THE AUGUST ELECTIONS.

Five of the Southern States have held or are to hold their general elections this month, viz: Tennessee and North Carolina on the 2d, and Kentucky, Alabama and Texas, on the 6th. In Tennessee, a Governor, ten members of Congress, and members of the Legislature are to be elected. In North Carolina, the election has been for members of Congress. In Kentucky, Alabama, and Texas, State officers, members of Congress, and members of the Legislature are to be elected. In all these States the political been made. The elections in these States will close the summer elections and complete the House of Representatives, with the exception of the States of Georgia, Louisians, Maryland, and Mississippi, all of which mote in the fall.

DEMOCRATIC HARMONY .- The lecofoco party, as every one knows, maintains in many, if not all, of the States a lingering existence, the mere shadow or ghost of a body which has lost all strength and vigor, with but little of the vital principle left. Viewing it as a national party. it is gone, dead, defunct; it lacks all the elements of harmony and unity; even the cohesive bonds of public plunder can not aggregate it into any thing like a whole, for there are not teats enough for the voracious mouths that are hungering after the envisble nourishment. The loco foco party is much more disintegrated and denationalized than the Whig party, and differs from it by having only in spots a local habitation and Hopes were entertained that the opposing factions of the locofoco party at the North might be induced to coalesce for the purpose of fighting a common enemy, the Know Nothings-a party which all locofoco leaders, whatever might be the distinctive marks or shades of differences hate with a perfect hatred, but even here, contrary to a principle of social economy, which unites the discordant members of a household against those who attempt to interfere with their domestic relations, all attempts at a combination even to fight those noxious intruders, the Know Nothings, have signally failed. These factions are as much estranged and alienated as if there had never been a bond of union between them; as if they had never swore by Gen. Jackson, and fought together under his banner against the United States Bank, a Protective Tariff, and Internal Improvements, doctrines and articles of political faith long forgotten, and merged and swallowed up in the maelstrom of Freesoilism and Abolitionism.

We have an article before us, from a leading organ of the Soft Shell wing of the New York Democracy, which shows with what regard and affection the Northern Democrats, the "natural allies of the South," as they used facetiously to be called, feel towards their Southern brethren. After quoting the two resolutions in the Louisiana Democratic platform, endorsing the action of the last Congress in the Nebraska-Kansas act, and expressing the sympathies of Louisiana Democrats with the friends of the slavery cause in Kansas, following them up with some comments of the Washington Union, which said that "the resolutions alluded to show an unfaltering adherence to the recognized principles and landmarks of the Democratic party," the Soft Shell organ proceeds in the following contemptuous and withering strain :

"Upon what strange times have we fallen, when declarations like these are set down as recognitions of the ancient landmarks of the Democratic party! To tyrannize over peaceful and unarmed men, to wrest the right of suffrage from those who are justly entitled to it, to cog, to cheat, to make false returns of elections, -are these the recognized tokens of Democracy?

"It is clear that no honest man at the North can act with those who thus shamelessly adopt | ing their votes as a unit, to control our elec- To him, the day shone but to reveal Col. Referring to the platform of the Georgia Democracy, the same editor remarks:

"The resolutions passed at their State Conat nothing-shrink from no assertion of the rights | ting high up, and all the candidates active, canof slavery, however broad, and when there is vassing and beating the bush; all bent on the no pretence of right, they fall back, without success of their party, if speaking and hard hesitation, upon the title of the strongest, the work will accomplish that desired result." doctrine that the territory belongs to those who | We trust that the writer may find his opinare audacious enough to possess it by vio- ions correct in reference to Stephens.

lence. They are frank, free spoken-they keep back nothing; they are determined to lose no advantage of any sort by the failure to claim it early and boldly."

This is a fair specimen of the sentiments and feelings of the Northern Democracy, saving the nconsiderable fragment called the Hard Shells, which have no existence outside of the City of New York. And yet we see, in the proceedings of Southern locofoco meetings, complimentary allusions made to National Democrats at the North, from whom they expect sympathy and support. If our locofoco friends South call such conduct of the North backing their friends-a fig for such backing, we say.

We have received a communication from Capt. H. B. WATSON, of Smithfield, stating that he was the first person who signed the constitution of the "Democratic Club," in that place, and that we were mistaken, in our issue of the 25th ult., in stating that "one of the first to sign" the pledge was a rabid Foreigner." Very well, we make this correction; but still that does not change the fact that a foreigner (Henry Geshardz) did sign it!

MR. MILLER AT HILLSBOROUGH. According to the appointment of his friends. Mr. Miller addressed the people of this place on the morning of the 26th July. As Mr. M. had an appointment to address a large assemblage in Wake county the next day, he commenced his speech here at a little after eleven o'clock, and concluded a few minutes after one,-giving himself time to leave on the cars at two o'clock. The speech of Mr. Miller was one of great ty, and we regret that there were not thousands present to hear him instead of the few who attended. The notice had reached but few in the country, and the audience was made up mosely of citizens of the town. Several from the country, anxious to hear Mr. Miller, reached here after he had spoken, supposing he would not speak until after dinner. Mr. Miller confined himself to the discussion of Romanism, Foreignism, and the slavery plank of the American platform. His facts and arguments, to show the danger to be appre-hended from the spread of Romanism, and from foreign immigration, were really startling -and they were such as cannot be refuted .-He clearly proved that the security of the South depended upon the success of the principles of the American party. Did our time permit, we would attempt to give our readers a few of the facts American parties, no other nominations having and arguments presented, but we are too much pressed at present. One fact, however, brought to light by Mr Miller, we will state now for the benefit of those concerned. The opponents of the American party object to them because they vote to exclude Roman Catholics from office, and call it proscription, bigotry, &c. Mr. Miller showed rom the journals of the Convention of 1835, that the late Dr. James S. Smith and Dr. Wm. Montgomery, the delegates from Orange, voted against striking out the word Protestant from the 32d article of the Constitution and inserting the word Christian, so as to permit Roman Catholics to hold office! And yet many who approved Dr. Montgomery's vote to exclude Ruman Catholics from office by a constitutional prohibition, and afterwards voted for him for Congress, are now denouncing the American party for simply refusing to vote for them!—

"Bigotry and proscription," indeed! Out upon such hypocrisy .- Hills. Recor.

MR. MILLER AT CHAPEL HILL, Henry W. Miller, Esq., of Raleigh, by invitation, addresssed a large audience at Chapel Hill on Wednesday of last week, in support of the principles of the American party. It was our pleasure to be one of the auditors, and we think we but speak the common sentiment when we pronounce it one of the ablest speeches that have een made on the subject. The principles of the party were clearly stated, and the facts and arguments by which he sustained them, were presented in the most lucid and forcible manner. The speech, we sincerely believe, was unanswerable; and we are confident that it produced conviction upon the minds of all doubters who were inquiring after the truth. We shall not undertake to give even a sketch of the speech : for to give the substance in a brief space is im possible. Though he spoke three hours and a half, there was not a sentence unimportant-it was all substance. At the request of some opponents of the American party, James S. Smith, esq. consented to reply to Mr. Miller, and when Mr. M. had concluded, he took the stand for that purpose. We only heard his introduction, as we were obliged to leave in order to reach home that night. We learn that he continued to speak about three quarters of an hour, when it commenced raining. An adjournment then took place to the council room, and Mr. Smith was invited to attend and invitation .- Hills. Rocorder.

FOR THE REGISTER. DEAR SIR: - Col. Andrew J. Stedman, a distinguished young lawyer and native American, of this county, has entered the political arena, in Chatham, and is doing yeoman service in the American cause. He appears to be inspired by a patriotic devotion to his country; when surrounded by his countrymen, he, with eloquence and power, appeals to them, and inokes them, to rally around the standard of the

Col. Stedman has, from his boyhood, been a Democrat, but a love for his country and the rights of American citizens impel him to burst asunder the ties that bound him to party, and, with an independence worthy of imitation, he bids adieu-a long farewell, to Democracy, as t now exists, and with an enthusiastic greeting he hails the advent of the American party.

On Friday, the 27th inst., a Mass Meeting of the American party was held in Haywood, and, by special invitation, Col. Stedman was in attendance, and delivered one of the most convincing, eloquent and unanswerable addresses that is has ever been my good fortune to hear, and one that would have done honor to riper years. Would to Heaven that every freeman n the old North State could have heard him ! The company was then invited to partake of a barbecue, which, being dispensed with, the company re-assembled in the grove and heard a speech in reply to Col. S., from Robert E. Craven, Rives, Esq., an oppopent of the American party. Mr. Rives is a good speaker—a man of tact, but failed in his attempt to reply. He spoke about one hour, when Col. S. submitted a rejoinder of one hour, and if ever mortal man caught a castigation it was R. E. Rives, Esq.

The speaking having closed, an invitation was extended to all such as wished to enlist under the banner of "SAM," to repair to the Academy, when SIXTEEN took up their line of march and were initiated soldiers for the whole

J. Jackson, Esq., Richmon his old preceptor in the law, and many years his senior. Mr. Jackson is a man of ability and a handsome public speaker, and acquitted nimself with as much honor as any speaker could have done, in defending so palpable and unjust a cause.

Mr. Jackson having closed his reply, Col. Stedman replied in a rejoinder to the remarks submitted by Mr. J., and in such terms as eli-cited the thundering applause of the auditors. His rejoinder was certainly a very happy effort, and was pronounced by the audience to be one of the most scathing nature that ever was pronounced in the county of Chatham; and Mr. Jackson felt most sensibly the ponderous weight of the elequence so profusely showered by Col. S. upon his reckless course—his untenable declarations, and his pretext of oppositiondissecting with marked skill and ability the reply of Mr. J., and scattering it to the four winds of Heaven. GOVERNOR REEDER .- We are at last informed from Washington that Mr. Reeder has been removed from his office of Governor of Kansas, and that Mr. Dawson, of Pennsylvania who voted for the Nebraska bill, has been appoint-this removal of Mr. Reeder is the result of a lands of the poor Kansas half-bred Indians, or whether he is discharged in deference to the petition of the Kansas Legislature; or for a

Carolina, and Kentucky. We guess, however, that these elections have had a good deal to do with it; and that Reeder's removal will be proof the fidelity of the administration to Southern rights. But why was this free soil

YELLOW FEVER AT NORFOLK. NORPOLK, July 31.

There are sixty cases of Yellow Fever in this city up to the present time, thus showing a fearful increase. The victims are being rapidly carried to the Poor House, which is quite removed from the dense portions of the city. Persons are rapidly leaving, and it is thought all who are able will do so.

In Gosport the Fever is on the decline. Only three deaths have occurred to-day. There, too, they are removing all the cases to the Hospital. No new cases have occurred in Portsmouth during the past twenty-four hours.

MR. BADGER'S POSITION. We call attention to Mr. Budger's letter to be ound in another column of this week's Argus. A report has been circulated, in certain localities, to the effect that Mr. Badger was hostile to the American party and its Platform of Principles. His letter nails this falsehood to the counter: And now what will Mr. Winslow, the nomines of the Clinton Convention, say in relato that gentleman's views toward the Order and its principles? It will be recollected by the intelligent reader that Mr. Winslow, while filling the office of Speaker of the Senate, during the floor, and made a speech in reply to the Hon. | part of the State.

Asa Biggs, in which speech he declared that he regarded Mr. Badger as being morally and intellectually a head and shoulders taller than and other man in North Carolina. Well, now, if he believes what he said, and if he still believes that Mr. Badger is both morally and intellectually a head and shoulders taller than any other man in this State, how can he denounce the American party in the bitter terms which he is wont to apply to its members, after Mr. Badger has endorsed, as he has done in his letter, both the party and its principles, and avowed his purpose to vote for Mr. Shepard on the second of August, if he can get to the polls? Would agentleman of his stern morality and commanding intellectendorse sparious principles, or speak in commendation of a wicked, unpatriotic, antirepublican party? Mr. Winslow, we presume, has read this letter; and if so, does he not begin to suspect his own intelligence and morality? Surely he would not set himself up against one who is, both intellectually and morally, a head and shoulders taller than he is. By nomeans. He is too modest for that. Then let him acknowledge

C.) committee were so anxious to get evidence against the Americans, that they seized with avidity on the letter of Mr. Stephens, and readily endorsed it without for one moment entertained the idea that he was pitching into their dear President and his followers. Mr. Stephens, says the Norfolk Beacon, is a kind of political Ishmaelite, whose hand is against every man and every man against him. In this letter, endorsed and circulated by Democrats, he says that the "National Democracy is infected with a disease worse than the dry rot." In another place he says the President sent Reeder out to Kaness to make it a free State. In our opinion these two extrats centain the only sound logic in his whole letter. We congratulate our Democratic friends in having found a title so worthy of them—the "Dry Rot" party. Richmond American
