FROM NICARAGUA.

From the N. Y. Express of Friday. We have been unable to learn the precise particulars in relation to the surrender of Col. Anderson, but a passenger by the Star of the West states that Com. Paulding sent several armed boats up the river to Fort Castillo, and commanded Anderson to surrender. While negotiations were in The Descret News of November 4th says:—The ed calling on the Secretary of War for a report of progress Anderson sunk one of the Lake steamers company from Caron began to arrive on the lat the Commission on War Claims in Oregon and be now on board the steamer Wabash.

Dr. Handley, one of Colonel Anderson's officers, has made a statement of the affair, -which appears to have been very simple. The whole history of California paper with the following : the Anderson portion of the Walker expedition The force of the Mormons has been greatly over is contained in this brief account :

From the Herald. We landed on the 24th November, at the mouth of the Colorado river, with 40 men and 5 officers, under command of Col. Anderson. We proceeded up the river to take possession of Leat's Island, on the San Juan river. We worked our way up in common four-oared boats against a three-mile current. It was hard pulling, and took us twenty four hours, without sleeping, to make twenty-four miles. We rowed all night, and landed early next morning in the surf. We left Leat's Island for Fort Castillo on the 29th, by order of Gen. Walker, to get the steamer, if possible, and take possession of the fort.

We landed one mile below Fort Castillo at 8 o'clock on the night of the 3d of December .o'clock next morning. Dec. 4th, when we attacked the fort, and after killing one man, took it by surprise. We captured six places of cannon, with 150 stand of arms, and made prisoners of Col. Princisco Alderado and eighty men under his command. We also got possession of three steamers. On the 5th, we sent the steamer Ogden and captured the steamer Virgin nine miles above at the confirmation of the report that was Captain Sands then came on board the Ogden and left soon, saying he would send an engineer and pilot on board, get up steam and take us down. We arrived in the harbor on the 28th Docember, when we were shipped on board the Fulton, and thence proceeded to Aspinwall, where we arrived the first of January, 1858.

There is a rumor here that Nicaragua and Coste Pira have edjusted their difficulties-Costa Rica abandoning all pretensions to the Forts of San Carlos and Castillo, as well as the control of the San Juan river. Costs Rica also consents that the department of Guanacasta, which is occupied by the government of Costa Rics shall be nomimally considered the territory of Nicaragua.

Mr. Burlingame, coming from the district of Massachusetts in which the Company is located, thought it right that the investigation should be had. He took occasion to speak in high terms of the character of the Lawrences, but-would not shield the firm if they were guilty of wrong.

Mr. H. W. Davis spoke of the rumors of a corrupt press. He stood in no fear of it. He held it in such utter contempt that he should take no no-tice of it except before a grand jury for vile libel. This case was different. The statement was made on a responsible name. The money may have got into the hands of agents. But if it reached the hands of a member of Congress, let him die

Mr. Kunkel, of Pa., was anxious for the investigation. He knew nothing of the character of the firm of Lawrence, Stone & Co., but he did know that these "merchant princes" struck hands with the free-trade party in the last Congress to crush the interests of his State. Mr. Harris, of Illinois, said that the investiga-tion did not affect the Democratic side of the House, and concluded his remarks by offering an amendment proposing to examine into the charges made against Mr. Matteson, a member of the last House. But it was ruled out of order.

Mr. Grow protected against any resolution which would not give the accused an opportunity to be confronted with the witnesses, as, he coutended, was the case during the last session.

Mr. Letcher opposed the form of the resolution.

He wanted the facts reported to the House, with

The commissioners have already decided that there shall be four or more crossings from east to west, across the park; that it shall contain a parade ground of from twenty to forty acres, three play grounds of from three to ten acres each, a hall for grounds of from three to ten acres each, a hall for exhibitions and concerts, an observatory, a skating ground, and an indefinite number of foutsins, towers, entrances, arches, statuary and flower gardens. One thousand one hundred and twenty men are engaged in breaking stone and laying the stone wall that is to enclose the grounds. This wall is to be about six feet in height, built of rough stone, but very evenly laid, and is princi-pally intended to keep cattle from entering the park. A considerable portion of it is already con-structed. It is estimated that the park will be entirely laid out and in every way complete for the use of the public in three years, but its value will, of course, increase with tmie.
