EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS. Scarcely has Congress adjourned, leaving the army appropriation bill with its Kansas rider unsettled, before President Pierce has thought it necessary to call an extra session, to convene at the Capitol on Thursday next. The absolute necessity of this course is beyond dispute, and the refusal of the House to strike out the obnoxious proviso is a sad comment upon the policy by which the ultraists of that body are actuated. The firmness of the Senate in its refusal to sanction so gross a violation of the Constitution, is members seemed disposed to go, it appears lifficult to decide what the final result of the vote upon the army appropriation bill will be, although we are strongly of opinion that after a brief but strenuous struggle, the bill, as amended by the Senate, will receive the sanction of the House. Idly and uselessly as the early part of the session was wasted, in canvassings and caucussings without number, and in speeches espefeel gratified that, notwithstanding the fierce, been so deeply sgitated, a large amount of imadjournments of previous years, We do not presume that the extra session now called will last more than a few days, inasmuch as the members, by adopting the new regulation of a specific salary, have cut themselves off from claiming any additional pay for their present ser-

The pressure of the Presidential campaign upon the services of prominent men of all parties, will also tend to facilitate matters, by forcing those who have struggled to retain the Kansas proviso, to foregotheir wishes in view of the demand upon their services elsewhere. Under any circumstances it is proper that the restriction thus interpolated should be repudiated, and with it the authority which the House of Representatives has thus virtually assumed. The people, cannot watch too closely the seizure of nausual powers by either branch of the national legislature, and upon, Constitutional rights should be rigid'y guard d against, and emphatically rebuked.

PARTY VIOLENCE.

When Daniel Webster was drawing near the close of his existence be expressed deep regret, it is said, at the severe saccasms which he had u ed towards his political opponents. This is a dee ply affecting fact, and by no means, we believe, an uncommon one. We would that the lesson which it reads were often heeded. For we feel sure that there are many of our contemporaries who will yet bitterly repent of the harsh language which they are in the constant habit of using with regard to their opponents. The reasons why they should repent of it are, that it has a tendency to confirm an antagonist in the evil courses or opinions for which he is attacked It, moreover, often severely and wrongfully wounds the feelings of the party attacked. The habit of using this kind of language frequently leads the user to be severely unjust and unmerciful towards who are not really opponents, either of his person or his opinion. We have known inthrough influential papers, to get answers in their life-times. It is also in very bad taste. own in that line, or yet we are or well-reading oil

SUPPORT OF MR. FILLMORE. For ourselves—whatever others may do -we stand fast for Millard Fillmore, having no faith in the possibility of a pacific settlement of existing antagonisms by either of the extremists by whom he is opposed. It matters nothing to us that certain prominent politicians have sought to justify their defection on the plea that it is im-possible to elect him to the Presidential chair.— Such a pretext for uniting with the opposition is too shallow to deceive any one who believes in the existence of that old fashioned virtue-politisal honesty. Occupying a middle ground between the two extreme parties is a third, moderate in its views, conservative in its principles, and earnestly desirous of promoting the best interests of the Republic. Of this party, composed of old line Ways and of the best, because the most temperate, elements of the original American or-ganization, Millard Fillmore is the chosen repreentative. He appeals to the support of patrioic men of all political creeds, on national grounds and bases his claims to recognition on the record of his past political career. A few politicians, occupying high stations in the National Legislature, have eulogized his previous administration in the highest terms, but being doubtful of his success at the approaching election, or, like their spectacled prototype, immortalized by Shakpeare -"seeming to see the things they do not see"have suddenly deserted him. We appeal from the politicians to the people, and whatever the final result may be, it shall be received by us with respectful submission; but until that result

[From the Augusta Georgia Sentinel.] DEMOCRATIC ECONOMY ILLUSTRATED

Pierce's Administration cost the people last year seventy one million, two hundred and twenty six thousand, eight hundred and forty-seven dol-lars! FILLMORE's administration in 1850-1 cost the people thirty seven million, one hundred and twen-ly-one thousand three hundred and ninety-dollars!! Difference in one year thirty four million, one hundred and five thousand, four hundred and fifthree dollars !!!

Reader, what think you of this illustration of Democratic economy ? One of their greatest complaints against Mr. Fillmore in 1851, was the enormous expenditures of the Government-the reckless extravagance and profligacy of every department. Hence all the changes now rung upon the necessity for economy and reform in every department. They came into power in 1853, and to support the government one year, under the management of a Democratic Cor gress and Democratic President—(areform and economical adnistration,) it costs nearly twice as much as the "extravagant" administration of Millard Fill more! This is a fair specimen of Democratic promises and pledges to the people, and it is cer-tainly a fine commentary upon their capacity to

These facts are certainly worthy of the people's consideration, because they directly affect their ourses. It behooves, them, therefore, to determine whether they will continue power in the hands of such a party—for it must not be forgotten that they made the same pledges about sconomy in 1852 that they make in 1856—and that Mr. Buchanan and the Cincinnati Convenion both endorse the Pierce administration.

> CONGRESSIONAL. WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.

SENATE.-Monday.-To-day the Chair submitted a message from the President in answer to a resolution which called for Mr. Fremont's accounts as officer of the Government. Several private bills were passed. The report of the Committee of Conference on the civil bill was agreed to by both Houses. It gives $250,000 for Baltimore Post Office, rescinding the exchange buildings' contract, and providing for the purchase of a site by commission. The proviso against military superintendency of public buildings was stricken out. The House bill for the establishment of a Navy depot at Brunswick, Ga., was postponed till next session. Mr. Toombs, of Ga., from the Committee of Conference on the army bill, reported that they were unable to agree. and moved that the Senate insist on its disagreement. This was agreed to by 89 against 12, and a resolution was passed extending the session of ooth Houses.

House .- Mr. Acker, of Mo., elected to supply the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Miller. was sworn in and took his seat. The Speaker laid before the House some let ters from Mr. Richardson, Dem., of Illinois, saying that he resigned his seat in Congress. They adopted a resolution for the appointmen of a committee of five to inquire into the assault made by Mr. McMullen on Mr. Granger, and report in December next. Mr. Millson asked for the suspension of the rules to offer a resolution for extending the session till 12 o'clock, P. M. The House refused At one minute to 12 o'clock, Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, asked for the consideration of the Senate's resolution for extending the session two hours .-The Clerk commenced calling the roll, but when the bell rang for 12 o'clock, the Speaker declared the House adjourned. Thus the army bill has failed. It appropriates $14,000,000. The Republicans are exultant. The rumors of an extra ession can be traced to no reliable source.

AFFRAY BETWEEN TWO MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18th .- This morning lispute arose between the Hon. Fayette McMullen, of Virginia, and the Hon. Amos P. Granger of N. Y., while they were riding to the Capito in an omnibus. The former seized the latter, and struck him in the eye, and they both clinched, but were separated by the passengers in the om-

AN EXTRA SESSION CALLED. WASHINGTON, Aug. 18-Since sending last dissatch, the President has called an extra session of Congress for Thursday next; owing principally to the defeat of the army bill. The proclamation had the effect of detaining members here on the eve of departure for their homes. The members under the new compensation law received $2200. more than under the former arrangement.

A Novel Case,-Much excitement was occasioned in Richmond on Saturday by the trail of s novel character, before the Hustings Court. The defendant, Thos. A. Linton, was presented by Lipscomb, as a woman, going about dressed in man's apparel in a manner offensive to public morals. The deta'ls of the trial are not suitable for publication, though some hundreds of persons remained in the court room throughout, manifesting extreme interest in the proceedings. The accuser, Mr. Lipscomb, testified under oath that Linton was a female, a fact of which he was so positive that he was willing to stake his existence upon the truth of his as ertion. Three respectable physicians, however, were introduced by the defence, and three by the Commonwealth, hing to say about the project it involves, who all made statements which entirely disprov-

The Herald denies this charge, but says that Belmont contributed a large sum to advance Pierce's election and that Pierce rewarded this foreign Jew with the office of Minister to the Harue. Bennett adds, the Rothchilds will "blee sely" to aid the election of Buchanan, in the event of whose success Belmont in the William Foreign Success Belmont in the success Be mont is to be Minister to France! It is further stated by Bennett, who was a warm supporter of Pierce in 1862, and of course in the secrets of of the "hired plunderers," that Pierce borrowed $17,000 from Grorge Law before the last election and $10,000 for electioneering since that time!-"When rogues fall out," the people who have been imposed upon by sham Democracy, are apt to hear of some things not originally intended for the public ear.

TARRED AND FEATHERED.

A gentleman from Washington, Pa., informs is that great excitement prevailed in that borough a few days since in consequence of a negro having been tarred and feathered by the colored inhabitants of the village. Some time ago a num-ber of slaves escaped from Virginia, and their owners suspecting that they were concealed in the vicinity of Washington, they sent, it is alleged, the negro spoken of to ferret them out. BALTIMORE. August 1st , '856. W E would call the attention of N. Carolina Merchants to our very large and complete stock of FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS, which we feel confident will compare favorably with any in the Northern or Eastern Markets-Our business having very largely increased, from the fact of our keeping a more complete and varied assortment than formerly, we feel encouraged to extend it still further, and we shall be prepared to offer such a variety as will enable our country friends to purchase of us every thing they may want in our line. Particular attention is paid to DRESS GOODS generally, SILKS, EMBROI-

DERIES, &c., &c. We shall also be prepared to exhibit a larger and more varied stock of FANCY AND WHITE GOODS than we have before kept. We are Agen's of the MARYLAND PENITEN-TIARY GOODS, as well as for several of the best Carolina, know as the late residence of Joseph makes of FULLED CLOTHS, which will be sold at the Mannfactures, prices. Orders snet us shall be promptly and carefully HOPKINS, HULL & CO. Aug. 12, 1856.

This is the Age of Improvement! Something New under the Sun!! Patent Stirrup, Hame, Collar, and Harness Buckle.

THE Subscriber, having purchased the sole right to make and sell the above Patents in the State of North Carolina, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to sell Shop and County rights to those who may wish to engage in a profitable business. A minute description of all these articles would be unnecessary in this notice, as I intend to have Agents to traverse the State, with samples of all of them, and fully authorised to sell and make good titles. The STIRRUP is truly a life preserver, as it is mpossible for a man (or woman) to get the foot fast in it; for it is so constructed, that by means of a cross bar and spring the foot cannot get fast, so as to endanger the rider; if he should get thrown, his foot is loosed by the first motion of the stirrup The HAME. COLLAR and HARNESS Buckle.

have only to be seen to be admired, and fully appreciated The Hame to the farmer will be an nvaluable improvement, as the horse's shoulder scarcely ever can get galled or bruised at all with it, as the pressure is on the inside of the Hame, and makes a uniform pressure on the shoulder from top to bottom. There is very lit tle strain on the hame-strings, while thehorse can pull one third more than with the old hame and iron, and with less danger of the shoulder getting hurt. The patent irons can be made and put on the old hame by any Blacksmith that can use tools. The whole thing-Stirrup, Hame, Coliar, importance to farmers, and those who ride on chant. To any person of the lower country, de-horse-back, that they will centeinly take the sirous of removing to the up country, such an opplace of all others of their kind. I would just say to Saddlers and Blacksmiths, if your neighbour gets these things, and you dont, he will be n your way very much, for that is what it's doing where it has been introduced. We say then: Lookout for yourselves and dont let the old cry about Patent Humbugs deceive you.

For those who may wish to purchase the rights for five or more Counties in one body, there will be a deduction of 33 1 3 per cent off of the prices for single Counties, which prices, for any one, or more Counties, will be made known to any one addressing the subscriber at Durham's station, N.

Notice is hereby given that any imfringement on these patents, or any attempt to make or use them by any modification in the State of North Carolina, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law in the United States Courts at Washing-W. W. GUESS. Durham's, N. C. R. R., July 24, '56. 3m 60

Behold!

THE Subscriber intending to remove to "Reaufort," at the close of the year, offers for sale the place, whereon he resides, admitted by all to be among the most delightful residences of the up country,-in the midst of a most delightful neighborhood, contiguous to good. Schools, and unsurpassed for health; situated on the road leading from Halifax and Tarboro' to Raleigh, and Louisburg and about two miles east of the latter. The improvements are mostly new and comfor table; the dwellings consist of eight rooms with fire places; the out building considered all that are useful and convenient, and are well built; the water is abundant and unsurpassed. The plantation embraces about 770 acres of land, which, taken as a whole, I defy to be beaten, either for the culture of Corn, Cotton, Tobacco or Wheat, and Buckle—is so simple, cheap, and of so much It is an eligible stand for a physician and mer-portunity is seldom afforded. To all interested, I respectfully invite inspec-tion. JOSEPH B. OUTLAW. Elon, Franklin Co., July 14, 1856. 57-w3m. P. S. It would be very agreeable to sell with the plantation my supply of furniture, (beds excepted,) embracing a variety, and varying in quality from the best to common; also plantation utensils, stock of horses, cattle and hogs, the latter embracing a variety of the choicest breeds, Man Standard copy.
