PRESIDENTIAL

FOR THE REGISTER.

TO PHILO WHITE, Esq.

Editor of the Western Cardinian. SIR-In your paper of the 30th September, we find this sentence ushered into view :-" Gabriel Moore, John M'Kee, and George W. Owen, are elected as Representatives in already expressed that opinion. the next Congress from Alabama. All three of those gentlemen, as well as Governor Pick-

Crawford to the Presidency." the penetration of the "New-York Patriot," the "Washington Republican," and the great the world by that dear little creature the "Western Carolinian." This, though somewhat unusual, may be perfectly scriptural; things have been concealed from the wise and prudent, and revealed unto babes. But I am afraid that your discovery will not obtain of these objects permit me to recommend the "full faith and credit" in " Alabama." As it respects the election of Governor Pickens, the question of party had nothing to do. doubt whether there are fifty men in the State, that know the opinion of the Governor respecting "the Presidency." Governor Pickens was supported by intelligent men of all parties, and by none with more alacrity than the friends of Mr. Crawford. As it respects Representatives in Congress, one of the people of " Alabama," the open, candid, and liberal friend of Mr. Crawford. In another district two candidates came forward, one declaring himself in favor of Mr. Clay, and the other opposed to Mr. Crawford, but gratification I can assure you, that one of them has been elected: In the other district you have already furnished pretty good evidence vourself. In your paper of the 9th September, you state by way of a letter from a gentleman in Tuscaloosa to his friend in Huntsville, that "the support of Mr. Crawford for the Presidency, has been a question in the Congressional election in this district. A candidate who is a gentleman of real worth, from the circumstance of his having held offices, the recommendation to which belonged to Mr. Crawford's department, will lose his election; so exasperated are the electors against Crawford," Now, sir, I can inform you, or rather your fellow-citizens (for I presume you know it already) that this "gentleman of real worth," is no other person than the Hon. "John M'Kee,"-And likewise that he has held the office of Register of public lands, in the land district of Tuscaloosa, for several years, and is one of those "unpopular appointments of United States officers, in tilis State, to whose advancement Mr. Crawford has been, it is supposed, instrumental, that injures him more than every other obection which has been raised.", His opinion therefore, respecting the "Presidency," I leave you at liberty to form from the clue which you have already furnished your inquisitive friends. As you appear to have made your discovery by the depth of your penetration, unassisted by advices from "Alabama," I shall not attempt to dispute your claim to a pre-emption right for your labors. What, then, is the inference which you wish to be drawn from this discovery ? It is this that a majority of the beople of Alabama are opposed to Mr. Crawford's election to the Presidency; consequently he cannot receive the vetes of that State. Is not this your inference? Most cerninly it is. . The election of representatives to Congress has shewn the public sentiment the State, and it is "opposed to the pre-"nsions of Mr. Crawford to the Presidency." Now, sir, let us walk on with you a little further, till we arrive at your own country. In your paper of the 30th September it is stated that "it is beyond dispute, that a majority of the representatives to Congress from this State (North-Carolina) are personally friendy to Mr. Crawford." From this I presume We are to infer, that the public sentiment of North-Carolina is in favor of "Mr. Crawford's pretensions to the Presidency." Con-State. Oh no-not at all, says Mr. Whiteno such inference must be drawn from this

Why not? Must not your own rule be applied to your own State? No, it was not intended for application here-it was made for the use of a people five hundred miles off. The election of representatives to Congress, is no expression of the sentiments of the people of North-Carolina. " Not more than one third to determine their choice."

But in Alabama which has just emerged from a wilderness, the footsteps of the savage not yet obliterated, the civil and literary institutions of the State yet in embryo, destitute of many sources, of information, which exist in the older States, the citizens unacquainted with each other, and with the leading policy of the General Government; and many of them of that class of mankind, whose retiring stations have always kept pace with the remot-
