The offices that's going now-a days are poor and lean, and only earn people habits of laziness. Living is very dear in Raleigh, and, moreover, the place has been slightly unhealthy the past season. ward their accounts to "Head Quarters."

The above significant advertisement reminds us of an important duty we have omitted to perform. That is to give the "Standard's" omily upon office seeking, which is contained in a recent number. We commend the moderation and conservatism of its sentiments to all who are looking for visions of bliss in the long dim vista of party politics, and we especially commend the disinterestedness of the Rolly Click, who are willing to keep their brethren from being corrupted, by filling these dirty

"Extract from the Standard."

We venture the assertion that the mania for office is higher and more intense at this time in this country than it ever was before. We do not refer to political or judicial offices, but to other and inferior offices of trust and profit under both governments. Almost every third man you meet is in search of an office, or laving plans o secure one at some future period. And this in old, houset, republican North Carolina!

And as to fitness for the posts sought, why every one who is an applicant is of course per-suaded that he is especially prepared, both by nature and education, to fill the place; and then if friends do not urge his claims and "put him chrough," he will-most probably range himself among what are known as persecuted, neglected and revengeful patriots. Now, our deliberate opinion is, as the result of some observation in these matters, that no one ever obtained wealth, or even contentment or real comfort, by either seeking or holding office. It is a business which promises well, but does not pay. If a man be a farmer, or a shopkeeper, or a mechanic, let him, as a general rule, remain so; and we tell him in advance that if he should not, he will have reason, sooner or later, to regret it. Office seeking unsettles habits of attention and labor -disposes one to think that there is an easier way to live than by work, and makes one, born to a heritage of manhood and independence, more or less dependent on the smiles and frowns of those in power; and office holding, in nine cases out of ten, not only entails all this upon man, but, when he returns to his former bus iness, he ands himself out of practice, unskill ed, behind the times, and under the necessity of making a new start in the world.

We regret to see this thirst for office on the in rease. One party is no more to blame for it, so far as we can perceive, than another; it is the same under both. Let the young men of the country determine to rely on their own resour ces of energy and integrity; let them rather shun than seek office; let them be men, with s few dollars in their pockets, in preference to being dependents and waiters on the great with nundreds of dollars per annum for an income. If an office comes to any of them fairly, and if its duties do not conflict with regular business we do not say they ought not to accept it ; but save the manhood and the morals of the country from this general rush for office and place We have looked upon it, and heard of it, and thought about it at odd times when we had a ittle leisure to bestow upon it, until, as the Frenchman observed, we "are one grand dis

THE CALIFORNIA ELECTIONS. The Steamer Northern Light arrived at New York, on Monday evening last, from San Juan. She brings interesting news from California. The State Elections took place on the 16th ult., and the probable result, together with some of the attendant incidents, will be found embodied in the following summary:

From the San Francisco Herald of Sept. 16.

TRIUMPH OF THE ENOW-NOTHINGS. "The late election was probably the most exciting that ever took place in California, and in San Francisco in particular the excitement reached to an alarming height and the most serious consequences were apprehended. In a resume of the political history of California, it will be necessary to remind our Eastern friends that California has always been a Democratic State. At the last session of the Legisattempted to bring on the election of a U. A Fredericksburg, and the Duke of Gramant, atrumor was, however, prevalent this morning, tached to the French Legation. that Mr. Bowie, one of the Whig candidates, would be elected by a very small majority. The rebuke received by the Electionists, however, in all parts of the State, was emphatic and deended. In the Municipal Elections matters took quite a different turn. Just previous to the dection rumors were circulated with reference to the organization of the Know Nothings all over the State, and it was expected that their influence would be felt to some extent.-Inroughout the State these expectations were realized, but in San Francisco they carried all before them. The Electionist City and County Conventions met and nominated members for the Legislature and City and County Officers. The Anti-Electionists did likewise, but another split here took place, and the Seceders organ used a third Convention and put in nomination a kind of hybrid ticket composed of the other two. The Whigs held their Consention, and formed a ticket. The Association known as the Cuidados put forward another list of names for the suffrages of the people. Certain indivi-duals calling themselves "The People" hung out another banner. The Know Nothings nominated a ticket of their own, but is having subsequently transpired that their nominee for the Mayoralty, Mr. Lucien Herrman, an estimable citizen and well known in the community, was a Roman Catholic, they repudiated the first ticket, and nominated another. So there were, to a certain extent, two Know Nothing tickets. There was, lastly, a Know Something ticket. During the election in this city the most intense excitement prevailed. Rumors of corruption, bribery and ballot-box stuffing were rife. Several fights took place, and several persons were wounded. Attempts were made to destroy the ballot-boxes in some of the Wards, and the popular indignation became so great that the most serious consequences were ap- city. prehended. Suspicion of foul play was directed in particular to the First Ward in this city. The lynching of all the parties connected with the election in this locality was freely discussed, and to protect themselves cannons were got out, planted at the corners of the streets, and loaded with deadly charges of pieces of iron, nails and everything that came to hand. The gloom which hung over the city gradually disappeared. The resurns came in, and the Know othings achieved a triumph, having elected Webb,) Comptroller, City Treasurer, Tax Collector, City Marshal, City Attorney, Harbor this city. Whatever we may think of the Know ! The Herald of Thursday says: The Convention, yesterday, was several hours in session, and adjourned about three clock in the afternoon. The result of its deliberations, according to the best of our belief and knowledge, is as follows:-

"First-Not to recommend either of the gu bernatorial candidates in the field for the suff rages of the Know Nothings, leaving the selection to them with the impression that Greene C. Bronson is preferable to either Myron H. Clark or Horatic Seymour.

Second-To adopt Elijah Ford, of Erie, the candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the na tional democratic ticket, out and out, in prefer ence to Henry J. Raymond, William H. Lud-low, or Cradford R. Wood, the candidates of the other parties. "This is the last of the State conventions for this campaign, and in the present aspect of political affairs, its proceedings will cause more fluttering and anxiety than those of all the other conventions combined."
