MECUTION OF THE LAW-THE ISSUE. The "Standard" each day multiplies its claims prominent place in the same ranks with the Charleston Mercury" and the other crazy prints the Union, without regard to section; without mand to section, we say, because it is a notori in sec, since the seemes cantined in the Senate in the sen inment of a common object—the dissolution the Union! The last issue of that paper aands with additional and indubitable evidences its sympathy for the mad and suicidal course which South Carolina is about to take. Alone (with the exception, of course, of the "Mercury,") afall the journals of the country that have come under our notice, it indulges in a spirit of faultfinding with the course of the President relative to the recent outrage in Boston. Alone, with the exception aforesaid, it ridicules or doubts, or issinuates that all is not exactly as it should be. If the Editor's motive, in pursuing this disingenu ous and illiberal course, be, as it doubtless is, to break the force of that effect which the prompt and decided action of the President is producing upon the public mind, and thereby subserve the purposes of Party, we know of no historical characer to whom we can more fitly compare him, than to that notorious individual, in the army of the Revolution, so witheringly described by PATRICK HEXEY, as having raised in camp the hoarse and elfish cry of " Beef-Beef"! "when the country was in danger, and all brave and patriotic hearts were beating for its safety and yearning to bleed,

Thus it is, that the "Standard" sees something significant in the fact, that the Judiciary Committee of the referred have expressed the opinion, in their report the Committee-that further legislation is not essential (the word is italicized in the Report of the Majority;) not that the President's suggestions are by any means improper and unsound.

frecessary, in its cause!

There are many points contained in that Report and especially in the individual Minority Report sub mitted by Mr. Butler, which we would like to notice, if we had the time and space. We content ourselves. however, with a single one: It is made the duty of the President, by the act giving the power to call out and employ the militia, to issue his proclamation be forehand as a warning to the employment of force .-"Such a proclamation," says the President, "would often defeat the whole object by giving such notice to perwas intended to be arrested as to enable them to fly or secrete themselves." And he therefore suggests that the law be modified by declaring that nothing therein contained shall be construed to require any previous proclamation, &c. But the Committee do not deem such a declaration "essential;" Mr. Butler, howwer, taking higher ground, as follows:

"This provision was founded in usage, and has the maction of time, trial, and experience. It is but the varning voice of a forbearing Government. There might be some occasions when the interval between such warning and the actual employment of force might be of some duration. Other occasions might be such as to require the force to follow in quick succes sion to the warning of a proclamation. The order to all out the militia and the proclamation might emahate at the same time. I do not think the President has the right to call out the military force of the Govemment without observing the pro requisites of the act of 1795; and I am unwilling to give him such power in calling out the nillitia. I would regard it as a fearfully momentous oceasion to see the army called out to shoot down insurgents without notice or proclama

While, therefore President Fillmore is relieved, by the declaration of Mr. Butler, himself, from anythin ? like cosure in the premises, it would seem as though that functionary were so over anxious in the eyes of Mr. B, to see the laws obeyed, as to ask for what he terms, a "fearful" authority to do so! We expect to see the "Standard" shift its sails and attack frim for aiming after despotic authority, next.

But, really, we have no idea of entering upon a labored defence of the President, in this particular, against the malace of the Raleigh Standard. His fixing is in every man's mouth, who has a heart with. in him, large enough and patriotic enough to feel an emotion of gratitude. His patriotic fidelity to his ob ligations are applauded by all men who desire to see the Constitution rescued from the ruthless grasp of fanaticism. The majority of the Judiciary Commit. tee, in their Report a fact by the way, which the Standard omitted to mention—cannot forego the opportraity of "expressing their confidence that the President will discharge with Adelity his high constitutional duty and see that the laws are faithfully execu-

A NEW PAPER.

Gen. JOHN GRAY BYNUM, of Rutherfordton, propos es to publish in that place a weekly paper, to be cal led the "People's Advocate and Constitutional Reformer." The principal object of the paper will be to advocate the call of an unrestricted Convention. Gen. B., thus sets forth, in his Procps ctus, the platform upon which he will stand.

The subscriber will stand by the Constitution of the United States and the Union, and will freely denounce all attempts to destroy that which was built up by the blood of our ancestors, the purest band of patriots the world ever knew. But while he is willing to abide by the action of the General Government thus far,he is not by any means an advocate for a tame submission to any aggressions upon the rights of the South. Any interference with our institutions, on the part of he General Government, unwarranted by the Constitution of the United States, should be properly and firmly resisted. He believes that the cause of com plaint now existing is against the insane and fanation doings of a portion of the people of the non-slavehol-ding States, and not against the action of the General Government. This can be remedied by proper ac-tion, within the constitution, on the part of the people of the Southern States, without adopting the suici-dal and revolutionary measure of a dissolution of the

The subscriber will endeavor to develop the resour es of Western North Carolina, so far as he can do so by laying before the public a lawful picture of our agricultural, manufacturing and mining facilities. No portion of the Union possesses all those facilities to a greater extent, and nothing but the want of a proper system of Internal Improvement, prevents this por tion of our State from becoming one of the fairest i

His object will be to break down the barriers be tween the East and West, to show that they are not natural enemies, that their interests can be united whenever mutual confidence shall be established, and that when that union shall be effected, but not till then, will North Carolina occupy the position to which her resources and her people entitle her."

The publication of the paper will be commenced about the 1st of June, if the subscriptions justify it Terms, $2 in advance; $3 at the end of the year.

"No election of Senator has yet taken place in assachusettes ; but Sumner, who made a Speech Boston, in which he counselled resistance to the fugitive slave law, and denounced it as atrocious and savage in its character, is still the highest candidate on the list. One hundred and ninetythree of the Representatives of the State of Massachusetts have repeatedly cast their votes for this man for a seat in the Senate of the Union!"

If the "Standard" had thought proper to inform its renders why it is that Sumner, " Senate, to whom the recent Executive message was Speech in Boston, in which he counselled resistance to the Fugitive Slave Law, and denounced it made a few days before the adjournment, that further as atrocious and savage," happens to be the highest legislation is not essential to enable the President to candidate on the list, it would have been better .discharge his high constitutional duty of seeing the It it had even condescended to state who are the has obeyed. Such, true, is the general conclusion of "one hundred and ninety-three Representatives of the State of Massachusetts, that have repeatedly cas; their votes for this man for a seat in the Senate of the Union," it would have been more candid, at all events, though it might have been less advisable and wise, under the circumstances. But candour and open-dealing are as nothing with that paper, when Party is in the way!

VALUE OF RAIL ROADS

The Editor of the " Tarboro' Press" gives in his last, the doitings by the way of a flying visit to Wilmington. Though by no means friendly to the cause of Internal Improvements, and especially of Rail Road Improvement, the Editor could not fail to see, everywhere around him, the evidences of new thrift and prosperity that follow in the train of the Locomotive. He says :

"The Rail Road is now in fine order, about 120 miles having been re-laid with T iron, and the balance of the road being in progress. The Company have several new passenger cars, constructed with all the modern improvements, and the ease and rapidity with which we were hurried along, almost tempted us to exclaim, in the language of the miser to his son in reference to making money," make railroads-honestly, if you can-but make

We also visited the workshops of the Company in Wilmington, and went on board of one of their steamboats. We were truly gratified to wituess the order and regularity observed in every particular, and had no idea that the Company possessed such ample means for manufacturing and repairing the various articles requisite for use. The business of the Company appears to be rapidly on the increase, and the day is doubtless near at hand when the road will amply remunerate the owner.

The thrifty appearance and expanded dimensions of Wilmington also agreeably surprised us. We had not been in that town since 1823, and although we had frequent intimations of its rapid improvement since the completion of the Railroad, we little expected to see in it so many spacious and elegant public and private buildings, and such a go-ahead spirit of activity and emulation in its citizens

In addition to the above, we were some what astonished at the numerous towns and villages springing into existence, as if by magic, on the line of the Railroad. Goldsboro' and Wilson, are increasing rapidly; and at almost all of the depots, stores and private at south part of the town, for $10,500-to be used uildings are being erected. We were absent only a few days, and we can heartily commend a trip to Wilmington, as an antidote to the depression of spirits so frequently besetting those engaged in monoton ous

Personal explanations seem to be the order of the day. We copy the following from the Senate proceedings of Monday.

Mr. Cass rose to a personal explanation. He read the editorial article of the Republic, ten by Gen. C. to a Mr. Kellogg, upon the subject of the improvement of certain harbors in Michigan, and some editorial comments upon the course of Gen. Cass with renied that that letter to Mr. Kellogg was a pledge to vote for the bill that came before the Senate. That bill was one which contained items for which he could not vote.-He believed that a national bill could have Fayetteville and Northern Plank Road Meet been passed.

He denied most positively the statement that at Cleveland he had sheltered himself behind the "noise and confusion." He defended his scruples upon legislaving in time of peace on Sunday; and also his opinion that the Congress terminated at 12 o'clock at night on the 3rd of March. In conclusion, he declared that the Editor of the Republic, by his article, had shown himself deficient in either the moral or mental qualifications of an editor.

Mr. Rhett followed in a reply to a letter v Mr. Houston, and in which the State laws and constitution of South Carolina were freely commented upon. Mr R. selected North Carolina at the expiration of three months, for letter and pronounced them false.

Mr. Houston briefly replied, contending dec'd, in the stead of one lost that if any error occurred it was wholly unintentional.

Mr. Butler continued the matter, pointing out that on a former occasion he had shown to Gen. Houston the error in a similar state-

Mr Houston briefly replied. Mr. Hale then said he had a personal explanation to make. It was that he had been abused by papers in all parts of the country. and he desired to say that in anything said by them, or which they may hereafter say, charging him with impropriety, there was not a word of truth. (Laughter.)

NAG'S HEAD. Owing to the exertion of Col. Outlaw, an appropriation of $100,000 for this great national work was embraced in the provisions of the River and Harbor Bill, which passed the House of Representatives; but was defeated in the Senate by the determined opposition of the minority. While we feared this fate we had some hopes that it would have been otherwise. We cannot but deeply regret this delay, for our readers may be well assured that this great act of justice is but delayed. This is no time for idle regret, we have failed in obtaining an appropriation it is true. therefore it behooves us still more to agitate the subject and keep it before the people. Let those who urged this matter and supported it by their influence and votes be sustained. Let Congress see that the people are in earnest, that they are determined that this work shall be done and it will be done. are invited to examine our assortment. # SURRY MEETING.—THE STANDARD.

"Better late than never"-we publish the proseedings of a Union meeting held in Surry county some weeks since. The meeting was composed of a large number of the most influential Democrats and Whigs of the county-a'l equally interested in the preservation of that Union now so ruthlessly assailed by fanatics north and south. It is with unaffected regret that we look upon he course of the Raleigh Standard in this connexion. In the number of that paper containing the minutes of the Surry meeting, there is an editorial warning to the Democrats to avoid such meetings. And the respectable Democrats of Rockingham, who some time ago held a Union meeting in which the comparatively few Whigs of that region participated, received a severe lecture from the same source. It does not appear, however, to be so much on account of their meeting with the Whigs, as their meeting for the Union, that these Democrats are censured by the Standard. The mass of the Democrats in North Carolina in the first generous impulses of their hearts and in the maturity of their judgments, are for their country-for the perpetuity of the Union. But the chief organ of their party is constantly and insidiously operating against it; and we sincerely regret to see se wide a circulation, so much influence, and so sprightly talent as the Standard commands, so egregiously—we fear, wickedly—misapplied.

The Standard warns the Democrats to "stand by their colors," but fails to exp ain what those colors are ;-there is a mist over them, so that you cannot see clearly the device and the motto; but they bear wonderful resemblance to the Palmetto and "Disunion."

We warn the people of North Carolina, Demo crats and Whigs, without regard to party, to 'stand by their colors!"-the glorious Stars and Stripes, waving highly and proudly, the admiration of the world,-bearing the plain and unmistakeable devices of the American republic, and that motto so dear to every true American heart-" Liberty and Union, now and lorever, one and inseparable!" Let no easy citizen flatter himself that the warning is not required: the signs of the times too truly indicate trouble ahead, unless the schemes of the Secessionists, or Disunionists, or whatever other name they choose to take, are crushed and scattered by the overwhelming mass of the honest and true People of the land.
