"If there be those, North or South, who den ration for the North as against the South or for the South as against the North, they are not the men who should give their suffrages w me. For my own part, I know only my country, my schole country, and nothing but my country. -MILLARD PILLMORE'S ADDRESS ON HIS LAND-ING AT NEW YORK.

THE CAMPAIGN-TO WORK!

It is with pride and pleasure that we observe the active and sealous efforts of our Electors in their respective Districts. The gallant MEARES, in the Third, and the no less gallant LEACH, it the Sixth, STEDMAN, in the Fifth, HYNAN, in the Eighth, Dargan, in the Seventh, WARREN, in the Second, and LITTLEJOHN, in the Fourth Diswhere making the finest impressions. We may say, without meaning, of course, to draw any invidious distinction, that the labors of the lat by, our immediate Elector, are particularly effective. We hear the most flattering accounts of the vigorous manner in which he is conducting the canvass. From what we knew of him before he entered the lists, we felt confident that the cause could not have been confided to better keeping. Let our champions be backed by corresponding exertion upon the part of our triends, generally, and North-Carolina may yet be redeemed, and brought up to the support of Millard Fillmore. There is ample time left to work out so glorious a consummation, if we will only employ it properly and energetically.

Mass meetings should be held in every section of the State,-all those of our friends who can speak should mount the hustings,-documents should be circulated,-the issues before the country should be clearly presented,-the evident hopelessness of Buchapan's prospects be set forth -the certainty that Mr. Fillmore, slone, can defeat Fremont, and thereby save the country, be brought home to the hearts and judgments of all! in one word, we should all WORK, -and by diligence, by perseverance, by activity, by right sppeals to the known intelligence of our people we may avoid the shame of seeing the vote of North-Carolina cast for the Squatter-Sovereign, and Cockade federalist calumniator of HENSY CLAY. Heaven grant it!

Tun WRIGS .- As the late Whig National Convention declared it to be inconsistent with Whigh principles to support James Buchanan for the Presidency, it is to be expected, as the "Baltitheir steps, or be content to be hereafter consid- present !" ered as members of the faction to which they have attached themselves. They cannot be permitted | that Gov. Brace, during the late Gubernstorial to play the game of fast and loose, or to shift sides whenever they may expect to profit by the change. The present crisis requires that every man shall take his stand firmly and permanently. If he be a Union man, he must prove his devotion to that cause by supporting the Union candidates. It will not answer to vote for a sectionel candidate, and then, when defeated, fall back among his former associates, and claim to be a Whig. The Whigs and the Americans have become united in the present struggle, and, as they a prospect of the spoils is receding from the eager both are fighting for the same great principle they have a right to consider all as adverse t that principle who are found contending in th opposite ranks.

A few weeks since, it was announced, through the Nashville (Tenn.) Union and American, that the Fillmore men in Indiana had fused with the Black Republicans. This was proved to be false, and the paper in which the unfounded allegation originated, made the proper correction, -an instance of maguanimity upon the part of a Sag-Nicht press, so rare, that it deserves especial mention. Such has not been the case, however with the Raleigh Standard, and other satellites of foreignism. They copied the article in regard to the fusion, but they remain silent as to the correction, and suffer a most glaring and infamous lie to stand, as truth, before the public. BUCHANAN'S VOTE .- The following resolution as introduced by the Hon, W. C. Bives, of Va., into the United States Senate, on the 11th of January, 1838, against which James Buchanan, of Pennsylvania, voted:

"Resolved, That any interference with the subect of slavery, in the Territories of the United | tifled themselves with one or another of the other States, in which it may exist, is inhibited by allthe considerations in regard to the rights and interests of the inhabitants of the said Territories. the security of the slaveholding States, and the Union," will not, we are assured, encounter danger to the Union, which are mentioned in single word of dissent from any Whig, who the preceding resolution, as forbidding any interference with, or action on, the subject of slavery be the adhesion of all National Whige to the dein the District of Columbia; and for the further reason that the people of those Territories, when admitted into the Union as States, will be exclusively entitled to decide the question of the existence of slavery within their respective limits for

THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCES.

We are gratified to perceive that this ret ournal, upon whose supposed indifference in the pending contest the lecofoco press have been a unctiously felicitating themselves, has fully come out in support of MILLARD FILLMORE. In its issue of Tuesday morning last, in a long and cauand we are bound to believe that they will go to dorse, as we felt sure they would, the action of Whigs, who have already committed themselves to the support of a candidate other than Mr. Fill-" He are not surprised at the result of the de- more, and intimate, -what is doubtless the case -that if the Whig Convention had been called at an earlier day in the campaign, the result, as regards some of those Whige who have expressed s determination to support Buobanen, might have been different

We give below the greater portion of the se ticle of the "Intelligencer," and renest the expression of our gratification that this shipsing by the action of the Convention itself, from first | leader in all important contents for Whig principles, in times gone by, has again mounted guard

"We are not unaware of the many difficulties and embarrassments which, in the present unsettled state of political parties, have thus far rendered the question of duty, in the approaching Presidential election, one of no easy solution to see many Whigs as still remain unconstituted to the approach of the many whigh as still remain unconstituted to the approach of the many whigh as still remain unconstituted to the approach of the many whigh as still remain unconstituted to the approach of the many which is the present unset in the Territories.

Yeary respectfully, yours, &c., either of the great parties at present contending for the supremacy. It was therefore in the hop that, by the mutual interchange of opinions and counsel, the National Whiga of the Union would he able to arrive at some clearer conception of their duty to their country, as well as with a tional Whig party, that we have heretofore, common with journals in other parts of the coun-try approved the proposition for a Convention in which the Whigs of the several States should be epresented by their chosen delegates. Such a Convention has now been held. seemblage so respectable, alike for numbers and ntelligence, as was this Convention - though not epresenting, as could have been wished, all the States of the Confederacy—If composed of Whigh and only Whige, would be fairly entitled to the the Union. Respecting the general composition of that Convention, we have no means of judging what if professed to be, a Convention of White, Whig party, are presumed never to have avowcal organization. The unenimity which marked the proceedings of the Convention, and the liberty to speak of the explanation received from promptitude with which they arrived at a choice of candidates, no doubt truly reflected the sentiment of those whom they represented.

In addition to the personnel of the Convention, every true Whig, we are satisfied, will be able to find much in its general proceedings and in the tenor of its resolutions to which he will yield a hearty concurrence. That it should have commenced its deliberations by invoking the spirit and resorting afresh to the lessons of the PATES PATRIM as contained in his Foresell Address cannot but be regarded, we think, as an auspi-cious incident, the conception of which does honer alike to the distinguished gentleman who proposed and to the Convention which adopted it Not only was it a most fitting act of patriotic reverence for the character of Washington, but the Address itself is replete with counsels which the lapse of time and the changes of opinion in our country render only more wise and more apand angry contention, for the purpose of securing propriate in each succeeding age and generation Next to the invocation of the Most High, what act of homage could be rendered more proper than that which pledges the fealty of the Whice of WASHINGTON ? we have already briefly spoken in introducing them to our readers. As we said then, we say now, that in the main they are satisfactory to us, as we doubt not they will also be to the large majority of the Whigs who have not fully idenparties in the country. These resolutions, so far as they affirm a "reverence for the Constitution and an "analterable attachment to the National worthy of the name. Equally unanimous will be the adhesion of all National Whige to the declaration announcing as "a fundam of their political taith the absolute necessity of evoiding geographical parties." The paramount consideration of the dangers to be apprehended from a Northern sectionalism on the one hand, and from a Southern sectionalism on the other, seems to have properly controlled the action of the Convention in the selection of its candidates; for this consideration, besides forming the burder of several distinct resolutions, is formally and repeatedly recited as the one sufficient reason for the nomination of Mr. Fillmore, who, "beyond all the other attributes" which adorn his personal and public character, is regarded as possessing the "one transcendent merit of being the reprementative of neither of the sectional struggling for political supremacy." To this effect it will suffice to cite the following resolution:

"Resolved, That, without adopting or referring to the peculiar doctrines of the party which has already selected Mr. Fillmore as its candidate, we look to him as a well-tried and faithful friend of the Constitution and the Union, eminent alike for his wisdom and firmness; for his justice and oderation in our foreign relations; for his calm pacific temperament, well becoming the head of a great and enlightened Government; for his devotion to the Constitution in its true spirit, and his inflexibility in executing all laws passed under its authority; but, beyond all these attributes in possessing the one transcendent meril of being the representative of neither of the two sectional par-

regular readers, that this resolution asserts nothing in praise of Mr. FILLMORS, as a Whip and an approved statesman, which has not already been said of our own "mere motion," as no less a tribute to historical truth than to the personal character of that gentleman. Disconnected as is their endorse ment by the Whig Convention with any "adop-tion" of or even "reference" to the "peculiar pinious of the party which has already selected Mr. FILLMORE as its candidate," we are free to confess our gratification at the selection by the Whige of one so worthy of the compliment paid nim, and who, if he shall accept the nomination in the same spirit, will be deserving of the realous

FILLMORE OPPOSED TO "SQUATTER SOVEREIGNTY !"

Osa e true Southern man longer hesitate b tween the "Squatter Sovereign" and the Mode The following correspondence, which we clip from the Memphis Eagle, explains itself. Col. JOSEPH S. WILLIAMS: Dear Sir-Un derstanding that you receptly had a conversation with the Hon. Millard Fillmore, on the subject of "Popular" or "Squatter Sovereignty," in which he frankly expressed bis views on that important question, I write to request you to put the subservedly to the principles of the Utah and New Mexico Billi, which are utterly antagonistic to the Buchausn and Van Buren doctrine of "Squatter Governignty," but the people, I have no doubt, would like to hear what Mr. Fillmore this instant, saking, for publication, the sub-stance of a conversation between Hon. Millard Fillmore and myself, upon the subject of "Squatter" or Territorial Sovereignty, has just been han-ded ma. I cheerfully comply with your request, ference to the matter.

Upon my seturn home from the North, I caled to see Mr. Filmore at his home in Buffalo. New York, on the 4th last. During our conver-estion, I asked him what he thought of "Squater Sovereignty," and in reply, he entered into a free and unreserved expression of his views. He said he was decidedly opposed to this doctrine, as advocated by Cass, Douglas, Buchanan, Van Buren and others; he believed that a Territory, until its inhabitants were sufficiently numerous to authorise the formation of a State Constitu tion, preparatory to admission into the Union as a State, could only be regarded as in a condition of pupilage, possessing no sovereignty whatever; and referred to the Utah and New Mexico Territorial bills, canctioned by him, as a correct inication of his opinions.

I was gratified to find that Mr. Fillmore oc upled the same position upon this question which is maintained by the American party in the South, and by the whole band of national Americans of the North, headed by such men as and ethers, and I told him I would like to be at him. He replied he had expressed the same views to others, and that I could make such use of them as I thought proper.

Yours, truly,
JOSEPH S. WILLIAMS. Mr. Williams, the writer of the foregoing state ment, is a planter of Louisiana, and is vouched for by the Kagle as a gentlemen of high character and standing, both in that State, and in Tennessee, where he formerly resided.

It will be seen that Mr. Fillmore comes ou boldly against the odious, unconstitutional, abolitice dectrine of "Squatter Sovereignty"-a doctrine which Mr. Calhoun denounced as "the most monstrous ever advanced by an American statesman," and as "worse than Wilmot Proviso-ism; a doctrine, termed by the Bichmond Enquirer " fair but false and fatal theory," "an imposture, "an ugly idol, worshipped only by fools and de magogues:" a doctrine, which the whole Southof the United States to the name and example era Democracy in 1848 repudiated-swearing, by all that was sacred to Southern men, they "would never support any candidate for the Presidency or Vice Presidency who maintains it!" Let Southern Democrate comply with their solemn pledges. In order to do so, they must throw Mesere. Buchanan, Breckinridge and Van Buren everboard, and go for Fillmore, Donelson and

> A GAME THAT WON'T WIN. Under this caption, the Columbus Enquirer hes the following, which takes off the vain bragging of the Buchaneer Democracy in happy style. It is easy to see, though, that the recent Northern elections have had the effect of greatly moderating the boastful tone of these office-hunters and spoilemen. They don't brag quite as high now as they did a few week ago. On the contrary, they are particularly down in the mouth-very. "sad" They see the handwriting on the wall, and they consequently shake in the kness. They feel and know that Buchanan's chances are utterly hopeless, and that their own prospects for the spoils are gloomy indeed. But here is the way our Georgia contemporary hits

"To we into all the land and BRAG to every cregive," was the "great commission" given at Cincinnati to every Democratic politician; and right well shey have obeyed the mandate. Had the Saviour's commission to his apostles been half as salouely and industriously fulfilled, we might ere this have caught the dawning light of the Millenium. In the South, the cry has been that Fillmore had no strength at the North, while Buchapan was sure to get non-slaveholding States spough to insure his triumphant election ; while at the North, an effort has been made to discourage the friends of Fillmore by telling them that Buthanen would sweep every Southern State. Thus the game of brag has been played ever since the return of the delegates from Cincinnati. Unfortunately for the party, time enough intervened to test the truth of their boasts, and the results are sapidly undsceiving the people. The Democratic strongholds at the North—the frowning castles that were to laugh to scorn the batteries of the Black Republican enemy—have surrendered al-most without firing a gan; and the conviction is now forced upon the Southern mind, that the now forced upon the Southern mind, that the vaunted Democratic strength at the North is all an empty boast and sheer delusion. Col. Joyner was a native, we believe, of Martin County. He represented that County in the House of Commons in 1812 and 1818, during the war with England; sud he commanded a regi-ment of troops at Norfolk during the war. No officer was more devoted to his soldiers or more popular with them. He was for many years a merchant at Norfolk and in Halifax, and by his energy and superior business talents; accumulated a handsome estate. He was the architect of his own fortune, having been been to no inheritance, and never having been birssed with the opportunities of a finished education. As a financier he had but few equals in the State. Col. Joyner represented the County of Halifax in the State Senate from 1835 to 1860, inclusive; and was Speaker of that body for several sessions, in which position he acquitted himself with dig-nity, impartiality, and firmness. He was a devoted friend of internal improvements, and of all State measures which, in his judgment, were cal-culated to develop the State's resources and add her power and wealth, -Standard.
