GREAT GEOGRAPHICAL DISCOVERY IN GEORGIA. - A Dry Swamp . - Interesting intelligence has just been received from the State survey of the Okefenokee Swamp, which covers nearly a fourth of the man of Georgia. The great swamp does not appear to be a swamp after all. So far from being impeded by water, the expedition suffered severely three wells for drinking and cooking purpo ses. The underwood also was found of almost fabulous thickness, through which they were compelled to cut their way with knives. whereby they were so much delayed as to be in danger of starvation, their supplies being exhausted. The most erroneous opinions have been entertained of the extent and nagives any idea of its geography. The survey will prove a fortunate venture. The submerged por ion is found to be easily drained, whereby thousands of acres of the most val-

We regret to say that the great Inaugaration ball in Washington, notwithstandng the able management of Mr. Rufus Choate, and the magnificent suppor provided by Gautier, proved a failure-not indeed as to the shuffles, single and double, or the champagne -not as in the music and merrithose who attended—but as to the amount of Independence. cash which the enterprising managers found the banquet hall deserted.
