A LAUDABLE CURIOSITY?

It is said, or sung, that "Hope tells a flattering tale," and doubtless, in the "gen- of his having once been a "poor tailor," &c. eral," Hope does that very thing. A timehonored maxim, however, teaches us that there are exceptions to every general rule. and we now claim the benefit of that "exception."

In few words, we most positively declare sympathy for the working man. The Journal that, without any, the least bit of "flattery" comes back at the Standard in an article full to our humble self, we solemn'y believe that of cruel satire. We quote : we have nothing of the Paul Pry in our com-position—that while we do use an "umbrella" for having oden a tailor, or being a tailor now. on a warm or wet day, we never "drop in" It has always appeared to us, that there is no greatto ascertain what our neighbor has for dinner stantly referring to its humble origin, and contrastor to pick up any little talk about him or ing it with its present position. If it were not his concerns-that if twins or trins were value upon it-did not regard it as something looked for by any of our neighbor's family, very superior indeed to that in which it started, it would not be always exhibiting such a fidgety and he was rewarded by an abortion, we self-consciousness. It would not ilways be, in should be masonically silent—as silent as effect, saying "See how I have risen. I was once our Worth Brother and Grand Secretary Bain, on the subject. We have a right to kind. This sort of thing we depise." say this, and our well-established character Now, when it is remembered that Citizen forbids peremptorily contradiction from any Holden occasionally refers to his "humble quarter.

Who will deny that the parts of the extract from the Journal, which we have italicized, are intended as the curiosity of one who looks, or tries to look into the actions and prospective actions homethrusts at our neighbor, and we insist of great and influential men-men who give that it is excessively cruel in the Journal to the "very age and body of the times its form be so satirical on Citizen Holden. # RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 23, 1859.

The Louisville Journal, cheered by the Signa

n the Virginia and Kentuc's horizons, remarks: "The examples set by the Opposition in Virginand Kentucky have given encouragement to conservatives and strength to conservatism everywhere. The New York Express well observes that, when Virginia and Kentucky agree to "set the ball in motion," the ball is bound to roll. The resurrection to life and vigor of the old Whig party in one simultaneously with the union ( for he sake of the Union) of all parties against the Adminstration in the other, are unmistakeable signs of a drift before which the extravagant, unprincipled, and profligate party who have the present control of the General Government will and it impossible to stand. These cheering indications, it should be added, are not confined to the South The Opposition came together very quiet-ly in little Rhode Island, the other day, and had no difficulty in agreeing to extend a cordial support to one and the same candidate for Governor. This was an eminently national proceeding, and its salutary influences, ere long, must tell favora-bly upon the action of the rest of New England. New Jersey, the Opposition may be said to be nited already; and in Pennsylvnia, we have the pression that-no matter what the leaders, or he dictators, or the political machine-men, or all f them together, may do, or think-the people at large are strongly inclined, not only to sympathize with the movement so nobly begun in Virginia and Kentucky, but to do their full part, when the proper time comes, to insure its triumphant success. There may be differences and disagreement upon minor points and upon local questions; but there is not, and there ought not to be, any difference whatsoever as to the necessity of recuing the country from the mildew of Lecompton Democracy, with its sectional tests, tyrannical proscriptions, and imbecile financial policy, at ome, and its military protectorates, Ostend manifectoes, and thirty million humbugs, abroad --With such a starting point as this, the rest of the journey ought not to be, and-if the political machine-men are but kept off the track-will not be a hard road to travel.

AN HONEST CONFESSION -Senator Toombs, with all his errors, is a bold man and sometimes says what is not agreeable to his political associates. In his late speech on the revenue question, he thus spoke of the wastefulness of the National Administration

'Your appropriations for navy yards have gone to the building of houses for office's and the making of flower-pots and all that sort of thing, at a cost of $2,000,000; and it will be no less as long as you will pay it, but will go up to $4,000,000, if you do not stop it. There are $2,000,000 that you have no need for at all. You have 8,000 Increase over last year.

THE RALEIGH GAS COMPANY.

Pursuant to notice duly given, the members of the Raleigh Gas Association assembled in the Temperance Hall, on March (6th, 1859; whereupon George W. Mordecni, Esq., was called to the Chair, and Kemp P. Battle requested to act as Secretary.

At the request of the President, D. G. Fowlo. Esq., explained that the primary object of the meeting was to consider the acceptance or rejection of the charter passed at the last General Assembly, incorporating the Raleigh Gas Company. The certificate of Wm. E. Anderson, Esq., was read, showing that 176 shares of $100 each had been subscribed for.

A committee was appointed to ascertain the number of shares represented at this meeting, who reported that a majority of the whole number were represented. The charter was then read and on motion of Mr. Fowle, was unanimously acented.

The Company then proceeded to adopt a set of By-Laws and elect Directors.

The following members were chosen Directors : Dr. Thomas D. Hogg; Geo. W. Mordecai, Esq., Daniel G. Fowle, Esq., Dr. Ed. C. Fisher, Gen. Robert W. Haywood, Chas. B. Root, Esq., Kemp P. Battle, Esq.

The meeting then adjourned sine die. GEO. W. MORDECAI, Ch'mn. KEMP P. BATTLE, Sec'ry.

At a meeting of the Directors, subsequently held, Dan'l G. Fowle, Esq., was elected President of the Company, Geo. W. Mordecal, Esq., Vice President, and Wm. E. Anderson, E.q., Secretary and Treasurer.

The law office of the President was established the office of the Company.

MACON HOUSE. CITY OF PORTSMOUTH, VA.

THIS HOUSE IS THE MOST PLEAS-antly situated of any Hotel in the city. It is near the river, and has bathing facilities equal to those at Old Point Comfort. It is also near the steam-boat landing and railroad depot, and within ten min-utes walk of the Navy Yard and Naval Hospital, places well worthy a visit. The chambers, parlors, and din-ing room, are very airy, and the accommodations are unexcelled by any Hotel in the city. In making no ostentations publication of its being the most "splen-did and unequaled Hotel," the propristors, however, hope, by a due regard to the comforts of their guests, to make it a pleasant and satisfactory home, and like the distinguished statesman of the Old North State, the late Nathanied Macon, whose name it bears, by its intrinsic and modest marit to continue to deserve the THIS HOUSE IS THE MOST PLEASintrinsic and modest merit to continue to deserve the liberal patronage it has received, and to make many new friends. for Jupiter knows, Cuizen, Old Buck has been shaken most awfully. He has been, in all candor, if possible, worse shaken than your honorable Citizenship. This may seem extravagant, but in truth it is not so. Old Buck has been shaken-in fact made "a shake down," with the trifing exception that nobody wants to sleep on him or with him. You have had two politico-appoplectic attacks in about the same period. You, we grant, may partially recover-pever wholly-but you can never begin to rally until you relieve your overwrought brain so far as to tell your friends how you feel, and what you are after. Relieve yourself, then. Say, do you hold to the Administration, or do you go with the Southern Democracy. Tell an anxious would specifically whether you are in for "specifics" or going your death on ad valorems, or such other nostrums ? As Hamlet said to his father's ghost, "speak, I am bound to hear," or if you are silent, we will like Hamlet say, "It will not speak ; then I will follow it." In plain prose, Citizen, you must speak, or we must "make a ghost of you."

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

In the Standard of Saturday we find the following :

Our purpose is, if we can do so with a strict and ealous for Southern rights, to continue to co-orierate with the national Democratic party ; because we believe that the preservation and the ascend. ency of that party are indispensable to a constitutional perpetuation of the Union. Our opinion is that we can continue thus to co-operate; but the party in both sections must act with prudence judgment reversed and venire de novo. between this and the Charleston Convention, and in that body, to render this co-operation certain arei successifu

This language warrants the opinion that the writer is not at all certain whether he. will, or will not, support the Charleston nomince. Things must be conducted in a certain way between now and the meeting of the Convention "to render the co-operation" will be determined before the detarture of the of the Standard "certain and successful."

THE GOLDSBORC' TRIBUNE .- The editorial control and proprietorship of this paper has undergone several changes lately. First was the withdrawal of Mr. Pennington, now editor of the Newbern Daily Progress ; then Mr. Robinson sold out his interest in the paper to Mr. John G. Parker who was, we believe, Mr. R.'s partner ; and lastly, Mr. Parker announces, in the last Tribune, that he has committed its editorial control to Mr. T. Loring, late of the Wilmington Commercial. Mr. L , in his salutatory, makes a lame attempt to justify his apostacy from the Whig faith, and announces his intention of supporting the nominee of the Charleston Convention, no matter who or what he may be.

nos At the last general meeting of the Atlantic Telegraph Company in London, an offer was announced from the British Government of a guarantee of eight per cent. on £600.000. The conditions on which this proposition is based have not een made public ; but they do not involve the concession of special rights to the Government. The company have now gained all they have been struggling for, and by the end of August willin all probability, be in a position to go to work with the improved cable which they have been planning. Four months will amply suffice to manufacture the quantity they will require, and to make all the preliminary arrangements for laying it. With the experience they have gained in their previous efforts, and the additional mechanical impovements which they will bring to bear on this fresh experiment, there can be no reasonable doubt of its success. Some people are of opinion that now the guarantee is obtained from the British Government the old cable will begin to work again.

subscription of $2,000,000 before they were allowed to organize. The charter as passed by the Legislature required only $200,000 to be subscribed, but it was engrossed by the Clerk two millions, which error the last Legislature refused to correct, consequently it was thought that the scheme was killed; but it appears that some one came forward and took one million nine hundred thousand dollars of the stock, (whether he will ever be able to pay it is a different matter,) hence the company was organized as above stated. suppose the other hundred thousand had been subscribed by other parties.
