

COMMUNICATION.

A NORTH CAROLINA HOMESTEAD BILL.

Mr. Editor:—Whilst the two candidates for Governor, of the opposing parties, are the people of North Carolina, and inasmuch as, at the same time, when we vote for them, we are called upon to choose our agents to enact laws for the general welfare, it may not be amiss for me to make some remarks through the columns of your paper...

deal, who has made an assignment to some friend, brother or son, often thus demeans himself, but it is not he that suffers the pining process, for no one would have the hardihood to touch him. No indeed! It is the poor real insolvent, whom the whole force of the law falls; while his rich brother insolvent, merely for form sake, takes the oath, after giving security for his appearance, and is invited perhaps to take a drink by his lawyer at the recess of Court...

DOCKERY AND BRAGG.

Agreeably to appointment, Gen. Dockery and Mr. Bragg addressed the people in this place on Thursday last, the 8th. The day was remarkably fine, and the assemblage was much larger than on any previous occasion...

THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.

The following extract from the Washington correspondence of the Baltimore Sun appeared in the Savannah Georgian of Tuesday. It was at the head of the editorial column—"a leader," and we suppose endorsed by the Georgian.

THE KNOW NOTHINGS.

The party calling themselves the "Know Nothings" are making their mark in the political elections of the day. Who are they? and what are they? are questions not easily answered.

An elephant broke loose from his keeper on the 5th inst., on the way from Pawtucket, R. I., to Fall River. It was the large elephant Hannibal, of the Broadway menagerie, weighing 3,500 lbs.

ABOLITION SYMPATHY.

We have already stated that the Marshal's guard, having in the fugitive Burns, raised by subscription enough of money to procure a good suit of clothes, breast, hat, boots, etc., and some $200 cash money, which Burns was supplied before his departure.

THE TRAITORS IN BOSTON.

The traitors in Boston, who could murder an officer in the dark, and would fight in open day, are now amusing themselves with hanging in effigy the U. S. officers who did their duty in the recent fugitive slave case.

MILITARY COMPANY.

We are gratified to learn that there is every present probability of a large Military Company being raised in this City. The want of one is a reproach to the community, which every good citizen should desire to see removed.

THE BOS. COURIER.

The Bos. Courier, (Whig) which, throughout the scenes in Boston, has borne itself manfully, is much opposed to the Nebraska bill; and yet, it says, "forty Nebraska bills cannot abrogate people from the fidelity which is due to the laws of the country."

FRANCE.

The Moniteur publishes the report of the budget, from which it appears that the receipts for the year are estimated at 1,560,012,215 francs, and the expenditure at 1,560,000,000 francs, leaving a surplus of 3,981,932,000 francs.

A CAPITAL PORTRAIT.

A capital portrait has been published abroad of the King of Prussia. He is represented as standing before a bottle of champagne and a big sword, uncertain as to which of the two he should draw. It is called "Meditation on the Eastern Question."

THE DISCUSSION IN GUILDFORD.

"The fame of Calvin Graves is forever identified—and a proud and commanding fame it is—with the North Carolina Railroad. In the years to be, as the locomotive goes thundering from the mountains to the sea, and as the State improves, and becomes strong, and great, and as the eyes of her sons, in whatever land, sparkle with exultation when she is named, CALVIN GRAVES, it will be said, was largely instrumental in producing these results—his casting vote for the railroad, and his energy, and his devotedness, to shed all these benefits upon the people and much of this lustre upon the character of the State.

WELL—THIS CAPS THE CLIMAX!

True it is, that "there is but one step from the sublime to the ridiculous." But stop! When that same "locomotive goes thundering from the mountains to the sea, and as the State improves and becomes strong," think you that Mr. Bragg's "eyes will sparkle with exultation?"—and will it be said that he "was largely instrumental in producing these results?"

IT IS SAID THERE IS AN EASTERN MONARCH.

Who is this Eastern monarch, who, after taking his own breakfast, has a trumpet sounded, and solemn proclamation made by some of his serfs, that all the other potentates of the earth can eat! The "Standard" gravely announces the most important fact that the Honorable Calvin Graves, of Caswell County, North Carolina, will vote for Thomas Bragg, Esq., of Northampton County, same State, for Governor! Let the fact be proclaimed from the mountains to the sea—let it ring through every valley—and let the waves of the ocean give back the sound, that Calvin Graves will most assuredly vote for Thomas Bragg!

THE NEWLY ORGANIZED CITY IS DIVIDED INTO TWENTY-FOUR WARDS.

The returns from twenty Wards show the election to the City Council of 43 Whigs, 11 Democrats, and 3 Reformers. Twenty-two Wards have returned to the Select Council 17 Whigs, 4 Democrats, and 1 Reformer.

FROM FOREIGN NEWS TO THE 25th ult., we take the following extracts.

Admiral Napier, after 8 hours' bombardment, destroyed the fortress of Gustafsværn, at the entrance to the Gulf of Finland, and 1,500 Russian soldiers were taken prisoner. The British steamer Tiger, taken by the Russians, near Odessa, had been burnt. Her Majesty's ship ran aground. The Russian soldiers immediately surrounded her. Captain Gifford lost one of his legs, and a midshipman both legs, and several seamen were wounded. The Russian admiral killed and severely wounded 200 British soldiers. Two hundred and twenty-six prisoners were captured by the Russians. On the 10th several large men of war appeared off Odessa, and sent in a flag of truce to the town. Nothing further is known, but there may be sure the Admiral will take the prize, and send it to England.

Plan of operations in the Black Sea.

The Paris correspondent of the Times gives the following as the plan of operations said to have been determined upon, namely, to land 30,000 men in the Crimea, while the fleet will operate in the Black Sea, the Anglo-French fleets then to leave the Bosphorus, and French squadrons in the Black Sea, and Constantinople to be attacked by the whole overwhelming force of the combined fleets. The arrangement for despatch of the English contingent at Constantinople on the 15th gives probability to the above. It was said to be the whole of the English army could be embarked in 24 hours.

The Siege of Silistria.

Constantinople advises state that on the 15th Marshal Paskievitch with his staff crossed the Danube below Silistria to reconnoitre. On the 16th, terms of capitulation were offered to the commander of that fortress, and the bombardment was suspended. On the 17th Marshal Paskievitch ordered the Russian troops to commence the bombardment re-commenced. On the 13th Paskievitch had his headquarters at Kalarash. This shows that the bombardment had not been finally suspended, as was inferred from the previous dispatch. It is stated that the van-guard of Gen. Lutsky's army, which experienced, at the hands of a Turkish division, defeat, accompanied with very serious loss. Subsequently, however, a telegraphic dispatch from Bucharest, of the 10th inst., states that an encounter took place on the 18th, on the road from Rassoova to Silistria, and that the Ottoman re-occupied the whole of the bridge thrown over the river on the following day, and three Russian divisions crossed; so that Silistria is now enclosed on all sides by the Russians.

FRANCE.

France will augment her army in Turkey to 170,000 men, particularly no complaints about sacrifices which the country must make are heard. The Moniteur publishes the report of the budget, from which it appears that the receipts for the year are estimated at 1,560,012,215 francs, and the expenditure at 1,560,000,000 francs, leaving a surplus of 3,981,932,000 francs.
