New York, July 22, 1854. Schuylerism is now the new fact of the times. leiphia, and New England, already amount to nearly thirteen millions of dollars, and not one of the swindlers will get either the halter or the penitentiary. The other day I read an account of a vonth who was executed at Pokeepsie, during the revolutionary war, for passing a counterleit dollar, and a few days before Mr. Schuyler's fraud became known, he blew out terribly against a conductor who failed to account for a single railroad ticket. Where there is the most trade and finance, there stock gamblers, and the disasters attending them, most abound .-The South is comparatively free from these periodic calamities. She is more debtor than creditor, but her great mineral deposits afford strong temptations to enter the arena of speculation. It is a new era for North Carolina, but if there are fools who have money to spend in gambling companies, they are free to do it, provided they do it honestly, and do not entangie innocent victims in their operations. Last week it was currently reported in the city that the St. Nicholas botel had failed, or made an assignment in favor of the wealthy mercantile house of A. T. Stewart & Co. The proprietors contradicted it in the Tribune of Monday morning, but, nevertheless, it is thought by some that they have made a morigage to the above mentioned firm to secure them for liabilities in tegard to furnishing materials .--This is not improbable, in as much as hotel business has not been so lucrative this year as last, and the expenses of this mammoth establishment have been beyond all precedent .--There are three sets of owners to the building Mr. Lonbut owns the lower end, Mr. Haight the middle, and the Lorillards the upper corner of Spring st. The rent of the whole is $105,000 per annum. The furnishing cost nearly $200,000. The number of servants is about 750. For the last six months the hotel has sometimes been one half or two thirds full. and the proprietors have been paying an enormous rent for waste room. It is estimated to accommodate a thousand guests. As a general rule, the families of proprietors reside in the hotel kept by them, but this is not the case at the St. Nicholas. Mr. Treadwell lived in 23rd st., a fashionable locality, Mr. Acker has a country residence on the North River, and Mr. Whiteomb dwells in the eastern part of the city. These outside residences are so much additional expense. Money too has been scarce and provisions unusually high. If the St Nicholas had no debt hanging over it, its career would perhaps be safe enough. The stores on the ground floor or sub-let, which eases the rent some thirty thousand dollars or more, but Messrs. Eaton & Co., fashionable tailors, who occupied one of the stores at a rent of $4,000, tailed a few days ago, and perhaps others will follow suit, as no business here will justify such exorbitant rents. After many years, if the St. Nicholas should pay off its furnishing debt, the finery would be poor capital in band, and would not bring a third of its original cost. which are always poor investments, and ruinms to kingdoms, governments, and individuals. The old hotels down town are mere rat holes and rookeries, and it is a great bore to hire a small room and depend upon the chop houses w ich, most of them, are indifferent enough. The best hotels are still confined to Broadway, and are advancing up town. If visitors are economical in other things, they can still afford to patronise them, and had better do at.

There is a remarkable instance of Northern enterprise and energy in the case of Mr. Perren Stevens of Boston, who conducts the Tremont House, the Revere House, and the hotel at Nahant, ten miles from Boston, all three together. He is also proprietor or lessor of the Battle House in Mobile. With all this hotel room, Mr. Stevens' family reside in Beacon street. His explosion may be expected at any time. He is a very busy man, rises before day, and does all his marketing for his northern establishment himself. In the grand establishments in New York, the stewards do the marketing. The only exception that I know of, is one of the landlords of the Prescott House, who rises with the lark, and does the marketing himself, selecting the choicest and best of everything, and this circumstance alone gives supe-Figrity to the table, and reputation to the house. The New York hotels are not only more elegant, but the fare is far more rumptuous than formerly. The bar-room drinking at nearly all them supersedes much drinking at the table. The celebrated Mason will case has been often quoted in the papers. Mr. Mason was a wealthy individual, who died some fifteen years ago. He had a turn for banking, hoarding, manufacturing chemicals, and land speculating, all of which was profitable. He had several children, and just before he died, and was al most gone, he executed a will in favor of two daughters, Mrs. Coltfoot Jones, and Mrs. Isaac Jones, and disinherited all the others. A son married Emma Wheatly, the actress. Foul play was suspected in regard to the will, and ts validity contested. The family fell to loggerheads, and have been quarreling ever since. After fitteen years litigation of a question that might have been settled in fifteen minutes, the Court decided that the will was illegal, so far as the personal property was concerned, and that that should be distributed. There is to be another set to now to test the legality of the devise in respect to the real estate, which is the best part of the plunder, and is worth over a million. What asses those lawyers and lawcourts are! Count Rostopschin said truly, that nothing was more to be dreaded than justice and wild beasts. Two of the contestants have died; Mr. Isaac

Jones a few months ago, and Mrs. Emma Wheatly Mason, day before yesterday. She was a lovely and estimable lady, and was far more meritorious than those other members of the family, who arrogated all the respectability and seized upon all the property. Will making with the rich is precarious business all over the country. Every wealthy man is marked and doomed. He must give his pronerty away before he dies, for if he undertakes to bequeath it, some rapacious lawyer will pounce upon the will and break it, and half the estate will be pocketed by courts and lawyers.

MR. BRAGG'S ABUSE OF REV. Z. EVANS.

We invite the particular attention of our readers to the article from the Register relative to a discussion between Gen. Dockery and Mr. Bragg, in which the latter gentleman placed himself in a position so inconsistent and disreputable that it cannot fail to excite the contempt all honest-hearted men.

This low abuse of the Rev. CONGRESSIONAL.

The SENATE, yesterday, after receiving various reports and allowing the introduction of a bill fixing the time for the next meeting of Congress, resumed the consideration of the Homestead Bill, so called, the question being upon a substitute combining the homestead, graduation, and pre-emption principles. After much debate the bill was passed—ayes 36, nocs 11and the title so amended as to express the object, in part, to wit: "An act to provide a homestead for actual settlers, to graduate the price of the public lands to purchasers and actual settlers, and for other purposes." The St. Lons Herald of July 12th tells, with apparent faith in its truth, a case where a child became fascinated with a black snake. This child, the Herald states, had for a long time been pining away without any known disease. She could not be prevailed upon to eat anything in her father's house, but would take a piece of bread and go to the bank of a creek. Her father followed her secretly, and saw a large black snake make its appearance and would express anger by hissing when the child took a bite-of bread. The next day the father shot the snake, as it made its appearance. The child swooned but on recovering from that state was seized with spasms, and contortions resembling the snake's, and died at the same moment of the death of the snake.

(ARRIAGES have become so fashionable the / it has been predicted by some, if war should ever visit our shores again, they would be tested even then, for the purpose of dealing out death into the ranks of our enemy. Whether or not, however, I am determined that my establishment shall be well represented in the way of Coaches, four and six passenger Rockaways, taper, patent and half patent axle Baggies, with and without tops, and Sulkies of superior finish.

My stock at present consists of a general assortment of the above named Vehicles. After having a life time experience in the business, and keeping no body in my employ but the best workmen the country can afford. I deem it unnecessary to say anything in its behalf, for it requires nothing but a g impse at it to satisfy any man it is capable of doing its own puffing.

Persons wanting a Carriage who cannot con veniently come to my establishment, can have it sent to their house for inspection, if desired. Old work will be taken in exchange for new, at reasonable prices. I also keep on hand HARNESS of all qualities ; the principal part of which is put up under my own supervision. I ask nothing but a trial to insure satisfaction, for my prices will be as moderate as the times will admit of, while my work will contribute a pleasure to the eye, comfort and ease to the body, and delight to the mind. Repairing of all kind done with neatness and dispatch. All work warranted.
