

REAUTIFUL HYMN. The following beautiful Hymn, from the Asi atic Journal, was written by the Rt. Rev. Reginald Heber, Lord Bishop of Calcuta.

By cool Siloam's shady fountain How sweet the lilly grows!

How sweet the breath on yonder mountain

Of Sharon's dewy rose!

Lo! such the child whose young devotion The paths of peace has trod; Whose secret soul's instinctive motion Tends upwards to his God.

By cool Siloam's shady fountain, The lily must decay; The rose that blooms on yonder mountain, Must shortly fade away.

A little while, the better morrow Of man's maturer age Will shake the soul with cankering sorrow And passions stormy rage.

O Thou! whose every year untainted In changeless virtue shone; Preserve the flowers thy grace has planted, And keep them still thine own.

PROPOSALS FOR PUBLISHING A NEWSPAPER IN THIS TOWN, ENTITLED

The Fayetteville Weekly Gleaner. B. H. TALBOT, Editor. PROSPECTUS.

In accordance with custom, it first becomes necessary that the Editor should make an ex pose of his political tenets, and then unfold his plans:-in compliance therewith he would (as a creed by which he will, in his political career be guided) beg leave to point to the Farewell Address of the Father of American Independence; and when he shall depart therefrom-withdraw your patronage.

His plans are to make this Journal equally useful and interesting both to the Merchant and Agriculturalist; to give weekly, accurate statements of sales, public and private. Also, an estimate of imports and exports, with every transaction allied either to commerce or agriculture, that shall come within his knowledge; and from his experience in the commercial world, with the arrangements that will be made to effect this object, he hopes that he may receive the favorable consideration of an enlightened public.

It is likewise the intention of the Editor to report "verbatim et literatim," all trials by Jury, in the respective Courts held here; wheher involving questions of law, or made interesting by incident; and he will also occasionally step into the "Town Hall," and Justices Court Rooms. As the Editor entertains the opinion, that the GLEANER may be still of our State Legislature in extenso, he intends honorable body. A synopsis of Congressional Proceedings will always be found in the columns of this Journal. Original matter, i. e. Communications, will be thankfully received, to form a part of our miscellaneous chapter; but the Editor cannot hazard the reputation of his paper, by lending its pages to the circulation of unworthy Essays: his respect for the public should, and he trusts ever will preponderate, when called to exercise his editorial veto.

An extensive and well concerted News Room will be opened, where Newspapers from all parts of the Union will be kept on file, and to which Subscribers to the GLEANER may have access gratis.

THE GLEANER will be published on Wednes days, on a super-royal sheet of good quality. Due notice will be given of its first appearance. No subscription taken for less than one year.
