THE FARM—THE GARDEN—THE HOUSEHOLD

Mice and Women—One harms the cheese, and the other charms the h's

Stripping the feed of fattening hogs, is a waste of grain.

Stoak makes all things difficult, but industry, all things easy.

A tobacco grower in the Connecticut Valley has sold his crop of tobacco this year for $17,000. It amounted to twenty-eight tons.

Peas have been raised in several parts of Iowa, this year. The producers say they are as easily raised as potatoes, and a much surer crop.

The best coffee is made from 1 lb. Java, and of Mocha, Rio and Martinique each 2 ounces.

In Tennessee, one cow, bedding for the family, chafe, one gun, and one dog are exempt from tax and execution. An extra dog is taxed $2.

Of the five senses of human beings, trees have that of feeling. Some trees are smarter than others, for they live where others die.

Farmers who propose to sell out and live in town, have probably been taking lessons, and they do not propose to make any additions to our population.

An English lease contains so many conditions, exceptions and directions, that when a farmer goes to his day's work, it is often necessary to read it over.

At the next Illinois State Fair there is to be no horse-racing, and in all documents the word "speed" is not to be used, but instead "action," which is righteous action.

Now that farmers have ceased to sow and reap according to the moon, farming is more profitable than ever before, and while the price of everything else falls provisions hold their own.

The quality of the flour and wheat which is shipped to foreign ports is said to be superior to any ever exported, and will, of course, add to the reputation of and demand for American breadstuffs.

In Knox county, Tenn., corn is selling at 25 cents per bushel. Near railroads or navigable waters it is selling, in that section, for 80 cents per bushel.

In Canada most of their pork is fattened on peas, six bushels of which are equal to ten bushels of corn, and more can be grown from an acre than corn.

A boy who goes about through the woods and chops down little trees to see them fall, ought to have a long sprout taken out of the top and devoted to improving his understanding.

England is in earnest about education, and the United States are pointed to as having a successful system. But there is a great difficulty, for where children can earn four cents a week, their parents will be tempted to keep them from school.

W. H. White, of South Windsor, Conn., says the Early Seboc and Early Goodrich are the best potatoes in yield, and equal to any for table use, and he thinks good keepers.—The Garnets he thinks very poor potatoes.

Old cows should be fattened at fifteen years. The dairymen, therefore, who has fifteen cows should raise a heifer calf every year to supply the vacancy, if the herd is thirty cows he should raise two calves, and so forth.

In making maple sugar use no bit larger than a half inch, do not shave off the bark, bore only in white, sound wood, and do not leave the sirup in the kettles over night, but if a poor boy comes around give him some.

Boys in cities can scarcely learn trades because the journeymen combine not to have them around. Such boys should learn farming, get land, buy tools, take time, invest something, and make their fortune.

Mice and rabbits gnaw apple trees about these days. Rub with fresh meat, liver, grease, or tie up nicely with corn stalks, or straw. It is doubtful if these remedies will do any good if applied on Sunday.

The Paris Kentuckian says: "Mr. S. W. Tevebaugh, of this county, has shown us some singular grains of corn, in which the grains are doubled, each grain having a separate heart. He accidentally noticed a few grains as he was shelling his seed corn last year, which he planted, and they produced ears of corn with all the grains doubled."

The reason why morning showers, followed by hot sun, are of so little value to the growing crops as compared with evening showers is, that in the one case the ammonia brought down is immediately returned to the atmosphere, while in the other it goes to the very roots and feeds the plants abundantly.

Cranberry wine, taken internally and applied externally, is announced as a cure for scrofula. To make the wine, take the ripe berries, mash them in a mortar to a fine pulp, put into a stone jar, add one quart of water to two quarts of berries, stir it well, set away and let it stand a week; then strain it through cotton, and you have a beautiful wine, which with a little sugar, makes a wholesome drink, at once cooling and palatable. It does not ferment.

Mr. Isaiah Mealey, residing three miles northwest of this city, informs us that he made during the past year 1,852 pounds of butter from seven cows, making within a fraction of 265 pounds to the cow, which returned him, averaging the price or butter at thirty cents the year round, $555.—Frederick Union.

A dairymen writes the Practical Farmer that the best cows he ever raised had to be milked several weeks before the period of calving. This practice was a preventive of garget, and tended to the general health of the animals. It sometimes happens that the udders of the cows become greatly and painfully distended weeks before calving, and but few persons resort to the sensible practice of relieving them by milking. If this was practiced more there would probably be less complaint of garget than there now is.

Edgewood County, N. C., May 24, 1867. Dr. J. J. Lawrence—Dear Sir,—Please send me immediately per Express to Greensboro, two dozen more bottles of your Rosadalis. I have carefully examined its Formula, and have used it in my practice in a number of cases. I am well pleased with it. I think it, beyond doubt, the best Alternative I ever used. I have tried it in several cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous affections, &c., with much satisfaction to myself and patients. I have also used it in Secondary and Tertiary Syphilis, &c., with a similar result. It is a safe and satisfactory effect—acting with surprising and satisfactory effect—acting with surprising and satisfactory effect—acting with surprising and satisfactory effect.

PHILADELPHIA University of Medicine and Surgery.

Organized, 1848. Chartered by the Legislature, February 23, 1850. American School of Medicine, February 15, 1860, and March 15, 1865.

Two full sessions of Lectures each year, commencing the first of October, and continuing until April. The Dissecting Rooms are open, and private lectures and quizzes continue during the entire year. The first session commences on Christmas, or for three months, and the second until the first of April, or three months; the two constituting one full course of lectures. Examination of candidates for graduation will occur at the end of each session.

REQUISITES FOR GRADUATION.

The requisites for graduation are three sessions of lectures, and three years of study, or four sessions, including two years of study.

THE SYSTEM OF MEDICINE TAUGHT.

The University is a liberal medical school, in which all branches of medicine and surgery are taught, including the preparatory studies, without regard to any sectarian views. Hence, while they deprecate the exclusiveness of Allopathy, Homoeopathy, Eclecticism, Hydropathy, &c., they believe the principles of each to be true, and that the student should be taught in all well-regulated medical schools, and that every intelligent, honest, and thorough practitioner is entitled to all the courtesies and privileges of the profession, without regard to his peculiar notions in therapeutics.

FEES.

The fees for all branches, including all the tickets, matriculation, and dissection, are sixty dollars a session, or one hundred dollars per year.

Those who purchase tickets only to matriculate once, which makes the second session Fifty-five Dollars, including demonstrator's fee, or One Hundred and Fifteen Dollars for a full course, or Two Hundred Dollars for moderate means, the University has issued five hundred scholarships, which are sold to first-course students, for Seventy-five Dollars, and to second-course students and clergymen, for Fifty Dollars, each constituting the holder a life member, with the perpetual privileges of the lectures, and all the teachings of the school. The only additional fees are a yearly dissecting and matriculating ticket, each of which is Five Dollars.

THE ADVANTAGES OF SCHOLARSHIPS.

The student holding a scholarship can enter the College at any time during the year, attend as long as he chooses, and re-enter the Institution as frequently as desired.

It requires no previous reading or study to enter the University on scholarships, hence all private tuition fees are saved.

Students, by holding scholarships, can prosecute other business a part of the time.

The candidate for graduation can present himself as any time, and receive his degree as soon as qualified.

In case a student should hold a scholarship and not be able to attend lectures, it can be transferred to another, thus preventing any loss.

Parents, guardians or friends of students wishing to purchase a scholarship, should send word or more before their attendance at the University, can secure them by advancing one-half the price, and paying the balance when the student enters.

Physicians and Clergymen can bestow great benefits upon poor young men by presenting them a scholarship, and thus enabling them to obtain an honorable profession.

The improvements consist of a large TWO STORY DWELLING, well finished and painted, KITCHEN and SERVANTS HOUSE, Large FRAMED and STABLES, all in good order. The House is beautifully situated on an elevated position, surrounded by a large yard of about four acres, filled with forest trees, which form beautiful scenery and effective shade. 125 acres have been in cultivation, the balance in original forest, consisting of Pine, Oak, Hickory, Dogwood, &c., &c.; 10 acres in

The cars now running within 10 miles of the farm, and the Road is expected to be finished during the next year. The Chatham Railroad, now partially graded, and the Cheraw Railroad all centering in the mineral region of Chatham county, will pass near this property. Thus making it very valuable for investment. The subscriber being about to remove to the Eastern part of the State wishes to attend to the property and will sell on reasonable terms for cash or credit.
