

THE RALEIGH REGISTER.

PUBLISHED BY SEATON GALES, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. AT $2 50 IN ADVANCE; OR, $3 00 AT THE END OF THE YEAR.

RALEIGH, N. C. SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 8, 1856.

NATIONAL AMERICAN TICKET!

FOR PRESIDENT. MILLARD FILLMORE, OF NEW YORK. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, ANDREW J. DONELSON, OF TENNESSEE.

AMERICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The time is rapidly approaching for the assembling of the State Convention of the American party to nominate a candidate for Governor and to consider other matters of importance to the cause. It behooves our friends throughout the State to keep this in mind, and to take immediate and active steps to secure a full representation of the party.

RATIFICATION MEETING IN GRANVILLE.

We are gratified to learn that a very large and enthusiastic meeting—an old-fashioned 1840 rally—of the friends of FILLMORE and DONELSON was held at Oxford, on Tuesday last. The meeting was addressed by the Hon. WILLIAM A. GRAMAM, EDWIN G. READER, and STON H. ROBERTS.

THE ABOLITIONISTS ON THE NOMINATIONS.

The entire phalanx of Northern Abolitionists and incendiaries are down like a thousand of brick on the nomination of Fillmore and Donelson. This, as the "Richmond Whig" remarks, was expected—it is natural—it is right and proper that it should be so.

A CALL FOR DOUGLAS.

Mr. Douglas is the man of the hour. He is the man who will save the Union. He is the man who will save the South. He is the man who will save the North. He is the man who will save the world.

A CALL FOR WISE.

Wise is the man of the hour. He is the man who will save the Union. He is the man who will save the South. He is the man who will save the North. He is the man who will save the world.

THE SOUTHERN PARTY.

The Southern party has finally and thoroughly conquered the American National organization and secured the nomination of Millard Fillmore of New York for President, and Andrew Jackson Donelson of Tennessee for Vice-President.

LOCAL NEWS.

Five Company No 1—Met on Tuesday evening last, at the Mayor's office, Capt. Tucker in the chair. The committee on bye-laws, &c. reported that the provisions already made by the Municipal Authorities were ample for the government of the company.

The "Standard" publishes in its last "call for Buchanan," an extraordinary production—merely as a matter of duty, we think. Thus: A CALL FOR BUCHANAN.

North, South, East, West, all rally with cheer. Buchanan's the leader, Wise in his rear. Statesman of Wheatland, Haste on your way.

On Feb. 22, 1856, the "Standard" will give the call for Douglas, which we publish below. This call will commend itself to the heart of the "Standard," who loves the Little Giant with almost a woman's devotion.

We have mislaid the "call for Wise," but we are glad to learn that the "Standard" has it on file ready for publication. It will not do for him to suppress either the call for the Little Giant, or for Old Accome.

A CALL FOR DOUGLAS. Air—Oh Don't! Douglas! of Rye-land!

Haste to your home; No longer roam Jealous aspirants! Force you to come. Don't honeyfuggle us; Rush to the spot. Danger to Douglas! Death in the pot!

Look out and see! Stomps in your way, Or there will be the Devil to pay. Hunter is smoking you Out from your hole; Old Buck is poking you With his long pole.

See to your stitches—Marry is here. A-patching his breeches; "Wise in his rear." Or dead as Cock-robin, Down you will fall. Pierced through by Dobbin, Nailed to the wall.

Beat up the Revellie; Rouse for the fray! Pierce will be devil ye, Sure as the day. Come as the waves come, Bounding and free! Douglas of Rye-land! Hallelujee!!!

P. S.—Since the above was in type, we have fortunately laid our hands upon the "Call for Wise." We stop the press to give it a place.

A CALL FOR WISE. Air—Be wise, will ye? Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

Flit for your country, Wise, Deem it no shame; Go it for glory, Wise, Pummel poor Sam. Statesman of Accome, Haste on your way; For soon runs the sand, That closes next quay. Hallelujee.

Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

Flit for your country, Wise, Deem it no shame; Go it for glory, Wise, Pummel poor Sam. Statesman of Accome, Haste on your way; For soon runs the sand, That closes next quay. Hallelujee.

Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

Flit for your country, Wise, Deem it no shame; Go it for glory, Wise, Pummel poor Sam. Statesman of Accome, Haste on your way; For soon runs the sand, That closes next quay. Hallelujee.

Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

FOR THE REGISTER.

Mr. Editor: The time is drawing near for the assembling of the Convention of the American party of North Carolina, at Greensboro', to nominate a candidate for Governor. Upon that body will devolve a grave responsibility. It will be their first State Convention, and upon its action will materially depend the success of the party in North Carolina.

A resolution was offered, requiring members to attend parades and fires in a uniform, to consist of red flannel shirt, black pantaloons, and leather hat, but it was lost.

On Thursday afternoon, the company tried their apparatus. Proceeding to the tank, near Burns' Machine shops, the section was placed in the water, and the engine was found to throw 75 yards on a level. With little repair, this may be made an excellent engine.

We are sorry to have to say, that very little interest seems to be manifested by the majority of the members, (and most of them property holders, too), in the efficiency of the fire department. One would suppose that the recent warnings we have would teach a little wisdom in this respect.

Agricultural.—To give our readers some idea of what the farmers in the old North State are doing, to better the condition of their lands, we give below a statement of the number of bags, and tons, of Guano, brought over the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, during the year 1855, and the Depots at which they were distributed.

Table with 2 columns: Bags, Tons. Locations include Gaston, Littleton, Macon, Warrington, Raleigh, Clarksville, Henderson, Franklin, Forestville, Raleigh.

And, of course, in due time, the "Standard" will give the call for Douglas, which we publish below. This call will commend itself to the heart of the "Standard," who loves the Little Giant with almost a woman's devotion.

We have mislaid the "call for Wise," but we are glad to learn that the "Standard" has it on file ready for publication. It will not do for him to suppress either the call for the Little Giant, or for Old Accome.

A CALL FOR DOUGLAS. Air—Oh Don't! Douglas! of Rye-land!

Haste to your home; No longer roam Jealous aspirants! Force you to come. Don't honeyfuggle us; Rush to the spot. Danger to Douglas! Death in the pot!

Look out and see! Stomps in your way, Or there will be the Devil to pay. Hunter is smoking you Out from your hole; Old Buck is poking you With his long pole.

See to your stitches—Marry is here. A-patching his breeches; "Wise in his rear." Or dead as Cock-robin, Down you will fall. Pierced through by Dobbin, Nailed to the wall.

Beat up the Revellie; Rouse for the fray! Pierce will be devil ye, Sure as the day. Come as the waves come, Bounding and free! Douglas of Rye-land! Hallelujee!!!

P. S.—Since the above was in type, we have fortunately laid our hands upon the "Call for Wise." We stop the press to give it a place.

A CALL FOR WISE. Air—Be wise, will ye? Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

Flit for your country, Wise, Deem it no shame; Go it for glory, Wise, Pummel poor Sam. Statesman of Accome, Haste on your way; For soon runs the sand, That closes next quay. Hallelujee.

Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

FOR THE REGISTER.

Mr. Editor: The time is drawing near for the assembling of the Convention of the American party of North Carolina, at Greensboro', to nominate a candidate for Governor. Upon that body will devolve a grave responsibility. It will be their first State Convention, and upon its action will materially depend the success of the party in North Carolina.

A resolution was offered, requiring members to attend parades and fires in a uniform, to consist of red flannel shirt, black pantaloons, and leather hat, but it was lost.

On Thursday afternoon, the company tried their apparatus. Proceeding to the tank, near Burns' Machine shops, the section was placed in the water, and the engine was found to throw 75 yards on a level. With little repair, this may be made an excellent engine.

We are sorry to have to say, that very little interest seems to be manifested by the majority of the members, (and most of them property holders, too), in the efficiency of the fire department. One would suppose that the recent warnings we have would teach a little wisdom in this respect.

Agricultural.—To give our readers some idea of what the farmers in the old North State are doing, to better the condition of their lands, we give below a statement of the number of bags, and tons, of Guano, brought over the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, during the year 1855, and the Depots at which they were distributed.

Table with 2 columns: Bags, Tons. Locations include Gaston, Littleton, Macon, Warrington, Raleigh, Clarksville, Henderson, Franklin, Forestville, Raleigh.

And, of course, in due time, the "Standard" will give the call for Douglas, which we publish below. This call will commend itself to the heart of the "Standard," who loves the Little Giant with almost a woman's devotion.

We have mislaid the "call for Wise," but we are glad to learn that the "Standard" has it on file ready for publication. It will not do for him to suppress either the call for the Little Giant, or for Old Accome.

A CALL FOR DOUGLAS. Air—Oh Don't! Douglas! of Rye-land!

Haste to your home; No longer roam Jealous aspirants! Force you to come. Don't honeyfuggle us; Rush to the spot. Danger to Douglas! Death in the pot!

Look out and see! Stomps in your way, Or there will be the Devil to pay. Hunter is smoking you Out from your hole; Old Buck is poking you With his long pole.

See to your stitches—Marry is here. A-patching his breeches; "Wise in his rear." Or dead as Cock-robin, Down you will fall. Pierced through by Dobbin, Nailed to the wall.

Beat up the Revellie; Rouse for the fray! Pierce will be devil ye, Sure as the day. Come as the waves come, Bounding and free! Douglas of Rye-land! Hallelujee!!!

P. S.—Since the above was in type, we have fortunately laid our hands upon the "Call for Wise." We stop the press to give it a place.

A CALL FOR WISE. Air—Be wise, will ye? Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

Flit for your country, Wise, Deem it no shame; Go it for glory, Wise, Pummel poor Sam. Statesman of Accome, Haste on your way; For soon runs the sand, That closes next quay. Hallelujee.

Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

FOR THE REGISTER.

Mr. Editor: The time is drawing near for the assembling of the Convention of the American party of North Carolina, at Greensboro', to nominate a candidate for Governor. Upon that body will devolve a grave responsibility. It will be their first State Convention, and upon its action will materially depend the success of the party in North Carolina.

A resolution was offered, requiring members to attend parades and fires in a uniform, to consist of red flannel shirt, black pantaloons, and leather hat, but it was lost.

On Thursday afternoon, the company tried their apparatus. Proceeding to the tank, near Burns' Machine shops, the section was placed in the water, and the engine was found to throw 75 yards on a level. With little repair, this may be made an excellent engine.

We are sorry to have to say, that very little interest seems to be manifested by the majority of the members, (and most of them property holders, too), in the efficiency of the fire department. One would suppose that the recent warnings we have would teach a little wisdom in this respect.

Agricultural.—To give our readers some idea of what the farmers in the old North State are doing, to better the condition of their lands, we give below a statement of the number of bags, and tons, of Guano, brought over the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, during the year 1855, and the Depots at which they were distributed.

Table with 2 columns: Bags, Tons. Locations include Gaston, Littleton, Macon, Warrington, Raleigh, Clarksville, Henderson, Franklin, Forestville, Raleigh.

And, of course, in due time, the "Standard" will give the call for Douglas, which we publish below. This call will commend itself to the heart of the "Standard," who loves the Little Giant with almost a woman's devotion.

We have mislaid the "call for Wise," but we are glad to learn that the "Standard" has it on file ready for publication. It will not do for him to suppress either the call for the Little Giant, or for Old Accome.

A CALL FOR DOUGLAS. Air—Oh Don't! Douglas! of Rye-land!

Haste to your home; No longer roam Jealous aspirants! Force you to come. Don't honeyfuggle us; Rush to the spot. Danger to Douglas! Death in the pot!

Look out and see! Stomps in your way, Or there will be the Devil to pay. Hunter is smoking you Out from your hole; Old Buck is poking you With his long pole.

See to your stitches—Marry is here. A-patching his breeches; "Wise in his rear." Or dead as Cock-robin, Down you will fall. Pierced through by Dobbin, Nailed to the wall.

Beat up the Revellie; Rouse for the fray! Pierce will be devil ye, Sure as the day. Come as the waves come, Bounding and free! Douglas of Rye-land! Hallelujee!!!

P. S.—Since the above was in type, we have fortunately laid our hands upon the "Call for Wise." We stop the press to give it a place.

A CALL FOR WISE. Air—Be wise, will ye? Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

Flit for your country, Wise, Deem it no shame; Go it for glory, Wise, Pummel poor Sam. Statesman of Accome, Haste on your way; For soon runs the sand, That closes next quay. Hallelujee.

Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

FOR THE REGISTER.

Mr. Editor: The time is drawing near for the assembling of the Convention of the American party of North Carolina, at Greensboro', to nominate a candidate for Governor. Upon that body will devolve a grave responsibility. It will be their first State Convention, and upon its action will materially depend the success of the party in North Carolina.

A resolution was offered, requiring members to attend parades and fires in a uniform, to consist of red flannel shirt, black pantaloons, and leather hat, but it was lost.

On Thursday afternoon, the company tried their apparatus. Proceeding to the tank, near Burns' Machine shops, the section was placed in the water, and the engine was found to throw 75 yards on a level. With little repair, this may be made an excellent engine.

We are sorry to have to say, that very little interest seems to be manifested by the majority of the members, (and most of them property holders, too), in the efficiency of the fire department. One would suppose that the recent warnings we have would teach a little wisdom in this respect.

Agricultural.—To give our readers some idea of what the farmers in the old North State are doing, to better the condition of their lands, we give below a statement of the number of bags, and tons, of Guano, brought over the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, during the year 1855, and the Depots at which they were distributed.

Table with 2 columns: Bags, Tons. Locations include Gaston, Littleton, Macon, Warrington, Raleigh, Clarksville, Henderson, Franklin, Forestville, Raleigh.

And, of course, in due time, the "Standard" will give the call for Douglas, which we publish below. This call will commend itself to the heart of the "Standard," who loves the Little Giant with almost a woman's devotion.

We have mislaid the "call for Wise," but we are glad to learn that the "Standard" has it on file ready for publication. It will not do for him to suppress either the call for the Little Giant, or for Old Accome.

A CALL FOR DOUGLAS. Air—Oh Don't! Douglas! of Rye-land!

Haste to your home; No longer roam Jealous aspirants! Force you to come. Don't honeyfuggle us; Rush to the spot. Danger to Douglas! Death in the pot!

Look out and see! Stomps in your way, Or there will be the Devil to pay. Hunter is smoking you Out from your hole; Old Buck is poking you With his long pole.

See to your stitches—Marry is here. A-patching his breeches; "Wise in his rear." Or dead as Cock-robin, Down you will fall. Pierced through by Dobbin, Nailed to the wall.

Beat up the Revellie; Rouse for the fray! Pierce will be devil ye, Sure as the day. Come as the waves come, Bounding and free! Douglas of Rye-land! Hallelujee!!!

P. S.—Since the above was in type, we have fortunately laid our hands upon the "Call for Wise." We stop the press to give it a place.

A CALL FOR WISE. Air—Be wise, will ye? Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

Flit for your country, Wise, Deem it no shame; Go it for glory, Wise, Pummel poor Sam. Statesman of Accome, Haste on your way; For soon runs the sand, That closes next quay. Hallelujee.

Wise of Tolococo-land! Famous for jaw! Great chief of Accome-man! Give us your paw! Grievous disorder. Low's in your sky; Come o'er the border. Blacken its eye. "Jealous aspirants" Seek to confound you; Death and destruction Sneaking around you; Pierce and Patch'd Breeches, And Hunter are here. The false sons of— Put you "in the rear." And other "aspirants" Are hovering nigh! Buck, of Buckwheat land, Paley not, piddle not, Banish your potshers; Play second fiddle not To Marcy or others!

Spread the brave Banner, Man of our choice; Nail with a hammer, Your "flag to the host." But spread not that farical flag so berated, Broches of Marcy, Dis-lip-lis-lated!

CONGRESS.

Washington, March 8, 1856. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the bill to authorize the construction of ten sloops of war.

Mr. Hale, during the debate, said it was entirely absurd to undertake to put our navy on a footing to compete with other countries by this appropriation. If there was any apprehension of war in the public mind, it originated in the speeches made in Congress.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, said the object was simply to supply a class of vessels which were really necessary for the protection of our commerce. Mr. Hunter had no idea the passage of the bill would create alarm. We approximate chances of peace by preparing for war, thus diminishing opportunities for foreign powers to speculate on our weakness, either real or supposed.

The bill was passed. Each vessel with complete equipment and machinery is estimated to cost $607,000. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Trumbull contested election case; but it was not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, said the object was simply to supply a class of vessels which were really necessary for the protection of our commerce. Mr. Hunter had no idea the passage of the bill would create alarm. We approximate chances of peace by preparing for war, thus diminishing opportunities for foreign powers to speculate on our weakness, either real or supposed.

The bill was passed. Each vessel with complete equipment and machinery is estimated to cost $607,000. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Trumbull contested election case; but it was not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, said the object was simply to supply a class of vessels which were really necessary for the protection of our commerce. Mr. Hunter had no idea the passage of the bill would create alarm. We approximate chances of peace by preparing for war, thus diminishing opportunities for foreign powers to speculate on our weakness, either real or supposed.

The bill was passed. Each vessel with complete equipment and machinery is estimated to cost $607,000. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Trumbull contested election case; but it was not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, said the object was simply to supply a class of vessels which were really necessary for the protection of our commerce. Mr. Hunter had no idea the passage of the bill would create alarm. We approximate chances of peace by preparing for war, thus diminishing opportunities for foreign powers to speculate on our weakness, either real or supposed.

The bill was passed. Each vessel with complete equipment and machinery is estimated to cost $607,000. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Trumbull contested election case; but it was not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, said the object was simply to supply a class of vessels which were really necessary for the protection of our commerce. Mr. Hunter had no idea the passage of the bill would create alarm. We approximate chances of peace by preparing for war, thus diminishing opportunities for foreign powers to speculate on our weakness, either real or supposed.

The bill was passed. Each vessel with complete equipment and machinery is estimated to cost $607,000. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Trumbull contested election case; but it was not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, said the object was simply to supply a class of vessels which were really necessary for the protection of our commerce. Mr. Hunter had no idea the passage of the bill would create alarm. We approximate chances of peace by preparing for war, thus diminishing opportunities for foreign powers to speculate on our weakness, either real or supposed.

The bill was passed. Each vessel with complete equipment and machinery is estimated to cost $607,000. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Trumbull contested election case; but it was not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, said the object was simply to supply a class of vessels which were really necessary for the protection of our commerce. Mr. Hunter had no idea the passage of the bill would create alarm. We approximate chances of peace by preparing for war, thus diminishing opportunities for foreign powers to speculate on our weakness, either real or supposed.

The bill was passed. Each vessel with complete equipment and machinery is estimated to cost $607,000. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Trumbull contested election case; but it was not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, said the object was simply to supply a class of vessels which were really necessary for the protection of our commerce. Mr. Hunter had no idea the passage of the bill would create alarm. We approximate chances of peace by preparing for war, thus diminishing opportunities for foreign powers to speculate on our weakness, either real or supposed.

The bill was passed. Each vessel with complete equipment and machinery is estimated to cost $607,000. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Trumbull contested election case; but it was not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, said the object was simply to supply a class of vessels which were really necessary for the protection of our commerce. Mr. Hunter had no idea the passage of the bill would create alarm. We approximate chances of peace by preparing for war, thus diminishing opportunities for foreign powers to speculate on our weakness, either real or supposed.

The bill was passed. Each vessel with complete equipment and machinery is estimated to cost $607,000. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Trumbull contested election case; but it was not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee