posed to be an experiment on the part of President Pierce, the object of which is to endeavor to manufacture " good Union men " out of the fire-eaters and Nashville Conventionists of 1850. 51. It is a novel plan, and reverses all previously known ways of conversion from error. It is to be hoped that it may be success ful, for it is hardly in the nature of things that nen should conspire to break up a government. from which they are deriving such tangible benefit. It is, however, somewhat ominous of he failure of the President's plan, that these men should persevere in maintaining an obstinate silence as to their having undergone any change of opinion. Not one of them has made public recantation of his error in opposing the Compromise, and advocating disunionism. They stalk grimly into the offices, apparently under the impression that they are only receiving the just reward of their patriotic conduct. in attempting to destroy the Union. Should another struggle ensue-such as that of 1851it is probable that this line of "patriotism" will be extensively patronised, seeing that it has proved to be the most direct road to preferment and distinction!

THE CURE ALL.

Every one who reads the papers, or has watched the signs of the times, knows that vernment.

The above is only one part, however, of President Pierce's plan for metamorphosing malcontents and disorganisers into staunch supporters of the government and laws. He is making, on a large scale, the same experiment with the Northern abolitionists. He seems to regard 'treasury pap" as such an unfailing specific-

MEN AND THEIR DOINGS.

BOSTON, JULY 3, 1853. A jaunt into the interior, to the great Man hester of America, Lowell, and other manufacturing places, has by no means lessened my alniration cf the industry, enterprise, ingenuity, thrift, skill, intelligence, and "cuteness" of the New England-people, or, as we call them down South, "Yankees." To a Southerner their thrift is really a matter of wonder. How they can ive and thrive upon such poor, rocky, sterile and as some of them at least cultivate and get ich upon, is a mystery to all but the uninitiated: and yet peor, rocky, cold and ungrateful as some of their hills appear to be, they every where present the appearance of comfort, and in many places, of luxury. Not an old decayed or dilapidated house have I seen in my last aunt out of the City, but thousands of neat white cottages, with green blinds and neatly culivated grounds, indicating refinement, comfort. industry, and economy on the part of their innates. Even the Irish, of whom there are occasional settlements, partaking of the spirit of the native inhabitants, and becoming imitative, as man is apt to be every where, build neat nouses from which they discard the pig, the cow and the donkey, and live in a comfortable, and to them, a luxurious manner.

The country around Lowell is generally sandy and rocky; the soil is consequently thin and poor ; and yet, so thickly is it inhabited, so numerous the white houses, large and small,--and some of them like palaces, -that it seems to be almost a continuous village. Lowell itself, is a large city,-a perfect hive of operatives, yet as orderly as a quaker meeting. The factories are generally immense, four, five, or six story buildngs, filled with tidy, well dressed men and women, who live in the midst of a "hum of industry" perfectly deafening to one not accustomed Standing upon a sugar loaf hill about two nundred feet above the level of the sea, which ver-looked the country for many miles around, and from which I could see and count the white pires of eight or ten surrounding towns, I could mating the surplus) from the date of the subnot but ask myself " from whence come all this wealth and thrift which lie scattered around my feet ?" The answer soon suggested itself : Industry said, "I have done it." Man here makes steam and keeps it steadily at work for his benefit; he compels the river and even the falling 'branch" or rill, to turn the wheel that puts in operation some curious machine which his own, or the ingenuity of some one else, has invented to save labor, or rather to perform ten times the labor in the same space of time. He receives orders for his products from distant parts, by lightning, and forthwith he sends them off to the place of their destination in a car whirled away by an "iron horse" that puffs and blows it formerly took to get a letter by stage, the articles ordered are safely arrived ! Every thing goes on with the regularity of clock-work, and the speed of "the fastest time ;" all are as busy as ants, not a man of them all ess to invite others to do so. Such is New England ; but this is by no ting offices among them, as they have done, and The Steamboat Explosion-Fire and Loss of are still doing, let them; but the Whigs, of whom speak, wash their hands of the whole concern, nd will have no rart nor lot with them !

Quite a number of changes have lately been made in the Custom House here, the appointees, if we may believe democratic papers, being of the same motly character of those appointed by the President, - there being a 'very considerable' sprinkling of rabid free soilers among them .-The consequence is, something very unlike satisfaction, concord, harmony, and happiness in Reid, John Donnelly, Jos. Fosdick, James Porthe pie-bald party-self-styled the democraticin this quarter. It is supposed, by the Union Whigs in this

FAYETTEVILLE AND NORTHERN PLANK ROAD COMPANY.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of this Company took place on Thursday last,-Henry Lilly, Esq., Chairman, and John M Rose, Secretary.

A Dividend of 8 per cent, was declared. The Stockholders passed a resolution requesting the President and Directors to re-open, at their discretion, books of subscription for $15. 000 to continue the road to a point about 25 miles from Fayetteville, common to Raleigh, and to Wayne and Johnston counties. The present capital is $32,100. The Compa-13 miles of finished road, with two miles in a state of forwardness. The average amount of interest on the money paid by the Stockholders, calculated to July I 1853, is 7 per cent. From the receipts of the Company dividends amounting to 14 per cent. have been declared, and a surplus of about $1600 left-making a clear gain to the Stockholder on his investment of 7 per cent. more than the legal interest on his money (not estiscription.

We call attention to the above from the 'Fayetteville Observer." If a road, only completed thirteen miles, can pay a yearly dividend every element labor for him : he harnesses the of eight per cent., with a reserve surplus for repairs, what may not be expected from it, when it is complete? And recollect, citizens of Wake, that Raleigh was the intended terminus. and, so far as the efforts of Favetteville are concerned, will yet be. Will you hold back ?-Will you say that the bread must be put in your mouths before you can eat it? Will you permit a company to obtrude itself within your borders, without forestalling them by your aid? It is common, here, to say, that the losses on the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road have aband screams, but never tires. Another message sorbed all the spare capital of the town. That by lightning announces that in less time than plea may answer for Raleigh, possibly; but it will not do for the country. Every farmer has an interest in the increased value of his lands. Each one blesses the facility which brings him nearer or sooner to market. In this view, there is no one on the projected line, who ought to having time to stop and "take a drink," much hesitate one minute in going largely into the work. Life-Extraordinary Hail Storm-Great Damage to Property-Scenes at the Crystal Palace Several Persons Killed and Wounded-Effect of the Storm in Williamsburg, &c.

A series of calamities occurred in New York on Friday last, involving the loss of fourteen lives, the maining of as many more, and the destruction of a large amount of property. The first was the explosion of one of the boiler flues of the steamer New World, (as mentioned in our telegraphic despatch on Saturday,) as she was about to leave for Albany, at 7 o'clock in the morning. By this accident Eli Buel, John ter. and John J. Monks, firemen, were so badly scalded as to cause their deaths : and John Fos ter, a waiter, in his fright, jumped overboard and was drowned. Washington Hawes, the chief engineer, and Edward Martin, deck hand, The fire on the same morning, which resulted in John Cushing being burnt to death, and Mrs. Sophia Healy being killed by jumping from a fourth story window, was at the bakery of Jas. They were compelled to leap from a fourth story window.

On the same morning a little child of John Oberhuber fell into a large pot of coffee, by which it was scalded to death.

But the most serious calamity of the day ensued from a violent hail storm, accompanied by lightning and a high wind, which passed over the upper section of the city between five and six o'clock in the afternoon, lasting about half an hour. The hail stones, or pieces of ice, as they are represented, were of extraordinary size. and clattered down upon the roofs of the houses like a shower of brickbats. It is said the ship yard of Mr. Thomas Collyer, at the Dry Dock, was covered with irregulariy shaped pieces of ice, or large clusters of hail-stones. Several of them were measured, one of which was 61 inches in circumference, another 7 inches, and a third measured 3 inches long and 2 inches thick .ny owns the Bridge across Cape Fear River and | The inhabitants of a house in Waverly place were startled by a solid body falling in the front vard, and on proceeding there found a number of pieces of ice, which appeared to have been originally one piece broken by the fall. When together they would weigh about two pounds The garden at the back of the house had also a large number of pieces of ice scattered over it, and a skylight at the top of the house was smashed by the hailstones. A piece of ice fell on the pavement before a gentleman's window, of the size of a man's fist, followed by one much larger, which, however, broke into fragments when it struck the ground. The force of the hail stones broke several skylights, and after the ice-balls had lain for some time, and were considerably dissolved, a hatfull could be taken up, averaging the size of hens' eggs. We briefly alluded to the celebration of the National Anniversary in our last. After passing mented encomiums upon the Oration, and ging due credit to the officiating Marshals. wr pen halts.

The whole Celebration, in other respects, w discreditable to Raleigh. Accustomed s we have been, to see a display of military, to see a procession formed by the various charitils institutions of the place, to see a whole ulation emulous to glery in the birth day of antion's freedom-what did we witness ? notley crew, composed of all the little niggers atown, with here and there a white face parelyescorted by the very excellent Marshalls nd all led by Boots' band ! Surely, we can do letter than this. Surely, City pride is not so ad, that it cannot be kicked into vitality at uch a time. Patriotism, however dormant, ust be aroused at least once a year, in the reast of the most indifferent. Feelings that are slumbered during the preceding twelve months, must be awakened by the associations that cluster around the glorious Fourth. We hope never to see the like again. But whose fault is it? There is blame some where; and we attribute it in a great measure to the illiberality of our own citizens. Our inty-men and their wives and daughters look the 4th as an era in life. The celebration in deigh is canvassed months before the eventday; fine dresses are prepared. gay equiparrayed, and spare change hoarded up, in ticipation of the frolic to come. How do we mepare to meet our friends? Truly, the stores topen, and the counters loaded with everything tempt the eye and empty the purse. But here is nothing dense to win,-nothing to conliste,-nothing to make a tie between the town and the country. Cannot our business people, be brought to the knowledge that money, spent on such occasions, will repay them model? Will they never get ashamed of such itial subscriptions as half a dollar, or perhaps little more, to objects in which National, State and City pride are all conjoined ?

For our own part, we were heartily ashamed the Celebration, and the only consolation we ad was in the bountiful rain Heaven sent us, nd the glorious atmospheric fire works, in lieu the niggardly provision made by the citizens?

MESSRS. VENABLE AND LEWIS. We are requested to state that Messrs. Venate and Lewis will address the voters of the 4th angressional District, at the following places: Cedar Grove, Orange, 14th of July ; Nutash, Warren county, 16th July; at Johnston, Johnston county, the 19th July; at Gard-Mer's, Wake county, the 21st July ; at Pratt's, ^{a Orange}, 23d July; at Harrison's old store, in Inaklin, 25th July; at Rolesville, Wake, 27th uy; Hilliardston, Nash, 29th July; Old elds, in Nash, 30th of July ; and O'Neal's, in anston, on the 1st of August. They will adthe people of Warren, at Warrenton, on aday, the 11th of July.

THE "STAR." IEOS. J. LEMAY, Esq., has retired from the " Little, of Marshfield, the late freesoil member of Congress from the second district, has been appointed Collector of Plymouth ; Lewis Josselyn, late Coalition Clerk of the Senate, has been appointed Surveyor of the district of Salem ; J. S. C. Knowlton, late Coalition Senator from Worcester county, has recently been an pointed Postmaster of Worcester ; Mr. Trench, editor of a Coalition paper, Postmaster at Springfield; Mr. Seaver, of Roxbury, Postmaster of that city; Mr. Caldwell, of Cambridge, Postmaster of that city; and Mr. Merrill, an out and out abolitionist, Postmaster at Glouces-We could mention others, but these must suffice. The men are all anti slavery Coalitionists ; men who were part and parcel of that Coalition which placed Henry Wilson at the head of the Senate of Massachusetts, and sent

Charles Sumner to the Senate of the U. States. If the new article which President Pierce has ntroduced into the materia medica shall work cure on such "cases" as these, it will throw Dr. Townsend's sarsaparilla completely into the shade. The great danger, however, is, that enough of the article cannot be furnished to keep both the Secession and Abolition hospitals fully supplied, and that if the patients are "turned out" before a complete cure is effected, there is a dead certainty of a relapse.

THE MAILS.

A Communication from the Postmaster General appears in another column. We have barely room for it, and none for comment.

We are glad to learn that the prepaid letter envelopes, which were ordered by Congress, at its late session, have at last been put in circulation, and that the Express line of Adams & Co., have been given the duty of distributing them. A bust of Washington, embossed and encircled by a brick-red back ground, occupies the apppropriate corner. Above and below the figure are the words signifying the value of the stamp. These envelopes are sold at the post office for three dollars and twenty cts. per hundred, which is less than plain envelopes of equal quality can be bought for. The post office does not sell less than a hundred. The back of the envelope is gummed ready for sealing.

The Albany Argus, a supporter of the administration, says :- "An analysis of the list of appointees to office in this State, recent and remote, would exhibit similar freesoil triumphs here-proportionally even greater than those in Massachusetts. Four-fifths at least of the whole number belong either to the Free Soil-or what is infinitely worse-the "Soft" or "coalition category."

The notorious Wm. J. Brown, who attempted to foist himself into the chair of Speaker of the House of Representatives, by a bargain with abolitionists, during the memorable thirty-second Congress, has received from President Pierce an appointment in Indiana. This is, no doubt, exceedingly pleasing to the Southern Democracy.

No Washington, Baltimore or New York papers of later dates than Monday last.

As an evidence of the attention they pay to common schools, and the importance they attach to them. I must mention that in the village of Chelmsford, four miles from Lowell, I examined a school house which cost the school district five thousand dollars,-the number of school chrildren in the district being about 70 or 80. The tax laid by the inhabitants on individual not having a child to send to school, was $325, which was paid as cheerfully as one would pay a physician's, or a grocerip bill .-have had my share of the benefits of a New England common school education, and am

DEATH OF DOCTOR CHAPMAN.

We notice with sincere regret the death of Dr. Nathaniel Chapman, one of the most eminent physicians of Philadelphia, and for many years connected with the University of Pennsylvania. He departed this life on Friday afternoon last, about six o'clock, at his residence in Philadelphia. Dr. Chapman has long occupied a prominent place among the physicians and themselves to build this, was from ten to three men of science of this country. The "reformation" effected in Clingman, by which he was metamorphosed into a locofo co, was a very queer one, indeed. He so far time, characteristic of the people, and, as such, forgot his whigism as to declare himself a secessionist and disunionist, and thereupon the whigs kicked him out of their party.

We have made this statement to show the locofocos mean when they speak of "reformed whigs." A reformed whig is a poor devil let our's alone." seen and heard in the place, we witnessed at th Crystal Palace. About ten minutes after the storm burst, the most terrific hailstones we ever saw began to rattle like discharges of musketry upon the tin roof and glass sides. Some of the masses of ice were as large as hens' eggs. There | acro were probably a thousand excited workmen in the building, and a good many exhibitors and visitors, among whom were some twenty ladies. A portion of the frame work of the addition next to 42d street went down with a terrible crash. and a part of the brick wall of the engine house on the opposite side of the street, was blown over, crushing two or three shanties, fortunately without any other injury than driving the occupants out into the storm.

One of the editors of the Tribune, who hap pened to be in the vicinity, and took refuge in the building during the storm, says :

We had scarcely passed the northern entrance and reached the gallery by the nearest flight of steps, when the torrent (it was not rain, but an avalanche of water) struck the building; the gutters were filled on the windward side in a moment, and poured over in an almost unbroken on the 3rd Monday of August next, and then and sheet of water, which was driven through the there replevy and plead to the said suit; otherwise Venctian blind ventilators, into and half way Judgment by default final will be rendered against across the north west gallery, and also through him, and the property and effects condemned to sa the upper ventilators, falling upon the main tisfy the plaintiff's Debt. floor of the north transept. Workmen hastened to close the blinds, but that did not prevent the deluge. The tinning of the dome being unfinished the water came down in showers all over the centre. For a time the water was nearly two inches deep on the gallery floor, and poured down the stairs in miniature cascades. A great number of boxes, bales, and packages of goods lay upon the main floor, among which the water poured down from the edge of the gallery floor, in destructive quantities. Fortunately but few goods were opened, and upon the tables, or the damage would have been irreparable. As it is, we fear some of the goods are injured.

During the storm, a most disastrous accident occurred opposite the Crystal Palace, by which three persons lost their lives and seven others were severely injured, some of whom it is expected will not recover. The scene of the accident was in Forty-third st., at a newly erected frame building opposite Latting's Observatory, which belongs to Dr. S. P. Townsend, and was not entirely completed. During the storm this building, which was two stories high, and roofed in, was overturned instantaneously by the hurricane time that the accident occurred there were six men employed on the ground floor in plastering the walls, three of themas plasterers, one of whom was the boss, named William McCracken, and who was killed, with two others, named Matthew McGrann and James McAulay. Among the rously.

Another house in Forty-third street was blown down, and Charles Flynn, who was passing by at the time, was struck to the ground and killed. Several buildings were also struck by lightning, and considerably injured. Conrad Deitz, a butcher, was struck by lightning on Fifty-first street, and killed.

In Williamsburg the storm was terrific, and the damage there is estimated at $40,000 or $50,-000. The steeple of Rev. Dr. McLane's Presbyterian Church, corner of South Fourth and Sixth streets, was blown off, carrying with it a in the country. RUBBER CLOTHING at the lowlarge portion of the roof. A portion of the steeple fell on the dwelling-house No. 3 Lafayette place, owned and occupied by a Mr. Johnston, which was greatly injured. Damage to the church and house, about $6.000. The steeple of the Rev. Mr. Porter's Dutch Reformed Church, in Fourth st., Williamsburg, was torn off, and fell across the roofs of houses Nos. 120, 118 and 116 Fourth street, occupied respectively by the Rev. Dr. McLane, Dr. Ward and Mr. Stearnes. The bell of the church, which weighs about one hundred and seventeen pounds, fell on the roof of the lecture room of the church, which is in a separate building, immediately adjoining the church ; the immense weight penetrated the roof, and rested on the beams inside. The roofs of the other houses above named were also completely broken in by
