A GOOD PROPOSITION. Attentive consideration is due to the article on our second page, over the signature of G. P. S., which we take pleasure in copying from the "Greensboro' Patriot." It will be seen that the writer winds up his highly sensible and practical remarks, with the proposition to miners, manufor purposes of consultation—all having in view shall have passed off the stage, have given this may be derided, for aught that we know, but we ern their public conduct. must confess that it strikes us forcibly. It may possibly be objected to by some, upon the ground that the mechanic arts. &c. have not hitherto re-

We can see no validity in either objection .events, we cannot know our deficiencies fully or appreciate our wants, until we see and feel, and public opinion, after the late adjustment of the sla- public treasury, of $150,000 at least. can put our finger upon, them. And this can only very question by Congress." be effected by some such method as that suggested by the "Partriot's" correspondent. Nothing contributes so much to the advancement and prosperity of the States of New York and Maryland as their periodical Prize Fairs. It is only from associated minds, lator and skill, excited by a spirit this ired of feeding on the husks, and long- of emulation, the result of competition and direct comparison, that that degree of perfection and excellence can ensue, which the solitary individual might plod on in search of, and find a single life too short to attain. Our first attempt at a State the meanwhile with sly whispers a- Fair might prove a failure, but it would lay the fortal n vacancy that is shortly to occur in basis of future successful efforts, that could not

FOOTE AND FREMONT. A controversy is going on between Mr. Sen-ator Frement, and a Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, in relation to some statements of the latter concerning the late difficulty between himself and Senator Foote. The California Senator comes out in a long and denunciatory card in which he charges Senator Foote with having prompted the letter X. which appeared a few days since. He reviews the whole ground of difficulty-denies that the affair was ever "amicably adjusted," and concludes by sum-

> In conclusion. I hope and trust that the difficulty between Gen. Foote and Col. Fremont. will not be re-opened on account of my letter to the Baltimore Sun; but if Col. Fremont wishes to go behind the records, after the matter has been honorably disposed of by the respective friends of the parties, both he and Foote must assume their original positions. It is fortunate, at all events, that Col. Fremont's letter, dated September 30th, was not published here till the 4th of October, in letter form, and in the shape of a communication to the Sun, till the day following. Gen. Foote, agreeably to his avowed intention, left here on he 1st, and is now pretty much in the position in which Governor Marcy's letter left General Scott, after the latter had achieved so many glorious victories, which has loaded him with honors. It is to be hoped that both gentlemen will cool down before the next meeting of congress and that matters will remain where the wisdom

COOPING. The reprehensive practice of "cooping' voters is said to have been largely practised previous to the late election in Maryland .-The Baltimore Chipper contains the following remarks, which are entitled to attention, and especially so, if the allegations to which that | ter. Mr. Elwood Fisher, of the "Southers paper refers are not exaggerated:

"Some curious occurrences took place just preceding the late election of Governor of this State. Both parties had their coops, or houses in which they confined voters. Heretofore, we understand, it has been the practice of parties to coop their own voters, to prevent their falling into the hands of their adversaries on the day of the elec tion. But at the late election a different practice prevailed; and political opponents were seized and confined until the polls had been closed. Nor was this cooping cenfined to intemperate men. Gentlemen of respectability, it is said, were also caged and kept from voting. We have heard that several gentlemen made narrow escapes, and among ever found; and those who knew her best, loved them our worthy Mayor, who is said to be indebted to the fleetness of his horse for retaining his liberty during the day of election. This caging was no doubt fine sport to those engaged in it; but it is, nevertheless, an outrage which should not be perpetrated, and which deserves to be punished. We have heard several persons complain of being thus deprived of their liberty, and of their right of suffrage; and some have talked of seeking redress by law—but the misfortune is, that they are generally unable to identify their captors. If there be not law to punish such offences, additional acts

AWFUL OCCURRENCE. The United States mail steamship Southerner Capt. Berry, which arrived at New York on Friday night last, in sixty seven hours from Charleston, S. C. reports the occurrence that mer

When the Southerner was about one burdled and sixty miles from the port of New York the night being extremely dark, the sea running high, and the wind blowing almost a gale, a sail was discovered on the larboard bow, close at hand, and coming right down upon her. It was instanted ly seen that a collision must take place. The Southerner's engine was reversed, and backed with full steam, and the helm thrown hard aport. but it was too late! The two vessels came in contact with a tremendous crash, and hung fast together for a few moments. The Southerner's engine was again reversed, and the vessels separated a few feet, when suddenly the barque went down, close to the steamer's bow, in less than five minutes from the time of the collision. Three life-boats were immediately manned by the cap-tain and crew of the steamer, but of thirty three. persons who were on board the sunken vessel onseven were saved-two passengers and five of

DIED.

At Five Oaks, the residence of Mr. Charles E.

Hamilton, near Williamsboro', in the county of Granville, on the 2nd instant, Mrs. Jane C. Hamilton, in the 28th year of her age. Death seldom plucks a brighter or a purer flower. As the modest violet unobtrusive, her virtues shone brightest round the home where she was her most. The tears around her dying bed told of the beloved friend and the kind mistress. A fond husband and five little children are left to mourn her loss. She had been for some years a consistent member of the Episcopal Church, and leaning on the Christian's staff, calmly and resignedly her sun went down. As droops the fily's spotless cheek, At Winter's chilling breath; So droop'd her guileless spirit meek, At the cold touch of death.
