Boston, Aug. 25. Gen. LAFAYETTE was publicly received in this city yesterday with demonstrations of respect and affection, and let us hope it will be hereafter said, of in which nearly all the citizens, and many persons from the neighboring towns, participated. He arrived on the evening preceding, at a late hour, at the seat of Gov. Eustis, in Roxbury, tionately-so honorably welcomed, not only after a rapid journey, in the whole of by old friends, but by several successive ge which he was most cordially received nerations; when I can witness the prosperitowns through which he passed.

We understand that, on his entering the state of Rhode-Island, from Connecticut, he was received by the two senior Aids of Gov. Fenner, by whom he was conducted as far as the boundary line of the town of Providence. He was there met, and addressed by the Authorities of that town, and conducted by them to the rooms provided for him, where a great number of persons had the homor of being presented to His reception in Providence was peculiarly tasteful and splendid. After a sumptuous dinner from the Cincinnati of Rhode Island, he was conducted by the State and Town Authori ties to the border of this State, where he was received on the part of the Supreme Executive by two of the Aids of the Governor, Colonels Harris and Everett. He was accompanied by his son, Mr. La Vasseur, and the gentlemen of the New-York Committee.

He entered the State at Pawtucket. at about 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and proceeded immediately on his journey His progress, however, was constantly and agreeably interrupted by the citizens of the villages and towns through which he passed. At every place where he stopped he was surrounded by a crowd of eager and ardent, but respectful visitants. At Fuller's, in Wal pole, particularly, we understand that a volunteer corps of militia, of at least four companies, paid their salute to him, although his arrival was necessarily delayed till 8 o'clock. In Ded. ham, at a still later hour, most of the conspicuous buildings were illumiminated in honor of him, and a great number of ladies and gentlemen were there presented to him. His approach to the residence of the Governor, though in consequence of the unavoidable detention, at a much later hour than had been expected, was announced by the discharge of rockets and signal guns. He was accompanied by a numerous voluntary escort of citizens of the neighboring towns.

Yesterday General Lafayette was escorted into town, met by the City Authorities at the entrance of the town, and by the Executive of the State a the Senate Chamber. A cavalcade of about eight hundred citizens, mounted on horses, proceeded from town at about 9 o'clock, met the General at the residence of Governor Eustis, in Roxbury, and escorted him, with the gentlemen who accompanied him, to the town line. The Mayor and Aldermen, and members of the Committee of arrangement and Common Council, preceded by the to you our grateful acknowledgments for the City Marshal, went in sixteen carriages to the line to await the approach of the to our common country. General. A military escort, consisting of a corps of Light Dragoons, and a battalion of Light Infantry (the Boston Light Infantry, Winslow Blues, berty, subjected himself in his youth to the Fusileers, New-England Guards, Rangers, and City Guards) commanded by Captain John Tyler, was also prepared at the line to conduct him into town.

On the arrival of General Lafayette at the line, the Mayor, in the name of the City Government, addressed him dependence, we shall never cease to associin the following terms:

To General Lafayette-

SIR: The citizens of Boston welcome you on your return to the United State; mindful of your early zeal in the cause of Aerican Independence, grateful for your distinguished share in the perits and glories of its achievement I n, u ged by a generous sympatin, you first landed on these shores, you found a people engaged in an arduous and eventful struggle for liberty, with apparently inadequate means, and amidst dubious omens. After he lapse of nearly half a century, you find the s me people prosperous beyond all sitting in their strength, without tear and

In your youth, you joined the standard of three millions of people, raised in an unequal and uncertain conflict. In your advanced monies and incidents of the day. Eveof people, their decendants, whose hearts receive our guest with the utmost cordithrong hither to greet your approach and to ality, and with every token of sincere rejoice in it. This is not the movement of a turbulent populace, excited by the fresh faure's of some recent conqueror. It is a grave, moral, intellectual impulse.

dom, as perfect as the condition of our nature and subsequently to the Exchange Cofpermits, recur with gratitude, increasing with the daily increasing sense of their blessings, to the memory of those, who, by their labors, and in their blood, laid the foundations of rangements for the entertainment of the our liberties.

Your name, su- he name o LAFAYETTEis as oriated with the most perilous and most glorious period of our Revolution; with the imperishable names of Washington, and of that numerous host of heroes which adorn the proudest archives of American history, May Fancuil Hall ever stand a monument to his achievements-of his eminent servicesand are engraven in indelible traces on the teach the world that resistance to oppression hearts of the whole American people. Ac -cept then, sir, is the sincere spirit in which stitutions, become a blessing .- Daily Adv. it is offered, this simple tribute to your vir-

A ain, sir, the citizens of Boston bid you welcome to the Cradle of American Indepencence, and to the scenes consecrated by the

ETTE made the following reply

To the Mayor and People of Boston-The emetions of love and gratitude which I have been accustomed to feel on my entering this city, have ever mingled with a sense of reliuniversal liberty blessed moment, when, after so long an absence, I find myself again surrounded by the good citizens of Boston; when I am so affecbeen the just reward of a noble struggle, virtuous morals, and truly republican institu-

I beg of you, Mr. Mayor, Gentlemen of the City Council, and all of you, beloved citizens of Boston, to accept the respectful and warm thanks of a heart, which has for nearly half a century been particularly devoted to your illustrious city.

The Mayor then entered the carriage of the General, which was a handsome Barouche, drawn by four white horses, nd the procession moved towards town. This movement began at about 11 o'clock, and was anounced by signal to the Sea Fencibles, stationed on South Boston Heights, who then fired a salute, and the Bells of the town began to ring. The procession passed through the streets indicated in the order of arrangements already published, in the following order, viz: The Military escort, the City Government, the General, followed by the Gentlemen who accompanied him from France, and from New-York—the public officers who had joined the procession, and the cavalcade of citizens—the whole being under the direction of Marshal Harris, as Chief Marshal, and twenty-five Marshals. The procession entered the common from Boylston street. From the point where they entered to Park street, the children of the public schools, of both sexes, neatly clad, and under the direction of their instructors, were arranged in two lines. Between these two lines of children the procession passed to Park street. The military forming the escort, on reaching Park street were formed in line, and the General passed them in review. Vast numbers of people filled the street through which the procession passed, and the adjoining houses, and an immense concourse of spectators was assembled on the common, and in the State House Yard. The General was the Flags in Broad street was the fol cheered from time to time, as he reached the principal assemblage of people, particularly by the vast assembly on the common, when he approached the State

The General was then conducted to the State House, where he was received, in the Senate Chamber on the part of the Supreme Executive, by his Excellency the Governor, and addressed in the streets of our city yesterday, say the following speech:

vernment, and in behalf of the citizens of Massachusetts, I have the honor to greet you with a cordial, an affectionate welcome.

We thank God, that he has been pleased to preserve you through the scenes of peril and of suffering which have distinguished in one instance, the national flag of your patriotic and eventful life, and that we are indulged with this occasion of renewing one of her sons, in commemoration of important services which you have rendered

In the last surviving Major General of the American Revolutionary army, we recognize a benefactor and friend, from a distant and gallant nation; who, inspired by a love of h toils and hazards of a military life in support of our rights. Under our illustrious Washington, you were instrumental in establishing the liberties of our country, while your gallantry in the field secured to yourself an inperishable renown.

With the enjoyment of the blessings of inate the name of Lafayette, and our prayer to Heaven will be for his health and prosperity To which the General replied-

Sin: When in the name of the people and overnment of this State, your Excellency is leased so kindly to welcome an American veteran, I am proud to share the honors and enjoyments of such a reception, with my Revolutionary companions and brother soldiers.

Sir, I am delighted with what I see, I am oppressed with what I feel; but I depend upon you as an old friend to do justice to my

The various officers of the governhope and all precedent; their liberty secure; ment present, and a great number of citizens, were then presented to the General. We have not time or room to describe in detail the various cereage, you return, and are met by ten millions ry one indicated ageneral disposition to respect and gratitude. The General was afterwards conducted to the residence provided for him A whole people, in the enjoyment of free- at the corner of Park and Beacon streets fee House, where we understand a dinner was provided by the Committee of Ar-

> At the Dinner, Gen. Lafayette being called on for a sentiment, gave the fol-

The City of Boston, the Cradle of Liberty : is a duty, and will, under true Republican in-

The most beautiful part of the spec-The pupils of the public schools, both blood shed by the earliest martyrs in the male and temale, were arranged on the side adjoining the mall, in two lines, which is the following:

To this address General LAFAY-reaching from Boylston street to the head of the mall, under the care of late Joan Hancors, the Mayor said to him tastefully arranged. We are sure, their respective teachers, and protective friend." He immediately caught her eye, and where meet with more and where meet where meet with more and where meet wi ted from the press of spectators by in the most enthusiastic manner pressed his peace officers appointed for the purband upon his heart. She burst into tears, or a people more anxious to see and pose. Between these beautiful lines, and exclaimed, 'I have now lived long e- honor him, than the citizens of Newthe whole military and civil procession nough." What must be, sir, my feelings, at this tered the passage, an interesting little an hundred thousand persons witness- he may find it not inconvenient to visit girl, of five or six years old, stepped ed the entry of the General into the us. forward, and being placed in his ba- City of Boston. rouche, presented him a wreath, and Were we to copy all the details made a brief address in the French which the papers furnish us of the wel language. The General accepted the comes given and honors paid to Gen. and welcomed by the citizens of the ty, the immense improvements, that have present, placed it on his arm, and kiss- LAFAYETTE, wherever he moves, we ed the child in rapture.

rect idea of the splendor and excite- those which are the most striking. ment connected with these transac- We have before us long and interesttions, to distant readers. The General ing accounts of his reception at Newrode uncovered, bowing to the enrap- London, in the state of Connecticut, tured throngs, who at short intervals and Providence, in the State of Rhodegreated him with loud and joyous ac- Island, where the gratulation were as clamations. The ladies, thousands of heart-felt, and the incidents as touching, whom appeared to witness the scene, as have occurred any where. The folwaived their white handkerchiefs as he passed, in token of pleasure and approbation. The windows of the new stone building at the head of State street, descended Christain Hill, the forward view the windows and terraces of Collonade was uncommonly fine. The long procession Row, and the houses north of Saint extending to the bridge, and there apparent-Paul's church, exhibited assemblages of beauty, taste, and fashion, fully e-bled, and the impulses which animated them, qual, it was thought, to any specimens were all devoted to one man, and that man a that other occasions have produced.

Boston Courier.

Two Civic Arches were thrown a cross Washington street, (says the Bos-Centinel,) beautifully decorated with flags, and bearing the following mottoes :-

WELCOME LAFAYETTE.

The Fathers in Glory shall sleep, That gather'd with thee to the Eight, But the Sons will eternally keep The tablet of Gratitude bright.

We bow not the neck, And we bend not the knee, But our Hearts, LAFAYETTE, We surrender to thee.

WASHINGTON AND LAFAYETTE. Welcome Lafayette. A Republic not Ungrateful.

dressed with the National Fags of the United States and France. On one of WELCOME ILLUSTRIOUS CHIEF! Receive the Pledges of thy Children, to sustain, with Fidelity, the Principles that first associated LAFAYETTE with the destines of America.

NATURAL RIGHTS. YORKTOWN AND MONMOUTH.

Beside the flags suspended acros SIR, OUR FRIEND: In the name of the go- was hoisted on the cupola of the State House, and proudly waved within sight people. Many patriotic individuals Erin was suspended from the house of the occasion and of the valor and virtues of Montgomery.

When the procession formed at the line, and during its march through the streets, the bells were rung, and salutes were fired by the several Artillery Companies of the city.

occasion, been so many people in Bos ton, as on yesterday.

presented to General Lafayette a Walk ng Cane, on which was engraved the following inscription:

City of Boston, August 24, 1824. Presented to General Lafayette by a full blooded Yankee, as a token of respect for services rendered America, in her struggle for "Independence."

As an instance of the kindly feeling which prevailed, it may not be unwor thy of remark, that the Deputy Sheriffs left their offices, and participated in the hilarity of the occasion. One of them placed upon his door the follow-

"Arrests in civil suits, postpon'd-to-day; " Sacred to freedom and to freedom's friend.

In addition to the above particulars given by the Boston papers, a letter to the Editors of the New York States man gives the following description .tout ensemble of the scene:

"The enthusiasm expressed by the immense concourse, at the moment of the Geothers burst into tears. My sensations were such as had never before been experienced. It seemed more like a dream of romance than a reality. From a window we looked down upon the multitude, extending along the toad as far as the eye could reach, all intent on expressing their respect and gratitude to of the vicissitudes of fortune in his eventful largely contributed to our present hap to the burst of enthusiasm and admiration, from a free, enlightened, and grateful peo-

"As LAVAYETTE passed the house of the appropriate transparencies and devices.

passed. When General Lafayette en- It is computed that from seventy to hope, that in his progress to the south should have room for nothing else. We It is impossible to convey any cor- must content ourselves with copying to pay the tax thereon for the years 1821 and lowing, at Providence, for instance, deserves to be quoted:

"As those in the rear of the procession ly lost in an immense sea of heads, and the reflection that the multitude who had assemprivate individual, a foreigner, coming among us with a claim upon our gratitude, which the intervention of forty years, instead of diminishing, seemed to have been collecting in one reservoir of feeling, was calculated to excite emotions which it is as impossible to describe as to forget.

"On arriving in front of the State House, he General alighted, and was received in a peculiarly interesting maner. The poplar avenue leading to the building was lined on each side with nearly two hundred misses arrayed in white, protected by a file of soldiers on each side, and holding in their hands bunches of flowers, which (as the General proceeded up the avenue, supported by the Governor's Aids.) they strewed in his path, at the same time waving their white handker-

" On reaching the landing of the stairs, the General turned toward the multitude, and at the same moment, the veteran Captain STE PHEN OLNEY (who served under the General repeatedly, and was the first to force the enemy's works at Yorktown, in which he was seconded, at another point, almost simultaneously by Lafayette) approached the General, And all the streets through which who instantly recognized his old companion the procession passed were tastefully in arms, and embraced and kissed him in the most earnest and affectionate manner. A thrill went through the whole assembly, and scarcely a dry eye was to be found among the spectators, while the shouts of the multitude, at first suppressed, and then uttered in a manner tempered by the scene, evinced the deep feeling and proud associations it had excit-

In reference to the manner of addressing Lafayette, whether as General or Marquis, the New-York Gazette has the following remarks: "When we took a glass of wine, in company with several other gentlemen with the the Boston Patriot, the National flag General previous to his landing at the Quarantine Ground, from the Cadmus, one of the party addressed him by both of hundreds of thousands of admiring the appellations of Marquis and General, and then asked him which was the raised flags upon their buildings, and, most agreeable. He unhesitatingly and emphatically replied, I am an AMERICAN GENERAL."

Whilst General Lafayette was receiving visits at New-York, an elderly Carman in his frock, applied for admittance, and was refused. He declared he would not go away without speaking to the General, and at length got into the room. Waiting a favora-There has, probably, on no former ble moment, he went up to the General, and opening the breast of his frock, asked if he knew him. The General Yesterday, Mr. Ebenezer Clough, recognized him, called him by name, and extended his hand, saying, "Yes you assisted me off the field of battle, when wounded."

> General Lafavette received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, at Harvard University, in 1784, when he made his last tour in the United States; he received the same honor from Princeton College. He is also a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and likewise of the American Philosophical Society.

From the Newbern Centinel.

"At a full meeting of the Intendant 334 and Commissioners of the Town of Newbern convened in consequence of 203 the annunciation of the arrival of Gen. LAFAYETTE, at the Port of New York, -It was unanimously resolved, That The following passage, from that let- it be earnestly recommended to the inter, gives one a striking view of the habitants of the Town, to Illuminate their Houses, on the night of the 24th inst. in token of their joy on so memorable an occasion, and, in connexion neral's entering Boston, was greater than I with other arrangements, on the part have ever witnessed. Some leapt up, clap- of the committee of the Town, appointping their hands in an ecstacy of joy, and ed for that purpose, to manifest the lively interest which our citizens take in common with all American citzens on the visit of our illustrious guest."

Accordingly, on Tuesday evening, the inhabitants generally, illuminated a public benefactor. The remembrance of their dwellings; thus evincing their love and gratitude to the venerable of his devotion to the cause of liberty-and chief whose distinguished services have ple. A higher or a holier compliment was lighted citizens, congratulating each by law. tacle was exhibited on the Common. never perhaps paid, to any man in any age." other on the joyous occasion, and view-Several affecting incidents of the day ing the brilliant appearances which are mentioned in the letter, among every where met the eye. The Illumination was beautifully diversified by bern; and we would fain indulge the

Notice.

the 2d Monday in Describer next, will be sold for ready money at the Court. use in Snowhill, the following tructs of or so much thereof as will be st

228 acres on Sandy Run belonging to John H. Albritton.

54 do on do belonging to Thos. Dail (S. T. 193 do Cotentnea Creek do James Dail do Zach'r. Elliott. 900 do do Joseph Hause. 692 do 100 do Sandy Run do Uzzel Lassiter 671 do Cotentnea Creek, do Catharine Por.

160 do Sandy Run de Readin Rashurt 146 do do Isaac Bryley 600 do Cotentnea Creek do Heirs of Chas carr (not given in) 153 do Tyson's marsh Howell Aldridge do

200 do

William Aldridge do

John H. Edwards 345 do Thomas Harper* 600 do Etheldred Mitchell* 400 do do Sarah Mitchell 121 do Christopher Reynolds*
Joseph Reynolds* 71 do 67 do Charles S. West* Sugg Aquilla* 137 do 400 do Henry Sugg 230 do Josiah Sugg, Jun. 255 do do Josiah Whitby 400 do do Nancy Ward 50 do do Christopher Wood 121 do o Augustus Williams 400 do do Benjamin Hardy 1252 1821 do do do Joshua Rause 322 do do do do Samuel Whitby

218 do do do 1 Town lot in Snowhill, Barbary Wooten 1821 do on Polecat belonging to Thomas Dail, Sen. do Henry Forrest 300 do Joshua Griffin do do Thomas Miller k. do William Pope 1595 on Cotentnea cr do Zilpha Rogers do A. V. Pell Sen. 327 do Jethro Warren 561 Polecat do Heirs of J. Darden. 372 do do Anthony V. Pell sr. 21 do Willis Dupree

Cotentnea er do Stephen Eason sr* 856 2-3 Sandy Run do Joseph Rasbury* 1554 on do John Joyner do Stephen Rogers 1817 do Richard L. Tison 50 do May's heirs 636 Naughtunto do William Aldridge do Jeremiah Barrow* do John Barrow* 100

do Elizabeth Barrow 78 do Cullen Edmondson* do do James Glasgow do Heirs of Burwell 125 Edmonson do Isaac Hay do Isham Lane,* 790 do Henry Taylor 347 do William Williams* 320 do Westwo'd Williams 140

do Heirs of Richard Woolen* do John Aldridge 278 (1821) do do Matthew Grace 120 do Bryant Lane do John Mooring do as Guardian 200 do Sally Sauls do James Taylor 570 do Avy Taylor do Winifred Westbrook do

419

140 Cotentnea c'k, sin Mary Coward* do Jesse Coward do Robert Harper 615 6 ts in Hookerton Wm. Hooker Hymerick Hooker 200 Cotentnea c'k. do Richard Hodges de Wm. Kilpatrick 133 1-3 do Susanna Westbrook

Elizabeth Dawning(not

337 1 lot in Hookerton Gray Westbrook* Thomas Moore 2 do 28 Cotentnea c'k. do Turnfield Wilson do John Dunn, for Walter Dunn.

do Susanna Dixon do Bethany Hause. do do William Philips for Lassiter's heirs do Simon Breeton for 676 (1821) do heirs of Kilpatrick do John Creech 168 do do Kinchen Dixon do do Obed Dixon, 216 do do Thomas Edwards 650 do do Anthony Pate 112

2 town lots in Hookerton do Lewis Whitfield c'k do Edmond Breemon 50 on Cotentnea do Solomon Brare for do Rasbury's Heirs'

do Moses Cobb* do Asa Daniel* do Wm. R. D. Speight do Arthur Speight do W. Snackelford do Lemon Speight do do Thomas Speight 500 do do Samuel Vmes 660 do do Llisha Woodward* do 700 do Theophilus Eason" 486 do John Harper* do do Abram Moure 662 do 50 do 55 do do Isham Menshew do Jno. McKeal, Jun'r. do Absalom Price 50 do Isaac Price do James R. Price* do John Pope do Jesse Rasbury 253 do William Rasbury 270 do do Sabrina Daniel de John Glasgow do Jno. McKeal, Sen'r do do 100 do Sarah Minshew do do do Arthur Shackle ford All those having receipts for either of the above named years, are requested to produce them, as it is impossible for the Sunscriper to know who has and who has not paid-and life, rushed upon the mind, and gave effect to the burst of enthusiasm and admiration. py condition. The streets, during the he is under the necessity of collecting prometries. evening, were thronged with our de- those who have not paid, if not by fair means JOHN HOLLIDAY, Ad'r. of Rich'd D. Bright late Slift. Greene co. Aug. 25, 1824.

PRINTING Neatly executed at this office,