SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 6, 1852.

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.

We give, in another column, such returns of the Election in the various counties of this State, as have yet reached us. It will be seen that Scorr and GRAHAM gain very largely in most of the counties heard from, upon the vote of Reid, in August.

We shall not "halloo until we are out of the wowls"-but, at this present writing, we are firmly impressed with the belief, that North Carolina, true to her patriotic instincts, true to herself, and true to the country, has cast her Ten Electoral votes for WINFIELD SCOTT, the old Soldier Patriot, and WILLIAM A. GRAHAM, her own illustrious son.

In addition to the returns positively stated in the Table, (many of which are not authentic) there are rumors of heavy Whig gains in Surry, Rowan, Davie, Martin and Bertie.

In our next, we shall be able to announce, definitely, how the State has gone.

THE VOTE IN WAKE.

The Whigs of Wake did nobly in the recent Election. However it may be with others, they have good cause to congratulate themselves upon a faithful performance of duty. The Whigs of Raleigh, especially, deserve great credit. Under all the circumstances,-considering that the most violent exertions were made to defeat us, and that the most confident predictions were indulged that PIERCE would get a majority here,-we should have been satisfied with simply holding our own. We point to the result with gratification and pride. And, then, for Eagle Rock—that, glorious and gallant little nest of Whigs !- it is enough to point to her and say :- "THERE SHE STANDS !"

THE ELECTION.

We heard an individual, professing to be a Whig, say, when the probable result of the Ebetion reached us, through the Telegraph, on Wednesday last, that if Scott was beaten, he would never vote again! This is the spirit which would cause a man to exclaim, if an invading enemy should land upon our shores,-"Let us submit-it is of no use to resist-they are too strong for us." Is this the spirit of a WHIG, of a Freeman, of an American? For me, so far from giving up what we regard to be the true cause of the country, we shall "pick the flint, and try it again!" PIERCE's Election, secured, as it has been, by a compound of the most unholy and infamous intrigues that ever baseness conceived and corruption carried into execution, and by a combination of the most unprincipled factions, will inflict a deep wound upon the genius of our Republican institutions,-but we shall not despair. There is still left in the body of the Whig party, and in the mass, too, of the other party, that redeeming spirit, which will, ultimately, re-invigorate the councils of the country. "TRUTH IS MIGH-

WIHG MEETING.

The Whig rally on the evening previous to the Election, in this City, was, by all odds, the next:] meeting of the campaign. The large and enthufiastic crowd present were addressed by Messrs. DARGAN, of Anson, SPRUILL, of Bertie, GILMER. of Guilford, LILLINGTON, of Davie, MILLER, of this City, and McDugano, of Bladen, in brief, spirited and eloquent speeches—in words that touchel the right place, and kindled into a brighter glow the warm feelings within.

After adjourning the meeting, the crowd assembled in the street, and, forming itself into a Procession, marched, preceded by a Band of Music, to the residences of Messrs. BADGER, BRYAN, MILLER and GALES, at which, respectively, they Were addressed by the three latter gentlemen. Initsprogress, the crowd cheered a number of our citizens, when passing their residences. Among the number, we may mention Messrs. E. B. FREEMAN, A. J. LAWRENCE, GEORGE LITTLE, W Dallas Haywood, W. H. Harrison, &c.

EXPLANATION WANTED.

The "Fayetteville Observer aptly enquires what has become of the holy horror exhibited by the North Carolinian and Wilmington Journal, on the subject of Western aggression upon Eastern rights? We recollect very well, says the Observer, the terrible denunciations of certainwestern Whigs who were untruthfully charged with a desire to alter the Federal Basis. Why not visit the same denunciation upon Mr. Thomas, of Cherokee, who threatens the East with abolition? Why is the Locofoco Press mum? Mr. W. H. Thomas happens to call himself a Democrat, and therefore the locofoco papers carefully fonceal from their readers all knowledge that Mr. Thomas made such an outrageous speech!! If Gen Scott was a fit subject for denunciaion, because, as is falsely charged, he would not have supported the fugitive law, how much more worthy of abuse is Mr. Thomas, a North Carolina locofoco Senator, who has threatened repeal the title by which we hold our slaves?

THANKSGIVING DAY.

The Governor of the State has issued his Prolamation, setting apart Thursday, the 25th day the present month, (November,) as the day Thanksgiving to Almighty God, for his manikd mercies and blessings.

THE FINAL RESULT.

The returns from the elections in the several States have been received in a sufficiently authentic form to authorize the announcement that Franklin Pierce, of New Hampshire, has been elected President of the United States of America, for four years from the 4th of March, 1853-and William R. King, of Alabama, Vice President from the same time, for the same period. That there is a destiny in this world that oft decrees an undeserved doom, is but too manifest in the success which has crowned the machinations of the banded factions of Abolitionists, Fillibusters, &c., &c., &c., in this contest. But that the motives which actuate the Whigs, as a party, are virtuous; that their cause is just, and that the principles maintained by them are those of the Constitution, are truths that console them in adversity, and will prompt them to never ceasing exertions, until the country is rescued from the blasting and withering embrace of locofocoism. "Truth crushed to Earth, will rise again,

The Eternal years of God are her's, While Error, wounded, writhes in pain, And dies amid her worshippers."

"THE NORTH CAROLINA WHIG." This is the title of a new Whig Journal established at Salisbury in this State, under the Editorial supervision and control of SAMUEL W. JAMES and G. A. MILLER, Esqrs. The "Whig" wears an exceedingly genteel appearance, and its columns are well and ably filled.

We wish it all imaginable prosperity.

AN AMERICAN ELECTION.

the present age, is a national election, in this country. It is a new principle in political history, unknown to any other age of the world in all its peculiarities, and as momentous as it is imposing and sublime. We can conceive nothing more worthy of admiration than the spectacle of twenty millions of human beings, resting the complicated and vast interests of an empire upon the voluntary, untrammelled decision of their own free votes. Well may the thinking man watch its progress with deep interest, and anxiously ask, if there be no elements at work to endanger its worth and defeat the grand design for which it was instituted. It is the only xperiment ever fully made to test man's com lete and permanent capacity for free self-govrnment, and, it is, in all human probability, a fair and decisive test. We believe, unqualified ly, that not only is a nation fully capable of the very best government, by the authority of the popular voice, but that no other system can compare with it, in the power to develop national energies; to give general prosperity; to increase intelligence; to preserve peace and respect for law; and extend the greatest amount of blessings to the whole people. But this country yet lacks the one all essential to full success and certainty to the experiment-and that is INTELLIGENCE, general Education among all classes. While the pure fire of patriotic love of country, which glowed in the hearts of our fathers, sends out its benign influence, the great public heart will be warmed and blessed by its In Lowell, Scott's vote falls short of Taylor's purifying power. The voice and the arm of those wonderful men are still with us, exhorting and defending us. But as time moves forward, that influence will be steadily lessened, until it will be but a wondrous tale of olden time, the history of a band of such men as the world never saw before. Then it will be, that our dependence must be within ourselves, and those principles of safety to our government be sought in no holy influence of old memories, but in something absolute and powerful in itself .-The first principle is EDUCATION-and with that come religion, morality, virtueus public sentiment, well directed energies, a oneness of national feeling, and a pervading love of right and law. To that we must turn our eyes, as to descriptive art, so far as portrait painting is coneful freedom of government. Without education among the masses, honesty is of little avail. Demagogueism is the poisonweed which withers the national harvest. Ignorance is the soil upon which it grows in fatal luxuriance, and the wise and patriotic man will seek ardently for its speedy expulsion. It is one of the most conclusive demonstrations of the unity of Locofocoism and Demagogueism, that wherever ignorance prevails, there that party [To the above, which we clip from our ex- holds its impregnable majorities. We doubt not changes which came to hand on Wednesday the honesty of some of these people, and their night, we add a few of the private despatches desire for the country's good; but where the eyes and cars of the mind are unopened by education; where the mighty wand of intelligence, A mass of despatches and figures from New | the beacon light of freedom, found in the brilliant rays of printing, are unable to or do not penetrate, there the demagogue finds his proper home, that all have gone for Pierce. Pierce certainly and there people are like children groping in the dark. They must depend upon others, and where that is the case, truth and sound doctrine have lost half of their power. The invention of printing was the gift of a new sun to the world, and those upon whom its beams have never fallen are still wandering in darkness, and in the hands of such men, the administration of the affairs of a great nation is an experiment, perilous and doubtful, indeed. Good men of all parties, we are glad to say, call for the ignorant. Looking to the fact, that Locofocoism, which, in every past campaign, has | ly and suddenly hushed! been synonymous with demagogueism, corruption and venality-a party without measures, and hopelessly divided in sentiment-has stood fast and strong, where the people are least informed, and education has thrown but the smallest of its blessings, we feel assured that schools will prove the effectual ally of Whig doctrines, the wholesome food ware, one hundred and eighty; in Connecticut, two thousand; in Rhode Island, one thousand; tie, drive out the evil spirit of Locofocoism, and in Michigan, large; and in New Hampshire, make the American Republic no longer an experiment, but a glorious truth, a magnificent and proud certainty, based upon an imperishable foundation, and destined to bless the world through ages upon ages, yet to come. Let us then commence the work now, and unite our voices for a system of efficient, universal education, among the people. What say you, reader?

THE TOWN OF WILMINGTON.

A gentleman in this City, to whom it was addressed, has furnished us, for publication, the following letter, containing some interesting statistical information as to the commercial advantages and importance of the town of Wilmington.

"The statistics you ask for are not easily obtained, as there is no record of our coasting exports or imports kept. The following is the number of Foreign entries and clearances for the year ending the 30th of June, 1852 as taken from the Books of the Custom House :

Entered 39 Foreign Vessels 7310 Tons 11835 do 67 American do Cleared 75 Foreign Vessels 14095 Tons 152 American do 27931 do These vessels sailed principally to the West Indies, South America, England, Spain and Ger-

The nearest approach to the value of our exports, coastwise, is perhaps found in the amount of exchange bought by the Banks in this place which was about two and half million Dollars : if we add to this about a quarter or half million sold to merchants, we have an approximation to the exports of Wilmington; this does not include | should feel obliged, by your forwarding, via Cornthe exports of Fayetteville shipped through this place. The total number of Vessels arriving and eparting is about 800 annually and is steadily increasing in number and size at the rate of near 10 per. ct. annually. Vessels load at our wharves to 12 feet and proceed to sea. You will perceive that the number of vessels arriving from foreign Countries is greatly less than the number clearing for foreign Countries; that is we do not import near as much from them as we ship to them. The reason is that we have been so isolated from the balance of the State, that we had no market for the pro-

AN AMERICAN ELECTION. | duse of foreign Countyles, but our Rail Roads one of the most interesting peculiarities of and other improvement will remedy that drawback to our business in time."

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Bogle, of New York, the gentleman mentioned so favorably in the article below, which we copy from a New York paper, intends paying Raleigh for the same. The subscriber can always be heard a visit during the present session of the Legislature, when those who desire a correct Portrait as well as a fine Painting of themselves or their friends, will have the opportunity, rarely, if ever, offered, of engaging the services of one of the best Portrait Painters in this Country. Mr. Bogle is a native of the South and spent his early years in North Carolina. We have seen many of his Portraits, and never a bad one. He has been engaged recently in painting the Portraits of several of the most prominent Presdents of the Insurance Companies in New York, 2000 Smith's Needles, No. 7, 8, 9 & 10. to adorn their new Hall, all of which are pronounced perfect. He has painted one of the best Portraits of the late J. C. Calhoun ever taken of him, as well as many Portraits of the most distinguished of ours group men. His Portraits of Ladies and Course are remarkably fine. His stay will necessarily be short. THE FINE ARTS, -A writer who addresses us under the signature of "FINE ARTS," must excuse us, if we do not attempt to say who is the most accomplished portrait painter in New York. We do not know all who practice the art, though we have witnessed the efforts of thousands. Bogle, to our mind, is equal to any painter of the times. The productions of his pencil are characterised by a freshness, an originality and a classic taste which, we think. cannot be excelled. His school is of his own origin, though he has studied the ablest masters and it is as pure as it is lifelike and natural .-One of the chief merits in Bogle's paintings. consists, in the fact that every picture he paints embodies the character of the original, and in the copy, you detect all the developements of It is said that an artist may be a good painter, and not be accurate in his likenesses. We do not doubt that a man may paint a board correctly, without being a delineator of character, but we deuy that any portrait painter was ever an artist, who failed in his likenesses. The chief merit in painting is embodied in the art of exact copying. This embraces of course, drawing and coloring. Some artists, indeed all, indulge somewhat in what is called ideality, which, though justifiable, if carried to an undue extent, vitiates everything that belongs to the palladium of a firm and stable as well as an | cerned. Bogle, in every department of the art it is not extravagant to call him the Sir Thomas Lawrence of the United States.

> It gives us great pleasure, says the "National Intelligencer," to understand that the President has offered to the Hon. Edward Everett, and that the latter has accepted, the vacant post of Secretary of State.

There is a peculiar fitness, we think, in this appointment. Mr. Everett was the attached personal friend of the Statesman, whose lamented death caused the vacancy in the Department, as well as an irreparrable void amongst the understanding that the collegiate expenses of the great men of the world. To lois recommendation, however, may be added the higher consideration of the eminent qualifications of Mr. Ev erett for the office. His public services, at home and abroad, uniting experience and a thorough acquaintance with our foreign affairs to his fine abilities and regulated temper, render him a worthy successor to the honors and duties of the

Since learning that the Abolitionists. every where, and in a body, have gone for Pierce and King, we are no longer at a loss to understand why it was, that, in the locofoco National Convention, at the suggestion of Senator Soule, the voice of a distingushed gentleman earnestly, and we are sure, fervently, for education from North Carolina, demanding what he then conceived due to the South, was so mysterious-
