THE CAPTURE OF FORT MATTERS.

THE STATEMENT OF GENERAL WALTER GWYN.

As a matter of justice to the country, no less than to the author of it, whose conduct has been grossly misrepresented, we cheerfully yield a good deal of our space to-day the clear and matter-of-fact statement by General Gwyn of his transactions in regard to the defense of the Coast of this State.

This statement makes most astounding disclosures of gross negligence on the part of some of the authorities of this State, and most triumphantly exonerates Gen'l Gwyn from any, the slightest blame for the disaster at Hatteras. According to this statement, scarcely a recommendation or requisition made by General Gwyn was ever complied with by the authorities having jurisdiction in the premises. Had the advice given been followed, and the requisitions made by Gen'l Gwyn complied with, Hatteras would, in all probability, have been now in our possession, instead of that of the enemy. It would almost seem that Hatteras was given away.

The reader will be struck with that portion of General Gwyn's statement which relates to the condition of Fort Hatteras. It was currently reported after the capture that the Fort was given up because it was not bomb proof, and the Garrison were in momentary apprehension of the exposure of the Magazine. The statement shows that the Fort now stands intact, and that, in fact, it is a stronger work than any of those erected for the defense of Charleston and siege of Fort Sumter.

AN ARTICLE OF A MISCHIEVOUS TENDENCY.

The last State Journal contains an article which, in our opinion, has a mischievous tendency. We allude to the article on the "Election of Senators." For our own part, we hailed the result of the Senatorial election as a sign that all mere sectional strife in the State had been merged, at least for the present, in a united and efficient action against the common foe of all the sections of the State, and of the South, and had two western gentlemen been invested with the Senatorial robes, we should have been equally pleased at the indication, that until our rights and liberties shall be triumphantly vindicated and the vandal foe driven from our soil, North Carolina will know no section but that of a united South. Why, then, should the "State," or any other thing, use language calculated to promote heartburnings and discord, which otherwise would not exist? In looking over the votes, we see that western men voted for Mr. Dorich, and as yet we have heard of no complaint on the part of the West, and we earnestly hope that the Journal's article will not find a response from any man in the West.

ON TO WASHINGTON.

Some of our contemporaries of the Press are manifesting great impatience at the delay of our troops before Washington. They have forgot the lesson taught the Yankees by a premature attempt at compliance with the order of "On to Richmond," issued by the Northern Press, and would have Beauregard and Johnson to be guided by the councils of their editorial sanctuaries, distant miles away from the contemplated scene of action, instead of their own military education and experience, and the lights of personal observation. For our own part, while as anxious as any one can be, for the capture of the Federal Capital. We have the most abiding confidence that our noble commanders know how to strike the blow at the right time, and to their judgment we are content to leave the solution of the question of when it is expedient to go "On to Washington."

ELECTION OF SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Hon. Wm. T. Dorich, Senator elect to the Confederate Congress, having resigned his seat in the House of Commons, and consequently the Speakership thereof, N. N. Fleming, Esq., was elected as his successor.

SEIZURE OF BACON AND LEATHER.

We understand that in compliance with the Proclamation of the Governor, a large quantity of Bacon and Leather, en route for Virginia, and the property of speculators, was seized at the Depot of the North Carolina Rail Road in this city on Wednesday.

We hear, also, that a quantity of Bacon bought on speculation, and destined for a point out of the State, has been seized at High Point.

Speaking of speculators, we are constrained to say that glaring attempts at monopolizing the article of Bacon have been made in this quarter. One concern, composed of two individuals not engaged in mercantile business and paying no merchant's license, have bought a large quantity of Bacon at 18 cents or less per pound, and are selling it at 25 cents. Now we are willing to see any man make a reasonable profit on his investments, but we do contend that a profit of three pence on Bacon is most unreasonable and extortionate. This is no time for taking selfish advantages of the necessities of the country. Instead of doing so, men should be content "to live and let live."

WRECK OF THE PRIVATEER SUMTER.

The following appeared in the second edition of the New York Herald of Thursday last: The Venezuelan Consul at Curacao had received advices from Curacao (Venezuela) to August 22, which stated that the privateer Sumter had gone ashore on the Island of Trinidad—Port of Spain—about the 20th August, and had become a total wreck.

The Herald of Friday last publishes the following facts concerning the Sumter: Captain Atkinson left Curacao on the 29th ult. for New York, in command of the bark Venus, with a cargo of salt cake, consigned to Messrs. Joseph Foulkes & Sons, No. 25 Beaver street, New York. A few hours before leaving a vessel arrived from Licoagua, bringing a Caracas passenger steamer of the name of Sumter, and most authentic particulars of the total destruction of the privateer Sumter. The newspaper was sent specially to the Venezuelan Consul at Curacao, it was supposed, for this express purpose.

NAVAL "BRUSH" OFF NEWPORT NEWS.

The Norfolk Day Book has the following account of the naval "brush" that occurred off Newport News on Friday evening last: Friday evening, a couple of hours before sunset, the Confederates, in the men-of-war, formed the Yorktown, dropped down to a position near Newport News, for the purpose of using the Federal vessels in that neighborhood as targets to range the range of her guns. The U. S. frigate ran her anchor, and the Confederates, in the gunboat Daylight, (a larger steamer than the Patrick Henry), were lying off that point when the Patrick Henry bore in sight. The Patrick Henry backed away at the two men of war, and they replied with a few shots, which which she returned anchored, and the Daylight advanced to get a closer engagement. The Patrick Henry apparently tolled the Daylight along by firing a few shots, which seemed to fall short; with this incident the Daylight continued to advance on her until she got close enough for the Patrick Henry to give her what the fancy term "a sociological," and on receipt of this shot the Daylight left and dropped down behind the men-of-war.

GEN. POLK'S PROCLAMATION.

Gen. Polk, of the Confederate States Army, has issued the following proclamation to the people of Kentucky: "The Federal Government having, in defiance of the wishes of the people of Kentucky, disregarded their neutrality by establishing camp depots here, and by organizing military companies within the territory, and by establishing military works on the Missouri river immediately opposite and commanding Columbus, we solemnly intended to cover the landing of troops for the seizure of that town, it has become a military necessity for the defense of the territory of the Confederate States that a Confederate force should occupy Columbus in advance.
