DENUNCIATION OF DOUGLAS. A USE FOR THE GREAT EASTERN .- The Brit-The light of truth is at last beginning to dawn upon the minds of at least some of the Southern Democracy. For example, the Memphis Avalanche, a leading and ably conducted Democratic paper, is beginning to realize the consequences of Douglas' scheme to elevate himself to the Presidency by the agitation of the slavery question, that necessarily followed the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska bill. In a recent issue, it said-and do put this in your "scrap-books":

"The truth is, Douglas has inflicted greater injury on the South than any other man in the Union, for he really created the Black Republican party. Before he began his demagoguery we had half he free States, and now to recover these that not one pastor in the whole connexion used tobacco. States he manifests a willingness to sell and degrade all the Southern States. During the last five years Douglas has contributed more than all the Abolitionists, put together to build up the strength of the Black Republican party. By his selfish ambition he has done much toward disturbing the peace of the country, and alienating the two sections of the confederacy. But for his aspirations the Democratic party would be harmonious and united, and there would not be one-half of the bate that exasperates the two sections .--Stephen A. Douglas is the most dangerous man in Mr. WILLIAM POOLE, to Miss NANCY H the Union. He should be driven from the councils of the nation." This is indeed frank and candid, and affords a full and satisfactory vindication of those who opposed the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska bill. The opponents of that measure saw in Douglas' movement-as we confess we did not-the germ of a great and overshading sectional party that would inevitably prove too strong for the Southand they warned the Southern people of the dan-gers that threatened them. But the Southern people have opened their eyes at last, and even Demogratic journals and statesmen now assert that the Kansas bill was "a cheat and a swindle." Se what the Avalanche says in regard to Douglas. confesses that Douglas "really created the Republican party." It admits that he "has done more then all the Abolitionists put together to build up the strength of the Black Republican party !" And so we say. We endorse every word in the above paragraph. But for the demagoguery of Douglas and other Democratic leaders, there would have been no Black Republican party at North-the "peace of the country" would not have been "disturbed"-and the "two sections of the confederacy" would not have been "alienated." All this is as true as gospel.

of the Elizabeth City State, that it is not our purpose to have any controversy with our friends about the appointment and authority of the Executive Committee of the Opposition Party. Whatever may be our individual opinion in the premises, we cheerfully waive it for the sake of harmony, which, if properly cultivated, will enable us to fully redeem the State next summer from the galling thraldom in which it has for years past been kept by the Democratic party.

Our purpose, in suggesting a Convention in December, was to take advantage of the feeling among our friends, which aroused by our glorious successes last August. We believed that prompt proceedings in the right direction would be of infinite advantage to our cause, and our suggestion was seconded by the Opp-sition Press of the State with singular unanimity. It must be remembered, however, that the suggestion of a particular day in December, for the meeting of the Convention, did not come from us, but from that sterling Opposition paper, the Weldon Patriot. The editor of that paper, we have no doubt, like ourself, will readily acquiesce in another day as the time of assembling the Convention, and with the "State," we hope the Executive Committee will so far heed the general wish expressed throughout has showered its honors upon him But he will the State for a Convention in December as to name some day in that month, and give nogreater than himself. He stands not a shadow of a chance for the nomination at Charleston. I tice of it promptly. Our friends of the "State" have not, we expect, diligently studied their almanac. On reference to it they will find that the "second Thursday" in December is only one day farther off than the first Wednesday.

In connection with the above, we respectfully urge upon our Opposition friends the expediency of promptly holding meetings in every County for the purpose of appointing Delegates to the Convention. That the day of the assembling of the Convention has not been named, need cause no delay in the holding of these meetings and appointing the delegates. A day will soon be fixed upon definitely, and made known in time to enable the delegates appointed to reach the post of duty in time to be present at the organization of the body so replete with interest to the Opposition party of North Carolina.

In his Augusta speech, in speaking of the Postoffice Appropriation bill, Senator Toombs, of Georgia, said

THE DANVILLE CONNECTION .- We learn from the Richmond Dispatch of Friday last that a meeting of the Richmond Board of Trade was held on Wednesday night, at which Mr. J. J. The Board listened to his expose with interest, and appointed a committee to meet and confer with the friends of the improvement at Wentworth, Rockingham county, North Carolina.

Dr. Conway, one of Mr. Simms' physicians, stated to the Mayor that the condition of his patient was less favorable than on the day before.

Old Hickory began his career as a teacher of n "Old Field School," in South Carolina, and in that vocation earned the money which supported him while he studied law. This is one among many curious and unexpected facts presented in Mr. Parton's forthcoming Life of Gen. Jackson the first volume of which is now in the hands of the printer. Many eminent Americans have begun life as teachers, but we hardly expected to find the indomitable hero of New Orleans added to the list.

In regard to the adulteration of whiskey, the analysis of some of the beverage has developed the existence in it of the poisonous constituent of Coculus Indicus, in the proportion of two grains to the pint. It is a deadly poison, and is considered fatal to human life in quantities of from five to ten grains. The death of a man from drinking whiskey, in Pennsylvania, led to the investigation. The following receipt for cold in the head may be worth trying-"Tie a handkerchief over the head at night on going to bed, taking care to cover the ears, and an incipient cold will be gone in the morning. The first symptoms of a cold should never be neglected, as the simplest remedies have effect then, which prove useless afterwards. If a cold has gained some headway, avoid liquids for twenty-four hours, and it will disappear.

On Wednesday morning last an accident occur red on the Southside railroad, a short distance from Petersburg, (Va.) which came near being another "wholesale slaughter." The engine, ten der, and three passenger cars were thrown off the track into a confused mass-entirely "smashed up." The road itself for twenty or thirty yard was completely torn up, sills, iron, and every thing. The strangest fact of all, in connexion with the accident, is that, although 'eight or ter persons were slightly injured, not one was seriousy hurt or killed. All the cars, thrown off the track were well filled with passengers.

The regular Utah correspondent of the New York Times presents a melancholy picture of that ill-governed territory. The execution of the laws is entirely defeated by the boldest acts of outrage any criminal violence, which the judicial authorities cannot, and the executive powers will not repress. The United States Circuit Court, at its August term, had endeavored to bring the leaders of these outlaws to justice; but strong in the connivance of the Federal Government, the miscreants had not only derided the process of the tribunal. but had selected persons in attendance upon it for vengeance, and had murdered them within gunthat of the Court-house. Among other evidences o his disorganization, which have been thrust upor the reluctant attention of President Buchanan, a letter from Ex-Marshal Dotson, setting forth the lamentable state of affairs in the Territory, and the need of a radical change of policy.

We feel that all the territorial possessions of the Union are now lost to the South, because we cannot send many emigrants and can send but few slaves there: our labor being needed to supply the wants of the old Southern States, while the North is receiving, on its seaboard, constant accessions of population by foreign immigration. that invariably find their way to the frontier and locate on the rublic lands. These people are. averse to slavery as an institution, from early prejudices and inculcations; and constituting, as they do, a second and entirely different grade of labor from the African, they deem it for their interest to keep slavery away from their new Western homes.
