KOSSUTH ARRIVED.

By a Telegraphic Dispatch, we learn t'at the Hungarian Patriot and Orator arrived in New York last evening, (Thursday.)

THE MESSAGE. We have the pleasure of laying before our rea ders, to-day, the greater part of the President's Message-and a noble document it is. We have omitted such portions of it, as are not of general or particular interest, in order to accomodate it to the state of our columns. We have not room. even, to speak of it, as we desire to do, and as it deserves to be spoken of. In our next, we shall take occasion to notice its prominent features. We may say of it, however, in passing, that its spirit and its letter show even more conclusively. if possible, than any of Mr. FILLMORE's previous acts, that the Government has fallen into safe, honest and competent hands. To the South, espec jally, it commends itself, as a fearless and unbiased recognition of its rights, under the Constitution and the Laws-but to the whole Country, nevertheless, as a patriotic, comprehensive and National State paper. More we shall have to say of it-less we could not now have said.

MISSISSIPPI CONVENTION. We learn from Jackson, the capital of the State, that on the 15th instant the State Convention of Mississippi passed the Union Resolutions reported from the Committee of Thirteen, a copy of which was published in our last paper, some slight amendment having been previously made to them.

These Resolutions declare, as the reader will remember, that the People of Mississippi abide by the serios of measures sanctioned by Congress in 1850, usually called "the Compromise," and ex plienty declare the opinion of the Convention that the People of Mississippi will abide by the Union as it is, and by the Constitution of the United States without amendment.

The equally strong declaration against the pre tended Right of Secession on the part of a State or States, as a subversion of the Union, and amounting in its effects and consequences to Civil Revolution, was passed by a vote of seventy nine yeas to seventeen nays.

We heartily congratulate our readers on this expression, which we believe to be the true one, of the sentiment of the People of the State, in which originated the Nashville Convention, whose projects, had not the sound sense of the People been awakened in time to their real character might have led to the downfall of that Union to which every Southern State has in one way or other manifested its intention to adhere.

The Mississippi Convention probably adjourned on the 17th ult.

CONGRESS.

The House of Representatives was organized as our readers were informed through a Telegraphic Despatch in our last, on Monday, by the election of the Hon. LYNN BOYD. of Kentucky, as Speaker; J. W. FORNEY. Editor of the Pennsultanian, as Clerk; Mr. GLOSSBRENNER. of Pennsylvania, as Sergeant at-arms; and Mr. Johnson. of Virginia, as Postmaster. We learn from the "Republic," that the caucus of Democratic members, previous to the organization of the House, was attended by about ninety members, and that its proceedings were lively and protracted. It says:

"Mr. W. A. Richardson, of Illinois, was in the chair, and Mr. F. P. Stanton, of Tennessee, and W. P. Hall, of Missouri, were Secretaries. After the meeting was organized. Major Polk, of Ten nessee, offered a resolution cordially approving of the series of measures known as the Compromise. and pronouncing them a final adjustment of the questions to which they relate. This gave rise to a debate, in the course of which Mr. Stanton, of Tennessee, moved to refer the whole matter to the Baltimere National Democratic Convention Finally, however, on the motion of Mr. D. K. Carter, of Ohio, Major Polk's resolution was laid on the table, by a vote of 59 to 50.

After this division several members left the meeting. The vote on the nomination for Speaker was 80. For Clerk, Mr Forney received 60 votes; Mr. Young, the former incumbent, 20. A host of candidates appeared for the Doorkeepership; and we understand that a compromise in regard to the apportionment of the offices con trolled by the Doorkeeper was found necessary to secure the nomination of Mr. McKnew, Messrs. GREAT TELEGRAPHIC FEAT.

On Tuesday last, the 2nd inst., the President's Message was delivered simultaneously at all points between Washington City and New Orleansthe Postmasters at each place having been pre viously provided with copies, and only awaiting the orders of the Postmaster General, which were | The Democratic Caucus and Tabling of the Comgiven at one o'clock, (soon after the assemblage of Congress,) by Telegraph. On the same day and at the same time, probably, the whole Union was placed in possession of the views of its Chief Magistrate. What a change! what a revolution! What a stride over the slow going motions of our good old fathers! Years ago, the old posters were whipped up to a speed of ten miles an hour. A little later, the Locomotive bore the document at the rate of forty miles, and then it boasted of the annihilation of time and space. But this modern nnovator, the Telegraph, has brought the whole Country to Washington; and the Message was read fifteen hundred miles off, before the Clerk of the House had finished his reading to the assembled Copgress in the House of Representa-

On the same day, the New York and New Oreans Offices interchanged messages, without intermediate re-laying; writing direct from one point to another, a distance of communication never before attempted or attained on the surface of the globe-being upwards of 2000 miles by the

The Organization-Mr. Boyd and the Compromise -The Whig Caucus Resolutions-Thorough-Adherence to the Adjustment Measures.

The House is organised, and Linn Boyd speaker. revious to his election, George W. Jones, of Cennessee, declared he should vote for him, not because the caucus had voted for him, but because he was a good compromise man. There is truly no better compromise man in the House than Mr. Boyd, and certainly no more honest and straight forward a man on the whole continent. Of course all the other caucus nominees are elected on the same principle-Forney by 50 majority.

The Whigs held a caucus this morning in which they passed the following highly satisfactory re-

Resolved, That we regard the series of acts, known as the adjustment measures, as forming in their mutual dependence and connection a system of compromise, the most conciliatory, and the best for the entire country that could be obtained from conflicting sectional interests and opinions; and that therefore, they ought to be adh rid to and carried into faithful execution as a final settlement in principle and substance of the dangerous and exciting and Hall of Missouri, as Sccretaries. ubjects which they embrace."

There were betweeen fifty and sixty whigs in not more than five or eight who voted against the resolution or lett the room. The democrats proposed to beat that all hollow. They went to mus compromise resolutions, with the whole strength | ed. and this "stumbling block" was, some how, of the party under drill. The fact is the whigs went at the resolutions without looking to office, which was beyond their reach; while the demorats exhibited the phenomenon, called by astronoto be deflected from a straight line by the medium through which they passed; but all will be made right in a few days

This is refreshing! Last year the disunionists and free-soilers denounced the Union as "A CURse," a mere wanton. Now the fashion is to wor ship at her shrine. The Union is not only the avowed bride of every true American heart, but upon. It may meet with a better reception in the also the fashion of the day: disunion will soon be

I forget to state, in my last letter, that the President, in his message, will hand Kossuth over to ongress, as it was by a joint resolution of Congress, ntroduced by Gen. Foote in the Senate, that the frigate Mississippi was placed at the disposition of Kossuth, and the orator-statesman of Hungary in vited to our hospitable shores.

Since the above was put in type, we have re eived, through the Washington papers, the official proceedings of the Whe cancus. Mr. Out-LAW, of this State, presided, and Mr. Moore, of Pennsylvania, acted as Secretary. N. Dankins, A. P. Aldrich, and John Townsend, made a report on the present aspect of affairs .-They deem it mexpedient to do more than indicate by a few simple resolutions a platform apon which, according to their judgment, the people of South Carolina placed themselves by the recent election. The following are the resolutions:

THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS. From Democraticand neutral sources we derive the following accounts of the proceedings in the Democratic caucus held in the Hall of the House of Representatives on Saturday evening last:

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.] WASHINGTON, November 30. promise Resolutions - Withdrawal of Members -

Only one Majority Candidate for Offices of the House-The Votes. There was considerable animation in the Dem ocratic caucus last evening, and, contrary to all expectation, the Compromise resolutions were voted down; that is to say, they were tabled, though a motion was pending to refer them to a committee, A motion to adjourn was also voted down, though that would have given absent members a chance

But fifty members voted against the Compromise—that is, for tabling it—and thirty one or thirty-nine for it-that is against tabling it. The short sense of a long story is, the Compromise was kicked out of caucus by about nineteen majori-

A number of members then withdrew, or abstained from voting. Among them were Judge Bayly of Virginia, Gorman of Indiana, Geo. W. Jones of Tennessee, Freeman and Wilcox of Mississippi, and a good many others. Among those who remained and voted were

Messrs, Rantoul of Massachusetts, Preston King of New York, Governor Cleveland of Connecticut, and others of that persuasion of politics. None of the caucus nominations received a maority of the Democratic vote in Congress but Mr. Johnson, the present postmas er of the House, who was renominated without opposition. Colonel Forney received 60 votes for Clerk, and Linn Boyd 51 or 57 for Speaker. Yet both these men are known to be staunch Compromise men, so that, after all, the intentions of the majority of the Democratic party have been faithfully carried out in their selection.

What effect the voting down, or kicking out, of the Compromise resolutions will have on the country, remains to be seen. An effect will no doubt be made to offer similar resolutions as soon as Congress shall organize; and some think they will pass; but that may safely be questioned. If they pass, they will pass by the joint vote of Union Whigs and Union Democrats.

THE FIRST MOVEMENTS OF THE OP POSITION.

We publish in another column certain letters from the well-known correspondents of the Baltimore Sun, in illustration of the views of the Democratic members of Congress touching the Compromise resolutions that were laid on the table in vote of 59 year to 50 havs. These letters will now be read with great interest. They show the great importance which was attached by the lead ing men of the party to the passage of those resolutions before the caucus. We are curious to see what gloss will be put upon the actual course of the Democratic members by the same correspondenis after the caucus.

The fact has gone forth to the country, after Il these preliminary announcements, that the Democratic caucus refused to endorse the mea sures of Compromise Why? Simply because the Democrats proper were out-voted by the Secessionists and Abolitionists. There was a majority of the latter force in caucus. The Democratic party proper-the Southern Righ's party of the South-with their leaders and presses, are is it. They have been struggling against it in Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, and other South Northern Aboli ionists. Mr. Rantoul was elected expressly on the ground of opposition to the Fugitive Slave law. Mr. Preston King is a Freesoiler, and has been for years lab ring to hand over the Democratic party of New York to the tender mercies of the Van Buren faction. Mr. Cleveland occupies the same position in Connecticut as Mr. Rantoul in Massachusetts, and Mr. their Secession allies in the Democratic caucus were strong enough to impose terms on the National Democrats. They insisted that the Compromise measures should not be endorsed, but that they should be left open for political acita-

Now it cannot be denied, nor can it be explained or palliated, that the Democratic party, as such, from deference to the Abolitionists and Secession-Resolved, That we regard the State as having lists in their ranks, have refused to place them-

And what has been the policy of the Whigs? would be a contravention of the clear declaration Whig members of the House were present-as many as were within reach of the announcement. At this meeting a resolution was offered, endorsference to a dereliction of duty on the part of the public will as having removed the causes which ing, in the language of President Fillmore's last separated those who advocated separate secession annual message, the series of measures known as from those who advocated co-operation, and that the Adjustment, and recommending adherence to we would feel a sincere satisfaction should they them as a "FINAL SETTLEMENT" of the dangerous duty, and that he and his administration stand now unite in pursuing the same policy which the and exciting subjects which they embrace A ready at all times, to exert all their constitutional State has marked out for herself, in strict accord- motion to lay this resolution on the table failedpowers to have that law enforced, and to punish ance with the principles heretofore maintained by a very small minority voting in its favor. It was then put to the meeting and carried by an almost Resolved. That we think it expedient that the unanimous vote-three gentlemen, whose Freedrawing from the caucus.

Thus has the policy of a Whig Administration been sustained by the representatives in Congress of the Whig party. In the House yesterday, as will be seen by the reports in another column, the Democratic party counting in their number Messrs. Rantoul, Cleveland, and Preston King, succeeded by a majority of eleven votes in electing Mr. Linn Boyd to the Speakership. In accomplishing this result, the Democratic party has been secessionized and aboitionized. The Whigs made no nomination to the Speakership. They were prepared, many of hem, to vote for any party presented on the Com promise platform, the ground of the Administra ion. They were in a hopeless minority. It would have been idle for them to nominate a candidate of their own; but they were ready to take up any Democrat, known to be sound on the questions of Adjustment, if they had been allowed an opportunity. But this opportunity was not afforded. The bargain had been too strictly affirmed. The Demo crats had sacrificed the Compromise to conciliate the votes of the ultras of the North and South .-The Buffalo Convention and Nashville Convention had every thing their own way; and the present Speaker of the H use of Representatives is the creature of a coalition as corrupt and shameless as that which in Massachusetts elected Mr. Sum ner to the Senate, and Mr. Rantoul to the House, and which in New York and elected an almost en ire ticket of Freesoilers to all he important -State offices.

We confess that we were in hopes of a different esult. We thought the time had arrived when the friends of the Union and the Constitution, on the Democratic as well as the Whig side of the South, were prepared to make up the issue with disunionists of all shades and comp exions. and to compel the men who think alike to act to gether. We did not imagine that a caucus of either party would shrink from applying the Compromise test to its members, and from abiding fearlessly by the result. There is no doubt that a very large majority of the American people are prepared to sustain the policy of the Ad ministration. We had hoped that this undenia ble public sentiment would have been furly presented in the Congressional caucuses of both parties, and that neither party would have sought by any base allegiance or supple truckling to se cure temporary advantages at the expense of the Constitution and the Union. We have been disappointed. The Democracy have pursued their old policy of sacrificing principles to the pursuit of power. They have adopted and endorsed the coalition of Massachusetts, and reinforced it with the Secession phalanx of the South. Such is the cause of his evident and rapid advance in making character and position of the opposition to Mr. himself master of the science of law, and his de-Fillmore and his Admin stration, and it was a votion and actual love for the study. fitting finale to their whole arrangement that the oath of office should be administered to the wil-Giddings, just after he had declared him-elf a The ground on which the Southern Union men free Democrat, and arged an immediate election. have fought and conquered is rejected by the De | We were singularly struck by the appropriateness of this den mement, and the cordial extra shake of Mr. Richardson, of Illinois, acted as chairman the hand ov which the ceremony was concluded of the meeting, and Messrs. At his residence, in the county of Sampson, on the 27th ult., Dr. George W. Stith, for many years a resident of that County. He left a wife and nine children to mourn his loss. To them, it is a sad bereavement; theirs is not only the loss of a father and riend, but of a companion from whose pure example and tender guidance they have learned many a salu tary lesson. He was for many years a pious Christian and a strict member of the Methodist Episcopa thurch. The way in which he lived, the veneration paid to the deceased, and we heartfelt sympathy of as friends and neighbors plainly indicate that his loss in the community in which he lived is one deeply style, quality and workmanship, to any made to fe't and long to be mourned. To his wife and orphan children, let a word of comfort be spoken: Grieve not too much, for it is the summons of his master which he has obeyed. He orders all things and in so long acts in his wisdom Let them feel assured, that the same Being that tempers the wind to the shorn amb,' will administer consolation in this time of their bereavement, if they do but humbly call upon him. To his friends there is a consolation that as the good deeds and christian virtues of this life are rewarded in the next world, he will have his reward n heaven; and let them strive that "their last end may be like his." Then death shall be without its sting for we are told that a voice came out from Heaven, "saying, write, from henceforth blessed are the dead who die in the Lord ; even so saith the spirt, for they rest from their labours,"-Com. North Carolina in June, 1849, and immediately commenced the study of Law. In June last he received licence to practice his profession in the Superior Courts of the State, and was just commencing a career of which his friends had formed high hopes, when he was arrested by death. The announcement of his untime'y end will fall up-on their ears like the solemn toling of a funeral knell.

He had not interested public attention; his voice had not been heard in the forum; his counsels were not sought by deliberative assemblies; listening multitudes had not learned to hang with rapture on his accents; his name was not associated with great events; the great world knew him not. Life with him was hardly had he time to give more than an earnest of They knew his worth; the gentieness of his disposi- ble. tion, the purity of his heart, his manly sensibility to the dictates of honor and his generous scorn of all that was unworthy.
