RALEIGH, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 23, 1868.

Weekly Raleigh Register.

HOPES AND FRAMS, hopes are like the wreaths of fe n with a gunling sound, they con te and thirsty beach to inve he subres part the ripples glean A moment on the silent shore, from vani is in the hopes that seem full and are no more. Seeking for love, for hope, for power-To the fair threads of life we cling, For hops we call a withered flower And tune a harp with broken string, And hope will abed a glimmering ray

NEW SERIES-VOL. 2-NO. 14.

Of light on pleasure's ruined shrine, For mouldering columns still look gay When summer subbeams o'er them shine.

Though severed up love's maple chain. Still to its broken chains we trust, And hope to mend the links again. When grief has enten them like rast, Frail as the bubbles on the beach That hope may be-a transient beam But reft of joy, 'tis sweet to teach The heart to hush its grief and ream.

Our hopes are like the flowers that bloom Upon the mountain's verdaut side, That mountain's heart a burning tomh Cleft hy the lava's scorehing tide, They spring and flourish, fade and die, While quenchless fires beneath them lie, Like human passions hidden there.

Our fears are like the clouds that shed Their gloom across the summer sky-4. When life is fairest some wild dread -Of grief is ever hovering nigh. The gloom may pass-the shadows fade, And sunlight only seem to reign. But still there is a lingering shade, A fear that clouds will come again

Where the bright wells of gladness spring, Hope will the youthful heart decor But fear is hovering there to fling A shadow on the path of joy. . A canker-worm within the fruit, A serpeut in the linnet's nest, A sentry ever grim and mute, Is fear within the human breast

A rainbow never spans the sky, But some dark spirit of the storm. With sable plume, is hovering nigh, To watch its soft and fairy form. Hope never chants a fairy song, Or hids us rest beneath her wing, But fear, with all her phanton throng, Is in the distance hovering.

We seek the laurel wreath of fume, And all her feeble favors trust, the skylight; in a moment he fired again, der of James Smithson." and this time grazed me on the shoulder. "I am-" I'll put a pea inta you yet, my chicken. I I was stunned : I made no answer.

" How will you go ? Quietly, I suppose I explained the circumstances; and the -most gentlemen do, but just as you please ;" captain at once said that unless we would and he palled out of his poster a pair of say that." give our words not to attempt a renewal of handcuffs, and opened his coat to show the "No; I the dispute in any way, he would put us bott of his revolvet. "It's much pleasanter fice." both in our cabins under lock and key,"" traveling without these." "If you want to fight, gentlemen, I've no "Yes, yes; I'll go quietly enough, only I objection in life-very happy to see you- want an hour or two to arrange my affairs but not on board my ship. I'll take you on hard " shore in the first boat, and undertake in "Oh, certainly ; only you must pay the exbury either or both of your lecently, if you fall; cess fare-Uncle Sam doesn't allow express but you don't fight on my ship if I know fares on these occasions. I see I can trust you; and mind, I leave my reputation with I went to my state room, and turned in, you. I will call for you for the five o'clock and determined that I would never again express, You can settle your affairs, and speak to such a brute. In the morning I look over your papers, and I'll go and see saw the captain at breakfast, and he cantioned me in a friendly way against Smith-your town. Don't forget five o'clock ;" and he left. The blow had fallen ; I was hit. All the "Mind what you're about ; don't give him little wealth I had collected was to go to a chance. He'd think no more of dropping defend my life. I called on my solicitor, and you overboard, or putting a knife into you, told him about it. than I do of cutting this bread. Don't go "Awkward, very, for you were a rising too near the rail, and see that ' Gere's a bit' man-a very rising man."

of rope over the side, if you go forward "I am as innocentand if you do find yourself a mile away "Oh, of course, my dear tellow ; everybody over the quarter, some fins' night, don't say is. But I'm thinking how we'd best admin-I didn't warn you. Clear away, steward." ister the estate for you. If it gets wind, "Mr. Smithson hasn't sat down yet, sir." you'll have more difficulty in getting in your Never mind; he's sulking perhaps' money. What's the amount out-twenty Clear away," shipitile' m vswe'dli thousand dollars !"

I went on deck; and came down again at "About that-say twenty-two," dinner time. We were all seated-that is, Well, sell them. Til find you a buyer the chief officer, the captain and myself - for the whole concern for, say ten thousand when we missed Smithson, "Call Mr. Smithson, steward. We musn't me, and I'll see what can be done for you.spoil our dinner with his sulks." Come back here at four, and I'll have the The steward opened his door, and cam papers ready." back. " He's not there, sir.".

" Ten thousand's rather small for twenty-"Not there ! Where the devil is he, then two clear surplus." Has anybody seen him this morning ?" "Well, as you like : name your lowest, and Inquiry was made, and no one knew any I'll see what can be done; only remember thing about him. The man at the wheel you've but four hours to do it in, and don't had seen him go forward at about eight put it too high. To-morrow morning your bells, but no one had set eyes on him since. "Where the devil can he be I" said the surplus will be, as far as your chance of getcaptain." "He must be in the ship , unless ting it is concerned, very small indeed." you took my hint the wrong way, and put and let me see you in New York." "Well, get twelve, if you can ; if not, ten ; him out of the way, youngster."

"Right you are : I was going for my re-"I can assure you, I never left my room dess to that very place, and now I'll comuntil breakfast time this morning, captain." bine busin In a further search, we tailed to find any mind." trace of the missing man, except one. A I went to my lodging house, and astonish large brass belaying pin was discovered of my worthy landlady not a little by givjammed between the iron that supported ing her child a rather extravagant present the starboard forechains and the vessel's of a lecklace, and telling her I was going side. It must have been thrown overboard, away for a few days, and wandered wearily and by one of those mysterious chances that | back to the office; told the chief clerk that sometimes occur, lodged itself there. It I must leave, and had sold the business, and could not have been put there, for the man would introduce the purchaser that afterwho saw it could not reach it without the noon ; and then I sat with my head-upon my anaistance of two others. It was brought hands, and my elbows on my knees, utterly on deck, and examined. Nothing was broken. lound on it ; it was as clean as if it had never I was interrupted by a visitor, a big, black whiskered and bearded fellow, dressed like counting house, the following advertisement it was soon found to be one of the spare a river pilot. "Excuse me,sir; your name's Rydon-Gilbert Rydon ?" "Yes ; what then ?" "I made so bold, sir," he said, drawing his chair close to mine, " to tell you I've heard guise in a bundle, called a backage, and we you ? Why, it's darned folly now, with your board. They accounted for their silence at ticket in your hand, and ten minute's clear atart. 'Can't go!' Oh, hang it, man, don't mixed up in the affair, and afterward by ed with their families. "No: I can't go, I'll go back to the off it was only when they saw the advertisement they made up their minds to tell. "But in the devil's name why ?" " Because I am 'bound not to go,' I did not think at the time about it; but I promised that officer fellow that I'd be there at five, and there I mean to be," "Well, I'm cussed, keeping faith with a police officer! It's never done; I never speculation to gain money. beard of it."

"Nevertheless, I'll go back. I should not like a man to say he had trusted me, and I had deceived him willfuily. I'll go back. "-"I tell you, man, it's folly. You'll repent it'always. You may lose your life by this fool's trick. Go back to the station ; there are six minutes vet. " "No; I'll go to the office. The fellow said to me; Til trust you. I leave my reputation in your hands.' I promised to be there at five o'clock. I will be there ; so no he is longing to get back to a Chop in town more of if. There's a good fellow." WHAT'S IN A NAME .- " Mephilipenotras "Well, well, I won't go till I've seen you comento" is the name given to a new mu safe ; but of all the fools I ever did seesical instrument on the other side of the

"There, that will do. Come back, if you like; I owe you something for your kind ness, though why you should have shown it can t tell."

.44 Oh, never mind ; 1 always like to help a fellow in distress, if I can." We went back to the office, to the surprise of my late clerks, and went into the inner Five o'clock-struck, and the officer hadn't

"I told you so," said my new friend. He won't come to time. That let's you off. Here you are at five o'clock ; and your promise holds good till five, and no longer. and the thirteenth the suitor himself.

I was sorely tempted, it sounded so like the right, but I would not forfeit my self-

"No; I'll wait. The man left his reputation in my hands, and he shall not be ceived. When he comes, I am here, if ] wait till midnight;" and I sat resolutely down, his trap.

without a wash."

went away.

be careful, and not mistake potatoes for "I tell you what, you shau't wait another and the ball shattered the swing compass in | "I thought so, Larrest you for the mur- | "Bound not to 10," My mind was made and all the evidence in my favor I could get | good large one prospecting around his couch | Bennett, sr, by the feg. several men grasp and this time grazed me on the shoulder. "I am____" and this time grazed me on the shoulder. "I am____" and this time grazed me on the shoulder. "I am____" and the state of the other is the other in the state of the other is the other in the state of the other is t up in an instant. I put out my hand, and amounted to nothing. On the other side, or a place where his boil will fit in " with-"Not go ! Why, what on earth hinders the belaying pin, and then threw him over- ried men who spend their evenings away from home, as they give them an opportathe time by stating their dislike to being nity to rest their night keys, and get acquaint

> It is said that boils save the patient their absence from the country; and they said fit of sickness," but if the sickness is not th best to have, it must be an a'lifed mean What could I hope for against such wit- thing. It is also said that a perim is better after he has had them. Many distinguishes nesses ? The steward and captain were missing or dead, and these two shameless persons have enjoyed these barbingers of fiends had concocted this story under the inhealth. Job took the first premium at the county fair . having more achers untier, paid one the money and Miles O'Reilly took ducements of the large reward. It was clear I was to be the victim of a miserable cultivation t, any other person, Shak speare had them, and meant houls when he said ; "One wee doth tread upon another's heels, so fast they follow." There ate a great many remedies for boils most of which are well worth trying, because if they don't do any good, they don't hart All dogs, like men, from earth must pass; the boil. Every man he meets will tell him of a "good thing " for it, among which are : Shoemaker's wax, Mrs. Winslow's" syrap, trix, Spaulding's glue, Charlotte russe, gum drops, water proof blacking, night bloom-No PLACE LIKE THE CITY .- The man wh ing cereus, choloroform, kissengen, etc., etc., has a Stake in the country writes to say that NIGORR DIALOGUE .- "I say, Baz, wher do dat comet rise at ?" "It rises in the 46th meridian ob de frigid zodiac, as laid down it set, Baz?" " Set? you black fool ! it don't set nowhere. When it gets tired o It is a question worthy of careful investishining it goes into its hole.!" gation, whether a person whose voice is bro FORCE OF LANGUAGE- A lady passin ken is not at all the more competent to sing through a country viflage, observed a juvenile rustic playing with an infant sister in A PASSING THOUGHT .- The great differ such a manner as to endanger her life. Reence between the young and the old is this ; monstrating with him, she exclaimed, "You the young have the world before them, naughty boy, you might kill that child." "No, I might not," said the arch rogue, Thirteen objections were once given by a oung lady for declining a match ; the first "Well, farmer, you told us your place was welve being the suitor's twelve children. tramped it for three hours, and found no TIMELY REMARK .- Prentiss thinks it is game.

"Just so," said the farmer, "as a general no more than right that men should seize thing the less game there is the more hunting | ed as usual, notwithstanding the serious Time by the forelock, for the rude old fellow, sooner or later, pulls all their hair out. you have." THE CAUSE .- Many a man thinks it a vir-

It is hard to live without a wife-no gentue that keeps him from turning a raseal, the heart to get up mornings to build the when it is only a full stomach. One should fire.

From the N. Y. Tribane of the 16th. THE GETTYSBURG SWINDLE. Excitement at the Herald Office-The Ticket Holders after their Morey drain upon its capital.

SCENES AT WASHINGTON HIGHTS. A great many of the ticket-holders, not apposing that Mr. Bennett would be in town yesterday, resolved to seek him at his ivate residence, and the roads leading to Washington Hights were consequently alive with vehicles and pedestrians from an early hour in the day. Honest laboring men, many of them accompanied by their wives and children, trudged wearily along aloot, and others, who were able to afford a more comfortable mode of traveling, clubbed together and hired grocers' wagons and butchers' carts, and made the trip a sort of holiday excursion. The Bloomingdale road was as nvely as the road to Epsom on the day of Derby, or that to Fordham at the opening of the Jerome Park races. When our reporter left the scene at a late hour last night, dir. Bennet had not yet made his appearance, aud his grounds were completely occupied by tamily parties who, having made a pic-nic there all day, had resolved to camp out for the night.

ness was transicted in the inner editorial anctum, Mr. Bennett, sr., seated on a high stool in the middle of the room receiving the applicants, while the younger Bennett charge of the redoemed tickets. Although every legitimate method was employed to protract the coromony, and quite a large roportion of the holders were persuaded y the boy to take it out in advertising (prinipally under the heads of "Situations

PRICE $3 PER ANNUM

him by the arnis, and so he was passed at during the passage our reporter could not leave, but a great deal of scuttling and wearing was audible by those below, and the legs of Mr. Bennett, sr., when they dis.

appeared in the doorway were in a state of violent agitation. Payment of the ticket-holders was commenced as soon as the gen-tleman had adjusted their tructs. The bus-

Wanted," and " Personal "), it Locame evident by 2 o'clock that the resources of the establishment would be unequal to the domand. Miles generously threat his entire private fortuge into the carpet-bag, and the eider Mr. Bennett took the unsuld balance of the morning's edition of his paper, borowed a hand-cart of Mr. Dennis Muldoon, a respectable licensed porter doing business. to Ann street, and carried it to a dealer in paper stock, who bought it for a fair price. in the comic alminac." "Well, where does All, however, was in vain. At 4 o'clock payment was suspended. By this time about 5,000 persons had received a dollar. The rest of the crowd dispersed with less disorder than might reasonably have been expected, and an hour later Broadway had resumed its wonted appearance. It was aniounced, however, that at noon to-day the sacht Henrietta would be sold at anetion in . the Herald editorial rooms, and the amount realized from the sale would be devoted to many who do not intend to bid will probagood place for hunting; now we have bly avail themselves of the opportunity to aspect the sucred recesses of the office. It is hoped that arrangements can be made which will allow of the paper being publish-

To live-perchance without a name, And find the chaplet turned to dust. life wears away, 'mid smiles and tears The wedding peal-the funeral toil ; ) But thought o'crshaddowed still by team Hope is the sunlight of the soul.

Thad been settled in Johnsonville some ten years as a merchant, when, as I sat one morning quietly reading the paper in my left the rack. Where did it come from?

"One thousand dollars' reward will be things looked like foul play. I could not paid to any person who can give informa- denyit. The steward remembered that Mr. tion as to how the late James Smithson met Smithson drank a good deal after I lett the his denth on board the William Curris, on cabla the night before ; and the man at the the night of the 22d of August, 1864. Ad- wheel thought he seemed a little unsteady, dress Jacob Sharper, Esq., 346 Fulton street but he lost sight of him as he went for New York." ward.

You will wonder why this should make The entries were made in the log; and me turn pale and sick, but it did, and for life went on in its old course, except that I this reason. I knew the late James Smithson. I was his fellow passenger on loard that made no envy the victim or suice the William Curtis, and I was one of the who calmly slept in the sea beneath me. that made mo envy the victim or suicide persons that last saw him alive. We were The voyage ended, the whole story was from England-I to make my forlaid before the authorities at New York ; ane, he to return to his native land ; and I and after a merely formal examination, I and felt for him an instinctive repugrance was told there was no evidence against mo that I took little pains to couceal. He was and as I left the place I made a vow that I a blg, burly, bullying Yankee, who had would never willingly set foot in it again. made a fortune, and was now spending it It is no wonder then, knowing all this and boasting of it, after the manner of the that I should be startled to see the adverworst specimens of his tribe. He disliked tisement. It had for me the horrible facin me as cordially as I detested him ; and being ation of the snake. I knew that out of it the only two enhis passengers, we necessa-rily rubbed against one mother to an extent would spring misery and trouble unending, and yet I could not take my eyes off it. The p"I'dalmost unbearable.

I remember one day, after dinner, we wore sitting in sulky silence over our grog, when a suddem lorch of the vessel sent the scalding fluid out of my glass all over his dress

"Curse you," he exclaimed, "you sirkward fool-what are you doing ? Dun't you flit out like a man if you want to vent your spices, and not throw boiling water over me like a dangerous, kliot !"

I had arously begon to explain, but I was ly crawl. I could see nothing but a duil, illent for a little after this attack, and then nerely said .

spleon ; the occurrence was purely socider

Hang socidental Tre found actid happen very conveniently sometimes; and sound fall norm the shall pay for this as even as we're out. this accurace tub. If you are a man-

this, I promise you, and I'll try whether waited on by an extramely po you can handle a knife as well as you can throw glasses, you cowardly Britis

" If you use soch language to me, Fil-"" Throw snother won't you I you placky a receipt T

I was muldened beyond all on and I rushed at him and struck the face as he stood up.

may mamo, and just the dot at the under reveal shot at man I stooped down about it." " Well, what then? How ?"

"I was in Lawyer Shepherd's office when was regarded with a suspicion and mistrust staff so green that the joints gape wide Smithson had insured his life for a very starve to death !"

enough to put your finger through in a month heavy amount in favor of his brother, before or so, and I saw you, and heard every word going to Europe; the policy he had put in a box of papers left with his bankers. The you said."

"What then? Are you come to me to papers, on his death, had been looked over "No; I've come to give you a bint as to anything of the policy, it had escaped his hew to loosen your difficulties, though -You careless observation by being hidden beare going to have ten thousand dollars this tween the parchments of a lease. Some few months before my arrest, it became necessaatternoon, at four ?"

tan years interval chrunk up into a dream time, and the feeling was as I had but that What I' "Slope !" moment heard the steward's voice : 'He's tot there, sin! It upset me for the day. I My weariness left me. I sprang up, and | cer " as described in the papers at the time. could do nothing. I tried to write to read. wrung his hand, "Good God ! I never thought was remembered, and the advertisement in-Wherever I went or whatever I did, I heard the words in my east "He's not there, sir."

"I thought not, by your talk with the law- member something to cast light upon the The next day my presentiments of evil were stronger than ever, I isomed presed yer, but down in Texas or Oregon you'd be subject. You see, it was not of much con-as safe as possible. You must start at once, sequence to any one whether he was mar-would puzzle him to say just where. the ways of the place."

headen hud on every object, and heer through every sound : "He's not there, sir." I knew myself as innocent of his death 'as if I had | tor's, and told him. or seen him; but that unhappy quarel my prophetic feelings. About a fortnight date of the advertisement, I was Meners, Wilson Brothers. Will you give not Lan at the desk, wrote out the and surved it fire maked over any all the time. When I had turned t minute ; you're the best fellow I've seen any time this thirty years ; 'tain't, one man in s

HOME OR NOT A HOME, -"Mary, is you million would have cared a curse for me and master at home?" "No, sir; he's out." "I don't believe it." "Well, then, he'll my reputation. You have, and you shan't come down and tell you himself. Pechaps lose by it." Suddenly my new friend, while speaking, you'll believe him.'

had thrown away his wig, whiskers and BREECH-LOADED FEMININES .- Two girls beard, and stood before me, the police officer n Wheeling stole their brothers' clothes to had seen in the morning ! go and see the Black Crook, under the im-I hardly knew whether to be vexed a pression that male attire was necessary to the trick, or thankful I had not fullen into insure their admittance.

TO MAKE & YOUNG ONE SMART .- " Pray. "You see sir, I had an idea I could de Mrs. Radriski, why do you whip your chilthis sort of thing, and I thought I'd try it : dren so often !" " La, Mr. Worthy, I do it but mark me, sir, you shan't suffer if theadfor their enlightenment. I never whipped long Boston' can prevent' it. 'Have you a one in my life-time that he didn't acknowlbasin handy? I can't get the brown off edge that it made him smart. He washed himself clean, and tying his dis-

(To be Continued.)

WIT AND HUMOR.

EPITAPH ON A DOG.

As people say, "he's gone to grass "----

Let's hope, poor " Patch," it's clover !

This one's short life is over ;

while the old are behind the world.

Atlantic.

pieces."

During the journey by rail we grew quite you were talking inside, and I heard all you came to be revived. It appeared that, un- friend, don't make that ar hole in your

> A SATIRICAL PADDY .-- An Irish peasant being asked why he permitted his pig to take up its quarters with his family, made by the solicitor's clerk, and no one knowing "Why not ?" Doesn't the place afford every an answer abounding with satirical universe convenience that a pig can require ?"

Boils-A Boy's " Compositon." A boil is generally very small at first, and ry to refer to the papers; the policy was fellow hardly notices it, but in a tew days it "Well then, if I were you"-and he drew found, and a claim made by the brother on gets to be the biggest of the two, and the chap his chair close to mine, and put his hand up the office. The reply was, that there was oo that has it is of very little account in compar close to his mouth and to my car_ peridence of James Smithson's death not be- ison with his boil, which then "has him." ing the result of his own act ; he might have Boils appear mysteriously upon various porwhere "they darn please," and often in very inconvenient places. Sometimes a solitary boil is the sum total of the afflictions, but frequently there is a "rushin' lot of 'e m" to help the first one. If a boil comes anywhere erted in the hope that some one would re-

Minnesota County, Texas; he'll show you question of some fifty thousand dollars on a such persons are addicted to profanity-the shortcomlage worse than usual which may "The best you can do," said he: "for, deal of evidence of any kind you want for him what alls him laugh at him for his pains ing, and a spacementic struggle ran along the would again point suspicion to me, and all though you're innocent, it's hardly worth tweety thousand dollars, so you have rather to answer; while many unfeeling per-the diagrace and misery of a public triat while ranning the risk; and, as this good a hard time of it. It's worth, you are, to sons make game of him, or of his misfortune ow says, in Texas you'll be safe; it will him about twenty-five thousand dollars to or boil. It is very wicked to make sport of journalist soon appea the said : Tam's, you know, as if you were bound by any family ties or anything not to go." juty. I was two munths rwaiting my trial, and it is very furmy to see a chap with a beads. A large Irich woman quinct also

The announcement that Mr. James Gordon Bennett, and other prominent backers of the Gettysburg Lottery swindle, had, with a sense of justice only equaled by their munificent generosity and their unlimited resources, volunteered to refund to the ticketholders the amount of their unlucky invest ment, drew together at the corner of Breadway and Ann street, yesterday morning, one of the largest crowds ever assembled in New York. The people began to gather at an early hour, and some, we understand, were on the ground before dawn. By 71 A glutton of a fellow was dining at a o'clock the streets were entirely blocked up, hotel, who, in the course of the "battle of and a detachment of police was ordered to knives and forks," accidentally cut his the scene. The struggling multitude-each mouth, which being observed by a Yankee man woman and child with tickets in hund, friendly, and he told me how the matter sitting near by, he bawled out: "I say, and copies of the Horald, containing. indorsements of the Gettysburg lottery, it said. The carpenters about here use the known to his immediate relatives, Mr. countenance any larger, or we shall all their pockets, were then formed in line, the queve extending from the door of the Herald office across the Broadway Bridge and entirely around St. Paul's clurch. A good deal of impatience was manifested while they waited for the doors to be opened, and we regret to learn that Mr. Bennett's very handsome behavior was not duly appreciated, many ill-conditioned feilows affecting to doubt whether the money would be refunded; and even going so lar as to damn Mr. Bennet, very distinctly, Some had brought refreshments with them, and whiled away the hours with the help of cold | from $5 to $10 each coffee, sandwickes, peanuts and other delies. MARBLE AND WOOD cies, while many more anused themselves by thrown himself overboard, and in that care tion of the human body, coming when and whistling and exchanging uncomplimentary remarks with the omnibus drivers as they passed under the bridge. The reporters and sub-editors coming down to their daily work, were utterly unable to reach their respective rooms, the stairways being so denseon a person, that person always wishes that ity crowded with ticket holders that morement was impossible. This, employees co equently repaired to a meightening a door apon hy a weight under which I could scarce. Fil give you a latter to a brother of mine in dered or jumped overboard till it became a Some persons call them "dambolis," but where they passed most of the day. Any the ways of the place." disputed policy. The brother is, of course, proper name is boil. If a chap has a boil, be noticed in the paper to day will be at-I hurried out with him, went to the solici- quite willing to spend half in procuring evi- he generally gets a good deal of sympathy tributable to this zause. About 10 o'clock odic struggle ran along the line, which by this time extended up Brandway nearly to Chamber street. The veteran ed, arm in arm with I had not long to wait the fulfillment of all binw over; and you can begin again." see you hanged, and he'll do it, if he can." persons with boils; they cannot help it, and Honast Miles O'Reitty, and fullowed by Mr. I was to the office, got my trunk, and then to the railway station with my new triend. It was 4:20, and the train started at 4:50. It never struck me, such was my d-light at the i,les of escape, to inquire what caused this man to take the interest in me your being hanged.

light at the i, les of escape, to inquire what one should gain what the should be should be

W. H. MORHISS & CO.,

No. 3, Fayetieville Street.

RALEIGH-N. C.

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS

All Kinds of Furniture,

Consisting in part of

WARDROBES, BEADSTRADS, walnut COTTAGE na.d mahor an BEDSTEADS.

TARBLE AND WOOD SOFAS.

LOUNCES. TETE-A-TETES CHAIRS.

PARLOR CHAIRS, ROCKING CHAIRS, CONTACT OF ROCKING MARBLE TOP

FULL SUITS OF PARLOW FURNITURS.

SPEUCK, COTTON & MAIN MATHASSES

ALSO DEALS

WALL PAPER

"QUICE SALES AND EMALL PROFITS."

W. H. MORRISS

the policy would be invalid. Escape! Yes, I would-I would escape. " The row with you, " said the police offi-