Remember that there is not a Disunion man in the South who is not a Democrat and a supporter of Breckinridge and Lane.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

For the first time during a career of twenty-five years as an Editor and Publisher, an attempt has been made to render us the victim of a Printer's "Strike." That this attempt has been most unjustly made, is proved by two undeniable facts. 1st. We have always paid punctually the wages earned by compositors in our employment. 2nd. We are paying to Journeymen now 30 cents a thousand ems. These wages are as high as are paid in the Daily Newspaper Offices in Richmond and Petersburg, in which a good deal of night work is done, and there is not a compositor in this State, who is Master of his Trade, who will venture to state that the compensation is not fair and reasonable, and every printer in Raleigh, who belongs to the Typographical Society, knows that 30 cents a thousand ems is the price demanded by the Association. Under these circumstances, the compositors thought proper without the slightest notice to leave our employment, and under these circumstances we have to invoke the forbearance and indulgence of our subscribers until we can supply our Office with compositors. We shall do this at the earliest practicable moment, and have already by means of the Telegraph taken steps to supply our want. We shall get good compositors, compositors who can earn good wages by printing for 30 cents a thousand ems.

money from us, chose, as they thought, a good time for it. They knew that we were under contract to publish the "The Church latelligencer," and were of opinion that we would not at this stage of the Presidential canvass suffer the publication of the Register to be suspended no matter what wages we might have to pay to com-They know now, we expect, on how sure a basis their plot was formed. It is due to our fellow Proprietors that we should state who was the ring-leader in this extortionary plot. He is a tall and stout Machines. "THE CHURCH INTELLIGENCER." The next issue of this paper will be delayed by the strike in our office. We deepy regret this, but are gratified in knowing that the worthy Proprietors of it fully justifies the course we have pursued.

INCONSISTENT AND DISHONEST. The course proposed by the Breckinridge

Disunionists is both inconsistent, and dishonest. When the Constitution of the United States does not stand in the way of their ends and aims, they not only recognize their obligations to it, but require others to do so. When, however, this same Constitution is an obstacle in their path, they do not hesitate either to ignore it or set it at defiance. Thus we see, that in the coming Presidential election they propose to act, until the result is known, in precise accordance with the provisions of the Constitution in regard to such election. They have the Constitutional number of Electors in every State in which they can get out a ticket. If their man is elected by the people, they will claim that he has Constitutionally been elected President, or if he gets votes enough to carry him into the House of Representatives, they will take their chances there, and if he should be elected, they will claim that he has been Consti-President in the tutionally elected. Up to this moment, they abide by the Constitution. But if their candidate is not elected by the people, and fails to get into the House, and a certain competitor is elected, either by the people, or the House, then these friends of Breckinridge who stuck to the Constitution as long as it suited their purposes will ignore its provisions, and break up the Union which was created by it. They will not await any act of Lincoln's violative of the Constitution, and aggressive upon Southern Constitutional Rights, but at once declare the Union to be at an end. Such a course, we say, will be dishonest, and as disgraceful as would be the conduct of a man who would set down at game of cards, and play as long as he won, but the moment be began to lose would grab the stakes, and break up the game.

> MESSRS. CLINGMAN AND MCRAE. We take from the National Democrat the exed report of the "colloquy" between Messrs. Clingman and McRae, on the occasion of the "jubilee," together with the Edi-

Mr. McRae: "I desire then to ask the honorable Senator this question," at this time there were cries-"no this is not a Democratic meeting, it is a Breckinridge meeting-put him out, free soil-

The Chairman then requested Mr. McRae t Mr. McRae: "I desire to ask the gentleman he means that on the election of Lincoln without any overt act on his part, of aggression, the one-

Lincoln is elected? Mr. McRae: "He will be more aut to offe you an office than me, for he would be ungrateful not to reward those who are in effect aiding his

Mr. Clingman: "That is an evasion."
Mr. McRae: "Very well, I will answer; there is no office in North Carolina that I could take without a sacrifice, but while I would be perfectly independent of Mr. Lincoln, detesting his principles, and bound to the South by every interest and feeling, I would, if it should be necessary in order to carry on the Government in the State consent to fill an office even at a personal sacrifice, with the understanding that I would shoulder my musket against Mr. Lincola on the first act of aggression. I recognize no propriety in dissolving the Union, because of Mr. Lincoln's election, and still less by such act of revolution. On the first aggressive act by Mr. Lincoln, I would shoulder my musket and march as far as by passing it over unnoticed and unrebuked.

the honorable Senator.' The public will see from the foregoing that Yancevism and Disurion are spreading. Here is Mr. Clingman, who was a Douglas man at the Baltimore Convention, now declaring that "all citizens of North Carolina should refuse office in the event of Lincoln's election," and thus put an end to the Union

Let us see how this will operate. The Post Masters are to resign, and all mail communication is to cease. Business men are to be cut off from their correspondence, and the Post Office medium of communication is to be lost to the The participators in this attempt to extort press and the people.

The collectors are to resign and foreign vessels are to be permitted to enter our ports free of the laws of the Unived States. The federal Judge, Mr. Biggs, with his clerks and jurors are to refuse service, and the United States Courts are to refuse to suitors the trials of their suits-all this is the legitimate and necessary result of Mr. Clingman's enunciation, that it will be base and dishonerable for any one to hold of fice under Lincoln's administration. Of course it Mr. Clingman thinks it "base and dishonorable" for Southern men to consent to hold the offices, and his Southern colleagues agree with him, the Senate will refuse to ratify all Southern appointments, and then without any action on the part of the people, an act of revolution in the Senate will stop the action of the Government in the South and put an end to the Union. Our Union exchanges will please take notice that the name of General ROBERT M. HENRY, of Macon County, has been substituted for that of Tod R. Caldwell, Esq., on the Bell and Everett Electoral Ticket. Mr. Caldwell's reasons for declining to serve as an Elector, are stated by him in a letter in to-day's paper. No firmer friend of Bell and Everett than Todd R. Caldwell, can be found in the Union. While we regret Mr. Caldwell's inability to serve as an Elector, we are rejoiced that his place is supplied by as competent a gentleman as Gen. Henry, who is in every way qualified to arouse the public mind for the Constitution, the Union, and the enforcement of the Laws!!

HON. WELDON N. EDWARDS .- A paragraph is going the rounds of the Opposition papers, in which a remark said to be made by Mr. Edwards at a meeting in Warren county, is pretty severely animadverted upon. The remark attributed to Mr. Edwards, is to the effect that he preferred the election of Lincoln to that of Douglas. Now, we saw Mr. Edwards last week at Raleigh; and reference to this very matter, he remarked to us, that he had been wholly misunderstood, and out of that misunderstanding had arisen the misrepesentation of his views that had gone abroad .-He had commented with considerable severity upon the squatter sovereignty views promulgated by Judge Douglas, which, in some respects, he considered more dangerous, because more i sidious than those of Lincoln. He had not said-vertainly had not intended to say-that he preferred the election of the latter. - Wilmington Herald.

We don't know what Mr. Edwards "intended" to say. We only know what he did say. Mr. Long heard him say it, and If he did not say it, why did Mr. Venable take Mr. Long aside and tell him that he did not endorse Mr. Edwards' sentiments ? If he did not say it, why has not his organ, the Warrenton News, contradicted the statement that he did say it? But see what the News says of that part of Mr. E.'s remarks which refers to Douglas and Lincoln: "He (Mr. Edwards) considered Douglas and Johnson as much 'a higher law' party as that of Lincoln and Hamlin." Mr. Edwards' dec laration that he "preferred Lincoln" was rather too strong for Mr. Walsh, and he reported it fine. But Mr. Edwards now tells the Editor of the Wilmington Journal that he prefers the election of Douglas to that of Lincoln. How can that be so, when, but s few days before, he said, according to his home organ, that "he considered Douglas and Johnson as much 'a higher law' party as tha North Carelina by all citizens refusing to fill the of Lincoln and Hamlin ?" Where's the pro ference bere ? We clip the following from the Raleigh Regis er of the 1st inst. We learn from a gentleman who was present that the Hon. Weldon N. Edwards said in a speech ferred Lincoln to Douglas. What do you think of that Citizen Holden It looks very much like your conditional Ticket, does it not? Is it not a beautiful sentiment to come out of the mouth of a North Carolina Dem-

Is this true? We cannot believe that any ir telligent man in North Carolina is so prejudiced, and so utterly forgetful of the many importan services rendered to the South and .o the country at large, by Judge Douglas, as to give utterance to such a sentiment. Nor can we believe that the Hon. L. O.'B. Branch, who was present and made a speech on the occasion, as did also the Hon. Mr. Venable, could tacitly endorse such a sentiment, We hope the rumor will be authoritatively denied -Nat. Democrat.

The National Democrat need not have any doubt about Mr. Edwards saying what w attributed to him. He did say it. His or gan, the Warrenton News, has not denied. and will not deny that he said it, nor has Mr. E. been rebuked by the Warrenton News, outrageous sentiment.

JOHN W. SYME, Esq., My dear Sir :- The Committee appointed to select a candidate for Elector on the BELL and EVERETT ticket in the 8th Electoral District, have discharged the duty devolved upon them, and now take pleasure in recommending to the voters of the State Gen. ROBT. M. HENRY, of Macon County, as a gentleman every way worthy of their suffrages for that high and distinguished position.

Very Respectfully, Yours,

TOD R. CALDWELL. JOHN W. SYME, Esq. Dear Sir :- Owing to the fact that the members composing the Com-District, reside far apart, and have no tacilities for has suffered no detriment by this delay, as the canvass has not yet been opened in this District, and indeed, it has been only within the last few days that we have known with whom we have to to the fate of the rest of the expedition can be (who cannot but see that he stands no earthly

My name having been placed upon our Electoral ticket by the papers of the State, without my knowledge, and without authority from the Committee, (most of whom knew that it was out of the question for me to accept the position, as I con-template leaving the State in a few days to be abare "prepared" to give the vote of this State sent until the 1st of November), I must request you and the other Whig Editors to substitute Gen. Henry's name as an Elector in place of my own. If I had been duly appointed I could by no means have consented to the use of my name in this conection, unless I could have been able to canvass the Pisrict. No one at this critical juncture should be a drone in the hive. Trusting that every friend of of our beloved country, and every foe of Black Republicanism, Disutonism and Secession, will rally as one man around the National standard of BELL and EVERETT, with the war cry of "death to Sectionalism" on their lips, I take my stand ready to do duty among the honest rank and file of the Country, who alone are its real defenders in times of danger, and who love the Constitution and the Union, and will maintain and preserve them from the assaults of all enemies, no matter from what section of the Confederacy they may come.

Very Truly Yours,

TOD R. CALDWELL.

THE NEW YORK FUSION. A dispatch from Syracuse, N. Y., say that the chairman of the Breckinridge State Committee has written a letter accepting the proposition of the Douglas committee to give them ten electors and two names on their State ticket, and he announces that he will call the Breckinridge committee together to ratify the proposed fusion.

Another dispatch, dated Albany, Sept. says:-"It is expected that Mr. Douglas will denounce the proposed fusion of his friends with the Breckinridge party, in his speech at New York to-morrow, and that the State committee will eject all overtures."

It is also stated that the Douglas State committee of New York have, by a large majority, rejected the proposition of the Breckinridge men for a fusion upon the Presidential electoral ticket. Another meeting, however, of the State committee is to be held at the St. Nicholas Hotel, on

The Trans--Atlantic Balloon Voyage of Prof. Lowe has again proved a grand failure. Dr. Newton, who, at the request of Mr. Lowe, offered up a fervent prayer for the success of the "expedition," which it was then expected would start in a few minutes, however, lengthened into hours, and the patience of the spectators being exhausted they nearly all left the grounds. The process of inflating still continued until one o'clock in the morning, when there was a sudden puff, and then a collapse; the immense force of a squall of wind, combined with the pressure of gas, had made a rent down the side of the balloon at least twenty feet in length. There is the end of the experiment, at least for the present.

[SECOND DISPATCH.] NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10 .- The Brig Kate from Truxillo on the 31st uit., and Ruatan on the 2d inst., has arrived. She brings four passengers, connected with Walker's expedition. Walker had evacuated Truxillo on the night of the 21st pursued by the enemy. At the last accounts only one of his men had been killed. No opinion as

A gentleman of this city was telling of a httle adventure he had with a rattlesnake a few days since, out on the prairies, in which he had a narrow escape from an ugly customer. It is not day later. a snake story, but is strictly true. He was out hunting, and heard the rattle of a snake which he at once knew to be the warning of one of those most dangerous of all reptiles, when they bite any one, a rattlesnake. On seeing it all coiled up, he brought his gun to his shoulder and shot it, sending it flying into the air. He supposed he had killed it, and pas ed on. In a moment or two he felt something strike upon the heel of his boot-as if it had bitten it. Looking down he discovered it was the same snake which he had shot, and which had struck its deadly fangs into the heel of his boot. While his sensations were not particularly pleasant at being in such close proximity to one of the larges rattlesnakes he ad ever seen, particularly as he was not entirely confident that he was not in danger from the bite into his boot, yet he had got his back up by this time, at the astonishing impudence of the crawling monster, and determined to finish him this time, beyond any possibility of a recov-ery. And he did finish him in as quick a time as the circumstances would allow, which was pretty much instantaneously.

It seems that he had shot the snake the first time on the tail, and had blown his caudal appendage, including all his rattles, entirely into "thin This did not kill him, however, and not having any rattles left, he had nothing to give warning with when he made the bite. When he madethe bite, he gave such a desperate strike that it either broke off or extracted his fangs, which dropped out of the boot, the heel being so hard and thick that it was impossible for him to penetrate it. The gentleman had a shoemaker examine the boot, to see if it was safe to wear, not knowing but a piece of the fang might possibly have entered it in some place, but he found it al right. The snake had ten or a dozen rattles, and was of a size to indicate that it had fully arrived at the years of discretion. Ugh! Excuse us from any such adventure, if you please. - Milwankee Wisconsian.

The Press of New Orleans is now thus politically divided: The Bulletin, Bee, Crescent, Mirror, (weekly) and Signal, (Campaign) are for Bell and Everett. The Delta, Courier, and Sentinel (campaign) are for Breckinridge. The True Delta is for Douglas. The Picayune is, as usual, neutral and independent. In the German language, also, there is a Breckinridge, a Douglas, and a neutral journal.

AN IMPORTANT OPINION-THE POST OFFICE NOT TO BE USED FOR FRAUD. The United States Attorney General has given an opinion sustaining the action of the Postmaster of Beltimore, who refused to deliver letters addressed to fictitious persons or firms. The Attorney General says the Postmaster has authority under the laws to prevent the service from being used for fraudulent purposes- It is a very common practice for sha pers to use the postal service to carry on their operations more widely, and reach persons otherwise beyond their scope, and to operate altogether under fictitious names. According to the Attorney General's opinion, the Postmaster would have authority and be justified in withholding those letters and send them to the Dead Letter Office, when satisfied that the name has been assumed to cheat and defraud the public.

Population of St. Louis.-St. Louis alone, all of the great western cities, has fulfilled her poset, and stands forth first of them all in population, as well as in commerce. The deputy marshals have so nearly completed their labors that we may, with perfect assurance, set down the population of the city at over 160,000. The official and reported returns make the exact number 160,557. The population of thecity in 1850 was about 75,000, showing an increase of 85,000, or more than 100 per cent. in ten years.
