Our conservative and intelligent contemporary the New Orleans Bee, in remarking on the disorganized condition of parties in Louisiana, candidy acknowledges that for once it is puzzled and haruly knows how to define the principles and positions of the various cardidates for office in that subscribers to the Weekly will be notified State. Whether the authors and abettors of that misrule mend to their friends in the several counties, to have a prior claim upon the adhesion of Whigs solar delegates to meet in General Convention, to would seem to be a question that admits of easy be becate on the political condition of the State, determination. Whatever may be justly or un justly said against the Recubbean organization of the North, the Whigs of the Union cannot forget that it owes its very existence and derives its daily food from the sectional egitations prov ked and fostered by the Democratic party. If, therefore, the Republican party were as edious and dangerous as the Democratic press, particularly of the South, is in the babit representing, it would only be so much the more a dogent and convincing ar gument against any affiliation with a party which has been the primal cause of the movement in question. The Republicans very possibly have been and may still be in danger of carrying their feeling of resentment to a needless extreme in point of defensive tactics, and in this line of conduct they can expect, as they ask, no co operation from the National Whigs, but we are at a loss to understand how such a want of moderation on th part of the former can be construed into a valid cisim to the character of conservatiom urged in behalf of the Democracy, since they must none the less be held mainly responsible for the political chaos which has been precipitated on the country. In the present aspect of affairs we would, therefore, advise against any coalition such as that into which Old-Line Whigs are so unctuously invited to enter. It does not become the Democracy to address any such appeals to their ancient opponents, for the Whigs cannot avoid the conviction that these expostulations are the offspring of a simulated patrictism. They remember that in other days the Democracy had no such abhorrence of "coalitions" with Freesoilers, and they therefore doubt the genuineness, or at least the di-interestedness, of the advice which is now so gratuitously proffered. that we do not hesitate to adopt it as the lead- Where slept the Democratic thunders of denunciation when a Freesoil Senator of the United States was elected from the State of Massachusetts by a combination of Democrats and Freesoilers against the National Whigs ? Why did the sentinels of Democracy neglect to cry aloud and spare not ring the fair preportions of the Intelligencer's when a similar "fusion" was effected in Vermont, in Connecticut, and elsewhere at the North? As late as the year 1854 it is known that Federal officeand impudent appeals of the Democracy to holders in the State of Massachusetts were among the most prominent supporters of the "coalition which had defeated the Whigs, and some among us perhaps have not quite forgotten the circumbelieve that the floating material, which more stances under which a distinguished functionary in the city of New York los, his head for stubbornly retusing to recognise "the Freesoil wing" of the Democracy in his appointments to office .-While the mem ry of these transactions survives we incline to believe that Whigs will not be greatly moved by the fervent "appeals" of our Democratic friends, who suddenly manifest so much more zeal for the political virtue of their ancient adversaries

THE RALEIGH POSTOFFICE HOURS. We call the attention of the citizens of Raleigh to the communication of "a Laborer" in to-days paper. While we are sure that the complaints of "a Laborer," are like others which have been preferred against the Postoffice here, well founded, we are equally strong in the belief that no redress will be obtained-it being the settled belief of the Postmaster here that ence, and not the benefit and convenience of of October Court. the community.

FOR THE REGISTER. MR. SYME:-My attention has been called to the Postmaster's reply to your very just strictures upon his management; and I, for one, thank you for concerning yourself about the inconveniences of the "dear people," about whom our Postmaster speaks so contemptuously, in his last card.

The Postoffice was established for these "people," and I am glad to see there is one man in our community whose sympathies induce him to say a word in their behalf. Let me call your attention to one great grievance to which you do not allude. Let us look into the "mail arrangements," published by the Postmaster, and see if the people have really no cause of complaint. The Favetteville mail arrives at 5 o'clock, A. M., on Sunday morning. The Office is not opened at all on Sunday. Is this a regulation of the Postoffice Department, or of the Postmaster here? It is a great grievance and should be removed. The city has been subjected to it under no previous administration of the Office; again, the Office is closed from 7 o'clock, P. M. to 10 o'clock, A. M. See the inconvenience tablished solely for the benefit of the "dear people," as the Postmester sneeringly designates those by whose sid he was placed in his responsible po- for the above branch has been awarded to Messrs. sition. People from the surrounding countrylaboring people-receiving their mail matter through this Office, come to market in the morning early and call at the Office for their papers and letters, but the Office is closed till 10 o'clock, A. M., and they are ready to leave town by 9 o'clock, and can't afford to wait. They come into town on Sunday, their only leisure day, and the Office is closed through the day. The laboring man in the city, one of the dear people whom our servant insults by his manner of alluding to him, returns from the labors of the day hungry and weary .-After supper and a little rest, he walks to the Office for his letters, but the Office is closed-closed at 7 o'c'ock, P. M. He rises early in the morning and calls at the Office on his way to his work, or even after brakfast, but the Office is closed till 10 o'clock, A. M. And this is true of every day in the week. No laboring man in the country or city can get a paper or letter from our Pos'office on any one of the seven days in the week without neglecting his work. Is this law? Do the regulations of the Department require the Office to be closed 17 hours in 24? Is no respect had to the wants and convenience of those for whom the Postoffice department was established.

The complaints of the Postmaster's management and the denunciations of his utter disregard of the wishes of the community come as loudly and heartily from his present political friends as from those with whom he once acted so zealously. And why should it not be so? A sound, well-tried Democrat was torned out of the Office to make way for of course, succeed him. His application for the Office was probably signed by as many Whigs as Democrats. MIRACLES NEVER CEASE!

THE LATEST PRODIGY OF SCIENCE. Great truths are indestructible. When Jenner averred that vaccine innoculation was a safeguard against the smallpox, the "faculty" sneered. Forty-five years later, the world laughed at Daguerre's first announcement that he could fix a shadow and render it as imperishable as substance. Even Morse's telegraph was regarded by thousands as a myth, until the first line was put up in 1844 -Now vaccination is universal, daguerreotypes are as common as wood-cuts, and we talk by telegraph

Such is necessarily the progress of a grand discovery or invention in an age like ours; and of this irresistible enward movement of the useful and beneficent in practical science, we have a still more striking example in the world-wide popularity of Holloway's great remedies. If we mistake not, they are scarcely older as an invention than the photograph and the electric telegraph and yet they are familiar to half the human race. The discoveries of Daguerre and Morse have not been him, and if he was removed, a Democrat would, applied throughout the whole area of civilization; but barbarian and semi-barbarian races, upon whom the light of Christianity has not yet da an-

FEARFUL BALLOON EXPLOSION.

The explosion of Coe's balloon, near Rome, N. Y., on Thursday, has already been briefly noticed in the Register. Since then, however, Mr. Coe has returned home, and given the particulars of the accident. He says:

The sound accompanying the explosion was about equivalent to the discharge of a musket. In about one minute after the descent was so rapid as to increase the rent in the texture of the balloon about fitty feet, thus leaving almost the entire upper portion of the air vessel open. In half a minute after the second rent was discovered there was not a foot of gas in the balloon. For nearly half a mile our de cent was at a most terrific spredfeeling the same sensation that one experiences in a high swing in a rapid motion.
