APOLOGETIC.

The late scarcity of reading matter in the columns of the Register is atributafive weeks on which a journeyman has not been unable to work, and sometimes two or three have been laid up. This, we suppose, may be accounted for by the late intensely

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.

There are still nine counties to be heard from. Thus far the whole vote polled in the Governor's election is 103,728, by far the largest vote ever polled in the State. Ellis beats Pool about 5.500. Pool gains on the Bragg and Gilmer vote upwards of 7000. and on the Ellis and McRae vote about 11,000. This is the state of affairs in North Carolina, after a most arduous and exciting canvass, and is an earnest that Bell and E erett will carry the State in November .-While the Union men deeply regret that the l'd not cleet Pool, we are yet to see one wh is discouraged, and who is not determine to go into the campaign for the Presidence with all his zeal and energy. The Brecking ridge-Yancey Ticket will be beaten to deat in North Carolina. North Carolina will no be tied to the tail of South Carolina an Disunion. Mark the prediction.

It will be seen that the Union party has made a clear gain in the Legislature of 16 members-15 in the House, and 1 in the

THE DOUGLAS CONVENTION. The advocates of the Breckinridge-Yancey Ticket are emptying their vials of wrath on the head of Mr. Dick for presuming to call a Convention of the friends of Mr. Douglas in this State. Now, let us see what Mr. asserts that Mr. Douglas is the fairly nominated candidate of the Democratic National Convention. This Convention appointed an Executive Committee, and Mr. Dick is the power to call a Convention for the purpose | Neal 515. of appointing Douglas Electors, and has exercised this power by calling a Convention which will meet on the 30th of this month. Mr. Dick's "offence bath this extent-no more." Now, let as see how Breckinridge and Lane got into the field in North Carolina. They were, according to the Raleigh Standard, the nominees of a sectional meeting at Baltimore, composed mainly of men who desire to destroy the Union by " precipitating the Cotton States into a revolution." The action of this meeting has received no endorsation from the Democratic people of this State. So far from it, the Raleigh Standard has asserted that the "weight of preference" among the people is for Douglas, the' the leaders are for Breckinridge. Breckinridge, then, is in the field that of the leaders. In other words, the and Currituck. many, and this they call Democracy! But the friends of Douglas do not mean to submit to the rule of these self-appointed managers of the Democratic party. They know their rights, and will maintain them at all hazards. They will laugh to scorn the attempt to prevent them from holding a Convention The assault on Mr. Dick for calling a Convention is an assault upon every friend of Douglas in the State, and as such will be resented. A Doublas Convention will be held, and will, we predict, be well attended, for there are many more friends of leaders are willing to allow. Their Electoral Ticket, when put in the field, will be the only regular Democratic Ticket for the Presidency before the people of North Carolina. The Breckinridge-Yancey Ticket is the ticket of a disunion faction. A

DOUGLAS COMING TO NORTH CARO-

We take an article to-day from the Newbern Progress, the Douglas organ for North Carolina. The reader will be struck with what the writer says about Kansus. Four 4th years ago, we were told that it was necessary 5th to the salvation of the Union that Kansas 17th should be brought in as a slaveholding State, Sth and that Buchanan's election was necessary to accomplish this object. Now we are told 11t that the people of North Carolina do not care whether slavery goes to Kansas or not, 14t and that "slave labor would be about as profitable on the White Mountains in New With Hampshire as in Kansas." What has hap- 18th pened since 1856 ! Have the soil and cli-President & Vice- mate of Kansas changed, or has the success 20th of a Democratic trick rendered concealment | 22nd of it unnecessary ? Will the Progress tell 23rd us? In the meantime, however, we are con-fident that the Convention of the 30th of August will be a grand demonstration of the 27th Douglas Democracy of North Carolina.

> UNION VICTORY IN BRECKINGIDGE'S 31st That sterling old Henry Clay Whig and Union wan, Leslie Combs, has carried Ken-36th tucky for the Clerkship of the Court of Ap-67th Union wan, Leslie Combs, has carried Kenpeals by a majority of from 5,000 to 10,000. At the last election the Democracy carried the State by a majority of nearly 9,000 .-

Kentucky is safe for Bell and Everett.

DOUGLAS IN VIRGINIA.

A very intelligent Democrat from Virginia' informs us that there is a great struggle go- 46th " ing on in that State between the Douglas ble to sickness among our journeymen and and Breckinridge men. He tells us that boys. There has not been a day in the last Douglas has a large and thoroughly determined party in the Old Dominion.

FINE RAIN.

A most refreshing rain fell in this city or Wednesday night, doing vast good to al animal and vegetable nature. From the appearance of the clouds, we should judge that the rain was a general one.

Since the above was written the hot weath er has taken a fresh hold, and is now hotter

ANOTHER DEMOCRATIC ELECTOR RESIGNS. Dr. T. W. Keen, of Rockingham, Democratic Elector for the Sixth District, has resigned his position as such. The Doctor gonsiders Douglas and Johnson the nominees of the National Democracy, and intends supporting that ticket. Thus it will be seen that the schism in the Democratic ranks in this State is growing wider daily. Bell and Everett will undoubtedly carry the State in November over both the Democratic tickets. Bragg's maj. 12,594 Hon. James L. Orr, of South Carolina, late Speaker of the House of Representatives, has written a letter in which he predicts the election of Mr. Lincoln, as President of the United States. He, therefore, thinks that the Southern States should begin to take action accordingly, unless they mean to submit. South Carolina, he says, cannot withdraw alone from the Confederacy, but take with her at least Georgia, Alabama, and

Mississippi, as possessing sea coast where the rivers of the other Southern States find their outlet.

They should thus act jointly, he holds, in demanding terms from the remaining States. PLUCKY POLICY.-The Staunton Vindicator says that nothing is now left for the friends of Douglas in Virginia "but to proceed to organize the National Democracy, and marching forth in the right, to fight the battle through, and either fall or triumph in defence of the honor and integrity of the National party and their candidates, Douglas and Johnson."

The Nevaro (Texas) Express, of the 21st, in-Fort Worth, who had just distributed fifty guns W. H. High. In the Commons box only did I vote mbark for England at New York, and the royal and fifty six-shooters among the negroes. Anoth- through a mistake, and contrary to my intention

THE METEOR OF THURSDAY NIGHT. MR. SYME, Dear Sir :- The magnificent Meeor which passed over the western horizon on Phursday night, 2nd inst., it seems, was seen by very few persons in the city, owing doubtless to the fact, that, at the hour of its appearance, almost the entire population were either abed, or drawn into Fayetteville Street to hear the election news, as it came in from the distant precencts. They congregated where they were wholly shut out from a view of the meteoric locality.

I was on my way home from the scene of gathering, going along Martin Street. I had passed Salisbury Street, and descending the Southern sidewalk of Martia Street, about half-way between the corner and Dr. Perry's house, when my attention was suddenly attracted by what, for the moment, I took to be a shooting star, of extraordinary splendor. The sky was clear, and the moon, about its full, was high up in the heavens, near meridian, and shone with her usual bril iancy.

With all these circumstances to render an ordinary shooting star a very pale and unnoticeable thing, the object before me so far surpassed in glory any thing of the kind which I had ever witnessed, as to fix me in wonder on the spot where I stood. The meteor arose to my view, while it was in the Southwest, and apparently about 30° above the horizon. Its course was Northwestwardly, and seemed gently descending. Its light was perfectly white, uniform, solid and well defined. nereasing in size as it moved. It was not like a ball of fire, leaving, as it moved, a short and expiring tail of light; but seemed rather like a light, created by firing a well defined, but invisible train of inflammable air laid in the atmosphere.

The flame running in a compact body, noise lessly and with immense speed along the sky, expanding as it moved and presenting the figure of a vast trumpet, or truncated cone, luminous two or three hundred yards in length.

When first seen, the volume of flame appeared to be about six inches in diameter. The spot where I stood at first was near the centre of the valley eastward of some dwellinghouses, and of the bill on which Mrs. Tucker's dwelling-house and grove are situated, so that the meteor, from its Southwestern position and Northward motion, soon passed behind these obstructions, which formed quite a dense screen, and completely excluded me from all sight of the meteor, as it occasionally glimmered through the branches of the trees. So soon as it became hid. I sprung from among the trees on the side-walk into the Middle of Martin Street, and secured a clear Western, horizon, saving the grove on the hill, which lay to my left. Here, I stood to see it emerge from behind the trees. On it came, as I could clearly discover through the trees, until it was revealed in all its splendor against the Weston sky, without s shadow to obstruct my sight. I had a full and complete view of this glorious spectacle, till it descended behind the hill and grove of Mr Boylan's, where it wholly disappeared. I was greatly increased in size when it re-appeared from behind the trees, and just as it de scended its head seemed at least 30 feet in diameter, and the entire volume, tapering and extended back apparently hundreds of yards, was of the same solid, well defined white flame, without scintillation, without ruffle on the body or jag on the edge.

The sight was not dazzling, nor in the least painful to the intense gaze of the eye. On the conthough of the purest white.

How it might have appeared in the absence of the moon, can only be conjectured. That luminary was then shining in a cloudless night, with ample splendor to enable me to take the time of night by my watch. It was just seven minutes before 11 o'clock, P. M. I have since been to the spot where I stood and am confident that the meteor, while I saw it passed through an arc of fifty degrees of the horizon, and that its course was just about North-I judge that the time of my observation occupi ed about eight seconds. I am yours, &c. B. F. MOORE.

John Bell said in 1840, that there "were few gentlemen in the South who would be more prepared, than himself for prompt and decisive measures of resistance and protection, should the rights and interests of the South on the subject of slavery ever be invaded by Congress, or otherwise." He has not altered his position from that time to this. He is eminently conservative—and he is true to the South. Himself an owner of slaves, and living in a slave State, he "knows our rights and will maintain them."
