Mercantile Classes the study of the Greek language is omitted, and its place supplied by additional studies in Modern Languages, Book-keeping, Commercial Arithmetie, Statistics, &c. The location of the College is entirely healthful, and, by its distance from towns and villages, very favorable to good morals and order. The whole annual charge (the same in the Cellege and Grammar School) for the session of ten months is two hundred and twenty-five dollars, payable semi-annually in advance. Applications to be
