RALEIGH. N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN'Y 22, 1859.

PROSPECTUS OF THE

WEEKLY RALEIGH REGISTER. PIPTY-EIGHTH VOLUME.

S INCE I TOOK CHARGE OF THE RALFIGH list has been steadily increasing, but it is not now half as large as it ought to be, and not half as large at it will be by the end of the present year, if my friends will exert themselves in their respective localities throughout the State.

THE CASH SYSTEM.

As there are yet a large number of names on my subscription list from whom I have never yet received the first cent, and as there are, doubtless, many of these who never intend to pay anything, I have determined to strike off every name from my list on the first of April next which is not credited at that time with an advance payment. I doubt not that there are many in arrears to me who fally latend paying, but in striking delinquents from my list, I cannot discriminate. The good and the bad must all go together, unless they send the advance payment for the paper. This course on my part is rendered imperative on account of the loases which I am likely to sustain from non-paying subscribers; and, in consideration of the great expense which I have to incur in publishing a newspaper, I cannot believe that those who are willing to pay at all will take offence.

INDUCEMENT TO CLUBS.

As an inducement to clubs, I have determined to reduce my club rates as follows: TERMS :- Single copy, one year, Six copies, one year,

Ten copies, one year, Payments always in advance. My club rates apply to new subscribers only,

20 Postmasters are authorized to act as my agents in obtaining subscribers and forwarding the money,

Weekly, and $4 for the Semi-Weekly. Money may always be forwarded at my risk in Persons from a distance sending advertisements, are requested to forward the amount they wish to pay for their insertion in every instance, and they may rely on my doing them justice.

Address, John W. Syne, Editor of the Register, Raleigh, N. C.

LEGISLATIVE.

It will be seen by reference to our Legislative proceedings in another column, that on Tuesday Mr. Bledsoe's ad valorem bill was discussed at length and rejected.

On Wednesday, in the Senate, the Coal Fields Road bill passed its 3rd reading by a a majority of 3. The bill to charter the Bank of Commerce at Newbern passed its

WOULD SMELL AS SWEET."

On reference, to the proceedings of the House of Commons on Monday last, it will be seen that, on motion of Mr. Outlaw, the vote rejecting the Greensboro' and Danville connection bill was reconsidered in order that a substitute might be introduced in the shape of a bill authorizing the building of a Railroad from the North Carolina Railroad to Dan River Coal Fields-provided it does not go nearer to Danville than twen'y miles, or within two miles of the Virginia line.

Now, we do not mean to charge indirect purposes on the proposers of this Road, but we have a right to show, and shall show, what will be the inevitable consequence of the passage of this bill.

Mr. Bullock might well take alarm at it. and suspect that the bill was, in effect, the Danville connection bill, rejected so signally on Saturday last. The Richmond & Danville Road is altogether within the jurisdiction of Virginia, and if this Rockingham Road is carried-and why should it not he -within two miles of the Virginia ia would have to do would be to pass strictive commercial laws existing on the Island when there is a gap of but fuco miles between the two Roads, can any one doubt that a tariff. connection between them, close and immediate, will be formed directly ? Mr. Outlaw's remedy, of a forfeiture of the charter of the have Yard at Brooklyn and Philadelphia, Blockingham Road in the event of its con- thus diverting the public money for electioneernection with the Richmond & Danville Road, was, we know, honestly meant; but we all know that a subsequent Legislature may rapeal or modify that provision, and in all Jas. W. Long to the Orange Guards of Hillsprobability would do it, inasmach as private borough, N. C., -music by Anna W. Poole, could be no objection of "a violation of rights vested under a charter" urged against their application.

In the words of our caption, we repeat, that " a rose by any other name would smell as sweet," and we would as soon have voted for the bill which was rejected on Saturday by such an overwhelming majority, as for this Rockingham road, so soon to be " a connection." We have never pondered much upon "the difference between tweedledum and tweedledee."

Hear what the Enquirer of Big Richmond says on the subject of the defeat of the Danville connection bill

A SHORT SIGHTED POLICY .- "The defeat the Greenshoro' and Danville connection should only spur the efforts being made for the Clarks ville connection. We hope the efforts now on foot will be pushed on with zeal, and that this connection will be completed at the very earliest day, This connection will force the Greensboro' and Danville connection. The people of Western North Carolina baving once experienced the benefits of the Richmond market, even with the tax of a circuitous route via Raleigh and Clarksville, will force the Greensboro' and Danvil'e connection.

FINE JOB WORK DONE AT THE "REG-ISTER JOB OFFICE."-We don't intend to " blow our own trumpet," but let our worthy friend, Mejor Vass, the excellent Secretary and Treasurer of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company, do it for us. A few days since a large Job was done at this office for the Raleigh and Gaston Company, and on its completion, Msj. Vass pronounced it the very best Job of Printing which had ever $ 2 00 been done for the Company. This species of work had been previously ordered from the North, but Major Wilder, on becoming President, determined to see if it could not be as well done here, and behold the result. from Currituck; venire de novo. Also, in State The Job was rule and figure work, and was Jenkins, from Gates, directing the judgment to be a very difficult one to do. The fact is, the collect the full price for the paper, vir: $2 for the Register Job Office can now turn out as good job work, and on as reasonable terms, as any establishment in the Union.

The se sion of the House Saturday-the Senate not sitting-was not important. Several resolutions of inquiry relative to the navy, were submitted, and the following information from the Secretary of that Department, is in reply to

The number of seamen in the naval service is that authorized by law, namely, 8,500. The total number of vessels is 88.

The death of Mr. Harris, of Illinois, was aunounced in Congress on Monday, and, consequently, very little public business was done. In the Senate, previous to the eulogies on such occasions no great number of amendments have been Mr. Seward offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling on the Secretary of the Treesury for in formation relative to the palm-oil trade on the Coast of Africa. A debate, lasting unwards of an hour, took place on a motion to take from the table the resolution directing the "A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME Finance Committee to report a bill to limit the expenditures of the Government within the revenue. The matter was not disposed of. In the House a resolution was adopted that during the ensuing two weeks the House will hold evening ssions for general debate. Mr. Stephens, o Georgia, made an effort to have Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week set apart for Perritorial business, but it failed.

The House Special Committee on the Pacific Railroad on Monday took decidedly adverse action with reference to the prosecution of that enterrise. They voted down all propositions looking to its immediate construction, leaving only the resolution offered by Mr. Stevenson, of Kentucky that "it is impolitic to embark in the construction

On Tuesday the Senate adopted a resolution calling for all the correspondence with Spain in

The Pacific Railroad bill was so encumbered with amendments, as to render it unintelligible .-Its consideration was therefore postponed, in crder that the bill might be printed.

In the House the bill giving recorders of land offices a fixed satary of $2,500 per annum was passed Another was passed extending the time for the bounty land act. Another for repaying amounts aid the government for public land. Another authorizing the pre-emption of lands in the 16th and 56th sections.

The bill for the codification of the revenue laws was defeated by a large majority. The House then went into Committee of the

THE BARGE "ENTERPRISE."

We have been permitted, (says the Norfolk Herald,) to take a copy of the following letter to a gentleman in this city:

PLYMOUTH, N. C., Jan. 10, 1859. The new iron barge "Enterprise," recently built Wilmington, Del., and owned by J. H. Anthony, Esq., and the Messrs. Smith, of Scotland Neck, arrived here this morning, in tow of the teamer Loper, Capt. Phillips, from the mouth of North River, whence she had been towed by the "Calypso," though the Albemarle and Chesapeake

This is the largest barge that ever floated on the waters of the noble Roanoke, carrying 12,000 bushels of grain and 800 bales of cotton. She was visited by many and much admired. Truly she is a beauty, and manifests what her name in-

It is fitting that such a vessel should be the first o pass through the new Canal which, when comcted, is destined to be the great thoroughfare of nearly the entire rich products of Eastern North Carolina. It is certainly the very best policy for our State to give this enterprise its aid and encouragement: as the increased revenue it would receive, by reason of the increased value of property made so much more contiguous to market, would abundantly remunerate, independent of full dividends which undoubtedly will be derived from stock invested.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Jan'y 16. A causus of Democratic Senators was held yesterday, on the President's recommendation, in reference to Cuba. A debate of three or four hours's length ensued, involving the question whether any steps should be taken in relation to t, and, if so, of what character. According to the best attainable information, Mr. Mason made the epening speech, and was followed by Messrs. Hunter and Shields. Though favorable to the acquisition of Cuba, they thought action at this time impolitic, and calculated to impair rather than to improve our prospects to that end. Mr. Doug-las regarded the appearances as gloomy, but would support Mr. Slidell's bill, placing in the bands of the President thirty millions of dollars to be used in negotiation. He expressed the belief that the President would not endorse this measure without sufficient data to justify him in so doing. Mr. Douglas had long desired the acquisition of Cuba. In his judgment there was but one mode, and that was, on the happening of another case similar to that of the Black Warrior, to seize the island by Mr. Davis and others did not like the suggesion of Mr. Douglas. The disscussion at this stage became intensely interesting, the best ability of the participants therein being put forth. Mr. Slidell, of course, advocated his own bill. - Messrs. Davis, Toombs, Gwin, Bigler and Clay, favored the idea of increasing to a sufficient extent the foreign intercourse fund, leaving the matter to the liscretion of the President, as in previous cases. Mr. Iverson thought Spain could be wearied with the question of Cuba by a repeal of such parts of our laws as restrain the action of our citizens towards foreign powers, or something to that effect. The determination of the caucus was, with a few exceptions, to favor the recommendation of the President, although the precise mode in which it hould be consummated was not so clearly indicated, but the probability is that the Senate will pass Mr. Slidell's bill. WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 .- The Senate Committee

REMARKS OF MR. LEACH OF JOHNSTON ON THE UNFINISHED BUSINESS OF WEDNESDAY, BEING MR. BLEDSOE'S BILL TO ALTER THE CONSTITUTION.

Mr. Speaker :- I rise for the purpose of ancouncing the painful and melancholy fact, that the twin sister to free suffrage, the constitutional reform bill by Legislative enactment, introduced by the gentleman from Wake, is dead; I pronounce it a clear case of infanticide. I saw the foul deed perpetrated, by a certain organ grinder, in this city. I knew before it was perpetrated what would be the result. The accoucheur who officiated on the occasion may do to catch Know Nothings, tut Sir, he wont do to catch babies. I move, Mr. speaker, the bantling be buried with military honors [Here the remarks of the speaker were in-terrupted by laughter.] He remarked that he hoped the friends of the deceased would not disturb the solemnisy of the occasion, by unbecoming levity, or loud laughter.

THE VERY BEST OF THE SEASON -- FOOTE

The following, on Gov. Foote, is too good to be ost-and, as we are accured by a party present, that it is literally true, we lay it before our readers. In fact, the person who gave us the information is a gentleman of integrity and honor, in whom we have implicit confidence. Here it is: - Vicks

A few days ago a company of gentlemen were A few days ago a company of gentlemen were traveling up the Mississippi river, between Vicksburg and Memphis, on the steamer Antelope. In the crowd was a politician of great notoriety, particularly in the State of Mississippi, who was eloquent and incassant in his advocacy of Judge Douglas for the Presidency:—"Every position of Douglas was Democratic, every pulsation of his heart Southern, every element of his nature constitutional and conservative all the leading states. Bourse had taken place, and a decline of a + per titutional and conservative, all the leading states men and politicians of the South and West his ar-

During an animated panegyric upon the perfections of the "Little Giant," all the gents of the cabin had congregated around the "interminable talker," some asking one question and some another, all of which were answered by the statement of facts all within the "cortain personal knowledge" of the speaker, when one gent asked "How is Kentucky upon the Douglas question?" The speaker turned to him with an air of great dignity and a peculiar expression of countenace, as much as to say: There I am at home," and replied. "Kentucky, sir, is right, and, to my certain mowledge, every prominent politician in the State is in favor of Douglas. I have very lately been in Kentucky and conversed with every member of Congress, and every one (and particularly Dr. Peyton, the most prominent of them all,) is in favor of Douglas. A very fine looking, quiet stranger, who had been listening without saying anything, appeared struck with the last remark, and asked the speaker if he understood him to say that Dr. Peyton was a Douglas man. "O, yes," he replied, "I know him intimately, and within the last four weeks he has assured me of the fact." The stranger rose up and spoke as follows: Sir, I am Dr. Peyton, the member of Congress referred to, and though I have heard much of you, I have never had the honor of your acquaintance, or of speaking to you, until now, and so far from being a Douglas man, sir, I am against him all the way from h-ll to Halifax. Nor is there a prominent man in Kentucky for him, except Mr. Dixon, who is in favor of a new party." The effect of this reply can be better imagined than described. The shout that went up from that crowd made the Antelope tremble. The Douglas orator, instead of melting down into his boots, turned towards Dr. Peyton, and remarked. you Dr. Peyton, sir? Most happy to see you, sir -delighted to make your acquaintance, sir-think I once saw you, sir, when I was in the Senate. hem!" F. called all hands to take a drink, and amidst the most terrific guffaws, they all drank, health to Dr. Peyton, and confusion to Douglas and his schemes for the Presidency."

OFFICIAL CORRUPTION .- The Washington States says that Mr. Bowman, the Superintendent of Public Printing, "has detected and exposed to public indignation such enormities of abuse as are not paralleled in the annals of corruption. Besides producing innumerable instances of contempt for contracts, excessive charges, and violation of law in the execution of the public printing, he has signalised a particular case wherein the government was plainly robbed of a hundred housand dollars."

All this is done while the Treasury is almost empty, and Government is about to ask for anothloan. If Democratic officials plunder the Preasury thus openly and boldly, it is time the people were thinking of making a change. But such a thing as cheating the Government has become so common an occurrence of late that sealp and hair. scarcely any notice appears to be taken of it.

A RUSSIAN VIEW OF THE ACQUISITION OF CUBA.-The Russian organ, published at Brussels, in speaking of the President's hankering after "The war which would result from it would be far more disastrous than that Crimean war which has cost so much gold and blood to the world. It would be a war with a nation whose products are the first element of industry to all parts of the world, and whose commercial intercourse makes an important branch of income for most governments. It would be a violent rupture of all the arteries of commercial circulation; it would be a fatal separation between Europe, which needs America, and America, which can dispense with Europe. Take from England the gold of California, and the cotton of Louisiana, and her industry will at once be stopped in its prosperous action .-We sincerely hope that such terrible occurrences will not take place."

FOR THE REGISTER.

LITTLE ADA On vesterday I witnessed an extraordinary and quite an affecting scene. A beautiful and intelligent little dog, the pet of the whole family at Belle Mont, died, and I was permitted to see them pay the last tribute of respect to her memory.— Little Ada was brought from Washington City in 1851, and immediately adopted into the family. In all the remarkable instances of Canine sagacity, intelligence and affection on record, and all the cases which have come under my own observation. I have never read or seen any case equal to Ada. So docile, so affectionate, so modest and yet so extremely jealous of her mistress' person and property. She knew perfectly well every person connected with the family, though they might have been absent for months, and even years. To a person unacquainted with the very great attachment and affection which this family felt for her, the preperations for her interment, on yesterday, would have been amusing .-To see a mother and three daughters, (one of them married.) and a son fourteen years of age, gathered around the little pet, weeping and grieving as though the monster had invaded the amily circle and snatched some loved one away, stimulated my lachmyral glands to an increased secretion, and through sympathy with the family, I could not but weep. She was neatly shrouded and deposited in a coffin, and last night we buried her beneath the wide-spreading branche of two majestic cedars. It is a lovely spot. On an eminence over looking the country for miles around, with scenery of surpassing grandeur, and beauty.

These two cedars stand side by side in the yard, surrounded by mighty Oaks which have successfulbattled with the fury of a thousand storms .-Last night, as we deposited her remains in the grave, I almost envied the little dog. The cold and passionless moon serenely witnessed the scene, and was the only spectator around. As the and servants ga around her grave, I offered a devout prayer to God in secret, that when I die, my death may be as deeply lamented as little Ada's, and that I might transmit to my posterity, a name and a character, as remarkable for virtues, and as exempt from BELLE MONT, N. C. Jan. 14, 1859.

THE REVOLUTION IN HAYTI

Boston, Jan. 18.—Additional intelligence from Hayti says a new government had been formed by the revolutionists, and a decree issued, reviving the Republican Constitution of 1846, denouncing Soulouque's administration, robbing him of all power, and authorizing Geffard to call together the Legislature.

GEN. SCOTT'S OVERCOAT STOLEN .- When Gen. cott arrived in New Orleans, some one near him in the crowd which pressed around him at the St. Charles, asked permission to carry his over-coat. The General granted the request, and the person in carrying out his intentions in getting the coat in his possession, carried it entirely away, and the General has not heard of it since. MACON HOUSE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH, VA.

THAIS HOUSE IS THE MOST PLEASantly situated of any Hotel in the city. It is near the river, and has bathing facilities equal to those at Old Point Comfort. It is also near the steamboat landing and railroad depot, and within ten min-ntes walk of the Navy Yard and Naval Hospital, places well worthy a visit. The chambers, parlors, and dining room, are very airy, and the accommodations are unexcelled by any Hotel in the city. In making no estentations publication of its being the most "splendid and unequaled Hotel," the proprietors, however, hope, by a dus regard to the comforts of their guests, o make it a pleasant and satisfactory home, and like the distinguished statesman of the Old North State. the late Nathanied Macon, whose name it bears, by its intrinsic and modest merit to continue to deserve the liberal patronage it has received, and to make many WM. Familiar with the principal hotels in several States, and having had several years experience in travelling, we venture the assertion that the Macon, in what constitutes a first class hotel, is not inferior to any, either North or South. True, others may and do present a finer appearance, a more gaudy equippage, but none surpass the Macon in substantial entertainment and heerful compliance with the wishes of the guests. This is no fancy sketch, nor yet is the description verwrought. Every one who stops at this house will attest our correctness—we only regret we are not able to render ample justice to the gentlemanly propretors for their energy to serve the public in an acceptable manner, and to a hotel which should be the pride and the home of the traveller who passes through, or stops in that city; and we hope that all our readers will do

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR.

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD

Compounded Entirely From GUMS, TS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings expedienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate dones, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.
