PRESIDENTIAL.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

FROM THE PROVIDENCE (R. I.) PATRIOT. We perceive that many of our Republican brethren are opposed to the continuance of the practice which has secured the integral stability of the Republican party through six successive Presidential terms. We must express our surprise at this semi-suicidal opposition. That our political opponents should cry out against caucusing, and endeavor to render it unpopular, is "natural enough;" if they can break up the Republican organization, they may destroy our detached sections in detail—divide and conquer—"tis their vocation, Hal; and shall not a man labor in his vocation?" But let not Republicans abandon a system which has hitherto been their salvation, and for which no substitute of equal efficacy can be found. We are all liable to forget what has occurred; and, in order to revive the recollection of some things which should not be forgotten, and which it would perhaps be salutary to ponder upon in these days, we have thought it advisable to publish the following letters:

CAUCUS NOMINATION.

For President and Vice President of the U. States.

Washington City, March 18, 1816.

Sir: On the 16th inst. you were recommended to the people of the United States, by a General Meeting of the Republican Members of both Houses of Congress, as a proper person to fill the office of President of the U. States, for the term of four years, to commence on the fourth of March next; and, by a resolution of the meeting, it was made our duty to ascertain whether you are willing to serve in the office designated, if elected. We therefore request the favor of an answer as soon as convenient.

S. SMITH, Chairman.

R. M. JOHNSON, Sec'y.

Col. Jas. Monroe.

Washington, March 22, 1816.

GENTLEMEN: I have had the honor to receive your letter informing me that I had been recommended to the people of the United States, by a General Meeting of the Republican Members of both Houses of Congress, as a proper person to fill the office of President of the United States, for the term of four years, to commence on the fourth of March next; and, that it was made your duty, by a resolution of the meeting, to ascertain whether I was willing to serve in that office, if elected. Deeply penetrated by this distinguished mark of confidence, emanating from such a source, I can only say, that should the suffrages of my fellow-citizens call me to that trust, I should feel it a duty to enter on it, with the fullest sense of the obligations it would impose, and with a reliance, that a faithful zeal in endeavoring to fulfil them will recommend me to the indulgence of which I shall stand so much in need.

I have the honor to be, with great consideration, your very obedient servant,

JAS. MONROE.

Gen. S. Smith,

Col. R. M. Johnson.

City of Washington, March 18, 1816.

Sir: On the 16th inst. you were recommended to the people of the United States, by a General Meeting of the Republican Members of both Houses of Congress, as a proper person to fill the office of Vice-President of the United States, for the term of four years, to commence on the fourth of March next; and, by a resolution of the meeting, it was made our duty to ascertain whether you are willing to serve in the office designated, if elected. We, therefore, request the favor of an answer as soon as convenient. With sentiments of high consideration and respect, we have the honor to be your most obedient servant,

S. SMITH, Chairman.

R. M. JOHNSON, Sec'y.

His Excellency Daniel D. Tompkins.

Albany, April 6, 1816.

GENTLEMEN: In compliance with the request contained in your communication of the 13th of March, I pray leave to inform you of my acceptance of the nomination with which the Republican Members of Congress have been pleased to honor me. Permit me to add a declaration of my high sense of the confidence and regard manifested by them in designating me as a candidate for the office of Vice-President, and to assure you, Gentlemen, of my greatest respect and esteem.

DANIEL D. TOMPKINS.

Hon. Samuel Smith,

Hon. R. M. Johnson.

FROM THE DELAWARE GAZETTE.

We think there is no longer any room to doubt that the vote of the State of New-York will be given to Mr. Crawford, for the Presidency. At the late election in that State, the friends of all the other candidates, laid aside their particular preferences and united their efforts in a general opposition to the friends of Mr. Crawford—and notwithstanding the friends of Mr. Adams and Mr. Calhoun, have each claimed a majority in that State, the papers assure us that from the returns already received there is no manner of doubt of there being a large majority in favor of the gentleman against whom such strenuous exertions were made, and that when the particular strength of the friends of the other candidates is taken from the general mass, they, each of them, amount to a very feeble band. Considering the circumstances of the case, if the friends of Mr. Crawford had obtained but a small portion of the seats of the Legislature, we should have concluded that he was viewed by each of the other parties, as the candidate who was most likely to defeat their particular favorites; and hence their efforts to defeat him. But as he will have a majority in the Legislature, notwithstanding this incongruous union of discordant materials against him, we set down New-York as pretty certain to give him her support.

Straws show how the wind blows; and we find it becoming a common practice, among the friends of all the other candidates, to speak of the people of certain States or districts as opposed to Mr. Crawford, without saying what particular candidate they will support; clearly signifying that he is the individual who is most likely to stand in the way of their particular favorite. Should the same test be applied to either of the other candidates, it is probable that the very places they refer us to, would be opposed to them also.

FROM THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER.

WHO ARE THE RADICALS.

The advocates for reformation of existing abuses. They are the friends of that economy which would keep our expenditures within our income. They believe that the existing revenues, with necessary modifications, are adequate to all the exigencies of government. They are the friends of an efficient and adequate Navy—a small, but effective and well organized Army. But their chief reliance is a well armed, well disciplined, and patriotic Militia.

As the money comes from the hard earnings of the People, it is their duty, as their agents, to manage it prudently, and expend it economically: to ferret out the drones, and abolish sinecures; to resist impotency, and discountenance favoritism.

They demand responsibility, fidelity, promptitude, and accountability, of the receivers of public money.

As domestic industry must be encouraged, even at the expense of the external revenue, they are, consequently, obliged to inculcate a proper and rational Economy, to prevent a resort to internal taxes.

They would apply that surplus which their economy has produced, to the payment of the public debt, rather than lavish it on noisy, clamorous favorites.

Aware that what they borrow the People must pay, they would resort to loans in cases only of extreme necessity.

Well knowing that all alterations are not reformations, they project no visionary schemes, are satisfied with the powers actually granted, and would never transcend the limits of the constitution to command admiration or gratify ambition.

They have seen and felt the effects of forced loans and internal taxes, and have no pride to witness that picture of monarchy—a splendid government, and an impoverished people.

And who would fix a scandal on the Radicals? The men who once combined to render the term "Democrat" odious and reproachful; pensioners on the people's bounty, who would never cease to ask so long as there was a cent to give; obtrusive favorites and their subordinates; political hucksters, who consume their time and prostitute their offices to vilify and abuse those firm and faithful patriots who, in these times of prodigality, have the independence and fortitude to defend the people's rights. Let the names of these slanderers be disclosed, and it will be seen that nine-tenths of them are sucking their substance from the Treasury.

To whom are we to ascribe the reduction of the army? The Radicals. To whom specific and limited appropriations for the fortifications? The Radicals. To whom a just and economical system in collecting the revenue? The Radicals. To whom the withholding the salaries of officers, until their accounts were settled with the government? The Radicals. To whom, in fine, the nine millions in the Treasury? The Radicals. And yet those Prodigals, who would fix on us this term as a term of reproach, have the unparalleled audacity to arrogate to themselves all the honor of our economy and prosperity. The very men, who, with their thousand idle and extravagant vanities, would have drained the Treasury of its last cent, and compelled us to borrow for the ordinary expenses of government.

ANDREWS & JONES' North-Carolina Female ACADEMY.

THIS Institution which during the present year has been located in Hillsborough, will open in OXFORD, on the first Monday in February next. The principals have been induced to a change of residence, with a view, to a permanent establishment where the premises will comfortably accommodate their pupils; and they have altered the time of commencing the scholastic year, for the convenience, and at the general request of their patrons.

The pupils are instructed in Needle-work, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Grammar and Parsing, Geography, Mythology, History, Belles Lettres, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Botany and Astronomy.

The terms for board, washing and tuition, in all the above branches, are Sixty Dollars per session payable in advance. Music, vocal and instrumental, Thirty Dollars per session. Drawing and Painting, Twenty Dollars per session. Dancing is also taught by a competent master.

The first session will end early in July, the second in December, when the only vacation in the year takes place.—New scholars pay from the time of their arrival only.

The system of education is in all the departments radical: by the aid of an excellent apparatus, the truths of Natural Philosophy, Chymistry and Astronomy, are experimentally illustrated, and are thus rendered objects of sense. There are six teachers constantly engaged; three excellent Piano Fortes, are employed in the musical department, and the models for Drawing and Painting, are numerous and good.

No expenditures are allowed, but such as are authorized by parents or guardians; and the principals are determined, strictly to enforce the rule prohibiting finery in dress; in summer, coloured cotton dresses, and in winter, worked stuffs, will be worn by all the young ladies.

All the pupils will board with the principals, who pay strict attention to their health, their manners, and their morals. The public and private offices of devotion are regularly observed, whilst every thing sectarian is carefully avoided.

Each pupil is expected to bring a covered bed, a pair of sheets, blankets and towels, for her own use, otherwise an extra charge of $2 50 per session will be made.

When payment in advance cannot be made, approved bonds will in all instances be exacted.
