matter of minor consideration, when it comes in conflict with that baser and more slavish allegi-and which binds it to the wheels of the Juggerper of Party! he edict has gone forth, by the leaders, that gattempt is to be made, next winter, to instruct Senators to resign their respective seats in the genate. This is slippery ground for North Caroina Loco Focoism to venture upon. At the pegod of the Expunging Resolutions, that party, generally, claimed to be the exclusive champions of the doctrine of Instructions, and in Virginia, Mr. Leigh was driven from the Senate by their those of it, and in this State, Judge Mangum was acrificed by the same means and the same false pretences. But when the tide of party turned. and those active sticklers for Instruction were placel in a condition to signalize their devotion to principle, by practising in person, what theretofore they were so zealous in enforcing from othen, they pertinaciously sustained Messrs. Brown and Strange for their evident reluctance to resign their seats, after the most decisive indications of popular opinion, or cast about for pretexts and breuses to justify an evasion of the popular will. Loco Focoism should remember this.

The "Standard," evidently by way of giving

"Mr. Badger was elected to the Senate of the United States by the people of this State, through neir Legislature; and he was commissioned and ent to that body to reflect the wishes and carry out the will of his constituents. The office of Se mor does not belong to him, but to the people of the State. He is the agent, and they are the principals. Much is necessarily left to his discretion. and he is undoubtedly entitled to his "own conscience" and his "own understanding;" but when the people "command" him, his implied right to act according to his own discretion ceases. and he must obey the command, or save his " consiene" and vindicate his " understanding" by resigning his seat. Otherwise, the man, and not the State, would be represented in the Senate; and the whole design of representation in a republican government, so far as he is concerned, would be frustrated and defeated. Is not this so?"

"Mr. Badger," it is readily grained, - was mmmissioned and sent to the Senate, to reflect the wishes and carry out the will of his constitucus." The view which we take of the doctrine of Instructions-for, we freely admit, we do not altogether concur with Mr. B. in his views of this matter-is, that, as Senators, we act not in our own, but in a delegated capacity—that we are nothing more than the mirror to reflect the will of the People who delegated us, and when their de liberate wishes are fully and fairly ascertained, it is our duty to conform to them. This is the doctine of Instructions as neld, generally, by all parties. Of course, the Representative may and should look behind the mere enrolled instructions of the Legislature, to see what may be the will and the sentiments of that fountain source of his authority-the People. In times of great local excitement, the Legislature may be composed of men elected with no reference to their views of National policy. In such a case, will it be pretended that the Legislature is a competent tribunal to pass judgment, for the people, upon the conduct of Senators, sent to represent the interests of the State as a part of the National Union? So, ndoes not unfrequently occur, that, in cases of ecidental and temporary party triumph, the oc usion is seized upon to advance some favorite pary dogma or pull down some unpopular party opponent. Will it be argued here, that the Representative should not look behind the warped judgment of the Legislature to see whether it is justified or sustained by public sentiment? Such a doctrine would be entirely subversive of that Legislative independence, which should exist to a sufficient extent, at all events, to secure the Representative against the intrigues of politicians and the wiles of unprincipled party prejudice. Such a doctrine, in the nineteenth century, need only be enunciated, to be repudiated and condemned. Granted, then, that our Senators are the Agents and the People of the State the Principals. That arings us to the consideration: If the accidental majority in the ensuing Legislature should dare attempt to instruct our Senators to resign their trusts, on account of their recent support of the great measures of Pacification, will that accidental majority be representing the will of their constituents? and should not their constituents. instructing, as soon as it pleases them to do so! __ also insure a more regular transmission of intelli-Let party hacks thus vent their spleen at the dis- gence between distant portions of the country. competent and impartial tribunal. PROCLAMATION OF GOV TOWNS, OF GEORGIA. The Washington Southern Press has received, by telegraph, from Macon, Georgia, a full copy of the proclamation issued by Gov. Towns, calling a convention of the people of the State on account of the admission of California as a State, skilful and experienced—there being, we underfrom which we extract the following:

he electors thereof, greeting: Having been officially informed that the Congress of the United States has admitted California into the Union of the States of the Confederacy upon equal terms with the original States-a duty devolves upon me, in the performance of which I shall trespass upon the public but briefly. An unfeigned deference for public opinion, and the profound regard I entertain for the wisdom. firmness and patriotism of my fellow citizens of Georgia, will not justify me, in a paper of this character, in repeating my known and unchanged opinions as to the duty of the South in repelling ee soil encroachment, and arresting, by all proper means, usurpation by Congress. Whatever is compatible with the honor and obligations of the people of this State to the country, its laws and its institutions, I doubt not will receive their warm support, in an hour of danger, when your instituions are in jeopardy-your feelings wantonly outaged-your social organization derided-your bonor deeply wounded, and the federal constitu tion violated by a series of aggressive measuresall tending to the consummation of one objectthe abolition of slavery.

In view, therefore, of the atrocious Free-Soil sentiment and policy, not merely of the non-slavethe cue, holds the following language in its last holding States, but of the government-of the imminent peril to which the institution of slavery State of California into the Union, with a constitution containing the principle of the Wilmot proviso, and in defiance of our warning and earnest remonstrance. In view of the deplorable fact that some diversity of opinion exists in some of the Southern States, as to the proper mode of recres sing the wrongs and avoiding the dangers which all must see and teel, let me, fellow-citizens, earnestly entreat you to cultivate, for each other, a deep and abiding sentiment of fraternal regard and confidence, and approach the task, from which there is no escape, of deciding upon your duty to Georgia and the country, with a firm step, but not without calm, deliberate and patient investigation, consulting neither fears or dangers on the one hand, nor permitting yourselves, from exasperated feelings of wrong on the other, to be rashly urged to extreme measures, which have Then I shall not despair of seeing the whole State, as one man, proposing nothing beyond what the mergency may demand, or failing to perform whatever patriotism, honor and right may require

[The Proclamation then details the events con emplated by the Legislature, in their resolutions, directing him to call a Convention, one of which was the admission of Galifornia, and accordingly orders an election to be held throughout the State, on the 25th day of November, to elect delegates to the Convention to assemble at the capital of the State, on the 10th day of December next.]

FROM TEXAS.

Accounts from Texas to the 5th instant, trans mitted by Telegraph from New Orleans, state that Governor Bell vetoed the bill passed by the Texan Legislature to submit to a vote of the people the proposition from the United States for the settlement of the boundary question, and, the Governor's veto having been sustained by the House of Representatives, the bill was lost. The Legislature then adjourned to the third Monday in

It is understood that this is equvalent to a de claration of the Legislature of Texas in favor of the acceptance of the law passed by Congress for the settlement of the Texas boundary. The law which had passed the Legislature would have deferred any action under the law of Congress, until there could have been a popular vote by the people upon it. The Governor vetoed the bill and the veto was sanctioned by the Legislature. The bill, it we mistake not, had been passed by the degislature, on the receipt of imperfect accounts of the provisions of Mr. Pearce's bill. The veto of the Governor was made after authentic accounts of the bill had been received, and the acquiescence of the Legislature in the veto is evidence, we should suppose, that the Legislature was satisfied with Mr. Pearce's bill, as it passed both Houses of Congress, and was approved by the President. and that when it officially comes before them for their acceptance, which it will at the November session, they will accept it.

Our issue of to-day is printed upon paper, made by Messrs. J. F. Jordan & Co., at their mills three miles from this place. It presents a highly respectable appearance, though we are informed by the Proprietors, that it is not a fair sample of the paper that they will be able to make, when they shall have fully accustomed themselves to their new machinery.

We are inclined to think, from a personal inspection, that no Paper Mills in the Southern States can possess superior advantages to these. The most modern, approved and costly machinery has been fitted up, and the facilities for obtaining pure spring water-so essential to brightness and clearness of surface-are unsurpassed; the water being brought upwards of 2700 feet in an aqueduct constructed for the purpose. The owners of the Mills are among our most enterprising citizens and know no such word as fail in whatever they undertake. The operatives are stand, under a very ordinary press of business, George W. Messrs. Jordan & Co. will shortly make known by general Advertisement, their arrangements, regulations, &c., for furnishing paper. We hope to see them liberally patronized by the entire Press of the State, to whom they can offer an article of paper, equally as good as, and little cheaper than, it can be obtained at the North.

The accused was brought before the Hon. Judge CRANCH, on Thursday, the 19th inst, on a writ of habeas corpus, issued on the motion of the prisoner's counsel, Messrs. J. H. BRADLEY and D. RATCLIFEE, who appeared on that day; P. R. FENDALL, Esq., the District Attorney, also appearing on the part of the prosecution. Judge Cranch required the prisoner to give bail to the amount of $6,000 for his appearance at the next December term of the Criminal Court, whereup-Blanchard were entered as the prisoner's security. Being released from the custody of the Marshal of the District, on the charge of abduction, the prisoner was surrendered to the custody of officers Goddard and Handy, who on Thursday evening conveyed him to Rockville, o answer to the charge of making an issault with intent to kill in Montgomery county, Maryland, and for which Gover nor Thomas had previously made a requisition on the District authorities.

The prisoner, on Friday morning, was examned in the Court house, before Justices ADAMson, Spates, and Braddock. There was a great number of persons present during the examina tion, and much excitement was manifested in the course of the proceedings, especially when Mr. Tuck, counsel with Mr. R. J. Bowie for the prosecution, expatiated on the enormity of the offence charged against the prisoner. Finally the prisoner's counsel, Messrs. RADCLIFFE, BREWER, and CHILDS, announced their intention of making no further resistance then to the course of the prose cution, and the accused was committed to jail for trial on the charge of assault with intent to kill.

The Charleston Mercury publishes a note from Mr. Rhett, correcting the report of a speech he lately delivered in South Carolina. He was represented as saying in substance: "We must secede, South Carolina will lead off-Georgia will go with her," &c. What he said was ; "Georgia will lead off, South Carolina will go with her,"

The erratum touches the gist of the whole matter. But Georgia wont lead off, and South Carolina wont have to follow.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 24th. There is some excitement here among the colored people owing to the passage by Congress of the fugitive slave bill, and the power bro'. it gives to the slave owner to enter the free States and take possession of his runaway property wherever he finds it. Many of them are preparing to leave for Canada in order to escape from those that they expect will soon be in pursuit of them.
